"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER.
Showers, cooler to-day; fair to-morrow; northwesterly winds.

VOL. LIX...NO. 19,120. * * * * * NEW YORK, TUESDAY, MAY 31, 1910.—EIGHTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. { Elsewhere, TWO CENTS.

CURTISS SUGGESTS RACE TO WASHINGTON

Chooses This as an Ideal Aerial Route, Yet Presenting More Dangers Than That from Albany.

A PERIL HE DID NOT DETECT

In Flight from Albany Sunday Lubricating Tank Was Leaking—Not Discovered Until Yesterday.

Glenn H. Curtiss, who steered his aeroplane through the treacherous air currents of the Hudson from Albany to this city Sunday morning, winning the $10,000 prize which had been offered by The New York World, suggested yesterday that an ideal route for another test would be from here to Washington, a distance of some 235 miles, or possibly there and back again, with only enough stops to replenish the store of gasoline.

Such a course, he said, would be more difficult than the trip from Albany to New York, though the air currents would probably be less dangerous. The difficulties that he anticipates are in the heavily wooded land and the low-lying rivers with high banks, from which he would expect sudden and varying currents, which would try the skill of an aviator.

Mr. Curtiss was resting yesterday afternoon in his apartments in the Hotel Astor when a TIMES reporter called and asked him what route he would consider desirable for the next aeroplane test.

After some reflection he decided that it would be between here and Washington. Then he suggested:

"If some one offered a prize for the trip to Washington it might afford a good chance for a race. That would be interesting for the public as well as for the contestants. A race of that kind should be over a course where people could see it lap after lap along the whole course. Between here and Washington there are many towns and cities. The route should be chosen along the line of a railroad.

Good Landing Places an Advantage.

"There is nothing so stirring as an aeroplane race, especially where the people on the ground can see the machine during the whole course. And I can say from experience that it is very exciting for the contestants. In considering a route between here and Washington one is immediately struck with the many excellent landing places. There are several race tracks, for instance, and large athletic fields between here and there. At Philadelphia there is Franklin Field. Although it has the drawback of being in the city limits, it is a large field and level. The old Pimlico race track, just outside of Baltimore, is also a broad space, inclosed so as to keep the crowds back should an aviator land there. And, of course, there is the Benning race track, just outside of Washington.

"The trouble with most landing places is that the crowd surges around and hampers the movements of the aeroplanist. At Poughkeepsie, for instance, it took an hour before I could get under way again after landing, so great was the crowd around me."

Mr. Curtiss was asked what, in his opinion, would be a fair number of stops between here and Washington, should that course be chosen for a flight or a race.

"Well, at a rough guess, I should say that three stops would not be unreasonable," he replied. "A stipulation that the contestant must fly both ways would, of course, be far more difficult, and would doubtless require two days for the round trip, because of weather conditions and other considerations."

In Danger Without Knowing It.

Mr. Curtiss made a discovery yesterday which would have caused him uneasiness had it come to his attention during the flight from Albany to New York. During the latter stages of the trip his lubricating tank was working badly. That was the reason he landed on the Isham estate, near Spuyten Duyvil. He thought at the time that the reason for the small amount of oil remaining in his tank was the overworking of the lubricating pump. But yesterday he found that his guess was wrong. The real reason was that the oil tank had sprunk a leak. His mechanician went over to Governor's Island yesterday morning to see if the aeroplane was all right. He found the lubricating oil tank leaking badly.

"The only way I can account for that," said Mr. Curtiss, "is that the tank got a violent wrench, either during the trial flight on Friday evening or when I alighted at Poughkeepsie. Had the leak been larger it might have caused a disaster."

Almost every time Mr. Curtiss makes a long flight he learns something new about his machine. One of the lessons learned during the flight down the Hudson Sunday was that a new style of guying the several parts of the machine should be used. In the early part of the flight there was one guy wire especially which vibrated constantly and gave the aviator much concern.

"I have found a way to remedy that," said Mr. Curtiss yesterday. "I will in the future use a sort of swivel at the ends of the guy ropes. This swivel can be lubricated and will allow the guy wire a little play and avoid the vibration when I am steering hard. I may also use cross wires in the future to eliminate all vibration."

His Plans For the Future.

Mr. Curtiss was asked yesterday afternoon what was the most prominent idea in his mind, now that the prize was won.

"Well, I should say that the most prominent idea with me just now is the great change which has come over me," said the aviator. "I had been working so hard and so long on this thing that it had come to be the one important feature of my very existence. Now that it is all over I can hardly get used to it. I feel lost to-day for something to occupy my mind."

In a few weeks Mr Curtiss will go to Louisville, Ky., where he will take part in several flights over Churchill Downs, on June 18 and 19. He will also go to Nashville, Tenn., a day or so later to participate in the Hamilton flights which have been arranged by the army.

There are several prizes well worth an aviator's while which have not yet been won, but most of them are in Europe. There is The London Daily Mail offer of $50,000 for a flight by aeroplane from London to Edinburgh and return, a total distance of 800 miles, with several stops.

An Offer Not Clutched At.

This prize was announced just after Paulhan won a $30,000 prize by flying from London to Manchester. There is also the Michelone prize of $20,000 for a flight from Paris to Clermont Ferrand, by an aeroplane carrying two persons. One of the stipulations of this offer is that the aeroplane shall circle the spire of a cathedral and alight on the top of the Puydedome Mountain at a height of 1,800 feet. The

Continued on Page 2.

PRIZE FOR CHICAGO FLIGHT.

Aeronauts There Say $25,000 Can Be Obtained Easily.

CHICAGO, May 30.—Aviators are enthusiastic over the proposed aeroplane flight from New York to Chicago. Several expressed their willingness to raise the rest of the $25,000 prize, $2,000 of which has been pledged by Charles K. Hamilton, who suggested the undertaking.

Edward E. Herbert, President of the Illinois Aeroplane Club, and James E. Plew, President of the Aero Club of Illinois, said there was not the slightest doubt that Hamilton's proposal could succeed as far as the prize was concerned.

"It will be easy to raise the money right here in Chicago," said Mr. Plew. "New York to Chicago is certainly the next big thing in aeronautics."

HEARST'S VIGOROUS DENIAL.

Nothing Lost Except Belief in Some Newspaper's Accuracy.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Tuesday, May 31.—Under the heading "Mr. Hearst," The Daily Mail prints the following:

"We have received the following communication from Mr. William Randolph Hearst, editor and proprietor of The New York American and allied newspapers in the United State:

To the Editor of The Daily Mail:

Sir: I have not been in Milan. I have not been in any part of Italy. I have not been out of England and France since my arrival in Europe. I have not been robbed of $25,000. I have not been robbed of 25 cents, nor of any money, nor of any pocketbook of any kind.

I have not lost anything except my respect for the accuracy of English newspapers. Perhaps I have not even lost that, for I believe this ridiculous robbery story originated in The Paris Herald.

WILLIAM RANDOLPH HEARST.

"The statement to which Mr. Hearst refers did not appear in The Daily Mail."

CABBAGES FOR FRANK BROWN.

Ex-Governor's Son Pelted as He Appears as an Actor on Wager.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 30.—Frank Brown, Jr., society man, son of the ex-Governor, appeared in a new rôle this afternoon. To win a wager made several days ago, he made his début as an actor, appearing as the butler in "Caste," now being presented at the Auditorium Theatre. The management kindly gave him the desired opportunity to appear, but after his first experience on the stage it is not likely Brown will care to enter the profession. Still, he won his wine supper and says he does not regret having been a Thespian for one day.

The reception accorded him when he made his appearance was very cordial. Clubmen had been apprised of what was coming off, and they assembled in force. In the boxes were a number of theatrical folks, who came prepared to give young Brown all that was coming to him, and he got it.

When Robert Haines as the Hon. George D'Alroy rang the bell to summon his servant, Brown, as the butler, made his appearance. Instantly there were loud noises, which came near drowning Brown's lines. He had scarcely finished when from one of the boxes in which were seated Jean Kernan, son of Manager Kernan; Walter Montague, and Marie Fenton, a vaudeville performer of New York, shot three large heads of cabbage, each propelled with unerring aim and which landed on the shins of the actor.

The roar that followed prevented an immediate continuance of the show. Haines managed to retain his composure, while Brown looked sheepish and then, turning toward the box, grinned. Then he repeated his lines and the play went on.

Haines made a reply apropos of the situation, and glancing at the cabbages resting at Brown's feet, remarked: "And Dixon, you can carry the dinner to the room." Brown promptly answered: "Yes, Sir; I'll carry them to Miss Fenton's room, Sir," which reference to one of the cabbage throwers caught the house, and Brown scored. As he was leaving the stage Haines said: "Ride like the devil, Dixon." "Yes, Sir," replied Brown, "I will, Sir." This allusion to his penchant for fast auto driving caused the house to roar again.

Brown subsequently joined the cabbage throwers in the box, and was congratulated. To-night he again appeared, it being necessary for him to appear twice to win his wager. This time the performance passed off without incident.

GIRLS CAPTURE THE MAYOR.

Workers Surround Him at St. James and Are Photographed with Him.

ST. JAMES, L. I., May 30.—Surrounded by about seventy working girls from New York City, Mayor Gaynor this afternoon was induced to pose for a photograph at the railroad station here. The Mayor had walked to the station from his home, a short distance away, to take a train due at 4:08 for the city.

When he reached the little station he was met by the working girls, who had been the guests of Mrs. Francis C. Huntington, daughter-in-law of the late Rev. Dr. Huntington, rector of Grace Church of New York City. Mrs. Huntington is head of a guild in the church, and it is customary for her to bring about seventy-five of the working girls in the guild to the beautiful home of her mother, at this place, for a day's outing.

They reached here on an early morning train, and after enjoying a pleasant day and a fine luncheon, went back to the station to wait for the 4:08 train. It was while they were waiting for the train that Mayor Gaynor came along.

A friend of the Mayor's induced him to pose for a photograph with the girls, and without a moment's hesitation he was soon facing the photographer, the centre of the group of girls. Just as the camera snapped the train apppeared and all scurried aboard.

HIS ASHES TO BE SCATTERED.

Last Wishes of Neidhart Will Be Carried Out from Liberty Statue.

In accordance with his last wishes the body of Oscar Neidhart, a Brooklyn druggist, was cremated yesterday at Fresh Pond, and in a day or two his ashes will be scattered to the winds from the top of the Statue of Liberty, in New York Harbor.

Mr. Neidhart died at his home, 136 Utica Avenue, Brooklyn, on Saturday. He was a Free Thinker, and at his request no funeral services were held for him. He was born in Germany in 1854, and had been in business as a pharmacist in Brooklyn for many years. He had spent a life of confinement in close attention to his business, and during his year's illness he had talked frequently of "freedom."

"When I die," said he, "I want to be free—as free as the winds. Take my ashes and throw them to the winds, scatter them from the Statue of Liberty."

At his home yesterday it was said that the ceremony of scattering the ashes would probably be carried out in a few days.

Hendrick Hudson 1609, Robert Fulton 1807, Glenn Curtiss 1910. The Day Line every weekday.—Adv.

ROOSEVELT TALKS TO ROOT IN LONDON

Has Two Hours' Conference—Refuses to Say What It Was About.

RECEPTION IN HIS HONOR

Many Well-Known Persons Meet Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt—Dinner with Lord Charles Beresford.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, May 30. — Ex-President Roosevelt had a two hours' conversation to-day with Senator Elihu Root, who is on his way to The Hague to attend the Atlantic Fisheries Conference. Asked afterward about the subject of their conversation, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"I must preserve my usual reticence."

A moment later he added laughingly: "It was a purely zoological talk."

Mr. Root sent a wireless message from shipboard on Saturday suggesting the conference, which was held at Dorchester House.

Col. Roosevelt refused to make any statement whatever regarding the interview with Col. A. P. Moore, editor in chief of The Pittsburg Leader, who in a statement printed in THE NEW YORK TIMES yesterday declared that an effort was being made by Mr. Roosevelt's political enemies to cheat the people out of giving him a real welcome. When THE NEW YORK TIMES's correspondent pressed him to give some expression of his wishes he shook his head and said: "It's another case for reticence."

Many well-known persons, Americans and English, gathered to-day at the Ritz Hotel, where Sir George and Lady Reid gave a reception to meet Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, who helped Sir George and Lady Reid to receive the guests, with Lady Jersey beside them and Ambassador Whitelaw Reid near by.

Lord Kitchener was in a corner hobnobbing with Mrs. Asquith, who wore a skimpy black dress and a row of dull jet beads, with a turban. She brought Miss Elizabeth Asquith, who talks like a grown-up girl for all her short frocks and childish air.

When a move for tea was made to the ballroom Mr. Roosevelt walked with Lady Greville, who is the latest American addition to the peeresses, her husband having succeeded to the title a week after their marriage. She was wearing a Noah's Ark black satin coat over a black dress. A long row of pearls was knotted in front; she had great pearl-drop earrings, and her hat was trimmed with an enormous black plume.

Mrs. Roosevelt's jewels were a necklace of diamond medallions. She wore an embroidered black gown with net sleeves closely tucked, and a wide-brimmed hat with a floating lace veil.

Mrs. Glasgow was very smart in a Princess robe of dull satin, and other well-dressed women were Mrs. Simpson, Lady Phillips, and Lady Parker, who came with Sir Gilbert Parker.

Lord Charles Beresford and Mr. Roosevelt had a great confabulation. Other distinguished persons in the crowd were Sir Hubert von Herkomer, R. A., who thought the ex-President had been greatly libeled by his photographers; Lord Greville, Lord Tennyson, Admiral the Hon. Sir Edmund and Lady Fremantle, Mrs. Emily Soldene, the famous opera-bouffe actress of former days; Sir Reginald and Lady Talbot, Sir Arthur and Lady Conan Doyle, Miss Ada Crossley, and Lady Grey-Egerton.

About 5 o'clock, just when the reception was at its height, Mr. Roosevelt looked at his watch and suddenly remembered an important private engagement. He passed through the hotel lobby like Halley's comet, with Ambassador Reid vainly attempting to keep up with him.

Mr. Roosevelt ran down the steps at the entrance and looked about for his motor car. It was not to be seen. Then, while a little crowd of curious persons assembled on the pavement, the ex-President interviewed coachmen and footmen and waved his arms and demanded information. Finally the motor car was picked out of the maze of waiting vehicles and brought to the door. Mr. Roosevelt handed in Mrs. Roosevelt, jumped in after her, slammed the door, and waved his hand.

Mr. Reid stood on the pavement smiling somewhat blankly as the motor car whirled away. The spectators gasped. An observer said they looked as though they had narrowly escaped being hit by a steam roller.

The engagement which the Roosevelts thus kept was to take tea with Mrs. Humphry Ward.

Mr. Roosevelt lunched to-day with the Geographic Club, where he met Commander Peary, and dined with Lord Charles Beresford. To-morrow he receives the honorary freedom of the City of London, on which occasion the police are paying him the tribute of barred streets.

PINCHOT BRINGS NO MESSAGE.

Object of His Trip Not to Visit Roosevelt, but to See His Sister, He Says.

If Gifford Pinchot, former Chief Forester of the United States and head of the National Conservation Association, is

Continued on Page 2.

GREAT BEAR SPRING WATER. "Its Purity has made it famous."—Adv.

MEMORIAL DAY.

The parade reviewed by President Taft will be shown by interesting photographs which will be reproduced in the beautiful halftone pictorial section of next Sunday's Times.

Be sure to order next Sunday's Times early.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING IN EXCURSION LAUNCH

Charles Herbert, One of Thirteen Men in the Boat, a Victim of Yesterday's Storm.

1,000 OTHERS IN A PANIC

Spectators at a Bronx Baseball Game Terror-Stricken as a Bolt Strikes a Flagstaff.

A brisk rainstorm, attended with thunder and lightning, late yesterday afternoon, caused some damage by lightning just north of the city and the Bronx. Coming from the north, the storm swept down the Hudson, striking the city about 5 o'clock, and lasting, with intermittent downpours of rain and lightning flashes, until about 8 o'clock.

One death was reported on the Hudson River just across from Hastings, where a party of excursionists were caught amidstream in the storm, and one of their number was killed by a bolt of lightning. Another lightning bolt struck in the grand stand at a baseball game in the Bronx, causing a panic among the spectators, but injuring none.

Two semi-professional teams, the Cherries and the Senators, were playing in Cannon's Ball Park, at Walker Avenue and Bear Swamp Road, the Bronx, when the storm broke. The game was stopped temporarily and the players took shelter with the 1,000 men, women, and children who had watched the game in the grand stand. Suddenly, while the storm was still young, there was a crackling, jagged flash of lightning, in the midst of which the onlookers, startled by the brilliance and nearness of the flash, saw what seemed to be a purple globe of fire. The globe burst with a deafening report upon the twenty-five-foot flagstaff at the right of the stand, breaking it off at the middle and hurling the upper half with a crash into the grand stand.

Fortunately that part of the stand was almost bare of spectators, but the thunderbolt and the crash and splintering of wood so close to them, threw the crowd into a panic. In less than half a minute the stand was cleared, while men, women, and children rushed bewildered and terrified over the ball field and out into the rain-soaked streets. The lightning caused no fire in the stand, however, and its damage was confined to the sattered flagpole and nerves.

A naphtha launch with thirteen men, who had started from the lower end of Manhattan for a day's outing up the Hudson yesterday morning, was caught in midstream, opposite Hastings, by the rain and thunderstorm early in the afternoon. The Captain, Henry Colling, of West Brighton, ordered the engineer, John Drout, to put over toward the New York shore, while others in the boat dodged for cover beneath sheets of tarpaulin and canvas.

Just then there was a blinding flash of lightning and a deafening report, and something burst with a belch of smoke and flame directly over the launch. One of the excursion party, Charles Herbert of 76 Horton Street, Manhattan, staggered and fell. A bolt of lightning had struck him in the forehead. He died ten minutes later, as the boat drew up at the public pier at Hastings.

Frank Fisher, one of the boat party, telephoned to Dr. F. M. Lyman of Hastings, and to the Rev. Father Edwin Ryan of St. Mary's Church, Yonkers, who rushed to the pier in an automobile to administer the last rites. Both arrived too late. The dead man was removed to Baker's Morgue, Hastings, and later in the excursion launch to his home in Manhattan.

PREDICTED ERDER'S DEATH?

Letter from Mrs. Doxey Produced—She Refers to Him as "Almost Dead."

ST. LOUIS, Mo., May 30.—At the trial of Mrs. Dora E. Doxey, accused of the murder of William J. Erder, Attorney C. H. Miller of Des Moines to-day testified that Mrs. Doxey had predicted the death of a relative in a letter and sought to have certain indebtedness held up, pending the settlement of his estate.

The Rev. Samuel Harkness, pastor of the Presbyterian Church to which the Doxeys belonged in Columbus, Neb., told of their straitened circumstances, and just before adjournment Mrs. Katherine Erder, mother of the dead man, corroborated the testimony of her daughter, Miss Kate Erder, who brought about the indictment of Mrs. Doxey and her husband, Dr. Doxey.

Mr. Harkness testified to Mrs. Doxey telling him that, although Doxey was in straitened circumstances, she had property in St. Louis from which she expected to realize money shortly. Later, the preacher said, he saw Mrs. Doxey again, after Erder's death, and she told him she had settled up matters in St. Louis. She explained that she had been nursing Will Erder, whose wife had deserted him on his deathbed. She said Erder had given her $700 to pay certain expenses and that $500 represented his sister's life insurance.

Announcement was made by the woman's attorneys that cacodylate of sodium, with which she is alleged to have poisoned Erder, had been given to a dog for three weeks without deleterious effect. They say that experts who conducted the experiment with cacodylate of sodium on the dog will testify that the animal, far from being dead, is fat and healthy, and that the drug, which it is charged caused Erder's death, is not destructive to human life. The animal is said to have eaten 400 grains of the drug. Attorneys for the State said they do not fear the defense's plan of exhibiting a dog fed on cacodylate of sodium. They cited that strychnine is a tonic, and at the same time poisonous.

Mrs. Doxey during her trial is wearing two wedding rings—those of Dr. Doxey and Erder.

Mr. Miller's evidence related to a letter he received from Mrs. Doxey, dated June 14 (less than a month before Erder died,) asking for a loan of $20. She wrote that she was to get the insurance of a man who "is almost dead." The letter was introduced in evidence.

Summer Weariness—Horsford's Acid Phosphate quickly relieves the languor, exhaustion and nervousness of Summer.—Adv.

EDWARD M'VICKAR DIES IN HIS AUTO

Real Estate Broker Is Stricken with Acute Indigestion Near Babylon, L. I.

WAS ON HIS WAY HOME

Too Ill to be Carried from the Machine—Wife and Brother-in-Law, Julian Speyers, with Him.

Special to The New York Times.

BABYLON, L. I., May 30.—Edward McVickar, member of the real estate firm of McVickar & Gaillard, with many offices in New York City, and a residence at 112 East Fifty-sixth Street, died about 9 o'clock to-night on the county road in the western part of this village. He was on his way into the city in his touring car with his wife and brother-in-law, Julian Speyers.

They had dined at the country home of J. L. Schroeder in West Islip, and started for the city shortly after 8 o'clock. Mr. McVickar was driving the car when, in front of the villa occupied by John A. Powers, he halted the auto and complained of being ill. A telephone message from the Powers home brought Drs. Harold E. Hewlett and Wynekoop. Dr. Maloney of Brooklyn, who was passing, halted his car, and the three physicians worked over Mr. McVickar. He was said to be suffering from acute indigestion, and oxygen and apamorphia was administered and efforts were made to use a stomach pump.

So critical was his condition that no attempt was made to remove him to the Powers home, the physicians believing it wiser to work over him in the open air. He passed away in less than an hour after being seized, and the body was taken back to the Schroeder home in West Islip.

Mrs. McVickar was prostrated by her husband's death.

Mr. McVickar was one of the best-known real estate brokers and operators in New York, and was the President of the Real Estate Security Company, of which he was one of the founders. He was born in Boston forty-one years ago, and was a graduate of the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale University. Prior to going to Yale he attended for one year the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. After graduating from Yale Mr. McVickar became interested in stock farming, and established the Vickarage Stock Farm, in Lewis County, this State. This was in 1892.

In 1898 he entered the real estate business, and three years later organized the Real Estate Security Company. The following year he organized the McVickar Company, and in 1903, with others, the Shippan Point Land Company. Later on, with E. Prioleau, he formed the real estate firm of McVickar-Gaillard Realty Company. He was a member of the Delta Phi, Union, Calumet, and Larchmont Yacht Clubs.

On Jan. 17, 1900, Mr. McVickar married Miss Edith Lawrence Speyers, a daughter of Albert G. P. Speyers of this city. Mrs. McVickar is a great-great-grandaughter of Patroon Van Rensselaer, while among her other distinguished ancestors were an Earl of Elgin and a Lord Macdonald of the Isles. She is related to the Livingstons, Cuttings, Robbs, Stuyvesants, and Fish families of New York and the Stevens of Castle Point, Hoboken.

AGED BROKER HIT BY AUTO.

W. S. Gutirrez Dying After Accident Near His Home.

William S. Gutierrez, 70 years old, a prosperous broker living at 232 West 85th Street, was knocked down and run over by an auto at Broadway and 85th Street last evening, and suffered injuries from which he will probably die.

The aged broker was crossing Broadway after leaving his home to take a walk. As he stepped from the sidewalk to the roadway the machine, which was moving at a fair rate of speed, struck him and knocked him down. One of the forward wheels then passed over both his legs, breaking them.

Louis Ackerman of 551 West 151st Street, employed by W. S. Bull of 495 West End Avenue, the chauffeur in charge of the auto, stopped his machine and ran to the assistance of the prostrate broker. The aged man was carried to a nearby drug store unconscious, bleeding from a gash in the head.

AUTOISTS HURLED INTO RIVER.

Newark Girl Thrown Into a Stream, Her Father and Uncle Hurt.

FLEMINGTON, N. J., May 30.—Two men and a young woman were in a bad automobile smash-up at Dart's Mills, on the South Branch of the Raritan River, near Flemington Junction, this afternoon.

One of the men had a leg broken by being caught under their machine when it turned over. The second man escaped serious injury, and the young woman was hurled into the river. They refused their names, but are said to be from Newark.

The man who had his leg broken is said to own the machine. The second man was his brother and was driving the machine when the accident occurred. The young woman was the daughter of this man.

The car was running along toward the river. The bridge is approached by a bad curve along the bank of the stream. There is a wall on the south side of the road, and a guard rail on the north side. The posts and rail are set on the brink of a drop of considerable depth. The car swung against the rail when it should have gone toward the wall. It broke through and turned over down the embankment, landing at the edge of the river.

RUN DOWN BY MOTOR CYCLE.

Woman Dying in Hospital, but Police Have No Clue to the Rider.

While waiting for the parade to pass yesterday Mrs. Harriet Sherwood of 801 Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, was knocked down by a motor cycle and probably fatally injured at Eastern Parkway and Kingston Avenue. Then the motor cyclist rode away without revealing his identity.

AGED AUTO VICTIM DIES.

William Wagner, 80 Years Old, Expires Without Regaining Consciousness

Special to The New York Times.

ORANGE, N. J., May 30.—Without having regained consciousness, William Wagner, 80 years old, who was struck on Saturday afternoon by an automobile in East Orange died late this afternoon in

Continued on Page 2.

Flying Machine may give good view of Hudson River, but Day Line is better.—Adv.

BLIZZARD IN NORTHWEST.

Heavy Snowstorm Demoralizes Traffic in Lake Superior Region.

CALUMET, Mich., May 30.—Lake Superior and the surrounding country are in the grip of a fierce blizzard, with high northeast winds and a heavy snow.

All boats are seeking ports of refuge from the gale. A heavy sea is running all along the southern coast. No boats are reported within reach of the wireless.

Wire and train service are demoralized.

INDIANS BURNED TO DEATH.

Were at Eufaula to Attend High School Graduating Exercises.

EUFAULA, Okla., May 30.—Puonabojo Lowe, Peter Beaver, and the latter's wife and child, all Indians from Weleetka, Okla., were burned to death in a fire which destroyed a rooming house early to-day.

Beaver and Lowe each had a daughter at the Indian High School and were here to attend the graduating exercises.

CHANTECLER HATS BURN.

Fireman Overcome by Escaping Gas in a Stanton Street Cellar.

At a small fire in the basement of 43 and 45 Stanton Street last evening, Fireman William Wickham of Truck 9 was overcome by gas and smoke, and in rescuing him Lieut. Dunn and others of the same company were nearly overcome. Fireman Wickham was taken to Gouverneur Hospital.

The fire stated in the millinery store of Joseph Rosenzweig, which was full of chantecler hats. These threw off a dense smoke. The heat melted the joints in the gas meters in the basement, and when Fireman Wickham sprang into the place he was overcome.

TO WALK 500 MILES AT 72.

Former Middletown Official Expects to Make Fifty Miles a Day.

Special to The New York Times

MIDDLETOWN Conn., May 30.—To celebrate his seventy-second birthday George H. Ward, a former member of the Middletown Board of Assessors, will start from the City Hall here to-morrow morning on a five-hundred-mile walk. Mr. Ward will go from here to New York, from New York to Boston, and then back here. He is planning to walk from fifty to sixty miles a day to finish in this city on his birthday, June 9.

Mayor Williams and C. F. Fisher, Professor of Economics at Wesleyan University, will start Ward on his walk, and the members of the City Council have also arranged to see him off.

CHURCH BUILT IN TEN HOURS.

Building Began at 8 o'Clock Yesterday Morning—Services Held at Night.

PEORIA, Ill., May 30.—Services were held to-night in the chapel of Central Christian Church, built in ten hours during the day, by 100 members of the congregation. The church was perfect in its completion and is electrically lighted, with an electric sign above the entrance.

The building is 64 feet long, 24 feet wide, and 12 feet high inside. Under the supervision of D. C. Chaffee, who planned the structure, 190 men started work at 8 o'clock this morning. At 6 o'clock this evening the chimes of the other churches throughout the city announced the completion of the structure.

Telegrams of congratulation from a score of Christian churches throughout the country were received.

TRUST TO SELL AT RETAIL.

Steel Corporation Adopts Policy Inimical to Jobbers and Brokers.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURG, May 30.—The United States Steel Corporation, through its subsidiary companies, has inaugurated a plan which it is believed will eventually put out of business a large majority of the iron and steel jobbers of the United States. The steel corporation intends to deal direct with small consumers.

The policy of refusing to deal with steel brokers was inaugurated by the Carnegie Steel Company before the steel corporation was formed. The Carnegie Steel Company is completing a large warehouse here, and will handle at retail all sorts of finished products. Two years ago such a warehouse was built at Waverly, N. J. It was said then, as now, in regard to the Pittsburg warehouse, that it was merely for accommodating retail demand because jobbers failed to keep full stocks and were often unable to fill orders promptly. Similar depots are also being planned at St. Louis and New Orleans by the American Steel and Wire Company, another subsidiary. Each warehouse will handle all steel corporation products.

It was learned to-day that the fight of the jobbers to retain control of their business, backed by the large independent steel concerns, has already begun.

It is said to be the ultimate intention of the corporation to take over the jobbing trade entirely.

TAFT ENJOYS FAST RUN.

His Special Makes 40 Miles in 37 Minutes on Trip to Washington.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—President Taft, returning from New York, whirled into Washington over the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at the rate of more than a mile a minute for the last forty-mile lap of his return journey to-night.

The President's special, running as a separate section of Royal Blue Train No. 509, left Baltimore at 8:25. At 9:02 the special reached the Union Station, after having done the forty miles in 37 minutes. Mr. Taft has traveled extensively for the past few years, but he seldom has been aboard a train that made a better speed record than did the special to-night, which had a clear track and no stops on the final lap of the journey.

Evidently the President enjoyed the quick run, for he left his private car with the proverbial smile working overtime. He hurried into a waiting automobile and in less than three-quarters of an hour after leaving Baltimore was in the White House.

Railroad officials are generally averse to giving out figures as to record runs of this character, but it was admitted at the Union Station to-night that the President had enjoyed less than a mile-a-minute gait. Considering the time consumed in getting underway at Baltimore and in slowing down for the Washington yards, it is apparent that along the better stretches of the road the President's special must have run at the rate of a mile in forty-five seconds.

Landmarks of history on the famed Hudson best seen from decks of Day Line steamers.—Adv.

EDWIN GOULD'S SON PICKED UP AS TRAMP

With Only 75 Cents Youth Ran Away from School and Walked Nearly Seventy-five Miles.

CARED FOR BY POLICE

Reached New Britain Hungry, Penniless, and Footsore—Family Notified and He Will Go Back to School.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., May 30.—Edwin Gould, Jr., 16 years old, part heir as the son of Edwin Gould, to one-sixth of the $88,000,000 fortune left by his grandfather, the late Jay Gould, was picked up on the streets of this town shortly before 2 o'clock this morning by a policeman, who took him into custody on suspicion that he was a vagrant. It was only when he reached the station house and declared his identity to the Chief of Police that it was found that the penniless and ragged prisoner who confessed to having eaten nothing for two days was not a tramp but only a schoolboy who had escaped his teachers at the Pomfret Disciplinary School, at Pomfret Centre, and tramped for three days on what board and lodging he could obtain for 75 cents, all the money he had brought with him when he started.

During the three days that he had been missing his family, in Ardsley-on-the-Hudson, had no word of him, and his father, Edwin Gould, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. George F. Shrady, had been directing the work of scouring upper Connecticut for a trace of him.

Their suspense was relieved when this morning a dispatch was received at Ardsley from Chief of Police W. J. Rawlings of this town informing them that young Edwin Gould was at his headquarters. Mrs. Gould immediately notified her husband's secretary, Nathaniel Campbell, who took the first train he could get from New York. He arrived here at about 7 o'clock, and several hours later took the boy to New Haven, whence he will return to the school to-morrow.

Edwin Gould, Jr., told the Police Chief that the only reason he had for leaving the school was that "he didn't like it, and would not stay there any longer." He said that he had eluded his teachers early Friday afternoon when their attention was taken up with what he called the "blacklist class"—the boys who had received demerit marks against them during the week—and stolen out of the grounds. It was his intention, he added, to walk to New York, and he added that he sent a letter to his father notifying him of his intended departure on Friday morning several hours before he left.

Father Came to Look for Him.

It is believed that it was through this letter that his family had the first news of the disappearance that has been causing them alarm for several days. Both Edwin Gould and Mrs. Shrady visited the school in an endeavor to obtain clues as to his whereabouts. The former left for New York early to-day, thinking his son might have arrived there by train, and Chief of Police Rawlings, after the boy had been found, received word that Mrs. Shrady was on a train which passed through New Britain early in the afternoon and held it up while he went through it looking for her. It was found, however, that she was not on board.

Young Gould traveled nearly seventy-five miles on as many cents, and it is probable that he would not have been heard from as soon as he was if his money had not given out—and his shoes. It is believed that he did not borrow any money from his companions in school for fear that the news of his intended departure would leak out.

Officer Patrick Quirk was on his rounds through Stanley Street, a quiet thoroughfare, removed from the business portion of the town, just before 2 o'clock this morning, when he noticed what looked like a man asleep on the verands of one of the residences. The noise of his footfalls on the stone pavement roused the sleeper, and he started up. When he saw that a policeman was approaching he sprang up and tried to run away. The policeman caught him, and started to the station house with him in tow. On the way his prisoner, who looked very woebegone, said that he was Edwin Gould, Jr., and promised that if the policeman would help him he would see that he was repaid.

Policeman Quirk had been told stories like that before. He took the boy along to the station. When they arrived there the boy again asserted his identity, and with so much force as to make the police officials think it might be safer to investigate. Chief of Police Rawlings was called, and after a close inspection of the youth, decided that he was telling the truth, and should not be locked up on a charge of vagrancy, which Policeman Quirk intended to prefer. The Chief questioned him, and drew out the story of his three days' wandering. The young man said that he had been walking all this time, and had not had anything to eat for two days. He was plainly exhausted. The blue suit he wore was faded and travel-stained, he had neither collar nor tie, his shoes were broken, and he was unkempt as to hair and face. His feet, too, were lame and blistered. Chief Rawlings did his best to relieve his sufferings, provided him with something to eat, and then fixed him as comfortably as possible in a cell for the rest of the night. He soon dropped off asleep.

Sleeps Well in a Cell.

He slept well into the morning, and then an attempt was made to communicate with the Goulds. Chief Rawlings telegraphed to Edwin Gould's home in Ardsley, and also, at the request of the boy, to Mrs. Shrady. A few hours later a message was received from Mrs. Gould saying that Mr. Campbell was coming on the first train he could get. Young Gould spent the afternoon wandering about the station house and neighborhood, and seemed to enjoy the station house fare, after his experience as a penniless tramp. When Mr. Campbell arrived at 7 o'clock he had a long talk with Gould, and when they emerged the young man seemed to be satisfied.

During the morning young Gould had related some of the details of his adventure.

"I spent the Winter in California with some of my family," he said, "and returned home about May 1. Three weeks ago my father brought me to this school. Most of my studying has been done with a tutor, and this was the first time I had been to a boarding school. There are about 125 boys there, and I believe the reason my father chose it was because I had some friends there. But it was pretty strict there; I did not like it, and I would not stay any longer.

"Friday morning I wrote my father to that effect, and just after noontime, when the 'blacklist class'—the boys who have received marks against them during the week—had been sent in for a study period, I left the grounds. I intended to walk to New York. Some time late that night I got into Willimantic. There was no place to go, so I stayed around the railroad station and walked about the streets. The next day I started for Hartford, and reached there in the evening. I went into some of the cheap moving-picture theatres and spent the night in a lodging house. It was very uncomfortable there, and I was glad to leave. On Sunday night I reached this place. I was very tired, and my money was gone, and when I came to that comfortable-looking house I did not mean to sleep there, but I must have fallen asleep, for I do not remember anything until the policeman woke me."

Young Gould said that he had done a good deal of walking, both in this country and during the five trips he has made abroad, and that he was fond of athletics. He said he had first taken up the walking during Summers spent at the Winnisock Club, in the Catskills.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 30.—Young Edwin Gould, Jr., who ran away from school at Pomfret Centre and was picked up in an exhausted condition in New Britain, was brought to this city to-night by a man who gave his name to the New Britain police as Campbell. When the party registered at a local hotel it was as Edwin Gould and son. Mr. Gould said that his son would return to school Tuesday, but was not certain as to whether he would accompany him. He further said that his son had been given permission to leave the school and that he had not run away.

YOUNG BULLARD DISAPPEARS.

Son of Prominent Physician Missing from Groton School Since Wednesday.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Mass., May 30.—William R. Bullard, aged 16, has disappeared from Groton Preparatory School, and the authorities and his parents have been unable to find him. Young Bullard left last Wednesday, but the police were not notified that he had gone until to-day.

In his room was found a note reading: "I am discouraged over my studies, and think it best that I should go somewhere."

The boy's father is Dr. John Bullard of New Bedford, a prominent physician and member of the Somerset Club. None of the teachers or the other students had any suspicion that young Bullard had any intention of leaving. He was prominent in school athletics and an expert automobilist. A brother, J. M. Bullard of Harvard, is assisting the boy's father in the search.

PICTURE SHOWS DENOUNCED.

Staats Verband Also Urges Reading of Daily and Religious Newspapers.

KINGSTON, N. Y., May 30.—A strong declaration against moving-picture shows was included in the resolutions adopted to-day by the German Staats Verband of New York, which is holding its annual meeting here. The resolutions also declare against secret societies, favor opposition by Catholic workingmen in their unions to Socialistic propaganda, recommend uniformity in the curriculums of parochial schools and the establishment of Catholic high schools, and oppose State aid from the parochial schools. Careful scrutiny of public affairs is also urged.

Father J. Schmand of Buffalo said that delegates should read not only religious papers, but should keep posted on events of the day through the daily papers. He said:

"Read the news of the lawmakers, see what they are doing for religious or moral uplift. Keep track of what politicians are doing, of how much they are stealing. Keep advised of their movements and keep united. Then when we have something to present for their consideration they will not be interested in knowing what millionaire favors it, but will understand that a million Catholics are for or against it."

SHE LOST HER MOTHER.

Cleveland Woman Finally Appealed to the Police and So Did Her Daughter.

Mrs. Rosa Thamer, whose home is at 3,215 Clarke Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, underwent a distressing experience in this city yesterday. She is visiting her daughter, Louise Thamer, who lives at 259 West Forty-fifth Street, and the two went to Riverside Drive to see the Memorial Day parade.

During the excitement they became separated. The mother, a stranger in the city, could not recall the address of her daughter, and so she wandered about for five hours in a vain attempt to find the younger woman's home. Late in the afternoon, when she was on the verge of a collapse, she appealed to Policeman Flanagan of the West 100th Street Station to help her.

She approached him as he was standing at Broadway and 100th Street, and after she had explained her position he took her to his station. As there was no matron there, she was taken to the West Forty-seventh Street Station. The police then tried their hand at locating the residence of the daughter, but as she had but recently moved into the West Forty-fifth Street house, her name was not in the Directory.

About 10 o'clock last night the daughter telephoned to Police Headquarters and asked that search be made for Mrs. Thamer. As soon as she mentioned her mother's name she was informed that Mrs. Thamer was waiting for her at the West Forty-seventh Street Station.

12 HURT ON SOUTHERN LINE.

Engine Overturns, but Not the Cars, Which Left the Track.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Reports received at the headquarters here of the Southern Railway are to the effect that three passengers, two of them negroes, seven mail clerks, the fireman, and an express man were injured in the wreck of Train No. 36 at Sycamore, Va., to-day. The engine was overturned, but the four coaches and three cars which left the track were not.

As far as reported the injured are not seriously hurt, although several of the mail clerks are said to be injured internally. After four hours' delay, traffic was resumed to-night.

Lack of "Elbow Room" Starts Strike.

A general strike by the Full Dress Suit Case Makers Union was called yesterday, because the men say their employers were assisting a firm against which a strike for "more elbow room" was in progress. The Gripsack Makers Union also has joined the strike, according to the leaders. The Trunkmakers Union reported that seven firms have locked them out for demanding union recognition.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

A. M.	Loss.
12:10—508 E. 12th St.; Rebecca Clyman	$250
6:40—246 Broome St.; W. Rosenthal	$50
9:45—160-162 Prince St.; D. Vinzona	$5
11:30—1,025 Falle St.; John Hack	Slight
P. M.
12:20—321 East 121st St.; John Rubenstein	$5
12:30—322 10th Av.; ——Morris or Morrison
	$1,000
1:30—312 West 61st St.; Frank Gordon	$50
2:20—460 East 171st St.; Louis Rudis	$5
2:30—198 Henry St.; Sam Levine	$10
3:20—228 East 112th St.; Mary Gusoff	Trifling
5:00—48 East 102d St.; I. Schoenfeld	Trifling
5:55—1,815 East Chester Road; Thomas Flynn	Trifling
6:00—226 East 67th St.; S. Latham	Trifling
7:30—41 and 43 Division St.; M. Vessell	$200
7:40—43 Stanton St.; J. Rosenzweig	$500
10:10—783 10th Av.; Mr. O'Connell	$10
10:10—778 10th Av.; Schlosser & Elken	$10
10:10—781 10th Av.; Isador Hecht	$2
10:43—91 East 114th St.; Isaac Cohen	$100

WHEN you lose an article of value advertise your loss in the Lost and Found Column of The New York Times. Chances are it will be returned.

Go to any Advertising Agency or telephone 1000 Bryant.

SENATE TO GO DEEP INTO LORIMER CASE

Members Favor More Thorough Investigation Than Proposed in His Own Resolution.

LOST WITNESS SURRENDERS

Broderick Gives Bond at Springfield on Charge of Bribing Holtslaw to Vote for Lorimer.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The investigation by the Senate of the charges against Senator Lorimer of Illinois probably will be much more exhaustive than would be possible under the resolution which he introduced. There was considerable discussion to-day of the proposed investigation, and the opinion was expressed generally that it should be broadened.

Members of the Committee on Privileges and Elections contend that the resolution should have been sent to that committee for a decision as to whether the situation warranted an inquiry, and then referred to the Committee on Contingent Expenses for an estimate of the cost and an authorization of the expenditure.

Chairman Kean of the Committee on Contingent Expenses was not in the city to-day. He will be here to-morrow, and Chairman Burrows of the Committee on Privileges and Elections expects to confer with him. It is likely that the resolution will be recalled and sent to Mr. Burrows's committee.

If this action is taken it is expected that the committee will report for a broader inquiry. The Lorimer resolution refers merely to the newspaper charges, but members of the committee feel that they should be authorized to take up any phase of the case that may be presented, and should not be restricted in any sense.

Several members of the committee have campaigns on hand, and it is possible that they will be unwilling to give the time necessary for the prosecution of the inquiry before Fall. This question will be discussed when the resolution is referred to the committee for action.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 30.—State Senators John Broderick of Chicago and Stanton C. Pemberton of Oakland, with Representative Joseph S. Clark of Vandalia, accused in the recent confession of State Senator D. W. Holtslaw, appeared before Judge Creighton in the Circuit Court to-day and gave bonds. The bond of Senator Broderick was fixed at $10,000 and was signed by two Springfield business men. The other two gave bonds in the sum of $5,000 each. No date was set for the trials.

After the bonds were signed the three legislators hastened from the Court House. They were uncommunicative and contented themselves with asserting that they were innocent.

Senator Broderick, who had been in hiding since the voting of an indictment against him charging bribery in conection with the election of United States Senator Lorimer, arrived in Springfield late to-day in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Long, to whom he had surrendered himself in Chicago.

On the trip from Chicago Senator Broderick chatted volubly with other occupants of the car. He is reported to have said that Senator Holtslaw visited him last Summer in Chicago, but whether by invitation or of his own volition Broderick could not remember. Broderick declared that he had never talked with Holtslaw about the election of Senator Lorimer or about money, and that he had never given Holtslaw any money. He was silent as to his whereabouts while the Deputy Sheriff and Chicago detectives were searching for him. Senator Broderick was named by Holtslaw as having paid him $2,500 for voting for Lorimer.

While the indicted legislators were giving bonds, State Attorney Burke was hastening, it was reported, to Iuka, the home of Holtslaw, whose confession was the basis for the indictment for bribery against Senator Broderick and those for conspiracy to commit a felony returned against Senator Pemberton and Representative Clark. It was reported that the visit to Iuka was to obtain documentary evidence to corroborate Holtslaw's confession.

No witnesses were taken before the Sangamon County Grand Jury to-day. Hearings will be resumed to-morrow afternoon.

CHICAGO, May 30.—State Senator John Broderick surrendered himself to Deputy Sheriff Long here to-day. During the forenoon P. H. O'Donnell, attorney for Broderick, called Deputy Sheriff Long on the telephone and assured him that the indicted legislator was still in the city.

"Senator Broderick is not running away," said Mr. O'Donnell. "We are making arrangements for his bond and he will surrender as soon as this is done."

After he had been taken into custody Senator Broderick said:

"I deny absolutely all charges made against me by Senator Holtslaw. I am innocent of any wrongdoing in the Legislature. I have never received or given any money in connection with the election of Senator Lorimer or with any other election."

WEDS HER OLD SWEETHEART.

Virginia Girl Slips Away on the Eve of Her Marriage to a New One.

Miss Lillian M. Tanner of Lynchburg, Va., who disappeared from the home of her uncle, Edgar P. Horner of Trenton, is now Mrs. George Foulks, and is living in Newark. She and Mr. Foulks were married on Saturday night by the Rev. M. Y. Bovard of the Franklin Street Methodist Episcopal Church. Foulks is a bartender at a hotel in Newark.

He and his bride were sweethearts at Lynchburg. Recently the present Mrs. Foulks, while on a visit to her uncle at Trenton, became engaged to Edward J. Hayden of that city. Every preparation had been made for their wedding to take place yesterday. A few days ago, however, Foulks, happening to be in Trenton, called on his former sweetheart, and the old attachment proved the stronger.

Nothing was said, however, but at 11 o'clock on Saturday Miss Tanner left her uncle's home to go to a department store to try on a gown. She left without even wearing a hat. There was much alarm when she did not return, but it developed that she purchased two dresses, a hat, and a suit case at the store, so her relatives concluded she had gone away of her own will. They suspected she had gone to Newark to join Foulks, and this was confirmed last night.

HITS NEGRESS WITH HATCHET

It Sticks in Her Head, but She Kicks Assailant Down Stairs.

CHICAGO, May 30.—Max Klarfine, a real estate dealer, went to one of his houses to-day to eject Flora Smith, a negress. She refused to get out. Klarfine, it is charged, struck her on the head with a hatchet.

The blade stuck in her scalp like a revolver in a holster. She blinked a moment. Then, with the hatchet still quivering in her head, she kicked Klarfine down a flight of stairs to the street. She followed, and before he could rise, seated herself on him, and drew the hatchet from her head. She was beating Klarfine with it when the police rescued him.

The fight caused so much excitement that a riot call for the police was sounded. Klarfine was arrested, charged with assault with intent to commit murder. The woman was taken to a hospital. Her condition is reported to be serious.

Bakers Want Drivers to Help Strike.

The Greater New York Executive Committee of the bakers' unions announced yesterday that it will make a strong effort to induce the bakery drivers to quit. A few of the drivers stopped work yesterday. Others have been attacked by strikers and badly injured.

NEW USE FOR BALL PARKS.

Baseball and Theatrical Men Organize Hippodrome Company of $100,000,000.

PITTSBURG, Penn., May 30.—National and American League baseball parks are to be turned into moneymakers when the National game is not played on them. At a meeting here to-day of men who are well known in amusement enterprises an organization was formed, with a capitalization of $100,000,000, which is the culmination of a project that was started more than a year ago.

"Garry" Herrmann of Cincinnati, Max C. Anderson and Henry M. Ziegler of New York, and Harry Davis and John P. Harris of Pittsburg are the active heads of the enterprise, and already the hippodromes have been put into operation.

To-night hippodromes were opened simultaneouly on the National League ball grounds at Cincinnati and in this city. Next Monday the grounds of the American Association at Indianapolis will be opened. The following week the St. Louis American League grounds will be turned into circus grounds after the games, and at the same time the Boston National League grounds will be turned into a hippodrome.

Davis and Harris, who tried the scheme here a year ago, have interested others in the idea, with the result that all the ball parks have been engaged and will be opened, according to the statement given out after to-day's meeting, as fast as men can be instructed with the ideas of the originators.

THE JOKER JOKED.

Youth Fined $2 for Trying to Fool a New Policeman.

Just to aid Probation Policeman Kasinsky in acquiring rapidly a thorough knowledge of his new job, a crowd of youths started a pseudo thief chase at Second Avenue and Forty-second Street last night, as soon as they saw Policeman Ruth of the East Fifty-first Street Station leave Kasinsky alone for a few moments. Cries of "Stop thief!" startled Kasinsky and he bit at the bait.

At full speed he started after a youth who fled along with a yelling crowd at his heels, and near the Grand Central Station he caught him. The joker tried to explain, but Kasinsky would have none of it, and hustled him to the station and thence to the Night Court, where he told the story of the chase to Magistrate Breen.

"When I yelled to him to stop, your Honor," said Kasinsky, "he shouted 'ha, ha' at me. Then even when I'd caught him, he gave me the Ha, Ha. Twice he did it."

"He did, did he?" asked Magistrate Breen. "Well, we'll fine him just $1 each for those Ha's. How many of them were there? Two you say. All right, that'll be $2."

Peter Kiernan, the prisoner, of 349 East Thirty-fourth Street, paid the fine. He said he and his friends had seen Kasinsky breaking in and had thought it would be a good joke to fool him.

CUT OFF GIRL'S BRAID.

Harvard Student Arrested and Charged with Assault and Battery.

BOSTON, May 30.—Seward Churchyard Simons of Pasadena, Cal., a junior at Harvard University and a Crimson representative in the recent intercollegiate track meet at Philadelphia, was arrested in South Boston late to-day charged with snipping the braid from a young girl's head.

Simons had been competing in a Memorial Day track meet held by a local society. Miss Lillian M. Santangelo, aged 16 years, brought the complaint, and the student was arrested charged with assault and battery. He was released later on bail furnished by fellow-students.

EXAMINATIONS FACE WEST POINT CADETS

Two Weeks of Gaiety for the Students After the Final Tests Are Passed.

EXHIBITIONS AND DRILLS

Youngsters Will Bridge the Hudson with Pontoons—Plenty of Feasts and Hops on the Programme.

The academic duties and practical instruction of the West Point cadets, the suspension of which always precedes the graduation exercises at the Academy, are announced in a general order issued by Col. Hugh L. Scott, Superintendent of the Academy.

This order goes into effect to-morrow morning. This means that the last examinations of the first class men, who on June 15 next become Second Lieutenants of the army, and the final examinations of the lower class men for the 1909-10 term are at hand.

From to-morrow on and up to Thursday of next week the cadets will be going through a mental ordeal that is probably the most thorough of any institution of learning in this country. But the examinations will not be all. Col. Scott's orders show that the pleasure of visitor and cadet alike has not been forgotten, and every day after to-morrow until the "immortal of the class of 1910," as the cadet who graduates at the bottom of his class always has been and always will be known, on June 15, is announced, there will be plenty doing for everybody, beginning with a baseball game to-morrow afternoon and ending with the graduation hop on the evening of June 14.

Dress parades, reviews, inspections, military and calisthenic exercises, machine gun and pack train drills, pontoon bridge building across the Hudson, feats of egineering, horsemanship by the cavalry detachments, with two or three extra hops thrown in to please the girls, are among the entertainments provided for the enjoyment of all.

There will also be many interesting night exercises, in which big guns will be fired and during which great searchlights will sweep up and down the Hudson in the effort to locate cadet-manned vessels that on those particular occasions are supposed to represent foreign fleets.

The next two Sundays are expected to bring the two largest holiday crowds of the season to West Point, and if the crowd a week from Sunday goes early enough it will witness the dedication of the most elaborate army chapel in the world—the new West Point Memorial Chapel on the mountain back of the old cadet barracks. This chapel eminent architects have declared to be the finest type of ecclesiastical architecture on this continent.

It will have as its main adornment a magnificent stained-glass window, a memorial by the graduates to those graduates who have died for their country.

Here is an extract of General Order No. 14, which briefly indicates the many events scheduled at West Point in the next two weeks:

June 1—Baseball game with Stevens, 3:30 P. M.
Escort to the colors, followed by parade, 5 P. M.
2—Review, 4:30 P. M.
3—Infantry, close and extended order drill, 3:40 P. M.
4—Review and inspection, 1:25 P. M.
Guard mounting.
Baseball game with Bucknell, 3 P. M.
Cadet hop, 8:30 to 10:40 P. M.
6—Machine gun, mountain artillery, and pack train drill on target range, 3:40 P. M.
7—Squadron review, inspection, and drill, 3:40 P. M.
Cadet hop, 8:30 to 10:40 P. M.
8—Baseball game with Colgate, 3:30 P. M.
Night exercise, searchlight, and night drill for Coast Artillery, 8:30 P. M.
9—Military gymnastics, in gymnasium, fourth class, 11 A. M.
Outdoor military calesthenics, 3:40 P. M.
Cadet hop, 8:30 to 10:40 P. M.
10—School of the trooper in riding hall, 10 A. M.
Exercises in military signaling and field telegraphy, 3:40 P. M.
Sub-caliber practice Coast Artillery, 4:20 P. M.
11—Outdoor field meet, 9 A. M.
Review (and inspection,) 1:25 P. M.
Cadet hop, 8:30 to 10:40 P. M.
12—Dedication of new cadet chapel, 10:30 A. M.
Pontoon bridge building, 10:30 A. M.
13—Field Artillery drill, 3:40 P. M.
14—Tent pitching, 3:40 P. M.
Exercise in practical military engineering, 4:20 P. M.
Graduation parade, 6 P. M.
Graduation hop, 8:15 P. M. to 1 A. M.
15—Graduation exercises, 10:30 A. M.

The graduation exercises will be held in Cullum Hall, which is a memorial to Gen. Cullum, overlooking the Hudson north of the Officers' Club. Secretary of War Dickinson is expected to deliver the diplomas.

Immediately following the graduating exercises the cadets will go into camp for the Summer. This year the camp will be known as "Camp Hawkins" in memory of the late Brig. Gen. Hamilton Smith Hawkins, U. S. A., commandant of cadets from 1888 to 1902.

General Excellence Award Made.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 30.—The General Excellence award, consisting of the honor of carrying brigade and National colors for the next year, was won by the fourth company of the brigade of midshipmen, it was announced at the Naval Academy to-night. The winning company is commanded by Midshipman A. H. Gray of Massachusetts.

The bridge of "size" or the small bridge—it makes absolutely no difference. The Harris Suction Clip will hold your glasses where they belong with a grip that is immovably firm and yet so gentle that you can't feel it. Fitted to your glasses, 35 cts.

Sold Only at Our Stores.

M. H. Harris
Oculists and Opticians
54 East 23d St., near Fourth Ave.
27 W. 34th St., bet. 5th & 6th Aves.
54 West 125th St., near Lenox Ave.
442 Columbus Ave., 81st & 82d Sts.
76 Nassau Street, near John Street.
1009 B'way, nr. Willo'by Av., 489 Fulton St., Opp. A. & S., B'klyn.

LANSDEN ELECTRIC WAGONS

FOR six years we have been students of motor wagon requirements, and during that time we have used exclusively in our product the storage batteries produced by Thomas A. Edison.

WE have built the best electric wagon possible. Results have been flattering. Users everywhere have pronounced the Lansden better than all others. Accurately kept records have shown the Lansden cost of upkeep and operation to be the lowest.

Further particulars on application. Write, mentioning The Times.

THE LANSDEN COMPANY
Newark, N. J. Phone 1966 Branch Brook

EDWARD M'VICKAR DIES IN HIS AUTO

Continued from Page 1.

the Orange Memorial Hospital. His skull was fractured at the base.

Chief James Beal has entered a complaint of manslaughter against Charles W. Chapman, driver of the car that hit Wagner, and he will be arraigned tomorrow morning. Bail will be fixed by County Prosecutor Wilbur A. Mott.

Chapman was paroled on Saturday on his promise to appear when wanted. He is a stock broker doing business in Newark, and lives at Essex Fells, N. J.

Wagner stepped in front of the automobile in Park Avenue, and when Chapman blew his horn, became confused. The police have only Chapman's story, as there were no witnesses. The dead man was a native of Germany, coming to the United States when 35 years old, and soon afterward established himself in the business of wagon manufacturer in Newark. He retired about twenty years ago. He is survived by four daughters and one son.

AUTO KILLS BOY PLAYING BALL.

Accident Witnessed by Boy's Father, Who Offers Violence to Car Owner.

While fielding a batted ball which had been driven out of a vacant lot between Eighth and Ninth Avenues at Fifty-second Street, South Brooklyn, seven-year-old Emil Anderson of 840 Fifty-second Street, yesterday afternoon ran directly in the path of an automobile owned and operated by Milton Flory, a wealthy miller of Bangor, Me. The car struck him squarely, throwing him forward several yards, and passing over him before it could be brought to a halt. The boy's ribs and skull were fractured, and he died before Dr. Fischel of the Norwegian Hospital could reach him.

His father, John Anderson, a carpenter, saw the accident and rushed out to do violence to Flory, who took refuge behind his son, Henry Flory of 1,481 Avenue G, Flatbush, and his friend, Alexander Williamson, who were in the car with him. Policeman Collins of the Fourth Avenue Station ran up in time to restrain Anderson, but on his complaint arrested Flory on a technical charge of homicide.

TWO AMBULANCES FOR ONE.

Police Were Told of a Collision When Auto Ran Him Down.

James Collins, a clothing manufacturer, of 109 East Eighty-seventh Street, was seriously, if not mortally, injured yesterday afternoon when an automobile ran him down at Eighty-eighth Street and Lexington Avenue.

Collins, who was crossing the street, did not see the automobile owing to the trolley cars, and the chauffeur, Joseph Wanka, of 411 West Forty-fourth Street, asserted that he did not see Mr. Collins, who was thrown to the roadway. He was unconscious when Wanka stopped and ran back to see what had happened.

A great crowd assembled until the trolley cars stopped. This led some person to believe there had been a collision, and he telephoned this to Police Headquarters. Presbyterian Hospital rushed two ambulances to the scene.

Dr. Elliott found Collins was in a serious condition, and that he probably was suffering from a fractured skull. He was removed to the hospital.

AUTO HIT FIRE WAGON.

Battalion Chief and Driver Hurled from Their Seats and Injured.

An automobile collided with Fire Battalion Chief Matschke's wagon at Dean Street and Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, yesterday, and hurled him head foremost through the wind shield into the chauffeur's lap.

The Chief's driver was thrown to the street. Both men were painfully injured. The Chief's horse had to be shot on account of injuries it received.

The automobile is owned by R. B. Newman.

REMEMBERED AUTO'S NUMBER.

Sonntag, Run Down by a Car, Will Sue Its Owner.

Adolph Sonntag of Webster Avenue, Glendale, Queens Borough, said yesterday he will sue the owner of an automobile only the number of which he knows.

Sonntag was crossing Cooper Avenue, Glendale, last Friday, when a touring car struck him. The chauffeur saw what had occurred, but he laughed and rode on. Sonntag was left in the roadway.

But Sonntag had seen the car's number, and the number was in his mind when he recovered consciousness. He has not complained to the police, and as he has not revealed the number there would have been no way to discover the identity of the car owner had the accident proved fatal.

TWO AUTOS IN FATAL CRASH.

One Man Killed and Seven Others Hurt in Head-On Collision.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 30.—A head-on crash between two automobiles on the road to Fall River to-day caused the death of Philip Zeitz, aged 27, of this city, and painful but not serious injuries to seven others. In Zeitz's car were two other men and three women while two men occupied the second machine.

Both chauffeurs claimed to have been on the right side of the road. Zeitz, who was a pawn broker, is survived by a widow and baby.

AUTO TIRE KILLS MAN.

Explodes While Being Inflated and Inner Tube Strikes Him.

CHESTER, Penn., May 30.—Frank D. Marshall, aged 45, was killed at his home in Marcus Hook to-day by the explosion of an automobile tire which his brother-in-law, Charles Guyer, chief clerk of the Du Pont Powder Company of Wilmington, was inflating. The inner tube struck Marshall across the face, cutting him so severely that he died soon after his removal to the Chester Hospital.

His wife was a witness of the accident.

AUTO HITS WAGON; ONE DEAD.

Three Others Are Injured in Collision in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, May 30.—In a collision between an automobile and a farm wagon early this morning, John J. McConnell was instantly killed and three other men were slightly injured. All were occupants of the car and were residents of this city.

Howard L. Crise, driver of the machine, who was one of the injured, was arrested and charged with having caused the death of McConnell.

AUTO AND TROLLEY COLLIDE.

Rainstorm Obscures Driver's View—One Killed and Two Injured.

BENNINGTON, Vt., May 30.—A driving rainstorm that obscured the view of an automobile driver and an electric car motorman to-day caused a collision, in which Henry L. Knapp, 40 years of age, a local saloon keeper, who was in the automobile, was killed, and his companion, Miss Kate McGuire, 38 years old, a cousin of Knapp, and William Newton, a local garage keeper, and owner and driver of the machine, were seriously injured and may die.

The accident happened at an electric railway crossing opposite the Vermont Soldiers' Home. The automobile party were returning from Troy, N. Y., while the electric car was going in the opposite direction, bound from Bennington to Hoosic Falls, N. Y.

The automobile was smashed to pieces. The trolley car and its passengers were unharmed.

Boy Run Over and Killed.

WILLIMANTIC, Conn., May 30.—Charles Ladda, 11 years old, was run into and killed here to-day by an automobile driven by Roland Jordan, a member of the senior class of the High School of this city.

Landay Victor
400 Fifth Av. (Opp. Tiffany's.)
27 West 34th St. (McCreery's side.)

OUR BOOK "How to Care for Your 'Victor'" Free on request.

CARPET CLEANING J. & J. W. WILLIAMS Tel. 366 Columbus. Est. 1875. 353 West 54th St.

CURTISS SUGGESTS RACE TO WASHINGTON

Continued from Page 1.

distance of the course outlined is 217 miles and the trip must be made in six hours.

"I guess that offer is pretty safe," said Curtiss yesterday, when Augustus Post of the Aero Club told him of it.

There is still a prize in the form of a trophy to be won in this country. It is offered by The Country Life in America for a flight across the water from Mineola to Mamaroneck, a course of 15 miles. The trophy is worth about $2,000. Mr. Curtiss said yesterday that he would not try for i yet.

In addition to the $10,000 prize won by Curtiss on Sunday he added another trophy to his collection. It was offered by The Scientific American for the longest continuous fligh in America. The longest continuous flight Curtiss made Sunday was 75 miles. This makes the third time he has won The Scientific American trophy. He won it first two years ago in his aeroplane, the June Bug, and the distance was one kilometer. Last year he won the trophy with a distance of some 25 miles.

Telegrams of congratulation came pouring in upon Mr. Curtiss yesterday. These are a few of them:

The Louisville Times extends heartiest congratulations on your accomplishing the crowning feat of the history of aviation. Kentucky will extend to you a great welcome here on June 18.
THE LOUISVILLE TIMES.

Herty congratulations for the greatest flight feat on record.
GEORGE M. MEYERS.

President American Aeronautic Association.
Congratulate you on your splendid success. Will cable Graham Bell.
CHARLES J. BELL.

President Aero Club of Washington, D. C.
Fine work. Am glad you did it, though you beat me to it.
CHARLES F. WILLARD.

The Aero Club of Baltimore sends congratulations to the greatest American aviator.
JEROME H. JOYCE, President.

Congratulations of Dayton International Aero Club on magnificent accomplishment.
JOHN C. EBERHART.

Aero Clubs Officially Notified.

The Aero Club of America, under whose auspices Curtiss made his successful flight, was officially notified of the result yesterday by the following letter from Augustus Post, who followed the aeroplane down the Hudson Sunday on THE TIMES special train:

New York, May 29, 1910.

To the Aero Club of America, New York City:

Gentlemen: I beg to submit a preliminary report of the flight made by Mr. Glenn Hammond Curtiss to-day from Albany to New York, winning the prize offered by The New York World of $10,000, and which was paid to him this afternoon.

On behalf of the Aero Club of America, in whose hands the conducting of this contest was placed, I was at the start in Albany and delegated Mr. Jacob L. Ten Eyck to act as official timer for the Aero Club of America at the actual starting place.

Mr. Ten Eyck advises me that Mr. Curtiss left the ground at 7:02 A. M., passed over the city limits of Albany soon after, in full sight of special train, which carried me to Poughkeepsie, where Mr. Curtiss arrived at 8:26 A. M., exactly at a prearranged landing spot.

Mr. Curtiss left this point at 9:26 A. M., and flying over the Hudson River, through the mountains, arrived at Spuyten Duyvil at 10:35 A. M., after making a circle from Inwood some distance below, and returning on his path to this landing place, which he had noticed on his way down. This being within the city limits of New York the official flight was ended.

After obtaining a supply of oil Mr. Curtiss then started at 11:42 A. M. and flew down the Hudson River to Governors Island, where he arrived at noon.

Mr. Curtiss formally notified The World officials and myself, as representing the Aero Club of America, and the money was paid.

I beg to offer my congratulations to the Aero Club of America upon the success of this undertaking, and I have expressed in your behalf, to Mr. Curtiss, our heartfelt appreciation of the honor which he, as a member of the Aero Club of America, has brought, for another time, to it.

A detailed report will follow.

Most respectfully submitted,
AUGUSTUS POST.

Evolving the Historic Flight.

In response to several requests for a statement as to how Curtiss came to arrive at the result achieved by his flight Sunday, Jerome S. Fanciulli, who is the business representative of the aviator, prepared this statement, which was read and approved by Mr. Curtiss:

"It is apparent that the experiments made by Mr. Curtiss over a year ago with the 'June Bug,' one of his first successful machines, during which attempts were made to fly from and alight upon the water, played a significant part in his final determination to capture The World's $10,000 prize. These experiments convinced Mr. Curtiss that an aeroplane could be made as practicable for over-water flights as for overland flights.

"Shortly after Mr. Curtiss had begun these experiments on Lake Keuka The World announced its New York-Albany prize. Two of those who entered and started in an effort to capture the prize—Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin and George Tomlinson—used dirigible balloons equipped with motors manufactured by Mr. Curtiss.

Kept His Own Counsel.

"While serious discussion was engaged in with regard to the possibility of accomplishing the flight with an aeroplane, Mr. Curtiss gave no intimation to any one that he was looking forward to making the flight himself. His remarks merely intimated that he thought the flight was feasible.

"'My idea would be to follow the course of the river all the way,' he would say when Capt. Baldwin sought his advice. 'I wouldn't try to cut over very much land if I was going to fly in an aeroplane, but with your dirigible you could reduce the distance considerably by flying over the cliffs and treetops.'

"The experiments over the water were resumed after Mr. Curtiss returned to Hammondsport from the West last Fall, but cold weather soon put a stop to them. Active work on the water was not again resumed until Mr. Curtiss came East after trying out 'The Hudson' machine at Memphis and San Antonio. These tests proving that his aeroplane could be so fitted that alighting on the water would be feasible, Mr. Curtiss decided to make an early attempt for the New York-Albany flight. As he had consented to participate in a number of aviation meets in the West commencing the latter part of June, he was compelled to act quickly on his decision.

Tried the Machine on Water.

"A characteristic which has been an important factor in the success Mr. Curtiss has had is that he does not announce his intention of doing something until it is apparent to him that it can be undertaken with small chances of failure. It was not until he had made a flight of forty minutes over the surface of Lake Keuka and had alighted on the water that he informed The World and the Aero Club of America of his intention to start for the prize.

"Within thirty-six hours his machine was being assembled at Albany. His same careful judgment with regard to wind and weather conditions undoubtedly eliminated many of the elements of chance which cannot fail to predominate in a flight of such dangerous character as that over the valley of the Hudson River.

"That Mr. Curtiss is distinctly of an experimental turn of mind and desires to develop his machine so as to advance the idea of safety is evidenced with especial emphasis by his careful preparations in making extensive experiments to produce a light, compact machine which can alight equally as well on land or water. His attachments also served as a protection to the machine, which is valued at much more than the prize that was his through the generous impulses of Joseph Pulitzer."

Mr. Curtiss's representative also said that the actual money expended by Curtiss in connection with the trip down the Hudson was $500. This included his expenses while in Albany. So the money profit netted by Curtiss by his trip was just $9,700.

Dinner to Curtiss.

This day will be a busy one for Mr. Curtiss. About 9:30 o'clock he will call at the City Hall to meet Mayor Gaynor. To-night, at the Hotel Astor, a dinner will be given to him by The New York World, at which Mayor Gaynor will preside.

Invitations have been extended by The World to all the American aviators of prominence who are now in this country and to many others who are interested in aeronautics. About fifty persons are expected to attend, among them Brig. Gen. Walter C. Howe, who greeted Mr. Curtiss upon his arrival at Governors Island on Sunday; John Jacob Astor, Samuel H. Valentine, Acting President of the Aero Club of America; Hudson Maxim, President of the Aeronautical Society; Jacob L. Ten Eyck, who acted as official starter for the Curtiss flight at Albany; Augustus Post of the Aero Club of America, who followed Curtiss on THE TIMES special train; James M. Beck, Charles A. Munn, and Dave Hennen Morris.

There will also be committees from Hammondsport, the home town of Curtiss, as well as delegations from Albany and Poughkeepsie.

Curtiss will be called upon to tell the story of his record-breaking trip, and it is likely that Mayor Gaynor will take the opportunity of telling Curtiss that New York feels quite proud to have him here.

AEROPLANE NO MENACE IN WAR.

Flying Low Shrapnel Gets It, Flying High It Can Do No Harm, Gen. Howe Says.

The aeroplane would not endanger New York in the event of war, in the opinion of Brig. Gen. Walter Howe, commanding the Department of the East, with headquarters on Governors Island. Gen. Howe pointed out yesterday that there is no telling what the aeroplane of the future might do, and wished it understood that his opinion applied to the aeroplane as it is. High in the air and traveling at a great speed, Gen. Howe said the aviator would find his task a very hard one if he attempted to drop explosives on vessels or forts. If he descended to an altitude where he could drop his explosives with any degree of accuracy, the land forces would wreck his machine with shrapnel. Gen. Howe responded to a question put by a TIMES reporter, the question being what, in his opinion, was the military lesson to be drawn from the Curtiss flight from Albany.

"In my opinion," Gen. Howe said, "the only military lesson is that there will come a time when the aeroplane will be of great value as an agent of warfare. This is shown by the fact that two years ago none of us believed that the development of the aeroplane on a scale such as was shown by the Curtiss flight yesterday was possible. When we remember this we can only conjecture how great will be the progress in the development the next few years will bring.

"At the present time the aviator in an aeroplane may be able to carry dynamite or other high explosive, but, owing to the height at which he would fly, I do not think his presence would endanger to any appreciable extent vessels or fortifications, or even cities and towns, above which he flew. If he flew high he would probably have a hard time hitting us, while if he came low we would have very little trouble in getting his range.'

"Is the army working on any plan to combat the possibility of an attack from balloons in the event of war?" Gen. Howe was asked.

"Yes, we have made some experiments with balloons, and have found that with shrapnel we can wreck them at certain ranges. What the effect would be at greater ranges I am not prepared to say. The German Army has, I understand, made some extensive experiments along the same line, and I have been informed that the tests have not proved very successful. Over there they have a special gun and carriage that fires vertically a shell that breaks up in the air, throwing shrapnel in every direction. If the balloon is anywhere near when the shell explodes, it will be the end of the balloon.

"These experiments were made with balloons. What results would be obtained were aeroplanes used is another question. If they were operated as high and as fast as Curtiss's flew yesterday, it is probable that nothing at all would happen to the aeroplane, and if the aeroplane tried to hover at its dizzy altitude we would probably escape unhurt, too."

Gen. Howe expressed the opinion that the Government would not engage extensively in the development of the aeroplane, but would continue as in the past, to leave that largely in the hands of individuals. The Signal Corps officers, he said, have so many and so widely different lines of work to attend to that a signal officer could not possibly devote the time and study necessary to perfect the machine, as is the case with the civilian aviator.

Some of the officers on Governors Island pointed out yesterday that the airship shed on the new part of the island, where Curtiss landed, was the one built by Wilbur Wright just

Odd Lots of Stock

PART PAID PURCHASES

To accommodate the investor of moderate means, who does not wish to speculate, we offer a plan which eliminates the necessity for margin calls.

Send for Circular No. 40 "ODD LOT INVESTMENT."

John Muir & Co.,
Specialists in Odd Lots.
Members New York Stock Exchange.
71 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

EXCLUSIVE TRANSFER TO Bloomingdales LEXINGTON TO 5TH AVE. 59TH to 60TH ST.

A Player Piano for You!!

In this great sale we place the ownership of the highest grade player piano within the reach of everybody. It is one of the most remarkable offerings ever made. Nothing like it has ever been attempted by any other piano seller.

$1,000 Walters Mastertone Player Piano Outfits for $395

$10 Down and $2 a Week

By Request!! Having received hundreds of letters requesting us to inaugurate a sale of Walters Mastertone Pianos, we have made arrangements with the Walters Piano Co. to comply with the request. We offer these Mastertone Player Pianos, including bench, 12 rolls of music of your own selection and Music Cabinet, for five days only, at $395.

Walters Mastertones are conceded to be the finest player pianos manufactured. They embrace all the newest and latest inventions. They are so easily operated that a child can play upon them. Anybody can play all the latest standard popular, classical or operatic music on the Walters Mastertone Player Piano without having any musical experience. The only perfect player piano from which one can get all the musical expression that an expert can produce when playing a piano in the regular way.

TAKE NOTICE—This sale is for 5 days only, and we advise all those who are interested in becoming the owner of the finest player piano on the market to purchase one at once, for we know that the response to this sale will be the greatest we have ever had in the history of our piano business. None of these player pianos will be sold at this price after Saturday.

Good player pianos have been so expensive heretofore that it was possible for only wealthy people to purchase them.

Our Proposition Places Them Within the Reach of All

Come early and make a selection.

Do You Want To Exchange?

If you have a piano and desire to exchange it for the Best Player Piano made, a Piano that any one can play, this sale offers Great Opportunities.

Our exchange proposition will interest you.

We Also Offer the Following Walters Pianos At a Saving of One-Half

On the Easy Terms of $5 Down and $1 a Week

$375 Style A Walters Pianos at $198

$500 Style L Walters Pianos, $250
$550 Style D Walters Pianos, $200
$600 Style K Walters Pianos, $300
$1,000 Walters Baby Grand, $575

THE ACTION IS THE LIFE AND SOUL OF A PIANO. LOST MOTION ACTIONS, which these pianos contain, are the finest in the world. Guaranteed for 25 years.

Beware of Piano Frauds. Don't buy a piano unless it bears the maker's name.

It's extremely dangerous to purchase a piano masquerading under a false name.

Caution! Don't buy a so-called "slightly used" piano at any price, for they are worthless; otherwise people would not part with them.

Exchange your old piano for a new Walters Piano and pay balance at $1 a week.

Upon Request a representative will call. Warerooms, 3d Floor.

BLOOMINGDALES'
Lex. to 3d Ave., 59th to 60th St.

J. Ehrlich & Sons.

Our Three Factories Should Interest All Who Wear Glasses

We duplicate broken lenses exactly without prescription.

Quick Repair Work
Often finished while you wait.

Best Quality French Crystal Lens, 50c.
Special Lenses Proportionately Low.

J. Ehrlich & Sons.
Oculists and Opticians
223 Sixth Av., 15th St. 350 Sixth Av., 22d St.
1174 B'way, 33d St. 101 Nassau—Ann St.
217 Broadway, Astor House Block.

ADVERTISEMENT.

Active Men Wanted.

A number of first-class, live, active men, who are steadily employed, will be given an opportunity to increase their incomes from $25 to $100 a week, by using their spare time, which will not in any way interfere with their present positions. Nothing for sale. NO canvassing or soliciting required. This position will pay a large amount of money to those men we select, and will be permanent until December 1st, next. This opportunity is open to mechanics, clerks, bookkeepers and to men of good address with references.

Address Box 76, Times Office.

KELLNER GIRL'S BODY FOUND IN A CISTERN

Child of Rich Brewer's Family Sought Since Disappearance in Frankfort in December, 1909.

UNDER A PARISH HOUSE

Arrest Wife of Church Janitor Who Disappeared in January—Child's Ring Found in Her Trunk

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 30.—With the finding to-day of her mutilated and decomposed body in an old cistern under one of the parish houses of St. John's Roman Catholic Church, Clay and Walnut Streets, was solved part of the mystery surrounding the disappearance on Dec. 8, 1909, of Alma Kellner, 8 years old, daughter of Fred L. Kellner.

After the finding of the body the police arrested on the charge of being accessory to the murder of the child Mrs. Lena Wendling, wife of Joseph Wendling, formerly janitor of St. John's Church. They are also seeking Wendling himself, who has been missing since Jan. 14.

The man is described as twenty-seven years old, about 5 feet 10 inches in height, weighing about 160 pounds, with dark hair and eyes, and a small black mustache. Wendling, according to his wife, is a deserter from the French army.

Wendling's trunk. After the pin had been identified by Mrs. Kellner as one Alma wore the day she disappeared, Mrs. Wendling maintained stolidly that the ring and the pin had been given to her by a boy who said he found them in the street. Mrs. Wendling admitted that the stains on some clothing which she had washed for her husband a short time after the child disappeared, were blood stains. Her admission was made in advance of a chemical analysis of the garments, which are in the possession of the police. She declared that the blood stains came from a wound her husband had accidentally suffered on his arm while at work.

Further than this a three hours' "sweating" elicited little information from the woman, who acted as Father Schulman's housekeeper. Chief of Detectives Carney announced to-night that he has set the police throughout the country to work to trace Wendling, but no clue to the man's whereabouts has thus far been obtained.

A little more than a year ago, according to the police records, Wendling was arrested and fined because of improper conduct toward a young girl whom he accosted on the street.

Frank Fehr, a wealthy brewer, uncle of the child, who since her disappearance has spared neither time nor money in the search for her, positively identified the body found to-day. The child's shoe supplied the evidence. The body was found only a few yards from the entrance to St. John's Church, where Alma had gone to attend services on the morning of her disappearance.

The parish house is used as a school, and one hundred children attended in several rooms of the first and second floors were hurriedly dismissed from their classes and sent home when the find was reported to those in charge.

The finding of the body, after months of search throughout the United States, was by accident.

On Saturday the janitor at St. John's Church told Father Schuhmann that water was collecting under one of the parish buildings. Plumbers began to pump out the water. After pumping only a short time an odor was noticed, and later a child's foot, with shoe and stocking on, appeared. The police and Coroner were called by Father Schuhmann. After working for five hours all the fragments of the body were collected except the top of the skull and the lower part of the right leg. All the ribs on the left side were broken.

"It appears that the body was partly burned," said Coroner Duncan, "and I believe quicklime was used to aid in destroying the body."

Father Schuhmann said that he could remember nothing extraordinary in Wendling's actions after the disappearance of Alma Kellner.

"Wendling left the church without saying he was going to quit. He said nothing even to his wife. I thought at the time that possibly the fact that his wife, who is 42 years old, was much older than he was, caused him to leave. He often talked of returning to his old home in France. His wife wrote his parents at Genlis, Côte D'Or, France, but they had heard nothing of him.

Father Schuhmann said he had learned since Wendling's disappearance that he had left several positions without notice.

The news that the body of the missing child had been found created intense excitement. People began congregating in front of the school soon after the news was known and by noon several thousand persons were excitedly discussing the case. After the body was found it was removed to one of the schoolrooms and later to an undertaking establishment.

The cellar in which the body was discovered is six feet wide by ten feet long and is reached by two entrances, one a trap door inside of the schoolhouse, which has not been opened for several months, and the other a door near the side of the entrance to the building between the schoolhouse and the residence of Father Schuhmann. This cellar was searched four days after the girl's disappearance by two detectives, who inspected every corner of the room with lanterns and found nothing.

It was to attend services at St. John's Church, close by the parish house, on the morning of Dec. 8 last, that Alma left home about 8:45. She was seen a few moments later, as she neared the church, by a druggist, who noticed her stopping for a moment to play with a cat which was sitting in the window of the store. The druggist was the last known person to see the child alive.

'GATORS NIP TWO SHOWMEN.

They Get Too Familiar with Saurians at Coney Island and Need Repairs.

James Bagley, a showman barker attached to Alligator Joe's Farm in Dreamland, Coney Island, grabbed a four-foot Florida alligator out of its tank yesterday afternoon to convey it for exhibition before the crowd on the platform in front of the show.

"Harmless, perfectly harmless. Quite attached to me, ladies and gentlemen," chortled Bagley, hugging the alligator to him with a friendliness that thrilled the onlookers.

Just then he stumbled and slipped, and the alligator, interpreting the resultant bump as an attack, shook off its blinking sloth, yawned, and closing its jaws with a crunch on Bagley's right shoulder, became more tightly attached to him than ever.

Half a dozen spectators in the scurrying crowd rushed to where Bagley lay, and with their canes pried the alligator's jaws open. Then the animal, again quite docile and sleepy, was taken back to its tank, while Bagley was removed to the Dreamland Emergency Hospital. There Dr. Frank E. Smith cauterized his wound, which was painful but not dangerous.

An hour later Mrs. Frazee, wife of Alligator Joe, was holding another four-foot alligator for exhibition before the crowd. J. W. Plunkett, lecturer of the show, was growing eloquent over the virtues of alligatorkind. His eloquence carried his right hand too close to the virtuous young alligator's jaws, which closed upon it, almost severing two fingers. Plunkett fainted, but was later revived at the hospital and is said to be in no dangerous condition. There was no further exhibition of alligators outside of their tanks for the day.

SINGLE TAXERS DINE JOHNSON

Medallion Made by Son of Henry George Presented to Cleveland's Former Mayor

Several hundred members of the Manhattan Single Tax Club gave a testimonial dinner last night to Tom L. Johnson, former Mayor of Celeveland, at the Hotel Astor. A bronze medallion, made by Richard F. George, son of Henry George, was presented to Mr. Johnson as a testimonial of affection of the man and appreciation of his public services. It was presented by Frederic C. Leubuscher, President of the Manhattan Single Tax Club, who presided at the dinner. Mr. Johnson's private character and public work were lauded by half a dozen speakers.

"Henry George once prophesied," said Mr. Leubuscher, "that another man besides Jefferson named Tom would be President of the United States. He meant Tom L. Johnson. It is commonly recognized that Mr. Johnson is the most democratic Democrat in the country. He is a sturdy fighter against special privileges and before many years he will be in the front rank."

"We come with exultant hope to reenlist under his standard and enjoy with him the glorious opportunity we believe we face," said Herbert S. Bigelow, a clergyman of Cleveland. "Mr. Johnson was ever a fighter. We are gathered about the campfire to-night, and we have out General here. To-morrow he will lead us somewhere. He is a many-sided man and plain honesty is in his blood. The best of him is that he is square. He has always had the courage to lose if he couldn't win straight. He is a prince of optimists, and has a perfect genius for friendships."

Henry George, Jr., told of how his father and Mr. Johnson first became friends twenty-five years ago when Mr. George was in the zenith of his power. "Wise in counsel and brave in action, Mr. Johnson is like Ulysses of old," said Mr. George.

Louis F. Post spoke on "Johnson in the George Campaigns." He reviewed the campaign of 1886, when he said Mr. George came near being elected Mayor, as he "ran not far behind Mr. Hewitt and considerably ahead of Theodore Roosevelt."

In the campaign of 1897, when Mr. George again ran for Mayor and during which campaign he died suddenly, Mr. Johnson, said the speaker, "never let his left hand know what his checkbook was doing."

Newton D. Baker spoke on "Johnson in Cleveland," during which he remarked that the former Cleveland Mayor had accomplished something unparalleled in the history of American cities, "squeezed out every drop of water from its street car monopolies.

"He found Cleveland full of graft and corruption," continued Mr. Baker, "and he made it a clean city. The electorate of the City of Cleveland is made up of the most intelligent citizens in the country, and they got their habit of thinking out loud from Mr. Johnson. We lend him to you willingly that you may present him medallions, but the people of our city, with one accord, call upon him to come back for the new battle. Astronomers go great lengths to discover the existence of an eclipse; we know of it when Mr. Johnson is out of office. We are waiting most hopefully for him to return."

Edmund Vance Cook declared Mr. Johnson to be a greater inspiration to the cause of good government than ever before. Any one can win, he said, but it took a big man to lose right. John De Witt Warner spoke on "Mr. Johnson in Congress," and after Lawson Purdy, Commissioner of Taxes in New York, proposed three cheers to the guest, Mr. Johnson made a brief reply.

"I do not believe that we are at the end of our fight against special privilege," declared Mr. Johnson. "We haven't been in our last fight by any means. More are coming. No man can deserve all the nice things you have said about me, and all I can say is that I appreciate them very deeply."

Mr. Johnson described his visit abroad and told of many banquets he had attended where the name of Henry George appeared to be as well known as in this country.

The medallion is a large one, weighing about 240 pounds. On one side are profiles of Mr. Johnson and Henry George and this quotation, "The Truth that I have tried to make clear will find friends—those who will toil for it, suffer for it, if need by die for it. This is the power of Truth."

Among those present were August Lewis, Lincoln Steffens, Charles Fred Adams, Frederic C. Howe, Warren Worth Bailey, John J. Murphy, C. D. Williams, C. B. Fillebrown, Frank Stephens, Jackson H. Ralston, Daniel Kiefer, William Marion Reedy, S. A. Stockwell, George L. Record, Charles H. Ingersoll, Samuel Seabury, and Lawson Purdy.

SOCIALISTS NAME HUNTER.

Nominate Him for Connecticut Governor and a Woman for State Secretary

Special to The New York Times.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 30.—At the convention of the Socialist Party of Connecticut held here to-day Robert Hunter of Noroton, the author, Socialistic writer, and settlement worker in New York, was nominated for Governor. For Secretary of State they nominated Ella Reeve Bloor of Waterbury, who ran a few votes ahead of Henry J. Horsfield of Bridgeport. There was considerable opposition, because of her sex, and a question was raised as to the legality of the action. Mrs. Bloor won by a narrow margin. She is well known as a worker in the National body.

The platform adopted mostly repeats those of former conventions, with the exception of a plank against government by commission now inserted, it being against socialistic teaching for the legislative and the executive functions of government to be combined in one body.

The action of the convention must be confirmed by a referendum vote of the entire party of the State. It is not believed that it will be rejected, although there is some doubt whether the State at large will indorse the nomination of Mrs. Bloor as Secretary of State.

The leaders predict that at the coming election they will poll one-sixth of the vote of the State instead of one-third.

CHAMP CLARK TO SPEAK HERE

Will Be Principal Orator at Tammany Fourth of July Celebration.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Representative Champ Clark of Missouri, minority leader of the House, will make the principal speech at the Tammany Hall Fourth of July celebration in New York. Mr. Clark will discuss Democracy and the political situation generally.

Referring to the report that he would be a candidate to succeed Senator Warner, Republican, Mr. Clark said to-day:

"I would rather be Speaker for two years than United States Senator for eighteen years. Of course, nothing is certain but death and taxes, but the Democrats will control the next House as sure as you are living, and I think I have a good show for the Speakership.

"Mr. Cannon will be the Republican nominee for Speaker next time. It's too early yet to predict majorities. The greatest majority the Democrats have ever had in the House was 148, in 1890; the greatest the Republicans have had was 114, in 1904."

The Safest Summer Drink is "Iced"

It increases the vitality while decreasing the temperature.

DESPERATE FIGHTING OUTSIDE BLUEFIELDS

Madriz Forces Lose Heavily in Repeated Futile Attacks.

THE PADUCAH WAS CLEARED

Made Ready for Action, but Necessity Did Not Arise—Our Marines Anxiously Awaited.

BLUEFIELDS, May 30.—Gen. Lara, commander of the Madriz forces, again attacked Gen. Estrada's positions yesterday. About 3 o'clock in the morning he began an assault on Estrada's left flank with 500 men, but after hard fighting, in which many were killed and wounded, the Madriz troops were forced to retire. Estrada's losses were light.

About the same time an assault was begun on the extreme south flank, but this, too, failed, there being further heavy losses among Lara's men. Estrada succeeded in capturing a large number of prisoners, who report that Lara is convinced it will be impossible to take the intrenchments of the provisionals.

The port of Bluefields has been officially changed by the Provisional Government from the bluff to a point three miles up the Escondido River, and the Custom House has been officially removed to the City of Bluefields.

The representatives of Madriz, however, who now hold the bluff, claim the right to stop all vessels proceeding in and out of the harbor for the purpose of collecting duties. This has complicated the situation, and it is understood that a ruling of the State Department of the American Government as to whom duties shall be paid is awaited.

The Madriz steamer Venus has not been permitted to bombard the trenches back of Bluefields. This would have necessitated firing over the city, and in order to prevent it the American vessel Paducah prepared for action, although the necessity for this did not arise.

A force of United States marines is expected to arrive here soon, and as the situation is critical their presence is greatly needed.

There are rumors current that the bluff was lost to Estrada through treachery. The taking of this strong position by the Madriz forces has materially lessened Estrada's chances of success.

SAN JUAN DEL SUR, Nicaragua, May 30.—Gen. Luis Mena, commander of the insurgent forces at Rama, has refused to surrender the town. Gen. Chavarria had offered to guarantee the lives of the rebels.

When the terms were rejected President Madriz ordered Chavarria to continue operations until the town fell.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—According to a telegram from Consul Moffat at Bluefields severe fighting between the troops of Madriz and those of Estrada took place early this morning near Bluefields.

Mr. Moffat's cablegram, sent at 6 A. M., stated that the Government troops which for several weeks have been to the westward of Bluefields again began attacking operations to-day.

The forces attacking were those under Gen. Lara, who, Mr. Moffat said, in the last few days had repeatedly attacked the revolutionary forces, but had been repulsed each time. The Government troops in these attacks sustained heavy losses.

The fighting has taken place quite near Bluefields, and the insurgents, besides repulsing the attacking troops each time, have captured 200 men. These prisoners informed Gen. Estrada that the Government troops were starving.

The Navy Department officials are gratified to learn that the commander of the cruiser Dubuque, which was rushed from Bluefields to the Isthmus to obtain reinforcements, has with great promptness taken on board 200 of the marines that have been encamped at Empire and has sailed from Cristobal for Bluefields. It is believed that, with the landing force of about 300 American marines, and perhaps some bluejackets, protected by the guns of the Paducah and Dubuque, there will be no difficulty in obtaining respect for Capt. Gilmer's orders to both sides to refrain from fighting within the city limits.

While the State Department maintains complete silence as to the developments around Bluefields, it is acknowledged in diplomatic circles that the action of Estrada in removing the Customs House from Bluefields Bluff and the announcement that Madriz will continue to demand payment of duties has placed this Government in an embarrassing position.

On the first occasion on which an American vessel is held up for double duties the question will be put squarely up to the department as to which of the combatants is the responsible Government of Nicaragua. So far the United States has avoided recognition of either side.

No word was received from the scene of the fighting either by the State or Navy Department to-night.

NEW ORLEANS, May 30.—It is reported to-night that the Bluefields Steamship Company, engaged in commerce between New Orleans and Bluefields, the principal American steamship company employing fruit steamers between these two points, will clear its vessels in future through the nominal Acting Consul of the Madriz Government.

STUDENTS ANGER PRESIDENT.

Head of Maine University Considers Objection to Speech an Insult.

BANGOR, Me., May 30.—Unprecedented action has been taken by the seniors of the University of Maine in requesting President George Emory Fellows not to address them at the baccalaureate exercises in the chapel next Sunday night. The seniors give as a reason that as the Rev. Frederick A. Bisbee of Boston is to preach the sermon another address would make the programme too long.

The committee has reported that the President considered the seniors' request an insult and would speak without their approval if necessary. The students say that if he does they will leave the chapel in a body.

Friction has existed between the Faculty and undergraduates for some time, and last Spring the student body, with the exception of the athletic teams, "struck," owing to the expulsion of some of their members. After recitations had been at a standstill for several days a compromise agreement was reached through the efforts of the alumni.

President Fellows is a graduate of Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis., and came here in 1902 from Chicago University, where he was Assistant Professor of History.

WRITER ON MEXICO ANGRY.

J. K. Turner Says Magazine Has Suppressed Some of His Articles.

Special to The New York Times.

LOS ANGELES, May 30.—John Kenneth Turner, writer, investigator, and author of "Barbarous Mexico," alleges that the American Magazine, which advertised that it was going to tell the people the truth about conditions in Mexico by the publication of Mr. Turner's articles, has virtually suppressed the most important of them. He adds:

"I charge it with going even further—with planning to end its articles upon Mexico with a fulsome eulogy of President Diaz."

Mr. Turner, who is now a resident of Los Angeles, says he became acquainted with the publishers of the American Magazine about two years ago, when he submitted to them two articles dealing with what appeared to be a conspiracy between the United States and the Mexican Government for the suppression of the political liberty of Magon, Villareal, and Rivera, Mexican revolutionists arrested here. Turner says the publishers of the American Magazine encouraged him to get material for other articles dealing with oppression in Mexico. He says he made two trips to Mexico to gather material, and the American Magazine purchased twelve articles from him. Three were published. The editors notified him, he declares, that three others had been reviewed for publication and that the proofs would soon be sent to him, but the proofs never came and the articles have never been published.

A representative of the American Magazine said last night, after the foregoing dispatch had been read to him over the telephone, that either Mr. Turner had been misquoted or he was mistaken about his facts.

"Our relations with Mr. Turner have always been most friendly," said this representative. "It is true that we still have some of his material which has not been used, but that frequently happens when a large subject like that of 'Barbarous Mexico' is being handled by a magazine.

"There has been no question of stopping these articles. We have in proof one or two more. Several on Mexico by other persons have been published since the last one by Mr. Turner appeared, but some of these articles have been even more vigorous than were Mr. Turner's. In proof of the fact that our relations with Mr. Turner have always been pleasant, I may say that not long ago he asked if we would object in any way to his lecturing with some of the same material he had sent to us. We told him to go ahead.

"Mr. Turner has said nothing to us about withdrawing the articles he still has with our magazine. We will communicate with him at once."

PRESBYTERIANS FOR UNION.

United Church to Consider Closer Relations with Presbyterian Church.

PHILADELPHIA, Penn., May 30.—The Committee of Bills and Overtures of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church, which has been considering the question of closer relations with the Presbyterian Church and other denominations, made its report to the convention here to-day. Action on the report was postponed until to-morrow's session.

The report recites that there was a marked historic harmony between these two denominations in the maintenance of great truths in which they have a common heritage and custodianship, and an urgent need of coöperation in the great work of evangelization in the home and foreign fields. It contains resolutions as follows:

That there should be a closer federating of the two denominations and a more clearly defined drawing together of their church activities in all ways consistent with a loyal adherence to their distinctive principles; that contiguous presbyteries, or presbyteries occupying the same field, of both churches, should be authorized by the respective General Assemblies to put into effective form plans of federative work; and that we recommend to our respective assemblies the continuance of the present committees on closer relations.

The convention at to-day's session decided to memorialize Congress to pass immediate legislation to prevent the transportation of fight pictures from State to State. Denunciation of the Jeffries-Johnson fight was precipitated by the Rev. George W. Grannis, General Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, who, in advocating a less arduous Sunday for postal employes, blamed the apathy of the clergy for what he termed the "degrading contest between two brutes on Independence Day."

Later Dr. Grannis referred to the difficulty he had experienced in getting President Taft to take up the subject of Sunday employment of postal employes and Sunday work on the Panama Canal.

THREE HURT IN CAR CRASH.

Baseball Enthusiasts Badly Shaken Up In a Newark Collision.

There was much excitement yesterday afternoon at Ferry and Union Streets, Newark, when two trolley cars came together with a crash. At first it was believed that several persons had been seriously injured, but when the excitement abated it was found that only three passengers were injured badly enough to warrant hospital treatment. Two of these were taken to the City Hospital and the other one to St. James's Hospital. They will all recover.

William Leekie, motorman of one of the cars, got the worst injuries. He was hurried away to his home at Harrison before the arrival of the ambulances.

The police say the accident was caused by the motorman of one of the cars being unfamiliar with the route over which he was traveling. He had been sent out with a car as an extra on the Turnpike line to carry passengers to a ball game. He was going east on Ferry Street at the time, and had reached Union Street when he crashed full into the side of a Kinney Street car which was crossing Ferry Street. Both cars were traveling at good speed.

BURROWS SEEKS RE-ELECTION

Michigan Senator Asks Popular Indorsement at Primaries Next Fall.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., May 30.—United States Senator J. C. Burrows, through the Burrows Club of Kalamazoo County, announced to-day his candidacy for reelection, and his desire to be indorsed by popular vote at the primaries next Fall.

His announcement commends the "conservative yet progressive tendencies of President Taft." It also indorses the Republican platform of 1908, and declares for a tariff on imports, a strong navy, international arbitration, a merchant marine, an adequate currency and banking system, and regulation of inter-State commerce to protect shippers, carriers, and the people alike.

Semi-Annual
Clearance Sale
The Famous
Mme. Irène Corsets
WEEK BEGINNING TUESDAY, MAY 31.

These corsets are the latest sample lines of the Wholesale Department and are offered at these phenomenally low prices.

612 $6.00 Corsets,	Reduced to		3.00
586 $7.00 and $8.00 Corsets,	"	" 3.50	4.00
462 $10.00 and $12.00 Corsets,	"	" 5.00	6.00
621 $16 and $20 to $25 Corsets,	"	" 8.00	10.00

Fitted and Altered if Necessary.
All sizes and Extra Long Models.

518 Fifth Ave., Bet. 43d and 44th Sts.
AND
Fred'k Loeser & Co., Brooklyn.

ONE-THIRD REDUCTION

on the million dollar stock of

CHESTER BILLINGS & SON
(Formerly RANDEL, BAREMORE & BILLINGS)
will extend through the month of June

Arrangements have been made with Hegeman & Co., who will later occupy this store, whereby we are enabled to offer the public thirty days more in which to avail themselves of this unequalled opportunity for the purchase of high-grade jewelry at prices below the wholesale cost.

FIFTH AVENUE and THIRTY-FOURTH STREET

NOTE—Included in this stock is a lot of fine loose pearls at same reduction.

Smith Gray & Co.

Foremost Clothiers Since 1845.

SERGE Suits correctly tailored are unquestionably the ideal Summer Suit, combining comfort, faultless appearance, serviceability, and are always in both good taste and style.

That we have in our 65 years of good clothes making experience tailored serges that mount up into millions of yards is silent but indisputable evidence of our having mastered the innermost secrets of good serge tailoring craft.

For upwards of half a century Smith Gray stores have been recognized as headquarters for men's, boys' and children's serge suits, which fact in itself proves better than can any words of ours the superiority in both tailoring and style of Smith Gray serge garments.

It follows that because of this continued and increasing demand for Smith Gray serges we have come to know just what serges, both foreign and domestic, tailor best, give greatest comfort and longest and most satisfactory service.

This season the Smith Gray serge stock is most complete, including as it does those standard fabrics which both time and service have proven right, as well as all the most recent variations of weave and finish that have been pronounced good style—in consequence your suit is here.

The assortment includes Serges of Blue, Black and various Gray shades of smooth and semi-smooth finish in plain weaves, wide wale weaves, stripe weaves, stripe bird's-eye and innumerable stripe and interwoven effects from the best mills in America, West of England and Belgium.

There is every style of model for men and young men, single and double breasted, that good style offers for the present season, with a complete price range from $20 to 35.00 including silk lined, serge lined, half-lined and full lined styles.

Then too there are extreme values at $15.50 and 18.50. A Smith Gray Serge Suit will insure absolute satisfaction.

Motor clothes for owners and chauffeurs.

Smith Gray & Co.

Two Brooklyn Stores:
Fulton St. at Flatbush Av.
Broadway at Bedford Av.

Two New York Stores:
Broadway at Warren St.
Across from City Hall.
5th Av., Bet. 27th & 28th Sts.

Some day YOU will lose your baggage

IT makes no difference whether your baggage or personal effects be stolen, or destroyed by fire, railroad accident, or shipwreck. You will have to bear the loss unless you have a Tourist Floater Policy.

HARTFORD FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY

ISSUES a policy that insures baggage and personal belongings from the time you leave your home until you return. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, while in express wagons, on depot platforms, trains, ferryboats, ocean steamers, lighters, docks, or in hotels or boarding houses, a Tourist Floater Policy will protect you.

LET SOME ONE ELSE DO THE WORRYING

NEW YORK CITY DEPT. Howard Hampton, Manager, 75 WILLIAM ST.
BROOKLYN CITY DEPT. Sherman Esselstyn, Supt. 189-191 Montague St.

YOUR WATCH IS YOUR TIME TABLE

BET NEW YORK AND PHILADELPHIA

Speed
Safety, Comfort
Hard Coal, No Smoke
via the
NEW JERSEY CENTRAL R. R.

A two-hour train every hour on the hour, from 7 A.M. to 6 P.M., from Liberty Street—Ten minutes before the hour from West 23d St., in addition to other trains. Parlor cars on all trains. Dining cars Service DeLuxe morning, noon and night. Sleepers on midnight train.

A TWO HOUR TRAIN EVERY HOUR ON THE HOUR

WALTHAM WATCHES

COLONIAL SERIES

Colonial Series watches are a new type of thin model Waltham watches for men. They may be had in several grades. These watches are cased and timed at the factory. Sold by all jewelers. Guaranteed by the makers.

WALTHAM WATCH COMPANY
WALTHAM, MASS.

"Hole High!"

Every true golfer knows he's "on his game" when he is playing them "hole high" through the course.

Our wood clubs and irons have the quality and the nice balance that the golfer is always hunting for. Stop in and look over the V L & D golf goods—everything for the golfer from shoes to driver.

We are specialists in fine imported and domestic Guns, Rifles and Ammunition.

VonLengerke & Detmold

Fifth Ave. & B'way Bet. 23d & 24th Sts.

"After using a VENUS Pencil, I cannot use any other."

Why does one hear this remark so often?

When you have once used a

VENUS PENCIL

you will know why every pencil user prefers a VENUS for every sort of pencil use.

17 Black Degrees
Softest to Hardest
6B to 9H

2 Copying Degrees
Medium or Hard

FREE Send your business card or letter head and dealer's name for a free trial sample VENUS Pencil.

AMERICAN Pencil Company
44 W. 4th Street, New York

THE ARCHITECT'S eyes must tell no lies; his plans must be accurate. A strong cigar is the wrong cigar for draftsman or any man.

Robert Burns Mild 10c Cigar smooth and exquisite; strong only in satisfaction. Ask your doctor.

THE TONIC PAR EXCELLENCE

Quina-Laroche

FOR FAILING STRENGTH

Highly recommended during convalescence from

All Fevers, La Grippe, Etc.

Invigorating to the Aged, giving new energy to the debilitated. Beneficial in cases of Stomachal Diseases, Anemia, Chlorosis and the consequences of Childbirth.

(Sold by all Druggists)

Agents: E. FOUGERA & CO., New York

Frederic's PEARLS

No jewel case is complete without them.

1 WEST 34TH ST., Opp. Waldorf-Astoria.
479 FIFTH AVE., at 41st St.)
905 BROADWAY, at 20th St.

Library Bureau

Card and filing systems
316 Broadway

PRISON POET-ARTIST A GENERAL'S SON

Recognized by a Fellow-Englishman in His Cell at Castle Williams.

HIS LIBERATION DELAYED

Court-Martialed and Sentenced to Four Years in Prison for Embezzling Funds.

Pity the Bobtail,
Shorn of his glory,
Listen a moment,
I'll tell you his story.

'Listed at eighteen,
Said he was twenty,
Crazy for soldiering—
Got it a-plenty.

Tried to do rightly,
Tried to make good,
Booze got the best of him,
That's understood.

Strayed from his outfit,
Gave it leg bail,
Didn't give a damn for it,
Now he's in jail.

Pity the Bobtail,
You that still serve,
You may from duty's path
Still some day swerve.

A CASTLE WILLIAMS PRISONER.

In his cell in the grim old fort on Governor's Island that is known as Castle Williams, which serves the purpose of a military prison for the delinquent soldiers of the Department of the East, there sat yesterday a middle-aged man. He is cultured, and his every mark is that of the gentleman born, despite the fact that he is a prisoner just ending a term of three years in the old circular fort on the northwestern end of the island. Said to be the son of a distinguished General of the British Army, this prisoner in his youth sowed wild oats in plenty, and finally coming to the United States, enlisted in the artillery branch of the United States Army.

That was years ago, and in due course of time the Anglo-American soldier got promotion after promotion. He had proved to be one of the best men in his command, and his was one of the crack coast artillery companies of the army.

Many years before strong drink had proved a curse to his ambitions, but when he became an American soldier he fought the habit and thought the battle was won. He became the Treasurer of a company fund. Then one day he drank heavily, and before he got sober the company fund was missing. He ran away, but came back, surrendered, and said he was ready to take his medicine. He was court-martialed and sentenced to a year for desertion and three more for the misappropriation of the company funds.

Hopes for Release.

The sentence of the court sent the disgraced soldier to Castle Williams. He was told that if his behavior was good one year of the sentence would be remitted. With this year for good conduct eliminated it was figured out by the Governors Island authorities that his time would be up yesterday.

The papers went to Washington and the officers in the War Department discovered a mistake, and yesterday the prisoner found that he still had four months to serve. Now it is said the President will be asked to remit the four months, and the chances are that the Castle Williams prisoner will be a free man within a week or ten days.

The prisoner's regular occupation is that of clothing account keeper, but in his leisure he is a verse maker and painter. He is known as "the artist of Castle Williams" and his pictures have been sold at army fêtes for the benefit of the funds that are maintained to care for the widows and orphans of the soldiers who have died in the line of duty.

Many months ago there came to Governors Island a man from across the Atlantic. He was shown through the prison and in the course of the tour he went into a room the walls of which had been decorated with the work of the artist-prisoner. The prisoner was there at the time. The Englishman looked him in the face and seemed startled. Later he said he had recognized in the prisoner the son of a famous British soldier. When the prisoner was asked about it he denied it.

With most of his pictures he composed verses explaining what he had in mind when he painted them. One of these is called "The Bobtail," the name that military prisoners are known by in the service. Another picture, the best known of all, for copies of it are everywhere in the army now, is entitled "Many Roads Lead to Castle 'Bill.'" It is in three panels.

A Series of Pictures.

The first is a picture in colors of the old Castle and beneath it, in colors, is the National Coat of Arms. In the next panel are seven little circles and in the centre of each is a painting in water colors of a fortifcation in the Department of the East. Each little circular picture dangles at the end of what looks like a red-bordered ribbon. The ribbon is the road and each points to the Castle in the panel above.

The third panel is the story in verse of the other two. It reads:

From fort and post o'er vale and hill,
Many roads lead to Castle "Bill."

Ever the gates will open wide,
Always there's room for more inside.

For a hundred years or more, they say,
The prisoners came and went each day.

O! what tales these old walls could tell,
Of those who've lived in each prison cell.

O! if those cold gray walls could speak,
Of the sigh of the strong, the cry of the weak.

Such stories would many a volume fill,
Of the prisoners pent in Castle "Bill."

From fort and post, from many a "mill,"
See how the roads lead to Castle "Bill."

So sad so many should not be free,
So close to the Statue of Liberty.

One of many other pictures is called "Bobtail at Fort Jay," and shows Bobtail shoveling snow and gazing longingly at the skyscrapers in Manhattan. But Bobtail in that case did not want his "folks at home" to know the kind of castle he was staying in, and so wrote them a letter and this appears under the picture. This is what he wrote:

Castle Bill, N. Y., Jan. 1.

My Dear Parents: I am sojourning at a celebrated resort, near but not exactly on Long Island. In fact I can see from my room the lofty temples of the busy mart of commerce, but I am really far, so far as any danger is concerned, from the insidious fascinations of the great city. It is a very healthy place and my appetite is simply enormous.

The menu is inbommensurate with the demands of my stomach, but the doctors only allow a certain kind and a stated quantity at regular intervals. I have plenty of outdoor exercise, which is strengthening my muscles and lessening my avoirdupois. I retire very early and rise with the sun, sometimes before and I am soothed to sleep and awakened in the morn by the sounds of sweet music. The physicians in charge have prescribed a course of eighteen months, and I feel that I simply must take it all in. Your loving son, BOBTAIL.

WANTED TO SAVE HIS BEARD

Man Wouldn't Let Doctor Cut It to Get at a Face Wound.

A man who said he was Edward Barry, 52 years old, a clerk, living at 128 East Fifty-seventh Street, sat in the East Fifty-first Street Station yesterday bleeding profusely from a nasty gash on his cheek, but stubbornly refusing to let Dr. Ayers of Flower Hospital cut away his beard to get at the wound. He finally agreed to go to the hospital, but not until after Dr. Ayers told him he would soon bleed to death.

Barry had approached Patrolman McNamee at Fortieth Street and Lexington Avenue and asked for surgical attention. McNamee took him to the station and telephoned for Dr. Ayers. As he was stepping into the ambulance Barry said to Dr. Ayers:

"I am a physician, like yourself."

He would not tell how he received the cut.

EXPEL JEWS SEEKING HEALTH.

Caucasus Officials' Action—American Presbyterians Protest.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30.—M. Friedman, the Jewish member of the Duma who has championed the cause of the Jews who, by order of the Government, are to be banished from cities and towns outside the pale, to-day received complaints that members of his race arriving at the health resorts in the Caucasus to take the baths and receive medical treatment were immediately expelled by the local authorities.

The law forbids the residence of Jews in the Caucasus, but the Government authorized visits by them to the baths in the season of 1909.

A petition from the Viceroy of the Caucasus for similar privileges to the Jews during the present season is now awaiting the action of the Imperial Cabinet.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—A resolution protesting against the alleged inhuman treatment of Jews in Russia was adopted to-day by the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, now holding its fifty-second annual meeting in this city. The resolution is as follows:

Resolved, That the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian Church of North America expresses in the name of the Lord its earnest protest against the continued persecution of the Jews in Russia, and particularly deprecates the expulsion of the Jewish families from Kieff.

It was ordered that copies of the resolution be sent to the Secretary of State at Washington and to the Russian Ambassador for presentation to his Government.

FRENCH SOCIALIST BILLS.

Government's Programme for the Coming Parliamentary Session.

PARIS, May 30.—The principal points of the Government's programme for the approaching Parliamentary session are the establishment of departments which will replace the present arrondissements as the basis of elections to the Chamber of Deputies, with a provision for minority representation, measures for the defense of the public school system, and the surveillance of private and Roman Catholic schools, and certain Socialist reforms.

The reforms contemplated include legislation making possible contracts drawn between an employer and workmen collectively.

NO ANXIETY FOR THE KAISER.

The Doctors Declare That Complications Are Not to be Feared.

POTSDAM, May 30.—Emperor William remains at the palace, where the healing progress of the abscess on his right wrist is being closely watched by the physicians.

This morning Dr. Frederick W. K. Ilberg, physician to his Majesty, and Prof. Bier, the surgeon, changed the bandages. Subsequently they issued a statement to the effect that they had found the trouble taking its normal course and that no complications were to be feared.

Dr. Niedner, second physician to the Emperor, is charged with the continuous observation of the case.

King Albert of Belgium arrived here this afternoon. He was met at Wildpark station by the Princes, the Emperor deeming it inadvisable to carry out his original plan of personally greeting his guest at the station. The Emperor, however, presided at a dinner given at the new palace this evening in honor of the King.

Gift from King Victor Emmanuel.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—King Victor Emmanuel of Italy has presented to the American Cross of Honor Society a large autographed photograph of himself in recognition of his election to membership in the order. The main purpose of the organization is to honor each year, by the presentation of a cross of honor, the one most worthy among those on whom the American Government has conferred the life-saving medal. In addition it elects to honorary membership rulers of nations and others who have shown interest in rewarding heroic effort.

TOO MUCH SMALLPOX IN THIS COUNTRY

70,000 Cases in One Year Stimulate Physicians to Urge Its Eradication.

CO-OPERATION IS NEEDED

With the Acquisition of Proper Statistics and the Enforcement of Vaccination the Scourge Will Vanish.

The prevalence of smallpox in this country has been the subject of critical comment on the part of physicians for some time, and the various medical publications have devoted a good deal of space to the subject. The most recent contribution is that of The Medical Record, which says:

"During the past ten years smallpox has been unusually prevalent in the United States. The number of cases of smallpox reported to the Surgeon General of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service during the calendar year 1908 by the local and State health officers of the various States was 35,174. In Minnesota 7,031 cases occurred, giving a case rate per 1,000,000 population of 3,397. In Kansas there were 3,458 cases, with a case rate per 1,000,000 population of 2,096, and Montana had 732 cases and a case rate per 1,000,000 population of 2,339.

"However, these records are by no means accurate, owing to the difficulty of obtaining precise information. Further and more satisfactory co-operation is required between State health authorities and the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service.

"In a paper on this subject read by John W. Trask of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service at the meeting of the American Public Health Association the author expressed his belief that in 1908 there were probably more than 70,000 cases of smallpox.

"Now, in a highly civilized and enlightened country it is something of a public scandal that there should have been in the neighborhood of 70,000 cases of smallpox in one year. The situation, too, is aggravated when it is known that the disease can be virtually eradicated if proper measures are practiced.

Benefits of Vaccination.

"Of course, vaccination will in time, and in not a long period, either, stamp out smallpox if the method is thoroughly enforced. This has been proved. Smallpox was eradicated from the German Army by systematic vaccination. It may be said, and with a considerable degree of truth, that means possible in an army are not available in an ordinary community. But as Trask points out, smallpox has been eradicated, to all intents and purposes, from some of our States.

"Perhaps the most convincing argument in recent times in favor of vaccination has been supplied in the Philippines. The Director of Health of the Philippines, in his annual report for the fiscal year 1907, says:

"'During the year there has been unquestionably less smallpox in the Philippines than has been the case for a great many years previous. In the Provinces of Cavité, Balangas, Cebu, Bataan, La Union, Rizal, and La Laguna, where heretofore there have been more than 6,000 deaths annually from this one cause alone, it is most satisfactory to report that since the completion of the vaccination in the aforesaid provinces, more than a year ago, not a single death from smallpox has been reported.'

Smallpox in Quebec.

"En passant, reference may be made to the prevalence of smallpox in certain parts of the Province of Quebec. Dr. E. Pelletier, Secretary of the Quebec Provincial Board of Health, in the annual report of the board, just issued, draws attention to this prevalence, and also to the fact that, owing to the control of vaccination being in the hands of the municipalities, vaccination in Quebec is really optional and enforcement is practically a dead letter.

"There is no need to multiply proofs as to the efficacy ofvaccination; the question is how to render it general throughout the country and thus stay the spread of smallpox. Trask rightly shows that in order to eradicate a disease the first essential is an accurate knowledge of its distribution and prevalence; in other words, it is necessary to be supplied with accuhate morbidity statistics. Without such statistics the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service is fatally hampered in its endeavor to stamp out a disease or to use effectualy preventive measures.

"Therefore the statement can be made that in order to inaugurate and wage a successful campaign against smallpox State and local health officers must cooperate loyally and earnestly with the service by providing it with reliable morbidity statistics."

COREY NOT TO RETIRE.

Seen at His French Chateau, He Denies the Often Recurrent Report.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

PARIS, May 30.—William E. Corey who, with his wife, is spending his holiday very quietly at their country place, the Chateau de Vilgenis, near Paris, emphatically denied to me to-day that he is about to retire from the Presidency of the United States Steel Corporation.

"This report," he said, "is always renewed after I have left America. There is no foundation for it whatever."

Mr. Corey confirmed the information which I cabled some time ago to the effect that the project of listing the stock of the United States Steel Corporation on the Paris Bourse is in a more hopeful state than it was last year. "But even then," he said, "the difficulties to be overcome were not nearly as great as they were commonly supposed to be."

Mr. Corey, after three weeks on this side of the water, is looking in excellent health.

PLOTTERS SANK DRY DOCK?

Experts Now Believe That a Large Hole Was Made in the Dewey.

MANILA, May 30.—Further examination of the United States dry dock Dewey, which is partially submerged at Olongapo, Subig Bay, has strengthened the belief of those officers of the navy who have held that the damage was done deliberately by a band of conspirators.

It is now learned that the valves had not been opened, as first asserted, though they were found to have been leaking a little. This leakage would not have caused the trouble, and the dock sank more rapidly than would have been the case had all the valves been opened and had no other opening been made.

Accordingly the experts believe that a large hole will be found in the port side or the bottom of the dock. It is probable that the mystery will not be cleared up until the dock has been raised. When this will be cannot be said, but it is quite likely that the work will take four or five weeks.

The position of the dock was unchanged to-day, except that the port side, containing the machinery, further settled. It is now imbedded in the mud to a depth of twelve feet, making its present examination impossible. The starboard is one-third dry and can easily be floated.

The engineers will employ compressed air when the wrecking equipment is brought here from Cavite on Wednesday. Capt. Albert Mertz, Commandant of the naval stations at Cavite and Olongapo, has inspected the work and expressed satisfaction with the progress made.

INSPIRED BY ANGRY CHINESE.

Proposed Boycott Said to be Due to Merchants We Barred.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 30.—Chinese merchants of San Francisco are reticent concerning the reported organization of a general boycott against American goods. None of the powerful Six Companies' officers to-day would discuss the movement, but it is said now that the boycott had its origin in China. The organizers are said to be wealthy Chinese who either have been unable to obtain original admission to this country or have been sent back on attempting to re-enter the United States.

Another source of complaint seems to be the rigid system of examinations of Chinese entrants at this port. Wealthy merchants on re-entrance after visits to China are said to have complained bitterly of these minute physical examinations, particularly the new "tissue test" to determine age and general condition of health.

The general opinion of those in touch with the local Chinese business world is that the movement is primarily inspired to bring about the restoration to this city of the Chinese Immigration Detention Station, which was recently removed to Angel Island, and to effect an amelioration of the physical examination.

FATE OF SUBMARINE'S CREW.

Divers Discover That the 27 Men in the Pluviose Were Drowned.

CALAIS, May 30.—Inspection by divers of the sunken French submarine Pluviose, which was in collision with the cross-channel steamer Pas de Calais last Thursday, shows conclusively that the hull of the submarine was crushed and that the members of her crew, which numbered twenty-seven men, were drowned.

The heavy undertow and the great depth at which the wreck lies are retarding the operations of the divers, who are able to work only two hours each tide. It has been found impossible to raise the sunken craft to the surface, so the submarine will be attached by chains to pontoons, after which, at each high tide, she will be towed in nearer shore until shallow water is reached.

The work of getting her in will probably take ten days.

1887 Brill Clothes—Ready to Wear. 1910

After the Holiday

Back to the earning of money and the spending of it.

If you're going to buy a summer suit to-day we can materially cut down your expenditure. For $20 we have a two or three piece suit of Huddersfield English flannel, in Oxford or Cambridge gray; the ideal suit for city or country wear from May to October. And, at the same price, suits in all seasonable fabrics and colorings.

At $15, the U. S. TRUE BLUE serge suit, of unfading color, tailored much better than last year. Just to make it match up to the new Brill standard—

The best at the price.

Brill Brothers
CLOTHIERS 4 CONVENIENT STORES
Harlem Store Open Evenings.
279 BROADWAY, nr. Chambers St. 125TH STREET, cor. 3d Avenue.
UNION SQUARE, 14th St., nr. B'way. 47 CORTLANDT ST., nr. Greenwich.

S. & H. Green Trading Stamps With Cash or Charge Purchases

Greenhut & Co. Wearing Apparel

Today---Extra S. & H. Green Trading Stamps

Today We Place on Special Sale
5,000 Yards of

24 in. All-Silk Dress Foulards
Such as Are Usually Sold at 75c.

at 50c yard

A very attractive assortment. Plenty of navy, Copenhagen and black grounds; also new colors and dot and spot designs are included. As foulards are in such tremendous demand in the most fashionable circles this sale is an extraordinary and most timely event.

The following specials are also for Today:

40 and 42 inch All Silk Marquisette, and imported chiffon voile, showing a splendid double width dress grade, in evening and popular Spring street colors, also white or black.

Usually $1.25, at $1.00

40 and 42 inch Imported Faconne Foulards, shown in all the right dress colors; plenty of navy grounds.

Special $1.25 yard

36-inch All Silk Rough Shantung and Smooth Tussah, in natural color only.

Usually $1, special, 68c. yard

Main Floor—Greenhut and Company—For Today's selling

Greenhut & Co., Sixth Ave., 18th to 19th Street

AN ARROW COLLAR with the Ara-Notch in place of the bothersome buttonhole 15c. each—3 for 25c.

Cluett, Peabody & Co., Makers

ARROW CUFFS, 25c. a Pair

It is Easy Enough

To say you know how, but when you can add you "have thirty years' experience," that rather emphasizes the claim. We began business in 1880.

Fireproof Storage
Household Removals
Packing and Shipping
Carpet and Rug Cleaning
Vaults for Valuables
Phone 6900 Main

EXPERTS OF 80 YEARS' EXPERIENCE.

ESTABLISHED 1840.

Le Boutillier Brothers

Announce their ANNUAL SALE of Fine Muslin Underwear

(Domestic & Foreign)

Commencing TUESDAY, May 31

Much Below Prevailing Prices

Domestic

PRINCESS SLIPS
trimmed with Lace and Ribbon
$1.50, $1.98, $2.98 to $9.50

CORSET COVERS AND DRAWERS
Embroidery or Lace Edged
50c, 79c, 98c to $2.98

COMBINATIONS, GOWNS, CHEMISES, PETTICOATS
Embroidery or Lace Trimmed
98c, $1.50, $1.98, $2.98 to $5.98

CORSETS of Batiste, low bust, long hips, . 95c, $1.50, $5.00 to $10.00
HOUSE SACQUES of figured Lawn, 69c, 98c, $1.98
KIMONOS of Crepe and Lawn, $1.50, $1.98, $2.98 to $3.98
BATHING SUITS, new styles, $2.98, $3.98, $5.98 to $12.50,

French Lingerie

CHEMISES,	$1.00,	$1.25,	$1.98 to $6.98
DRAWERS,	1.25,	1.50,	1.98 to 4.98
GOWNS,	1.75,	2.50,	3.75 to 10.50
PETTICOATS,	1.50,	2.50,	3.50 to 10.50
COMBINATIONS		2.25,	2.98 to 9.85

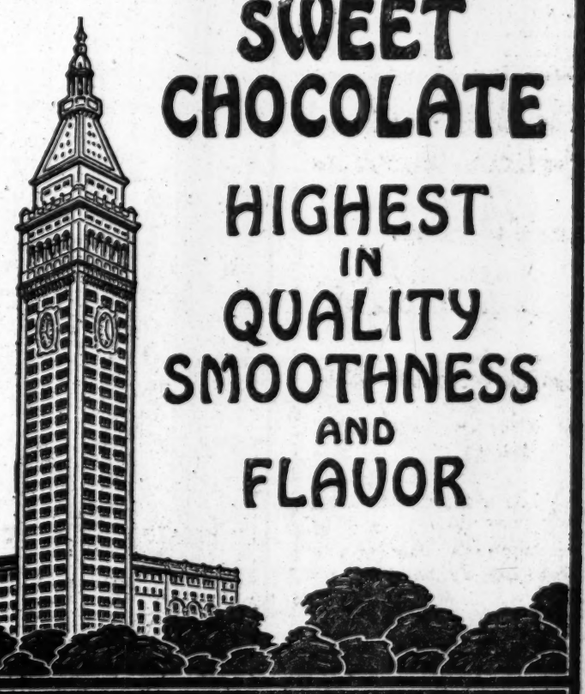
Summer Waists

FLAXON WAISTS, colored stripes, frilled front $1.50
BATISTE WAISTS, high or Dutch neck, long or short sleeves, special $1.75
PERSIAN LAWN WAISTS, hand embroidered front and lace trimmed, Value $3.98 $2.98
BATISTE WAISTS, richly trimmed, $3.95, 5.90, 6.98 to 10.90

WEST TWENTY-THIRD STREET.

Huyler's METROPOLITAN SWEET CHOCOLATE



HIGHEST IN QUALITY SMOOTHNESS AND FLAVOR

TEN CENTS & FIVE CENTS

SANITOL

Your physician will tell you that a clean mouth is essential to good health.

If you brush your teeth regularly every morning and every night with Sanitol Tooth Powder or Sanitol Tooth Paste, decay will be prevented and your teeth will be kept white.

Yes, your general health will be better.

25c, wherever toilet articles are sold.

LOUIS ROEDERER
CHAMPAGNE
BRUT SEC
1900 VINTAGE
E. La Montagne's Sons
45 Beaver St., New York

No one knowing the facts will eat Tomato Ketchup that has been drugged to make it keep. Read the label on your ketchup bottle.
HEINZ TOMATO KETCHUP

Cammeyer
Stamped on a Shoe means
Standard of Merit
6TH Ave. & 20TH St.

A Snappy Oxford for Men, $5.00 and $6.00
In Tan Russia Calf, Gun Metal Calf and Patent Leather.
Some Shoes for Men have some good qualities, but only Cammeyer Shoes combine all the good qualities.
Every customer receives the individual attention of a competent clerk.

The Cool Woods of the Green Mountains
In Vermont or the Venetian by-ways through the islands of Lake Champlain
is the best place for your vacation.
Let us tell you all about these resorts and of Montreal, reached by through trains via the Rutland R.R.
Send 4 cents for a copy of "Across the Islands and Beyond."
Address
E. J. O'Hayer, Jr.
1216 Broadway
New York
NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES
"For the Public Service"

CARPET CLEANSING
Largest in the World. Every detail.
40 years' experience.
THE THOS. J. STEWART CO.
B'way & 46th St., N.Y. Phone 3896 Bryant.
Erie and 5th Sts., Jersey City.
Storage Warehouse, Moving Vans.

VENTILATED, NON-RATTLING
PATENT WINDOW AWNINGS.
JOHN SULLIVAN & SON,
356 Hudson St. Tel. 2477 Spring.

COUNTRY BOARD NEAR PHILADELPHIA.
Board in the most beautiful section of Penn-
[illegible] You will get the most [illegible] Philadelphia.
[illegible] Ave. Phone 7151 Madison Square.

THE OLD WORKHORSE HAS A DAY OF GLORY

Medals and Ribbons and Money Prizes Distributed During the Parade.

TOOK FIVE HOURS TO PASS

Pompey, Scarcely Recognized, Gets a Ribbon—Oldest Driver Disappointed—Mrs. Sage on the Grand Stand.

The fourth annual workhorse parade on Fifth Avenue yesterday took from 10:30 A. M. until 3:30 P. M. to pass the reviewing stand at the Worth Monument. It was the largest on record.

There were 301 entries, but these represented nearly twice that number of horses, since double turnouts were in the majority, while there were not a few three and four horse rigs, and one great truck was drawn by five Percherons. More than $2,000 was distributed in prizes, in addition to the four ribbons awarded in person in each of the sixty-one classes, by Mrs. Russell Sage and Mrs. James Speyer.

Although the parade started at 10:30 o'clock, the contestants were up and doing two hours earlier. Judges were passing on the animals in Washington Square, excluding the lame and the halt, but not the blind, which had a class by themselves. The streets were filled with the employes of firms represented by horses and the families of their drivers. Bets were made on the chances of this or that horse to get a blue ribbon, or, in fact, any ribbon at all.

The grand stand may have grown wearied of the thousands of horses, but the standees in the street did not diminish during the five long hours.

For the first time since the workhorse parade was inaugurated, in 1907, Pompey did not lead the procession. The spectators missed their old favorite, and few recognized him when he finally appeared ahead of the Street Cleaning Department horses. Pompey was looking very well in spite of his twenty-eight years, and if the former police horse felt injured to be put back with the "White Wings," he didn't show it. He cavorted along as proudly as if he was close to the band.

Twenty-six mounted policemen, their mounts by far the showiest of the procession, lined up before the stand for the prizes. Every horse but one was brown. This exception was Poacher. He won a blue ribbon and a silver medal. Poacher is 22 years old, and one of the few horses left from the days when black mounts were preferred, but in spite of his years he can still show his heels to many of his younger rivals.

Punch, another blue-ribbon winner, ridden by Lieut. William Egan, received much applause for his good manners.

Chief Croker Was There.

Chief Croker, in a light buggy, was on hand to watch the six engine companies do their turn. Every bit of apparatus had been scrubbed till the metal glistened dazzlingly in the sun, and the teams were so evenly matched that the judges finally gave blue ribbons to the three oldest trios and reds to the younger ones.

Among the city's veterans, Baby, 26 years old, is in the Street Cleaning Department. Jerry, aged 24, is from the Health Department. Both are blue-ribbon winners. And then there's Tom, who, although 20 years old, still responds to calls for the Bellevue Hospital ambulance.

Besides the city's veterans, there were six divisions of old horses, five for single and one for double teams. To these and to veteran drivers most of the cash prizes were offered. But when a horse has lived 35 years, pulling a butcher's cart for 30, as has Eckenroth's Charlie, it seems time for him to have some reward. Baby, aged 31, whom Alphonse Danhauser has owned and driven for 25 years, came next in age. There were two more who could count 30 years, while some horses of 20 and 21 showed scarcely a sign of age or toil.

The best story, though, is of Spot and Jumbo, the prize old-horse team. Jumbo is 26, Spot is 25, and they have hauled wagons for the Bradley Contracting Company for twenty-three and twenty-two years, respectively. Last year it was decided they had reached the age limit. The owner said they had earned $22,000 for him, and they should pass their last years doing nothing on his farm in New Jersey. But instead of enjoying the landscape and communing joyfully with the heart of nature, Jumbo and Spot grew peaked and thin.

The veterinary couldn't discover any trouble, but their driver said they were lonesome for their work in New York. As there was nothing else to do, the owner allowed the driver to take them back to the stables and put them to work again. Since then Spot and Jumbo have regained their lost health and spirits, and when awarded blue ribbons yesterday, with a cash prize besides, they straightway rose on their hind legs to show how kittenish they felt. Anyway, it's a pretty story, and there was one of the stablemen on the stand ready to vouch for it.

Oldest Driver Got No Prize.

The veteran drivers, too, made a good showing. There were forty-two of them, each having served one firm for at least twenty years. Ten had unbroken records for thirty or more. K. Tinte has been an icecart driver for fifty-one years, while John McGuire of the New York Transfer Company, came next with forty-two. James Manly and Thomas Beal have records of forty-one years each. Tinte, with the longest service to his credit, however, was given no prize at all.

After the special classes came grain dealers, ice men, peddlers, expressmen, brewers, bakers, "butter and eggs," likewise cheese dealers, produce, grocers, flour, tea and coffee, provisions, butchers, fishmen, game dealers, milk wagons, confectionery, coal men, and so on through two score of divisions. These were frequently quite family affairs, the father driving, a small boy beside him waiting to clamber down for a ribbon, and the little girls, dressed in their best, playing house with dolls in the wagon.

Frequently dogs were brought along, and all were awarded pale-blue bows on general principles. One team undoubtedly had a dog for aesthetic reasons. It was a white wagon, drawn by a black horse, and at the psychological moment a black and white coach dog ran out on the horse's back in time to bark as the coveted blue ribbon was awarded.

One double team of snowy whites had their tails braided with blue ribbon, and sure enough they got the blue badge to match it. Another man had dyed his horses' tails a charming, if somewhat startling, baby blue. And he, too, received a badge, only it was the light "highly commended" instead of the dark "first prize" shade. Maybe next year he'll try a deeper dye on the tails.

However the increase in the price of milk may have affected the consumer, the cost of living hasn't reached the milk horses. Never have they looked so fat and sleek and shiny, and never has there been greater rivalry among the stables. One Superintendent admitted having fed his animals a dozen hard-boiled eggs daily for a week to give an extra gloss to their hides. His rival had given his horses two days' rest previous to the parade.

Cook and Peary on an Ice Cart.

Cook and Peary pulled an ice wagon. Taft was doing his best with a coal cart, but he didn't get a prize. Choate and Chauncey were team-mates in the lumber division. Harlem Bill came from 125th Street, while Ajax, driven by a Greek, demonstrated his strength by walking as much as possible on his hind legs. Max and Morit, a span owned by a German firm, did their namesakes credit, cavorting at the slightest opportunity. And Romeo, a mule, with the night-serenade habit, was not forgotten. The maddest man on the grounds was the driver of a seven-year-old bay mule that didn't get a prize. He knew his was the best mule in the city, and told the judges so. They admitted the fact, but older animals were given the preference.

"Show us your mule three years from now in as good condition, and I'll promise you the first prize," the chief judge told him, and the driver felt somewhat better.

The keenest competition was between the big contractors, Bradley and Degnon. The men know months ahead that these teams are to be entered, and strain every nerve to keep them up to condition, spending extra sums for eggs, all for the good of the cause. And, one and all, they turn out to "root" for their teams.

One man in the grandstand chuckled: "We've taken 2 blues, 1 red, and 3 yellows so far, so I ought to feel contented, but the joke of it is, my one blemished horse got the blue ribbon."

At the end of three hours spectators in the stand began to feel the planks grow hard. The men handling prizes distributed sandwiches among themselves, and took cold draughts out of refrigerated bottles, while the band over under the shade of the trees in the park played "Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes" to the perspiring souls on the bleachers opposite. Mrs. Sage, wearied by her task of distributing medals, retired to a rear seat, and departed.

At 3 o'clock came the "grand finale," the driving of four-horse teams, between posts set so close the hubs of the wheels barely might pass through. Six four-in-hands were entered, but Borden's, last year's winning team, but with another driver, and Schwarzschild & Sulzberger's representative, took one look at the obstacles, and joined the spectators. This left two Sheffield Farms teams and the Bradley quartet.

Winner Went Away in Disgust.

The Bradley man drove first, making turns that seemed quite impossible with so large a truck, but knocking down seven of the markers. Disgusted at what he considered his failure, O'Brien drove off.

Next Sheffield Farms, with Morits, a broad-faced, calm Teuton, who did remarkable work the year before, tried a letter "S" turn, and knocked down eight white blocks. The second Sheffield Farms team overturned nine markers.

Thus the prize went to O'Brien, but he was nowhere to be found, although dozens of Bradley men among the spectators volunteered to run after him, but he was half way to the stables in Brooklyn. However, O'Brien will get his medal and the cash that goes with it.

"That was a greater victory than it seems," said one of the judges. "The Bradley team was four feet longer than the others, and about six inches wider. With a truck like the others I believe he would not have hit more than four or five of the markers."

With Mrs. Speyer's party in the reviewing stand were Mrs. Charles R. Flint, Mrs. Lawrence Keene, Mrs. Richard Burden, Mrs. James H. Wadsworth, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, Mrs. C. C. Cuyler, Miss Elsie De Wolfe, Mrs. Gordon K. Bell, Miss M. H. Dehon, Miss Emily Jex, Miss Theodora Mead, Miss Gertrude McCarthy, Miss Marie Winthrop, Mrs. Edward R. Wharton, Dr. Thomas Darlington, and Mr. James Speyer.

COMET AGAIN UNDER CLOUDS.

Wanderer Should Be Visible on Clear Nights Throughout June.

	To-day.	To-morrow.
Sun sets	7:19	7:19
Comet sets	11:10	11:20

The storm, which passed over this city last night, again hid the comet from view. Heavy black clouds were banked along the horizon and no stars were visible.

Though the comet is getting fainter each night, it should be readily followed with the naked eye throughout June by those who know where to look for it in the sky. The best guide is Regulus in the Sickle, which forms part of the constellation Leo. This star is twelve degrees north of the comet on June 3, and after that date the comet continues on its way southeast of Regulus until June 27.

During June the sun is moving eastward among the stars faster than the comet, and the angle between them is being lessened, with the result that the comet rises earlier each night. The numbers given in the table for stellar magnitude of the comet is an estimate of the effect of the whole light of the comet on the eye. A sixth magnitude star is at the limit of vision and the comet will not be as faint as that till July 1. Moonlight will interfere with the observations after June 10, but until that time it will be possible, weather permitting, to obtain a view of the comet after sunset.

MARY PROCTOR.

CARS CRASH ON STEEP GRADE

Motorman of One Is Killed and Fifty Passengers Are Injured.

OAKLAND, Cal., May 30.—As the result of a head-on collision between two street cars of the California Electric Railway near Leona Heights to-day, C. A. Christensen, motorman of one of the cars, is dead, and fifty passengers have injuries that in some cases may result fatally.

The collision occurred on a steep grade at a sharp turn in the road. Believing that he had a clear track, the motorman of the inbound car was coming down the grade at high speed when an outbound car, loaded with a picnic party, crashed into his. Half of each car was crushed and the outbound car dashed back down the track, scattering wounded victims along the right of way.

The picnic party was planned in honor of a newly engaged pair, and was composed mainly of women and children. The engaged couple were not seriously injured.

ESCAPED ON FLOATING LOG.

Deaf-Mute Fugitive from Randall's Island Found in East River.

William Downs, a deaf-mute inmate of an institution on Randall's Island, was found astride of a heavy log that was floating in the Bronx Kills off Willis Avenue at 6 o'clock yesterday morning. He was rescued much against his will and taken to the Alexander Avenue Police Station and later to Lincoln Hospital.

Capt. Charles A. Flood of a New Haven Railroad tug called out to the man as he passed him, but got no response. He sent two of his crew in a small boat to get the fugitive. At the station house he was found to be weak from exposure, and was unable to make himself understood. The spot where he was found is about a mile from Randall's Island. He will be taken back to the institution.

Former City Auditor a Suicide.

ST. LOUIS, May 30.—Bernard Dierkes, city auditor from 1901 to 1909, shot and killed himself to-day. Saturday morning he was found unconscious from partial asphyxiation.

TOOK SAMARITANS FOR KIDNAPPERS

St. Regis Manager and Young Woman Companion Nearly Mobbed on the East Side.

ANGRY MOTHERS FACE THEM

Merely Followed Two Little Girls Who Appeared to be Lost in the Streets.

Gustav R. Schmidt, assistant manager of the Hotel St. Regis, and a young woman companion whose name could not be learned, while endeavoring to befriend two little Italian girls, who were lost yesterday, were suspected of attempted kidnapping, and threatened with violence by a mob of angry foreigners. The incident occurred in East Seventieth Street, between First and Second Avenues, when the street was thronged with holiday makers.

According to Mr. Schmidt, he and his companion while walking in Park Avenue near Sixtieth Street, were approached by two little Italian girls, the eldest hardly 6 years old. Both of the girls were poorly dressed, and they did not seem to know which way to go, gazing up and down the avenue in apparent affright.

The eldest child inquired in broken English the way to Central Park. Mr. Schmidt's companion took special pains to point out the direction which they should go to reach the Park. But they retreated in alarm and started down the avenue toward Seventy-second Street.

Believing that the children were lost Mr. Schmidt and his companion followed them at some distance, intending to speak to the first policeman they met. As the two little girls trudged on, hand in hand, they looked back at frequent intervals, and presently the younger one began to cry. They turned the corner at Seventieth Street, and with a humanitarian motive still in mind, Mr. Schmidt and his companion followed them eastward. By this time the children had quickened their steps, and were fairly running when they crossed Second Avenue.

The children had no sooner reached the block between First and Second Avenues than there was a commotion in the vicinity of 327. An Italian woman, summoned by some of her neighbors, rushed out to the sidewalk, caught the children up in her arms, and became hysterical. It was learned later that the children had been reported as missing for several hours, and that the mother, whose name was said to be Mrs. Mary Lofardo, was well-night frantic over their disappearance. She was just in the act of notifying the police when the children returned home.

Mr. Schmidt and his companion, who had crossed Second Avenue by this time, were witnesses to the scene between the mother and her children, and were just about to retrace their footsteps when they noticed that the attention of the crowd was directed toward them. There were several hundred Italian men and women in the street with their children, and they all clustered about the mother as she embraced and questioned her little daughters.

Suddenly the cry of "kidnappers" was raised. The eldest girl was seen to point to Mr. Schmidt and his companion, who now found themselves in a stranger predicament. The attitude of the excitable foreigners, who believed the two strangers to be bent on kidnapping the little girls, soon reached a point where protection was necessary for the safety of Mr. Schmidt and his companion. Mr. Schmidt, first endeavored to explain why they had followed the little girls to a group of Italians, but they turned and walked away with angry scowls.

Just then a young woman, who appeared to be a settlement worker, pushed her way through the throng, and hurried toward Mr. Schmidt. His companion was now on the verge of fainting from fright. A few words from Mr. Schmidt, however, explained the situation, and the young woman returned to the frantic mother and endeavored to quiet her fears.

Mr. Schmidt took this opportunity to hurry away, and he and his companion boarded the first car that came along.

STRIKERS BURN A TAXICAB.

Stolen During Chauffeur's Absence—Found Later Ablaze.

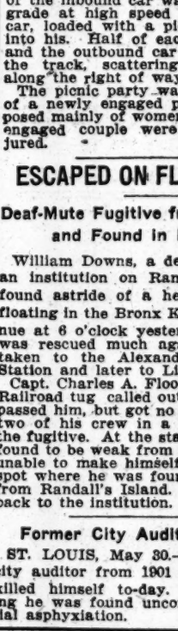
Wallace Devins of 159 Clymer Street, Brooklyn, chauffeur for a taxicab company whose men are on a strike, left his cab at Surf Avenue and Stratton Walk, Coney Island, yesterday afternoon to get some water for the tank. When he returned a few minutes later the taxicab was gone.

Half an hour later, in responding to an alarm of fire from Ocean Parkway and Neptune Avenue, Battalion Chief Rogers found the taxicab blazing. It was too late to save the car, which was destroyed. It is believed to be the work of striking chauffeurs.

Paine Museum Opening Postponed.

Owing to the storm which swept over the north shore of Long Island Sound yesterday afternoon the opening exercises of the Tom Paine Historical Museum, on North Street, New Rochelle, were postponed. The museum is owned by the Huguenot Association, and many Revolutionary relics were on view. Among them were the old armchair which, it is said, Paine used for many years.

WEDDING GIFTS



Reed & Barton Sterling Silver always excels in weight and beauty of pattern. The designs are exclusive, the workmanship and finish the best. For nearly a century their wares have enjoyed the very highest reputation.

Candlesticks, per pair $10 up
Compotiers - - - 12 "
Bread Trays - - 16 " Berry Bowls - - 24 " Sandwich Dishes - 22 "
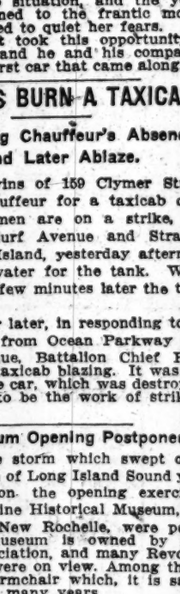
Ramequins, per doz. 48 "
Coffee Sets, 3 pieces 42 "
Tea Services, 5 pieces 96 "
Chests of Spoons, Forks and Knives, $44 to $1360



REED & BARTON CO.
JEWELERS & SILVERSMITHS
FIFTH AVENUE and 32d STREET
And 4 MAIDEN LANE

WHY IS THAT LOT VACANT?

This question is often asked about any unimproved plot of land in a section otherwise built up.

Perhaps there is trouble with the title—some forgotten heir has turned up or some claim not discovered when the title was searched.

If we had guaranteed the title for the owner when he bought—it would be our trouble now—not his.

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST Co
Capital and Surplus, - $14,000,000
176 B'way, N. Y. 175 Remsen St., Bklyn.
350 Fulton St., Jamaica.

JERSEY SOCIALISTS NOMINATE

Choose Wilson B. Killingbeck for Governor—Adopt a Platform.

Wilson B. Killingbeck of Orange was nominated for Governor of New Jersey by the Socialist Party yesterday at the State Convention in Socialist Educational Hall, 258 Central Avenue, Jersey City. He beat Edward H. Ashton of Newark by a vote of 82 to 28.

Killingbeck lives at 62 William Street, Orange, and is in the insurance business.

After the nomination the convention adopted a platform advocating woman suffrage, increased pay for school teachers, State aid for the unemployed, an eight-hour working day, abolition of the appointive and veto power of the Governor, abolition of police interference with laborers in search of employment, and the election of all judges by popular vote.

Resolutions were passed sympathizing with the striking bakers, and pledging support by purchasing only union bread, and condemning the Legislature for not providing money to aid in preventing the spread of tuberculosis.

GOOD BROOM CROP IN JERSEY.

Farmers Go Back to Early Times to Reduce the Cost of Living.

Special to The New York Times.

BRANCHVILLE, N. J., May 30.—Seeing that the high cost of living has begun to affect the price of brooms, forcing it up to 40 or 50 cents, and sometimes as high as 55 cents each, the farmers of this locality have gone back to their old side industry of raising broom corn. Twenty-five farmers have already got in their seed this year and it is probable that many more will follow suit.

It takes very little land to raise enough of the corn for a year's supply of brooms. There are factories near here and the farmer takes his product there to be made up, either on the exchange basis of half the raw product returned in made-up brooms or new brooms at the rate of from 10 to 15 cents each.

The seed, fed to the chickens, more than meets the cost of production.

GANG RAIDS A PARK STAND.

Young Hoodlums Attack the Attendant and He Goes to a Hospital.

Persons in Central Park West near the Seventy-second Street entrance to the Park saw a gang of young hoodlums raid a candy stand just outside the Park entrance yesterday. The youngsters grabbed up handfuls of candy and fled, after one of them had struck Jem Nazarro of 60 Spring Street, the attendant at the stand, in the face.

Nazarro gave chase, and was overtaking the boy who had struck him, when another of the lads hurled a soda water bottle at him. The bottle struck Nazarro on the side of the head and knocked him senseless in the street. The boys escaped before any of the crowd could grab them.

Policeman Fraum of the Arsenal Station had Nazarro taken to the Presbyterian Hospital, where it was said last night that he would recover.

ALL CARS TRANSFER TO Bloomingdales
Lexington to 3d Ave., 59th to 60th Street

To-day's Special Sales.

Women's Linen Outing Suits, pretty enough to wear almost any place and so low priced that you need not care what happens to them. They are tan in color, severely tailored and well made; the coat is the proper length with a notch collar; semi-fitting back; the skirt is a smart pleated effect and they are here in sizes for misses of 14, 16 and 18 years and for women of 34 to 44 bust. Ordinarily they sell for $7.50; special to-day at..... $4.95

More New Lingerie Waists They are pretty and serviceable; they go well with the linen suits mentioned above. They have a yoke of lace inserting and are trimmed with rose medallions and pin tucks; the back is a mass of cluster tucks, the sleeves are ¾ length, trimmed with lace inserting and the cuffs are edged with lace. We will sell them to-day for.... $2.98

More People Wear Silk Stockings now than ever before since silk stockings were made. The reason for that is that Bloomingdales' have brought the prices for the good dependable kind down to a well-within-reason price. For instance:

Women's Pure Thread Silk Stockings, extra fine gauge, full fashioned with deep garter top and cotton split soles in tans, grays, navy, black and opera shades; all sizes; mail orders filled; the price per pair.. 79c

Men's Pure Thread Silk Half Hose, a very good quality, every pair guaranteed to give satisfaction, in navy blue, gray, tan and black; all sizes at..... 44c

Drawn Linens, Table Cloths and Scarfs, that are especially adapted for summer use, in a sale that is quite remarkable. We took the over stock of a well known maker at practically our own price. They are the kind that sell generally at $2.00 and $3.00. The price to-day is..... $1.00

Table covers are 30 and 36 inches square; the scarfs are 15 inches wide and 54 inches long.

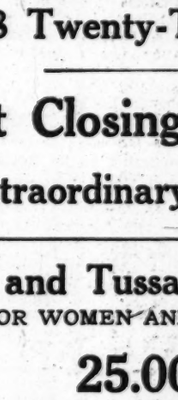
French Hand-Made Underwear We are among the largest importers of beautiful French hand-made and hand-embroidered underwear for women in America. Our Paris house is constantly on the lookout for extra good things in the way of underwear for you. The latest triumph they have achieved brings you the following:—

French Hand-made Chemises of fine quality batiste, cut full, exquisitely embroidered by hand in floral sprays and dots at..... 89c

Hand-made French Drawers excellent quality material, cut full, prettily made, finished with scalloped edge ruffle and ribbon bow, at 98c

Hand-made French Corset Covers low round neck with very pretty hand-embroidered floral sprays and dots, finished with ribbon to draw at..... 98c

Another Sale of 400-Day Clocks. It was only last Saturday that these clocks reached the store from the steamer. They came from France.



We have imported thousands of them. When we first sold them, some years ago, the price was $20.00. Since then we have been able to force the selling figures down to the low point of $5.75

Other dealers have followed our reductions from time to time, but have never had the courage to drop to this low price.

The clocks run for 400 days and keep accurate time with one winding; all the works are exposed to view, but protected from dust and moisture by a glass dome. The frame, ornaments and dial are very pretty to look at, so they are quite ornamental as well as decidedly useful.

BLOOMINGDALE'S, Lexington to 3d Av., 50th to 60th St.

New York
Philadelphia
Not associated with any other New York Store

Bonwit, Teller & Co.
54-56-58 Twenty-Third St., West

Great Closing-Out Sale
At Extraordinary Reductions

Rajah and Tussah Silk Suits
FOR WOMEN AND MISSES
25.00
Heretofore 38.50 to 65.00
Large variety of most desirable styles in strictly tailored and dressy models.

Pongee and Tussah Coats
Full length model in two distinct styles—shawl collar and cuffs of contrasting color satin. Heretofore $25.00. } 15.00

English Polo Coats
Double breasted full length model of polo cloth—loose effect with wide belt around waist. Value $39.50 } 24.50

Bordered Foulard Dresses
FOR WOMEN AND MISSES 12.75
Heretofore 25.00
Very newest models in Dutch neck with chiffon Chantecler frill or high neck with net-lace yokes. Light, dark and medium shades.

No Alterations. None Sent C. O. D. or on Approval

Prices in all other Departments proportionately reduced

BONWIT, TELLER & CO.

BROKAW BROTHERS

ASTOR PLACE AND FOURTH AVENUE

Our Clergymen's Clothing, while thoroughly clerical, is not lacking in style.

The completeness of our stock of warm weather garments insures a satisfactory choice and fit.

Our "Parson's Gray" and self-striped black Suits are out of the ordinary.

Thin Black Suits.....$25 to $35
Tropical Weight Skeleton Coats.....$6.50
Light-weight Overcoats.....$16 to $42
Zephyr-weight Raincoats in black.....$12
Rainproofed Overcoats.....$20 to $35

ESTAB OVER HALF A CENTURY

1810 1910

BLACK STARR & FROST

SUCCESSORS TO BALL, BLACK & CO.

ESTABLISHED 1810

Wedding Jewels

In precious stone jewelry, in exclusive creations in goldware and silverware, in various articles for use or adornment, the qualities which have led to success—throughout a century of endeavor—are shown unmistakably in the present-day productions to which your attention is invited.

Fifth Avenue & Thirty-ninth Street New York

REASONS WHY

THE BROOKLYN WAREHOUSE & STORAGE CO.

Deserves Your Patronage

I. OUR STORAGE RATES:

Furniture $4.00 a month per van.
Motor Cars $5.00 a month.
Silver Trunks $1.00 a month.

DRY COLD STORAGE:

Furs and Clothing 2% own valuation.
Rugs and Carpets 3% own valuation.

II. OUR FIRE PROOF BUILDING Assessed at $625,000.00, which is higher than any other Furniture Warehouse in Greater New York.

335-355 Schermerhorn St

Nevins Street Station on Subway.

Telephone 4045 Main.

Not in any Milk Trust

The Original and Genuine

HORLICK'S MALTED MILK

The Food-drink for All Ages.

More healthful than Tea or Coffee. Agrees with the weakest digestion. Delicious, invigorating and nutritious. Rich milk, malted grain, powder form.

A quick lunch prepared in a minute. Take no substitute. Ask for HORLICK'S.

Others are imitations.

The Best Bitter Liqueur

Underberg

The World's Best Bitters

The best of all Bitters BECAUSE it refreshes instantly, and the benefit lasts. UNDERBERG is on every label.

Sold Everywhere.

LUYTIES BROTHERS, U. S. Agents, New York.

Jameson

IRISH STAR whiskey

WICKERSHAM ASKED TO ENJOIN RAILWAYS

Proposed Increase of Freight Rates Brings a Delegation of Protestants to Him.

WOULD INVOKE TRUST LAW

Shippers Expect Further Advances and Charge the Railroads with Attempting to Forestall Legislation.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Vigorous representations were made to Attorney General Wickersham to-day by interests representing Western traffic line territory, asking that the Government enjoin the putting into effect of a proposed general increase in freight rates on June 1, notice of which was given by the railroads a month ago.

It was argued that the proposed increases were unwarranted and unjust, and the opinion was expressed that they were the results of a combination or agreement among the railroads in contravention of law. The Attorney General told his callers he would do the best he could for them, but declined to outline what his course of procedure might be.

The hearing was in the office of the Attorney General this afternoon, where for two hours he listened to the representations made by a delegation of about forty, which included a committee representative of the meeting recently held at Omaha, Neb., composed of shippers, consumers, and producers, called to take action protesting against the advance.

The committee was accompanied by Senators and members of Congress of the territory affected, namely, Senators Clapp of Minnesota, Cullom of Illinois, and Warner of Missouri, and Representatives Nye of Minnesota, Hitchcock and Norris of Nebraska, Hubbard of Iowa, Madden of Illinois, and Stafford of Wisconsin.

The case of the protesters was first submitted by William D. Haynie, counsel of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, who presented a memorandum prepared as a result of the Omaha meeting. It asked that an injunction suit be brought to prevent the increased rates becomng operative until such time as the courts could determine whether an illegal combination existed, as the memorialists believed was the case.

The general burden that would be imposed by the proposed rates on manufacturers, producers, and consumers was too great, the memorial declared, and should be resisted. Old methods were too slow in preventing them from becoming effective, it was set forth, and the interests concerned suggested that the interposition of the Sherman anti-trust law might be invoked. The expectation of the shippers was that the increase announced would be followed by further advances, particularly by the lines leading to the seaboard.

The memorialists took the ground that the action of the railroads in seeking to put into effect an increase of rates at this time was for the purpose of forestalling legislation by Congress, giving the Inter-State Commerce Commission authority to set aside proposed rates in advance on complaint of a shipper, it being admitted in response to a suggestion of the Attorney General that it would be easier to drop from a higher than to increase a lower rate.

The Attorney General told his hearers that the suggestion that the Sherman law be invoked was a novel one. Mr. Wickersham pointed out that the delay in presenting the request for action on the part of the Government was a serious handicap, although he recognized that if anything were to be done at all by the Administration, it would have to be under the Sherman act. So many steps were necessary in bringing suit to enjoin that he seemed to be somewhat doubtful if anything could be accomplished before midnight to-morrow, but he failed to indicate whether or not he would act immediately.

The declaration was made on the authority of the Vice President in charge of the traffic bureaus of one of the Western railroads that the proposed increase complained of was entirely uncalled for. One of the committee said it was his opinion that while the avowed purpose was to raise $100,000,000 for certain expenditures, in reality $500,000,000 would be realized.

Complaint was made of a lack of facility in obtaining the tariff sheets showing the proposed rates and of an apparent disposition on the part of the railroads to keep them from general circulation. A member of the committee said that until recently not a copy was to be had in Omaha, excepting at the Union Pacific offices, which had no direct interest in them. All conditions, it was said, were in favor of a general reduction rather than an increase in rates, as the operation of the law prohibiting rebates had resulted in what in practice amounted to a large advance.

The railroads were not represented at the hearing.

NEW SCHOOL FOR MARINES.

Advanced Instruction to be Given at Port Royal Naval Station.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—A school of advanced instruction for marines is to be opened at the naval station at Port Royal, S. C., in the charge of Lieut. Col. Eli K. Cole.

Good results have followed the experimental course for training marines instituted by Major Harry Leonard, the marine commandant at Portsmouth, N. H. The officers had a course of practical work closely resembling that followed in the most advanced army practice, instruction in the science of war, and a great deal of work in the field, battalions being sent out into the country to select defensive points, which were afterwards attacked by other bodies of marines, the conditions of actual warfare being closely reproduced.

SEASHORE SIGN OPPOSED.

Mayor of Atlantic City Asks War Department to Forbid Erection.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The proposed erection of a gigantic electric sign just beyond the breaker line off the Atlantic City beach, which threatens to interfere with the ocean view, has caused a bitter protest by the Mayor of Atlantic City to the War Department, which is in charge of the navigable waters of the United States.

The department finds, however, that the location of the sign is not within the waters navigated by anything larger than fishing boats and pleasure yachts, so the only recourse will be to the State authorities of New Jersey in the exercise of their riparian rights.

CLUBS TO REPLACE CANTEENS

Their Organization by Soldiers Encouraged at Army Posts.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Discouraged by the indifference of Congress to their appeals, advocates of the restoration of the army canteen have hit upon a device which they think will in a measure meet the case.

At several military posts the soldiers are being induced to establish soldiers' clubs outside the reservation and beyond Government control, where, in addition to the usual facilities of the garrison halls within the post, they may obtain beer, light wines, and other beverages under such regulations as will prevent excess.

To Treble Smokeless Powder Output.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The output of the Government's smokeless powder factory at Picatinny, N. J., is to be trebled, and soon after the new machinery now ordered has been installed the factory will be turning out 3,000 pounds daily, if needed, though the ordinary requirement will be only 1,250 pounds a day.

GIBBONS BLAMES DEAD WIFE.

Makes Charges Against Her and the Priest He Also Killed.

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 30.—P. J. Gibbons, the commission man who last night shot and killed his wife at their home in South St. Paul, and later shot and killed Father E. J. Walsh, the young pastor of St. Augustine's Roman Catholic Church, talked freely of his deed late last night at the Ramsey County jail in St. Paul, where he is confined.

"I had a wife who didn't care for me," he said, "but liked the companionship of others. She had children who were my children—the mother of eight children. She couldn't have cared for them or she wouldn't have dishonored them.

"I knew her treachery for more than a year, but said nothing. She suspected I knew. We lived that way until to-day—for me a hell on earth—for her, I don't know, and she can't tell. It is all over now. I am at peace with myself. Let follow what may.

"When Father Walsh came to South St. Paul he appeared such a nice fellow that I went to him and volunteered to give what support was in my power. We became friends, and I had invited him to my home and introduced him to my wife and family. I first grew suspicious about a year ago. My wife received a new silk dress by express. The package came to my office. I don't remember from whom. When I asked her who gave it to her she told me the women of a church society because of active interest she had taken in their work, but her explanation did not satisfy me.

"The visits of Father Walsh were becoming too frequent to please me. He appeared at my home afternoons when I was at my office and spent several hours in the company of Mrs. Gibbons. Sometimes my children were present, but more often not. I said nothing to my wife—never mentioned that I thought anything of the frequent visits. I had planned my little game, which worked so successfully."

Gibbons has lived in South St. Paul for twenty-five years. For a long time he was Chief of Police. About ten years ago he went into the commission business, in which he is said to have been more than usually successful.

BOY A TRAIN WRECKER.

Stamford Youth Confesses Putting Ties on Track of New Canaan Line.

Special to The New York Times.

STAMFORD, Conn., May 30.—Clarence Scofield, 13 years old, of the Springdale district of Stamford, confessed last night to Chief of Police Brennan that he attempted to wreck a train on the New Canaan branch of the New Haven Road early on the evening of May 19, 1910. The boy said he placed two ties on the tracks near the Catholic Cemetery.

"I don't know why I did it," he declared when questioned by the Chief of Police. "I happened to be riding there on a bicycle. I saw the ties alongside the tracks and something seemed to force me to dismount and lay them across the tracks."

An inbound New Canaan train hit the ties and the front of the motor was damaged. There were thirty-five passengers aboard, but none of them was hurt. Railroad detectives got hold of Master Scofield yesterday. Last night his aunt brought him to police headquarters here and after a long talk with Chief Brennan he made his confession. The Chief says the boy appears to be a bit abnormal mentally. He is a large, well-developed boy for his age. His record at school has been a good one. He was released in bail of $500 pending a hearing in the City Court.

YOUNG GIRLS ACCUSE WOMAN.

Say She Got $2 for Taking Them to Improper Resort.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—Two young girls were the principal witnesses to-day against Henry Northstein, who was committed without bail, charged with harboring minors for improper purposes.

The girls, Lena Stewart, 14 years old, and Ruth Morris, aged 15, testified that they had been accosted on the street by a woman who told them they would have a good home if they went to Northstein's house. The girls said they saw the prisoner give $2 to the woman who took them to the man's place.

A description of the woman was furnished and search is being made for her.

CONFESSES POISONING THREE.

Negro Servant Was Angry Because She Was Accused of Theft.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The police say that Nellie Clarkson, the negro servant accused of poisoning Mrs. Florence Barrow and her daughters, Florence and Mary, by putting rat poison in the coffee pot at the Barrow home last Friday, has confessed. She was angered by being discharged and accused of theft.

All the poison victims now are out of danger.

REGULARS FOR DELAY ON RAILROAD BILL

Working Hard to Insure Defeat of Brown Amendment Forbidding Mergers and Leases.

TO FIGHT VALUATION NEXT

La Follette Scheme Has Heavy Backing—Cummins's Absence in Iowa May Expedite Vote.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The Senate will probably be occupied for a few days more with the Railroad bill before it comes to a vote. Senator Elkins, Chairman of the Committee on Inter-State Commerce, said this afternoon that he did not think it would be possible to reach a vote to-morrow, although the insurgents insist that they are ready to vote at once. Senator Elkins's prediction is taken to mean that the regulars are hard at work patching up o compromise to stave off the Brown amendment, left pending by adjournment on Saturday.

The Brown amendment is practically a reinsertion of the section regarding mergers that was stricken from the bill some time ago by general consent, but it forbids flatly the merging or leasing of competitive lines and leaves little loophole for escape from its provisions. On both sides it is felt that the amendment will be defeated, but the fact that the regulars are talking of delay has encouraged the insurgents. It is pointed out in this connection that adjournment over Decoration Day is almost unheard of in the Senate, and it is known that Chairman Elkins spent the day in the hardest work he has had for some time in his efforts to readjust differences.

After the Brown amendment is disposed of there will be the La Follette physical valuation scheme. This has the strength of the practically unbroken Democratic vote behind it and the insurgents generally are friendly to it. So strong is this combination supposed to be that already the regulars have prepared a substitute plan for which doubtful Senators may vote without seeming to oppose physical valuation.

This substitute is Senator Curtis's plan to insert in the Sundry Civil bill an appropriation of $100,000 to enable the Inter-State Commerce Commission to proceed with its present powers to the initial steps in physical valuation. This appropriation is so small that the insurgents say it would be practically useless, but it is expected to afford a covered retreat for many Republicans who would like to see the amendment defeated, but who are afraid to vote against it outright.

Senator Cummins, one of the leading insurgents, will leave Washington to-morrow evening to spend a week in the primary contests in Iowa. This practically eliminates him from the railroad struggle and as he is one of the most tireless talkers in the insurgent camp his absence may precipitate a vote all along the line.

FREWEN CONFIRMS DEPEW.

Says Spain Would Have Relinquished Cuba Without a War.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 30.—"That Spain would have relinquished Cuba without a war and that the Spanish-American war was an accident, is, I believe, correct," says Moreton Frewen of London, England, intimate friend of the late Lord Pauncefote, Great Britain's Ambassador to the United States when the Spanish-American war began. Mr. Frewen has issued a statement giving what purports to be some secret history in connection with the beginning of that war, and indicating that the United States declared war on Spain with the understanding that an ultimatum had been sent by President McKinley but had not been answered, when in reality Mr. McKinley had withheld the ultimatum.

Taking up the statement that President McKinley was forced into war by the clamor of the people and that Spain could have been negotiated off the American Continent, Mr. Frewen proceeds:

"Lord Pauncefote, the British Ambassador, was worried into his grave untimely by a cabal engineered by his colleague, Baron Holleben, the German Ambassador. The word had gone out at the outbreak of the war that the concert of Europe was desirous of protecting Spain and Great Britain had called hands off and had gone so far as to offer to lend her navy to her cousins in case of European intervention.

"To counter this diplomatically, Baron Holleben had declared that in the week before the declaration of war Lord Pauncefote had assembled the chiefs of the Corps Diplomatique at the Austrian Embassy and had invited their declaration to convey to the President, to the effect that the verdict of the civilized world would be against the war—a war that the American Nation was so evidently determined upon, and that this attitude on the part of Great Britain was unfriendly—at least unsympathetic—and that but for Holleben's refusal to be a party to it President McKinley might have been seriously embarrassed.

"This tale was told with great circumstantiality, nor did Lord Pauncefote either admit or deny it. He sat tight while, as he wrote to me, the skies rained diplomatic chimneypots."

THREE CORNERSTONES LAID.

$50,000 Improvements at Manassas School of Colored Youth Inaugurated.

MANASSAS, Va., May 30.—In the presence of several thousand persons the cornerstones of three additional buildings to the Manassas School for Colored Youth were laid to-day. These are the trades building, at a cost of $30,000; the Berwind Hospital building, at a cost of $15,000, and a new wing to Howland Hall, at a cost of $3,000. Other improvements contemplated will make up the remainder of the $50,000 donation recently made by Andrew Carnegie and others.

Mr. Carnegie's gift of $15,000 was for general improvements to the institution, and was based upon the condition that its authorities raise a like sum, which, mainly through the efforts of Prof. Hill, Principal of the school, has been substantially provided. John E. Berwind of New York has sent a draft for $15,000 toward the building of the hospital to be named for him, and Miss Emily Howland of Sherwood, N. Y., contributed the $3,000 for improvements to Howland Hall, built through her philanthropic contributions several years ago. Among those who delivered addresses to-day were Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York and O. G. Villard, President of the Board of Directors.

Summer Suits for Men $16 to $40

Our contention is this—it is not a difficult matter to fashion a summer suit, light in weight, correct in style and comfortable in the wearing—any good tailor can accomplish this.

How many can produce a summer suit retaining its original, stylish and graceful lines throughout service? Few! These garments place us among the few.

Hackett Carhart & Co

841 Broadway, at 13th St. 265 Broadway, near Chambers St.

A Summer Book That Tells

how to get the most out of your vacation. It will help you to plan the best summer outing you ever had. It tells you where to find the life you most enjoy—golfing, motoring, fishing, hunting, sailing, swimming. It is full of information that will enable you to choose just the right place for your summer holiday, whether in tent, cottage, hotel or farmhouse.

"Mountain and Lake Resorts"

is the name of this handsomely illustrated book, just issued by the Lackawanna Railroad. There are 110 pages of duo-tone pictures, with a list of hotels and boarding houses, rates, railroad fares and all necessary information.

You may secure a copy of the book free by calling at any of the ticket offices of the Lackawanna Railroad named below, or it will be mailed to you if you will send ten cents in stamps, together with your name and address, to General Passenger Agent, Lackawanna Railroad, 90 West Street, New York.

NEW YORK: Broadway, cor. Wall St. " cor. Cortlandt St. " cor. 25th St. " cor. 42d St.
BROOKLYN: 505 Fulton St.
NEWARK: Broad and Market Streets.
The Road of Anthracite

Lackawanna Railroad

"THE INFLUENCE OF A DESK."

This free booklet will give you notions about having good desks and office fixings. Write for it to-day, and watch how it stirs up your interest in such things.

CHARLES E. MATTHEWS

OFFICE FURNITURE

275 Canal St., Just East of Broadway Tel. Spring 1299

"Travellers"

CRETA CREME POWDERED TOILET SOAP

Easily Packed — Always Dry

Send for Free Sample

CRETA CREME CO., 530 W. 27th Street

"Style"—and Coward Style

In buying shoes, more than anything else, you are confounded by this thing called "Style."

Each year the Big Makers foist on the public more or less revolutionary designs in footgear which we are told are the "Style": odd shapes that follow finicky fashion.

The "Style" may not suit you at all, but the Shoe-Shops are cumbered with them and you must buy or go without. Clerks consider you queer if you insist upon the Last of last year that fitted your foot.

"Out of style," you are told. "No longer in stock."

This the deplorable outcome of a Manufacturing System that attempts to provide for vacillating vanities.

'Tis the folly of the maker who aims to please the roving eye rather than to clothe the foot righteously.

The Coward Shoe

commends itself to all intellectual people. They are a fixed quantity. Once you find the Coward Shoe that was made for your foot, your hunt is over. You may secure the identical shoe from Coward—any time, wherever you are in The World.

For forty-one consecutive years, on the same site, James S. Coward has studied Foot Needs.

In the making of Coward Shoes, reasons have been the incentive; each particular Coward Shoe has been constructed to fit the Human foot and to serve easily.

FOR MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN

JAMES S. COWARD

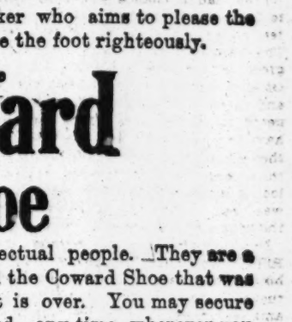
264-274 Greenwich St., N. Y. (Near Warren Street)

SOLD NOWHERE ELSE Mail Orders Filled Send for Catalog

This Superb Refrigerator At Factory Price

You simply cannot afford to buy a refrigerator until you have seen the Wickes Refrigerator. It's the ONE BIG refrigerator value of the season. You buy the Wickes Refrigerator direct from the factory at actual factory prices. You save all dealers', jobbers' and department store profits.

Wickes Refrigerator embodies the most advanced principles. No other refrigerator so beautiful in design. None so perfect in operation. Absolutely sanitary.



Wickes Refrigerator

Don't fail to visit the largest exclusive refrigerator store in the world. A refrigerator for every purpose, at every price. Don't wait for the hot weather. Come in now. Phone or write for catalogue and full particulars.

THE BRUNSWICK-BALKE-COLLENDER CO.

32 W. 33d St., between Broadway and Fifth Ave.

FIFTH AVENUE Kinsey's LINEN STORE

Stylish Waists at Attractive Prices

Fine Sheer Batiste Waist

Dutch Neck—Irish hand Crochet Yoke—Sleeves with real Irish Crochet insertion—front beautifully and elaborately hand embroidered. REAL VALUE $13.50. $10

Fine Lingerie Waist

Beautifully hand embroidered with real Irish Crochet insertion in front and sleeves—lace trimmed Chanticler collar. REAL VALUE $10.00. $7.50

Stylish French Voile Waist

Dutch Collar, trimmed with real Cluny lace—has clusters of tucking in box pleat effect—open front—sleeves and back tucked to match front. FORMER PRICE $9.00. $5.50

WM. S. KINSEY & CO.

240 Fifth Avenue Just below 28th Street

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 SHOE

THE STANDARD FOR 30 YEARS.

Millions of men wear W. L. Douglas $3.50 common sense shoes because they are the most comfortable, easy-walking, long wearing and the best shoe value for the price in the world. They are made upon honor, of the best leathers, on perfect fitting lasts, by the most skilled workmen, in the latest fashions.

Quality counts. It has made W. L. Douglas $3.50 shoes leaders everywhere.

W. L. Douglas $4.00 and $5.00 shoes equal Custom Bench Work costing $6.00 to $8.00, the only difference is the price.

Boys' Shoes, $2.50 and $2.00

W. L. Douglas guarantees their value by stamping his name and price on the bottom. Look for it. Take no substitute. Ask your shoe dealer for W. L. Douglas shoes. If not for sale in your town write for Mail Order Catalog showing how to order by mail. Shoes ordered direct from factory delivered free. Fast Color Eyelets. W. L. DOUGLAS, 180 Spark St., Brockton, Mass.

W. L. DOUGLAS GREATER NEW YORK STORES:

93 Nassau Street. 755 Broadway. 853 Broadway. 1349 Broadway. 1437 Broadway. 984 Third Avenue. 1452 Third Avenue. 2202 Third Avenue. 2779 Third Avenue. 386 Sixth Avenue. 345 Eighth Avenue 663 Eighth Avenue 250 West 125th St. BROOKLYN 421 Fulton Street. NEWARK—795 Broad Street. 708 Broadway. 1007 Broadway. 1367 Broadway. 478 Fifth Avenue. 1179 Fifth Avenue. JERSEY CITY—18 Newark Ave.

ZOO MOUNTS TEST NEW RACE TRACK

All Went Well in Kangaroo-Monkey Contest Till Fuzzy Williams Jumped on a Spectator.

THEN HE VISITED TREE TOPS

Monkey Jockey In Passing an Inquisitive Giraffe Forsook His Mount for the Long-Necked Onlooker.

In the Bronx Park Zoo, where one of the duties of the keepers is to devise new things to amuse the public, they have built the race track which was projected several weeks ago when Creole, a female monkey, rode on the back of The Sydney Plunger, a long-legged inmate of the kangaroo corral. It isn't much of a race track, but it answers the purpose. There isn't any grand stand. There isn't even a paddock or a clubhouse or a judges stand, but Head Keeper Riley of the monkey house is satisfied with it and so are Keepers Schlosser and Steininger of the antelope house, and that is all that's necessary.

They had a chance yesterday morning to try out the new race track, and the test added to the joy of the Zoo keepers. The kangaroo race track stands on the green at one side of the antelope house. Of all the animals in the Zoo whose cages and corrals are so situated that they can get a glimpse of the track the giraffes have the point of vantage. In fact, when they stand up close to the fence and crane their long necks over they can almost look down on the track. It was this which was responsible in a large measure for the mirth of the keepers.

Not long after sunrise yesterday Keeper Riley, with Baldy, the dean of the monkey house, tucked under one arm and Creole tucked under the other, went over to the antelope house and called out Keepers Schlosser and Steininger.

"I guess it's about time to try out the new race track," said Riley. "It will be a couple of hours yet before the Decoration Day crowds begin to arrive, and I should like to see what sort of a jockey this Baldy monk will make. He's a good old scout at most anything he tackles, and I've an idea he will make a regular Tod Sloan in the saddle."

Steininger and Schlosser were quite willing to have the race take place at once. There were only two entries, for while there are several kangaroos in the corral the only two which are tame enough to trust oueside are The Sydney Plunger and The Bushranger, a large animal which came from Australia several years ago. From the kangaroo corral to the race track there was a small runway of woven wire. The track itself was inclosed with this wire, which is portable and can be put up and taken down for every race. The Zoo management would not allow a permanent fence around the track.

After a little delay The Sydney Plunger and The Bushranger were led through the wire-covered runway on to the race track and all was ready for the first race. Creole was not at all shy when the two kangaroos entered the track, for she evidently remembered her last experience with them. But Baldy was inclined to be a little doubtful of the strange-looking animals from Australia. He jumped upon Riley's shoulder and began to grimace at the kangaroos.

Baldy kept his perch on Riley's shoulder for the first race. The track is a circular affair, some 30 feet in diamater. Around the course and about five feet inside the outer fence is a fence of narrower wire, which makes a runway about five feet wide. With Creole on the back of The Sydney Plunger there was but one entry for the first race. The Sydney Plunger went around half a dozen times at a rapid gait. Then Creole was sent around a few times on the back of The Bushranger.

Baldy by that time seemed to have lost his fear of the kangaroos. He was induced to take a seat on the back of The Sydney Plunger, and with Creole on The Bushranger's back the two kangaroos started full tilt around the track. No time was kept of the several laps, but after a dozen or so times around, with The Bushranger leading three or four lengths, the racers were halted, while the keepers looking on applauded loudly. After a few more races one of the keepers suggested that Fuzzy Williams, another monkey, be brought out for a try out. Riley went after him, and a few minutes later he was seated on the back of The Sydney Plunger, much against his will.

All this time the two giraffes had been pressing close up against the side of their corral, and with necks reaching far over the top had been interested spectators of the race.

Fuzzy Williams was hanging on for dear life when The Sydney Plunger started with him around the track. Baldy, astride of The Bushranger, was just behind, and the two kangaroos were covering the ground in ten-foot jumps. As The Sydney Plunger, in the lead, neared the end of the first lap Fuzzy Williams noticed the heads of the giraffes a few feet above the track and just in front of him. The monkey was apparently terror stricken at the jumps of his steed. As they drew close to the overhanging head of the first giraffe Fuzzy Williams suddenly left his seat and with a wild spring landed on the giraffe's head, grabbing him by the ears and screeching as though he were pursued by a fiend.

Up went the giraffe's head with a violent jerk, but Fuzzy Williams held on tight. High up in the branches of a tree went the head of the giraffe with Fuzzy still holding on. The giraffe was more frightened than the monkey, if that were possible.

Failing to throw the monkey off the giraffe began to dash around the corral, shaking his head. A moment passed, and then with a screech which could be heard half way across the Zoo Fuzzy Williams let go and landed safely outside the giraffe corral, where he was captured by Riley and taken back to the monkey house.

BEE CONVENTION IN TOWN.

Swarm Lands on an Uptown Tennis Court and Takes Possession.

H. S. Morse, who lives at the Manhasset Apartments, 109th Street and Broadway, was startled yesterday afternoon when he went to play tennis, on the court at the back of the building, near Riverside Drive, to find it occupied by thousands of bees which had apparently cruised across the Hudson from the Jersey shore.

The keeper of the court said there was no harm in the insects as bees never stung people in May, but Mr. Morse said, "be that as it may," he would take shelter in the woodhouse until they had sailed away. After flying all over the court the bees setled on a post at one end and covered three sides of its surface fully six inches deep.

Mr. Morse, who owns the court, threw stones at the post, which caused a few thousand bees to rise gently up into the air, look around casually, and then go back again to their resting place. Several kindly disposed persons came out from the surrounding houses and offered suggestions as to what should be done to get rid of the bees.

One man brought a barrel with molasses in it and a box to cover over the end when the insects went in after the syrup, but the bees just droned away on the post and appeared to be having a convention to decide on the price of honey this Summer.

Finding that they did not attempt to sting any one the players began their game on the court and played all afternoon. Even the heavy rain did not move the bees and Mr. Morse said it was a case of either moving the court or the bees. He added that to any person who could make use of them the bees were worth money and he didn't care how soon some one came along and took them away.

POLICE CAPTAIN IN RUNAWAY.

Michael J. Naughton of Kingsbridge Thrown from Carriage and Hurt.

A series of tugboat toots so alarmed a gray mare, which was attached to a light carriage, and driven by Police Captain Michael J. Naughton of the Kingsbridge Station, that the animal took the bit in her mouth at the approach to the Ship Canal Bridge, 221st Street and Broadway, and started for the Battery at 2:40 or better.

Taken by surprise the reins were jerked from Capt. Naughton' hands, and he was pitched over the side of the rig. Naughton seized the dashboard as he fell and after crossing the bridge, the horse galloped toward the elevated station at 225th Stuct and Broadway, and the carriage crashed into one of the supports.

The Captain, who had maintained his hold on the side of the surrey, was hurled against the pillar, and as the animal tore herself from the shattered vehicle, he fell to the pavement unconscious and with his head a mass of contusions and lacerations.

Peter Russe, a café keeper, and Patrolman Sullivan, carried the Captain into the former's café. Dr. John H. Telfair of Marble Hill restored the injured man to consciousness, and Dr. Black removed him to his home in a Fordham Hospital ambulance. He was suffering from contusions of the head, body, and arms, and his face and hands were badly lacerated.

The mare, free from the surrey, galloped to 230th Street and Broadway, where she was caught.

Aged Woman, Ill, Kills Herself.

After locking all the doors leading to her room, bolting and fastening the windows and filling all the crevices with wet paper, Mrs. Amelia Haring, 70 years old, committed suicide by inhaling illuminating gas at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Caroline Schneider, at 742 Third Avenue, yesterday morning. The aged woman was suffering from Bright's disease.

SCHOOL TEACHER TAKES HER LIFE

Neighbors Say She Grieved Since Sister Replaced Her in Young Man's Affections.

LEFT ALONE FOR THE DAY

When Parents Returned They Found Their Daughter Dead from Gas in the Bathroom.

Returning to her home last night after a pleasant day's outing at Mauch Chunk with a young man, who had formerly been attentive to her sister Julia, a public school teacher, Miss Barbara Hertel of 427 Union Street, Brooklyn, was prostrated from shock at the news that her sister had committed suicide by inhailing gas in despondency over Miss Barbara's refusal to cease receiving the attentions of the young man.

Neighbors have reason to believe that the young woman grieved greatly since her younger sister took her place in the affections of the man, whose name the family would not disclose, and they feel that she was brooding over the affair while she was left alone in the house yesterday, her parents having gone out for the day.

Miss Julia was 23 years old and taught in Public School 46, on Union Street near Henry Street, having received her appointment in 1902. Her sister Barbara is 22 years old. Mr. and Mrs. Anton Hertel, the parents of the dead girl, left her alone in the house yesterday morning while they went to see the Memorial Day parade and later to visit a cemetery. A young woman friend of Miss Julia's called at her home about 10 o'clock and the two also went to view the parade. Miss Hertel returned home when the parade was over. Her parents, returning home at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, found her in the bathroom, her head resting on her right arm on the edge of the bathtub and a gas tube in her mouth connected with an open gas jet in the wall.

Mrs. Hertel screamed and aroused the other tenants in the house, while her husband hurried for a physician, Dr. J. J. Carey of 287 Hoyt Street, just around the corner from where the Hertel family live, returned with Mr. Hertel. Mrs. Hertel, almost frantic, believed that her daughter was still alive and begged the physician to revive her. Dr. Carey labored for a half hour in a vain effort to discover a spark of life and had to give up his task. He told the parents that the young woman was dead. He said later she had probably been dead an hour.

The police of the Butler Street Station learned that both sisters had had a disagreement over the young man. Miss Julia had told her parents several months ago that she did not wish to receive his attentions, and she thought her younger sister should not do so after she herself had broken off a courtship of almost a year with him. Mrs. Hertel refused to interfere, telling her daughter that was a matter that concerned the young people themselves.

Miss Barbara was deaf to her older sister's pleadings. According to her friends she had not the least idea that her sister had taken the matter so seriously to heart.

BULLET IN HIS HEART, LIVES.

The Wounds Were Closed Successfully, but the Projectile Was Not Found.

An unusual operation upon the human heart is reported by the Vienna correspondent of The Medical Record. The operator was Dr. Oskar Föderl, and the patient was suffering from a wound of the heart made by a bullet. Upon opening up the chest cavity the wound made by the entrance of the bullet was found in the left ventricle of the heart, but there was no wound of exit. The leaden pellet evidently was buried somewhere in the heart muscle itself. The pleura, the membranous covering of the lungs, was found to be injured in the neighborhood of the heart.

The first step was to remove the coagulated blood from the pericardium, or heart sac, and also a litre of blood from the pleural cavity. Next, all of the wounds were stitched up. By the opening of the pleura air had been let into the pleural cavity, a condition known to physicians as pneumothorax. This was exhausted by a novel method. The anaesthetic cone was pressed tightly upon the face, so that it was airtight; the air pressure in it was raised, and the air driven out of the pleural cavity.

The patient has recovered entirely, but the bullet still remains embedded in his heart, somewhere in the neighborhood of the apex.

BEST SHOE STORES
use and sell the finest foot relief ever invented.

White Cross ANTISEPTIC Foot Powder

It is the only powder that contains positive beneficial properties. Tight shoes become easy, painful corns comfortable and the feet are always sweet and wholesome when you use this wonderful powder.
—10c. and 25c.—

TWO HELD FOR SHOOTING GIRL

Prisoners Suspected of Being Members of "John Spanish" Gang.

Two of the three prisoners arrested last night, supposed to have been implicated in the shooting affray in which fourteen-year-old Rachel Reubin of 27 Forsyth Street was probably mortally wounded by a bullet, were held yesterday morning by Magistrate Harris in the Essex Market Court. They were Max Hass, who says he is an elevator operator of 265 Madison Street, and Louis Idelman, a clerk, of 112 Chrystie Street.

None of the prisoners made any statement aside from denying that they were members of the "John Spanish Gang." They ran when they heard the pistol shots, they said, because they saw others running.

SUICIDE IN CENTRAL PARK.

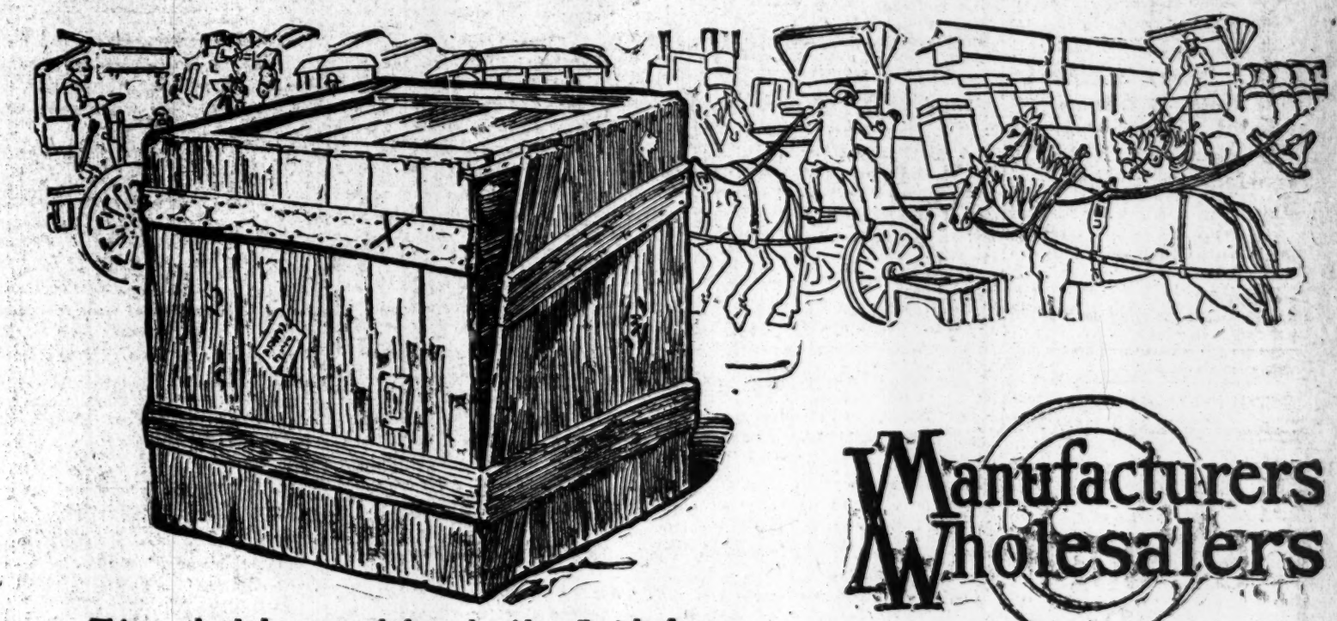
Man, Ill and Despondent, Shoots Himself on a Bench.

Wandering through Central Park until he found a spot where he would be far away from the children who were spending Memorial Day on the lawns and playgrounds yesterday, Isaac Finkelstein, 55 years old, of 232 East 103d Street, sat down on a bench near the Cross Drive, at 103d Street, and fired a bullet into his brain.

He fell to the ground, and when Policeman McCauley reached him he was dead. His identity was learned from papers found in his pockets and his wife was sent for. She told the police that her husband had been ill for several weeks and had been despondent because he was unable to work.

Sleep Walker Falls from a Window.

While walking in his sleep early yesterday morning Gerardi Constantino, who lives on the fifth floor of 218 Bowery with his wife and six children, fell from an open window and fractured his skull as he landed in the yard below. Sunday night his youngest child was baptized and the celebration lasted into the morning. The injured man was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, where the physicians said he had little chance of recovery.



This was loaded on a truck from the sidewalk, jolted across town, unloaded, dumped on a pier—then loaded on a freight car—it LOOKS it.

Manufacturers Wholesalers

Which Case Would YOUR Customers Prefer?

Tenants of the Bush Terminal find that in addition to the saving of $10,000 to $12,000 on insurance, of $8,000 to $10,000 on cartage which we make them, in addition to the payroll saving and other economies we make them, there is another very marked advantage in being located in our model loft buildings. It means Prestige—PRESTIGE. Tenants who have sent circular matter to their trade showing the facilities we give, find a quick response—a stimulation of business. The trade knows what those facilities mean—everything modern—everything sanitary—progress—good business—quick action—sound judgment—no waste—no lost motion—nothing slipshod—everything exact—in a word the modern science of business carried to its very highest point.

When a concern becomes a tenant of the Bush Terminal its business increases. Don't believe it? Good for you! Just drop us a line and we will mail you reproductions of some tenants' letters to us. They will show you.

Do you admire the energy, foresight—the sound business judgment—the SUCCESS of the United Cigar Stores Co.? A few days ago they answered one of our advertisements. They were very skeptical as to our ability to make a marked saving for them, to give them a marked increase in facilities—to save money for them—to make money for them. They did not believe we could get around the fact of their local deliveries. They did not believe we could do it, but we said we could in our advertising. They know we are a rather big concern—a conservative concern—and although they felt just as YOU do—skeptical—they INVESTIGATED—because they are LIVE ones. They certainly are live. They read our literature. They went down to the Bush Terminal—they examined our facilities—they saw the wheels go round. They signed a lease for 58,000 square feet to save money, and they make daily deliveries to 250 local United Cigar Stores, from our loft buildings, too. They don't make mistakes—they don't do things without a reason—they deal in large figures—a saving, to interest them, must be a big one.

Never mind your doubts—you don't believe we can save you $30,000, but you can't be sure until you write and ask us "How?" We will send you some data on what we can do for your business and then you will know. The United Cigar Stores investigated because it was sound business to do so—it is sound business for you.

Do you realize that we are rather expert in laying out a manufacturer's or wholesaler's floor space to the best advantage—that while you have done it only once or twice, we have been through it scores of times?

We believe that we can show you that you are moving your goods about your stock-room or shipping room twice or perhaps three times, unnecessarily—a money loss—although you do not realize it. We can CURE this. We are sure we can show you where you are paying for a lot of floor space which you can't use—you can use every inch with us.

We know that in most buildings such as yours there are dark corners where employees cannot produce to the maximum even if they want to—and there is always the temptation for them to "slack up" there, too—because you can't see it. This is a money loss. We cure it.

We know that we can cut off your trucking expense on all incoming and outgoing rail shipments. Are you enterprising enough to look over your books NOW and see what that one item amounts to? It will be from $5,000 to $12,000 a year.

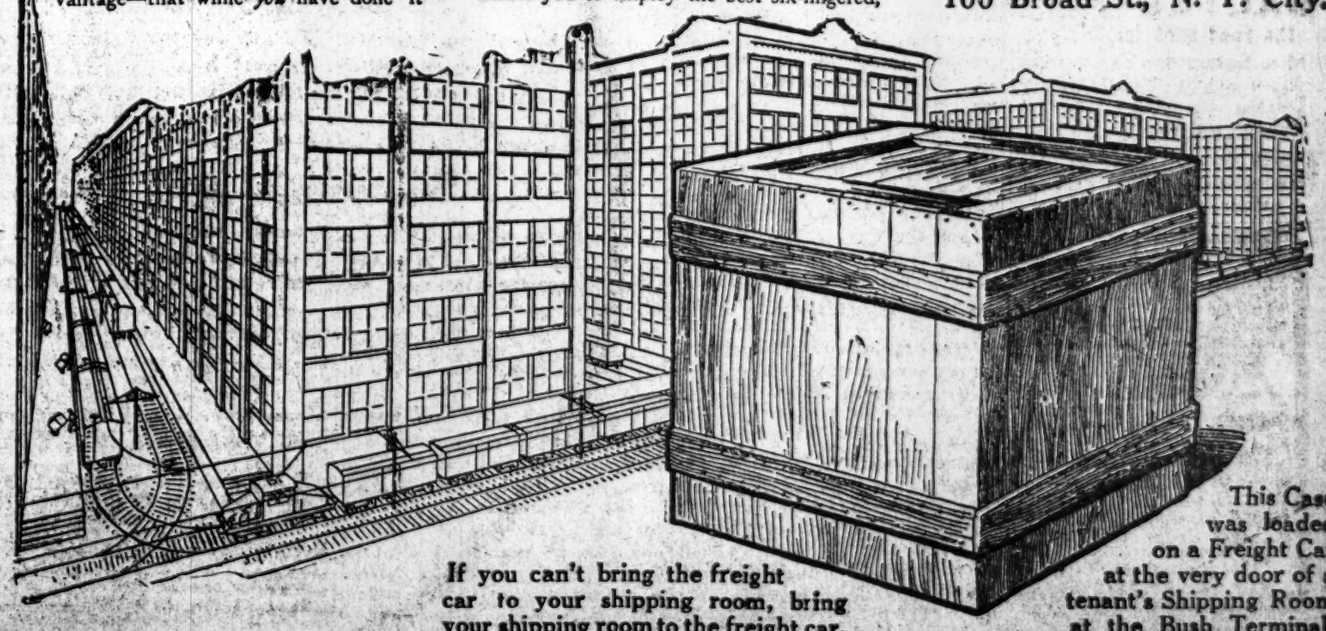
We know that we can reduce your insurance to 10 cents or 20 cents per hundred. Are you sufficiently interested in your own business to look up NOW the rate you pay—the amount you carry—the yearly cost of your insurance premium? We can save you $5,000 to $12,000 here.

We are saving some concerns of merely average size $30,000 yearly. We may save you more—perhaps less. Suppose we save you only $10,000. Wouldn't that $10,000 enable you to employ the best six-fingered, strong-arm, red blooded sales manager of the best territory-owning salesman your competitors have ever produced—and build up your business several notches? Or wouldn't it enable you to pay the bank interest on $170,000 of a bank loan so that you could carry more stock or buy more raw material? Or can't you spend that $10,000 in ADVERTISING so that it will produce a $50,000 profit for you? We know some advertising specialists who will come pretty near doing it for you.

We are getting inquiries every day from the big standard concerns whose names are National names—whose products are known everywhere—whose goods you buy as a matter of daily habit. Such of them as find, after reading our literature, that we can save money for their particular business are moving to the Bush Terminal. But the point is they investigate—won't you? They write and ask us "HOW?" Won't you? They believe that when we come out and spend a great many thousands of dollars saying we can save money—and a lot of it—for manufacturers and wholesalers—that we CAN do it for SOME—perhaps for THEM—and they want to find out—don't you?

An investigation on your part will be brief and it will save a good deal of money for you. Write today and ask us "HOW."

Bush Terminal Co
100 Broad St., N. Y. City.



If you can't bring the freight car to your shipping room, bring your shipping room to the freight car.

This Case was loaded on a Freight Car at the very door of a tenant's Shipping Room at the Bush Terminal.

Ten Vacation Trips including trips by water and rail, to and through

Saratoga Springs, Lake George and Lake Champlain, Thousand Islands, Adirondack and Green Mountains, Montreal and Quebec

Option of steamer or rail between New York and Albany.

Stopping over at the places which suit you best, surrounded by beautiful mountain, forest and lake scenery, you can have boating, bathing, fishing, canoeing and every other conceivable outdoor pursuit.

"Two to Fifteen Day Tours"

is the name of a beautifully illustrated booklet, in which are described in detail ten of these attractive and reasonably priced trips. It will be sent free on request, or

Let Us Plan Your Vacation

If you will tell us the number in your party, the length of time and amount of money you desire to spend in connection with your holiday, and whether you want continuous traveling or not, and give some idea of the taste of your party regarding surroundings, amusements, etc., we will propose one or two trips for your consideration, with complete information.

Address New York Central Lines Travel Bureau, Room 804, Grand Central Terminal, New York.

Tickets and Sleeping-Car Accommodations.
NEW YORK: 149, 245, 415 and 1216 Broadway, 725 Fifth Avenue, and 121 West 125th Street.
BROOKLYN: 338 and 726 Fulton Street and 354 Broadway.
Railroad and Pullman Tickets can be secured at any of these offices, or will be delivered, upon request, by special representative, who will furnish any information desired.

Address E. J. O'HAYER,
General Eastern Passenger Agent.
1216 Broadway 'Phone 6310 Madison.

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

The New York Times

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.
Adolph S. Ochs, Pres't & Tr. B. C. Franck, Sec'y.
Address all communications.

THE NEW YORK TIMES.
Publication Office.....Times Square
Downtown.....15 Beekman Street
Wall Street.....90 Broadway
WASHINGTON.....Washington Post Building
PHILADELPHIA.....Public Ledger Building
CHICAGO.....150 Michigan Ave.
LONDON.....67 Fleet St., E. C.
PARIS.....36 Rue du Sentier
BERLIN.....60 Friedrichstrasse

ONE CENT Greater New York, Jersey City, Newark. Elsewhere, Two Cents. Five Cents Sunday.

Subscription Rates—By Mail, Postage Paid.
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Week.....$0.17
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month.....0.75
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year.....9.00
DAILY, per Week.....0.12
DAILY, per Month.....0.50
DAILY, per Year.....6.00
SUNDAY, with Pictorial Section, per Year.....2.50
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, per Year, (to Canada $1.50).....1.00
TIMES WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW, per Year, (to Canada $1.50).....1.00
To Foreign Addresses—Daily and Sunday, $1.95 per month. Daily, $1.35 per month.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

NEW YORK, TUESDAY, MAY 31, 1910.

Readers of The New York Times may have Daily and Sunday Editions mailed to them in any part of Country at rate of 75c. per month, Daily Edition, 50c. per month. Orders may be sent through newsdealers or directly to Publication Office.

THE CHINESE BOYCOTT.

If the Chinese traders in San Francisco are really planning to promote a general boycott of American goods in the markets of China, they show far less shrewdness than they are generally credited with.

Undoubtedly they have grievances. The provisions of Federal law and of the treaties with China which define and are supposed to guarantee the rights of subjects of the Chinese Empire resident, or traveling, in the United States are very defectively and arbitrarily carried out. Our governmental agencies give very imperfect proof of good faith, diligence, or fair-mindedness in this matter. There is no other race, save to some extent the Japanese, who are subjected to like treatment. Our conduct as a people and as a Government in this respect is indefensible and discreditable.

But the means of protest imputed to the Chinese traders, a protest which is supposed also to exert a pressure on public opinion and on the Government through injury to interests of considerable value, will fail. The injury will extend necessarily quite as much to those who suffer wrong as to those who inflict it. If it were possible to confine the boycott to American goods in Chinese markets it is not the exporters alone that would suffer. The exclusion of these goods—chiefly cheap clothing material and food—would tend to restrict competition and raise prices for the Chinese consumer. The cost of living would be increased and millions of Chinese subjects not at all interested in the few thousands who are ill-treated in the United States would find the conditions of existence more difficult. Nor would the consequences be limited to American exports and their purchasers. These exports are in great part paid for with Chinese goods sent to this country. The power as well as the disposition of Americans to buy such goods would be decreased if our exports are shut out, and the unlucky producers would find the demand for their products less, prices tending to shrink and profits to disappear.

This, of course, seems like a statement of elementary economics, which men as experienced and intelligent as the Chinese merchants of the Pacific Coast must have considered. But it is worth making because the principle that underlies it is very generally ignored by our own people. Our whole tariff system is nothing but a limited and indirect boycott against foreign trade, and the brutality and stupidity with which it is enforced in some instances are quite worthy of the provincials of Hun-un. Foolish as the San Francisco scheme is, it should be met, not by retaliation, but by a rational effort to remove the grievances against which it is directed.

THE PENSION-SEEKERS.

From A. B. NETTLETON, formerly Brevet Brigadier General, United States Volunteers, and Chairman of the Executive Committee, National Association of Surviving Union Volunteer Officers, THE TIMES has received a letter of expostulation. Gen. NETTLETON'S theme is the pending Volunteer Retired List bill, and our hearty approval of Gen. CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS'S opposition thereto. Did not Gen. ADAMS in 1905 approve just such a bill? Gen. NETTLETON quotes his letter:

23 Court Street, Boston, Nov. 13, 1905.

I heartily unite with former comrades-in-arms in the requesting Congress at its approaching session to pass, and the President to approve, an act to create a volunteer retired list of the general nature outlined in the annexed memorandum. I believe a measure of this character in having such scope and safeguards as Congress may determine, and enacted before the surviving few have joined the majority, will be just and timely; that it is fully warranted by precedent as well as by the nature and fruits of the service rendered, and is supported by the highest consideration of equity and expediency.

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS,
Colonel and Brevet Brigadier General.

And he praises it:

You will observe that the fundamental principle of the now pending measure was unqualifiedly indorsed by Gen. Adams in 1905, and practically every argument which is now used in support of that measure is condensed in the earlier and admirable document given above.

Mr. ADAMS admits that during the civil war he was in action between thirty and forty times. He was a brave soldier, and he is brave enough now to admit that he acquired a little late his expert knowledge of the ways of pension-seekers. He has been asked about this letter of commendation which Gen. NETTLETON quotes in triumph. Yes, he wrote it, and he is sorry. Soon after writing it he got a letter from a Congressman "which made a very considerable impression on me":

He intimated that I was, he thought, less experienced than he, as respects schemes of this nature. He then went on to tell me—what has since proved the case—that in the form then presented it was merely an entering wedge; that its promoters knew their business, and, once it was passed, the age limit would first be swept away; it would next be extended to all officers who ever held a commission of any description, and, finally, the time limit be reduced to the standard ninety days of service.

It was an "entering wedge"—the camel's head and neck. Mr. ADAMS was assured that the measure would be limited, first, to officers who had attained the rank of Brevet Brigadier General at lowest; second, to those who had served two years or more in the civil war, and, third, to those only who had passed 70 years of age. The first two limitations are removed in the present bill. The estimate of its cost has risen to $8,000,000 yearly. By its terms Mr. ADAMS would be entitled to receive a pension of $1,333.33, and, he says, "the Government owes me nothing." He served gallantly and with honor. He has no disabilities. He has since enjoyed the large opportunities and benefits of civil life. Such a blanket measure, covering thousands of cases essentially like his own, can have no justification.

The pension roll of the civil war is decreasing by from 2,500 to 3,000 monthly, yet since 1904 the amount annually appropriated for pensions has leaped from $140,000,000 to $163,000,000. There is eloquent testimony of the methods of the pension-seekers.

TAXES AND THE MONEY MARKET.

Twenty-six millions of corporation taxes become payable next month, and the general reluctance to part with money prematurely makes it likely that most of it will be paid within a single week, if not on a single day. Already the banks which expect to lose the money the Government will receive are petitioning the Treasury to redeposit the money, or at least not to withdraw the money which may be on deposit to the credit of the United States. And the Treasury has responded that it needs the money and cannot accommodate the apprehensive bankers. The Treasury, says the Secretary, is in the condition in which it usually withdraws funds. And as it happens the banks are not in equally good condition to respond to the Treasury's drafts on such occasions.

The banks of this centre are exceptions. Their reserves are stronger than at this season last year. There is no local banking question except the inevitable reflex from any banking question anywhere in the United States. It was the exceptional strength of the provincial banks which starved the local banks and precipitated the stringency which was overcome with some difficulty. Those conditions are now reversed. Our banks are above the legal requirements, but the States which grow the crops, and whose banks must move them, are weaker now than then, and are weaker than they like even where they are on a legal basis. Some of them are actually lower in reserves than they were in 1907. It is perhaps a coincidence merely that requests for bank rediscounts are already arriving in Wall Street rather sooner, and to somewhat larger amounts, than is usual.

It is characteristic of our banking system that the circulation which ought to be expanding shows a tendency to shrink under such conditions. It would be a splendid opportunity for the operation of Secretary SHAW'S plan to ease the money market from the Treasury's surplus, but, as it happens, the Treasury itself is a cause of trouble, rather than a remedy. Of course, our money market never helps itself until it has exhausted every other recourse, and pressure is now being exerted upon Congress to supply more bonds in order that we may have more currency. It is a counsel of weakness, not justified by anything now apparent. Now is as good a time as any for a practical exposition of the defects of our banknote system and of the inadequate provision for meeting emergencies under it.

The Treasury has disbursed over $200,000,000 on Panama Canal account, has issued $85,000,000 bonds, and is authorized to issue $375,000,000. On these facts there is no reason why bonds should not be issued, but there is a double difficulty. The market for the bonds which are the basis of outstanding currency is so weak that there are signs of collapse if more bonds are issued available for that use. Already the banks have lost $20,000,000, more or less, on their bond accounts, and naturally are reluctant to increase that loss, however much the country wants currency. And secondly, if banknotes are issued for this temporary use, it will be months or years before they are redeemed, and under present conditions the country might lose more gold than the amount of bonds issued.

There are two ways of protecting the market for the twos. Secretary MACVEAGH'S way is to equalize the circulation tax on the twos and threes so that the bonds with the higher interest should not depress the lower-rate bonds. This would expand the circulation, and also would lessen the force of the object lesson in banking which would be worth its cost if it produced reform. Another way of protecting the twos would be to give them a mo[illegible] circulation privilege, and serve notice that we must get along with our present circulation until such time as our banknote system is amended so as to work naturally. This would encourage us to supply ourselves with gold for monetary uses, by marking down our inflated commodity markets to the world's prices. This would be objectionable to a few and beneficial to most.

DEVELOPMENT OF ALASKA.

The plea of Mr. DANIEL GUGGENHEIM for the development of the known and vast resources of Alaska is a striking one. It is logical enough, on the face of the proposition, to say that the Government should either undertake this development or leave it to the organized enterprise of private capital through corporate agencies.

It is obvious, however, that the alternatives are not so simple or so mutually exclusive as on the surface they seem to be. On the one hand, the Government could and would do the work of development, if left wholly in its hands, very imperfectly and even very badly. On the other, it is practically impossible to leave the corporations to themselves in such a matter. They are created by law; they enjoy the very great advantages conferred by law, of limited liability and indefinitely continuous existence; some form and degree of governmental regulation and supervision is necessary for them. The problem with reference to them in such a matter as Alaskan development is: What opportunities for profit will induce them to do the work adequately while securing to the community at large the greatest advantage?

Certainly that is not a simple or an easy problem, but it is one not incapable of solution if the solution be undertaken in good faith and in a spirit of fair dealing on both sides. The immediate difficulty is that there is pervading the public mind at present an unreasoning and passionate animosity to corporations as a whole which makes impossible a clear realization of the immense good they have done and can do. And it is not to be denied that some of the corporations have contributed to this feeling by their unscrupulous greed and still more by the contempt they have shown for everything but their own immediate interests. But there are signs that public passion in this direction has reached its high tide and will subside if a sensible policy can be evolved.

The evolution of such a policy depends, we should say, on the frank recognition of the fact that organized capital undertaking the various elements of the immense task of Alaskan development is fairly entitled to the possibility of large profits. Its administrators run, and must run, great risks. The returns cannot be measured by the average in established enterprises. They must be sufficient to supply motive power equal to the job of devising, starting, guiding, and advancing work of great difficulty and much uncertainty. You cannot budge a hundred pound obstacle with a force of ninety-nine pounds any more than with one of fifty pounds. And the essential function of corporate capital in a matter of this sort is to provide motive power. The question for the Government to decide, as best it can, is what are the limits of inducement which will secure the energetic operation of corporate capital.

It is a question that will have to be worked out, and a lot of mistakes will be made—as they have already been made—in the process. But we are convinced that in the long run the practical sense and the sense of fairness of the American people will "win out."

FAREWELL TO MAY.

To say farewell to the month of May is a rare pleasure. We hasten to bid the month adieu this morning, firm in the belief that thirty days of such a month are enough, and if by any chance to-day should turn out fair and May-like, according to traditions, let us credit it to June and be done with it, for June cannot come too soon in this year of 1910. To be sure, the real month of May has rarely if ever been the poets' May. Warm Mays we all remember, but the month has often been blustery, an influenza breeder, a veritable humbug in the matter of flowery meads, if such things are wholesome, and cheerful spirit.

The point is that the month this year has been simply detestable, neither very cold nor very warm, very wet (though quite wet enough) nor very dry, with plenty of fog, mist, and clouds, but nothing whatever to give it distinction. As for the rain, while the weather sharps when they get to work are likely enough to set down the fall as "average," it has fallen always at the very time when one particularly desired clear weather. Have you noticed that? The temperature has not been so low. Many days the mercury has ranged in the seventies, but if you have gone out without a light top coat you have felt the need of it, while if you have worn one you have been sorry.

Of course, the constitutional optimist will declare that there have been fine days in May. That is true, and all of them days when nobody cared a rap whether they were fine or not. And few were continuously fine. Sunday was delusively clear, but the "partly cloudy" sign was hung out in the afternoon and rain fell at night. If anybody can cheerfully look back on yesterday's weather as good holiday weather he is entitled to praise for his small requirements in the matter of weather.

May, 1910, has been a month of showers and wind and generally unsettled weather. Its traditional merriment it has kept to itself. It has not been "seasonal." It has been humid, it has anticipated June and July with thunder and lightning, it has indulged in frosts. We have said that it has had no particular distinction, but it will doubtless long be remembered for its persistent obscuration of HALLEY'S comet. Visiting us after seventy-five years or so of enforced absence, this supposedly interesting phenomenon has been seen only by a comparatively few persistent night watchers and other persons of mist-penetrating vision. Most of us know about it only by hearsay. Let May have the credit of hiding HALLEY'S comet from human eyes as no other May of our remembrance has ever done.

We say "good-bye" to May thus early without compunction. We are honestly glad to get rid of it. If many Mays were as objectionable we should urge the elimination of May from the calendar. There was a hint of genuine May back in March, and uncertain, much-abused April had some real May days. But May itself has been an ill-considered combination of meteorological leftovers. June is at hand, and everybody knows that June is capable of being the best month in the year. We bespeak a cordial welcome for June.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

This Achievement Marks a New Epoch.

It is a little hard for us to understand now why so many years elapsed after steam engines came into general use before anybody thought of making one of them turn what may be called a reversed water-wheel and move a boat. FULTON had difficulty in convincing his contemporaries that the combination of three familiar things was practicable, and, in spite of its obviousness, the success of his little vessel probably caused more excitement along the Hudson than did CURTISS'S flight through the air on Sunday from Albany to New York. Yet this was an achievement the very possibility of which was little more than a dream five years ago—a dream to be received with pitying smiles when the dreamers told it to "sensible" people.

Not the first of cross-country flights and not quite the longest, it is nevertheless by far the most remarkable that has yet been made by any man in any land, and as a display of daring and skill it undoubtedly puts CURTISS in the first rank of aviators—if it does not set him at the head. The region over which he flew contained everything except the one thing which his rivals have demanded—a smooth and open expanse on which alighting almost anywhere would be comparatively safe and easy. For a good part of the time, indeed, the river was beneath him, but at such speed as his it was a mere thread of water, and had he fallen the chances are that he would have struck land, not water. And the chances were that the land would have been wild as well as hard, with no immediate assistance obtainable. That through much of his course he was among or above mountains meant that he was subjected to confused and violent air currents deflected from their irregular surfaces.

All the conditions and circumstances were such as to render this flight quite the best proof yet given that the problem of mechanical flight has at last been really solved. The machine that can follow the Hudson for 150 miles, that can land in and rise from any moderately smooth bit of ground, can go anywhere at almost any time. With increased experience in the art of flight aviators will more and more lose their now well-justified fear of high winds, and, though there is no hope or expectation that they will ever wholly, or even in large measure, cause the abandonment of other means of transportation, there is every indication that before long many and important uses for the aeroplane besides those of war will be found.

Evidence of Popularity.

When the friends of ex-President ROOSEVELT undertook the arrangement of a welcome for him on his return from African jungles and European courts their first thought, naturally, was to get up a parade in his honor.

Of course it was necessary that the parade should be a big one, so it was made known all over the country that there would be a place in the procession for such of the Colonel's more fervent admirers as would take the trouble and spend the money to come here on the day when his ship arrived. Instantly acceptances began to pour in—a score from this village, a hundred from that town, thousands from each of more than a few cities. Soon the Committee on Arrangements, who at first were a little apprehensive lest the parade might not be long enough, realized that it would be of utterly unmanageable extension. An inoffensive discrimination among the would-be marchers was deemed impossible, so the processional feature of the great day has of necessity been reduced to a mere escort.

The episode is probably without precedent, and it is highly significant of the Colonel's popularity. For a private citizen without place or power, he is certainly a wonder.

Freedom Is Not Threatened.

When anybody is asked if he wants to be free, of course his answer is affirmative, and when told that his liberties are endangered he naturally is disposed to join in a movement said to be for their defense. It is by making shrewd but utterly unscrupulous use of these instinctive tendencies that the National League for Medical Freedom is trying to arouse widespread antagonism to the proposed creation of a Federal Health Department, headed by a Secretary with a place in the President's Cabinet.

As a matter of indubitable fact, the new department, if established, will menace nobody's freedom, medical or other, and what is proposed in Senator OWEN'S bill is merely the combination under a single responsible chief of various bureaus and services now scattered among several branches of the Government. This union, with the better co-ordinated and systematized effort for the protection of the public health which it makes possible, will exercise no unfamiliar powers; it will only use with more efficiency those already intrusted to departmental officials, with results, so far as they go, that are wholly admirable.

The opponents of the measure are careful not to mention the fact that the creation of the new department is advocated by the entire body of trained and competent physicians. These, widely as they differ among themselves in opinion and practice, and dearly as they value the right to use their personal judgment as to the proper treatment of their patients, would be the first to fight any real infringement upon medical freedom. The active hostility to the bill comes from three sources—the exploiters of the irregular schools of freakish "healing," those who resent a rigid inspection of foods and drugs, and the people who can be deluded by the suggestionists and the adulterators into thinking that they are menaced by a ruthless and dangerous tyranny to be wielded by the little group of "political doctors."

In the third class there are some honest, though—in this particular matter—very ignorant men; the other two are composed of those who foresee with well-justified alarm the coming of a time when the public will be better protected from poisoning and theft and when everybody who claims to be a doctor will have to know the rudiments of his profession. Would it be such a dreadful calamity if the sophistication of drugs and foods were stopped, or if there were no practitioner of medicine who would let a child die of diphtheria because of inability to diagnose that easily recognizable disease in its early stages?

NURSES' ASSOCIATIONS.

Replies to the Charges of Dr. Theodore Potter Against Them.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Having read in your columns some quotations from an article by Dr. Theodore Potter, I shall be grateful if you will allow me space in which to correct some of his statements. He is absurdly wrong in saying that nurses are under the "direction and even practical domination of a few leaders." The great army of nurses, numbering many thousands, scattered over this big country, could not possibly be dominated by leaders, because such leaders would be absolutely without power to enforce leadership. The nurses of our country, working out their problems as skilled, self-supporting women, encounter in every State the same needs and the same enmities. The needs are for an ever-advancing, thorough education; the enmities are the same that have always opposed such progress on the part of women.

In insinuating that nurses' associations are being used to "advance the political interests and plans of organization politicians," I may say seriously and frankly that Dr. Potter is saying what is not true and what is unworthy of his ethics as a physician. And I aver that if the record of nurses' associations and of medical associations in respect to the furtherance of political interests could be held up to the public, Dr. Potter would be obliged to feel ashamed of himself. If the nurses of an Indiana city have affiliated with the American Federation of Labor there must be some special conditions endangering their standards of living in that particular place. Such is not the usual trend of nurses' societies. However, I would emphatically dissent from the implied contempt of laboring men which Dr. Potter's remark contains. This failure to understand the need of workers to unite for that mutual protection which is one of the first articles of the medical code arises from a narrowness of social viewpoint which is conspicuous in many medical men as in other specialists who, limited by a specialty, fail to grasp the meaning of democracy.

In disputing the need of State registration for nurses Dr. Potter is disputing what our Legislatures all over the country readily and willingly concede. Nurses consider that, in gaining State legislation, they are partners with the general public through the representatives of the public in State Legislatures, and they believe that they are not likely to be permitted to arrive at any dangerous degree of "independence" or "autonomy" so long as they have this great body of laymen to scrutinize and approve their petitions for a reasonable amount of legal protection for educational standards. Unfortunately, in America it is possible and permissible for physicians to enjoy a financial profit from what we may call "nurse farming," and from the establishment of bogus training schools. This statement Dr. Potter will find it impossible to deny. Physicians in this country permit themselves to do what is considered unethical in England and in Australia, namely, to give their own "diploma" to "nurses" graduating from their own "schools" in their private hospital businesses. Interference with this source of profit is the real cause for the opposition made by many members of the medical profession to the State registration of nurses.

L. L. DOCK, R. N.,
Member of the Nurses' Settlement.
New York, May 28, 1910.

DEATH FROM ACID FUMES.

Fate of Mr. Dickinson Recalls Strange Accident in Milwaukee.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

So much has been written concerning the death of Mr. Charles C. Dickinson, and doubt expressed as to whether or not his death could have been caused in the manner stated in the news dispatches, that I am tempted to recall a similar tragedy on a much larger scale which occurred some eight or nine years ago in Milwaukee.

Two workmen in a stamp and seal manufactory were about to lift a carboy of nitric acid when the bottom dropped out, allowing the contents to form a large pool on the storeroom floor. Not knowing what else to do, a telephone message was sent to the Fire Department Headquarters, only a block or two away. When the Chief arrived he ordered his men to cover the acid thickly with sawdust, a barrel of which was close at hand, and then shovel the saturated sawdust into the alley.

As soon as the sawdust was spread over the acid heavy white fumes arose and the firemen lost no time in clearing up the floor and then returned to their station. The whole affair did not take over fifteen minutes, but during the evening, some six hours later, one after another the men began to choke up and by midnight Fire Headquarters were more nearly a hospital. Before daylight the Chief, a Lieutenant, and, I think, three firemen succumbed and the verdict was: "Acute pneumonia brought on by inhaling acid fumes."

Cascadilla Lodge, May 28, 1910. J. T. W.

AMBIGUOUS SPELLING.

Reforms Need Not Aim to Make Printed Language Phonetic.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In this matter of spelling reform which is always bobbing up for discussion, there is a point, one would think as plain as a pipe stem, of which nobody takes any notice. It is that spelling generally appeals to the eye, not to the ear, and that is why it does not much matter whether it is phonetic or not. After leaving school one may never in a lifetime spell a word in the sense of pronouncing the letters aloud, yet spell millions in writing or by reading them already spelled. It is not bad, therefore, to have words pronounced alike but with different meanings written differently, because it makes the meaning instantly clear, as with "cell" and "sell," "write," "right," and "wright." Suppose you have a letter from a friend saying: "I have been working hard to promote such a matter and collect funds. This morning I received a check." That is ambiguous; you don't know whether to congratulate him, as you would if he had written "cheque."

I only wish these reformers would devote some time to making war on unnecessary hyphens, and especially on the ridiculous and unwieldly form "to-day." If there is any "permanent compound" in the language I should say "today" is one. When spelt with two capitals, "To-Day," it seems still more absurd. H. F. L.

New York, May 28, 1910.

Gideon Welles's Advice.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In the extracts from Gideon Welles's Diary published in the June Atlantic is found a remark which should be commended to President Taft's attention. Mr. Welles says: "The President should not be a stump speaker."

It would be well if President Taft should have this remark printed, framed, and hung in his bedroom, so that it could be perused daily.

New York, May 28, 1910. E. T. W.

WHITE SLAVE VERDICT.

Mr. Karlin, Counsel for Belle Moore, Replies to Mr. Reynolds.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Apropos the letter of James B. Reynolds in your issue of yesterday and your comment thereon, may I ask that, with your usual fairness, you permit me, as counsel for Belle Moore, the use of your columns for a statement as to the "other side"? It is much to be feared that Mr. Reynolds, usually a clear thinker, has been hypnotized by the subject of his eulogy, George A. Miller, else why are we again regaled with the kindergarten tale of the "Teddy bear" and the "Dollie," with all its attendant pathos?

Exception is taken by Mr. Reynolds to your statement that his workers were "provoking agents." A harsher characterisation could not be legitimately excepted to by Mr. Reynolds, acquainted, as he is, with the extraordinary methods that were used to entrap an alleged "white slaver." The sworn proof—and I shall confine myself entirely in this statement to the sworn proof—with which Mr. Reynolds is thoroughly familiar, is that repeatedly during the negotiations between Miller and Frances Foster and Belle Moore the latter said she could not get any girls; and it is also in evidence as coming from Frances Foster: "I was not pleased," "I did not think she was working hard enough," "I criticised her," and then, to crown it all, the college graduate writes a letter to this ignorant colored woman from Atlantic City, beginning "Dear Belle" and continuing (I am quoting from memory, but it is the substance): "Dig a little harder, old sport; it will be well worth your while." I could go on along this line ad infinitum.

Need you have further justification of your criticism of the character and conduct of George A. Miller than the fact that before the trial of Belle Moore there was widely circulated the report that this "exceptionally efficient operator" had been at the home of Belle Moore a white girl named Helen Hastings, age 11 years, and about whom were woven lurid tales that through the diabolical agency of my client this 11-year-old girl had either been kidnapped or murdered? Before the trial and during the trial I challenged the prosecution to show that the Helen Hastings story had any foundation other than the fertile imagination of the gentleman of whom Mr. Reynolds speaks in such glowing terms.

Mr. Reynolds has fallen into unintentional error as to the length of time I consumed in the cross-examination of Miller. The time occupied in my cross-examination was from about 4:13 P. M. to 6:15 P. M. on May 18 and from about 11:20 A. M. to about 12:10 P. M. on May 19, hardly the six hours with which I am credited. Miller unmistakably testified that he alone had spent about $3,000 in the prosecution of his work and that this amount did not include his salary.

Passing strange—is it not?—that though Belle Moore is alleged to be a procuress whose infamous work extends over a period of nine years, it required several weeks for her to get a "17-year-old child" who was 24 years old, and who, in turn, introduced Miller to an "18-year-old child" who was a married woman 25 years old? And although Belle Moore has been in New York City less than six years, it is undoubtedly correct that she has been engaged in New York City as a procuress for nine years!

I feel with you that more than the fate of Belle Moore is involved. As was urged upon the trial, and as will be urged on appeal, it is a question whether it shall become a principle of criminal jurisprudence that it is a legitimate function of the Commonwealth not only to tempt people into committing crime but to cajole and seduce them into it and make the path inviting and attractive with champagne revelries, taxicab rides, and dainty luncheons at a suite of rooms paid for by the State. (Surprising, but this is sworn proof by the State's witnesses.)

ALEXANDER KARLIN.

Toronto, May 28, 1910.

CALLS "SURVEY" BIASED.

Favors the Side of Labor in Industrial Conflicts.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I have had reason for some time to fear that the articles in The Survey, the regular organ of the Charity Organization of New York, are biased on the side of labor. As The Survey has great influence among social workers, and as, on the whole, it stands for the betterment of human conditions, it seems to me a pity that its larger usefulness is so hampered by an evident animus against all capital.

In the current number there is an article by Elizabeth G. Evans on "The Roxbury Carpet Factory Strike." The "heroines of the strike are the weavers," the managers of the mill are cold-blooded men who desire "to make profits at the workers' expense."

Profits must go to the maintenance of non-producers who neither toil nor spin, and the loyalty of those in authority runs wholly to these absentee owners, and in no degree to the faithful women who have worked so long at the looms. Thus the common interests and mutual good-will of the old days have come to be replaced by a cash-nexus pure and simple. Human ties may still bind the workers together; they no longer cut a figure between employer and employed.

A black picture is drawn of the hard-hearted corporation refusing to receive the committee of the strikers. The corporation is painted as waiting greedily until the strikers should be starved out. At last, however, (apparently according to Miss Evans only when facing failure,) the managers consent to meet one Golden, an intelligent workingman. In her own language, "when these men got together * * * just two conferences sufficed to settle the strike." "It was a victory for the weavers on every point," yet all the credit is given to this man Golden, "intelligent, sober-minded, well-informed, &c.," and not one word of praise, even of just dues, is bestowed on those managers who somehow, for all their lack of human quality, for all their insistence on a "cash-nexus," must have been very fine, just men to undertake to do away with all the causes for grievance in just two conferences! Not one word does the author utter to show that corporations may not always know all that goes on, and that when there is a reason for a strike the capitalists are ready to accede to it. The whole animus of the article is against the corporation as a money-grinding, cold-blooded organization. The whole praise is reserved for the union that wrung the withers of the capitalists.

ANNIE NATHAN MEYER.

New York, May 28, 1910.

EAST SIDE STREETS.

Wishes the Mayor Would Take a Walk Through Them.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Kindly permit a resident of the lower east side to put before the Mayor and the public the deplorable condition of the streets of this section. I am positive that I voice the sentiments of a good many others. This chaotic state of the streets has existed for a good many years, but never was it so bad as at present. A day does not pass that one or more of the streets are not opened to put in some kind of new pipes or wires. This is done where congestion of traffic is greatest and where the children have to play in the streets. Besides, we have about three or four drilling machines situated at the most congested spots of this section which are producing a nerve-racking noise day and night.

All this, combined with dirty and filthy barrels, ash cans all day in the streets, pipes and wires thrown into the middle of the streets, stands, and milk cans, makes this part of the town a veritable big, filthy junk yard. We wish that the Mayor some day will take a stroll over this section, and we will then show him what life is here. N. JANKO.

New York, May 28, 1910.

DOUBLE CLASS DAY HELD AT COLUMBIA

Barnard Seniors Start the Graduating Ceremonies and the University Students Follow.

HONORS FOR BLIND STUDENT

Benjamin Berinstein First One to Be Afflicted to be Elected to Phi Beta Kappa Since 1870.

The gala social events of commencement week at Columbia University were staged there yesterday, and though the threatening weather tried hard to interfere with the festivities it didn't succeed very well, for everything went along as planned.

Barnard College's senior class started things going in the morning with their class day exercises, which drew many friends and relatives of the girl graduates to the gymnasium building. Banked by a fine floral display the platform upon which the capped and gowned young women sat presented a pretty spectacle. Occupying a prominent place directly in front of the speaker's rostrum was the stuffed owl, who, as mascot of the 1910 Barnardites for four years, has become quite an educated bird.

Dorothy Browning Kirchwey, daughter of Prof. George W. Kirchwey of the Columbia law school, made the Salutatory address. Then followed Marion Weinstein, the class "prophetess," who referred to Columbia at the outset of her remarks as the "male annex of Barnard." She depicted the future age when after women have obtained the suffrage, the men will be heard clamoring for equal rights.

The 1910 Hall of Fame was described by Elsie Plaut. Mary Nammack read the class day poem, and then followed the presentation to the college. As is customary at Barnard with outgoing classes the 1910 girls made a gift to their Alma Mater of a number of maple trees to adorn the college campus. Lillian Egleston made the speech of presentation.

The other orations delivered were: Presentation to the classes by Hazel Woodhull, the reading of the Class Statistics by Grace Reeder, and the Valedictory address by Gertrude Hunter.

There were also two unusual features in the form of a musical class history, written by Marion Weinstein, and a class day song composed by Nannette Hamburger.

Some interesting facts were revealed by the class statistician, the most startling of which was that the Barnard senior does not believe in woman suffrage. The number of pairs of shoes worn annually, the favorite kind of shirtwaist, and the seniors' preference in hatpins, and other innocent forms of adornment all came in for a vote, and the results were received with great interest by the audience.

What the Girls Want to Do.

Barnard seniors vary in their ambitions. And while many will seek after graduation to reform the world, others confess to slight matrimonial leanings, some toward professional men, others toward business men, and still others toward chauffeurs and traveling salesmen. Thirteen consider themselves hopeless for matrimony, three are disinterested, and two are awaiting leap year. The ideal husband, as the Barnard girls describe him, should have brown hair, be six feet tall, and have a sense of humor. One graduate aspires, so she says, to be a chorus girl. Miss Mabel McCann was voted the class beauty and Miss Clarice Auerlock the most contented senior.

When the merriment caused by the reading of these statistics had ceased, the Barnard Phi Beta Kappa elections were announced. The 1910 honor girls are: Tessie Burrows, Frances Burger, Harriet Ruth Fox, Nannette Hamburger, Gertrude L. Hunter, Dorothy B. Kirchwey, Elizabeth Nitchie, Agnes T. O'Donnell, Margaret M. A. O'Donnell, Etta A. Waite, and Marion Weinstein.

The Columbia seniors were among the bidden guests at the Barnard exercises, and the boys made themselves heard at stated intervals. So it was only fair that Barnard girls should retaliate in kind by helping their brothers from across the street," to celebrate their class affair, which came in the afternoon. And the Barnard graduates came in a body.

The Columbia senior class day orations were: Class History, Frances N. Bangs, Class Poem, Condit W. Cutler; Class Prophecy, C. Homer Ramsdell; Presentation Oration, E. H. Osterhout; Valedictory, William Langer; Ivy Oration, Geddes Smith. The last was given after the close of the exercises in the gymnasium, at the planting of the class ivy near Hamilton Hall.

A memorable event of the 1910 class day exercises was the final appearance at an affair of this sort of "Van Am," professor in Columbia College for fifty years. The Dean, who retires at the close of the present academic year, touching on his approaching retirement, said: "I am very proud to be graduated with the Class of 1910." He delivered a very affecting valedictory address, and gave the seniors some sound fatherly advice, an accomplishment for which the Dean is famous.

"Van Am" also presented to E. H. Osterhout the Alumni Association prize for the most faithful and deserving member of the graduating class, and the Charles Roelker, Jr., prize to William Langer.

Honors for a Blind Student.

In the elections to Phi Beta Kappa, Benjamin Berinstein, a blind man, was announced as one of the recipients of the honor key. Berinstein has made a most remarkable record at Columbia, and is the first blind man to be graduated from Columbia since 1870. His election to Phi Beta Kappa did not come as a surprise as his record for scholarship is not unknown to Columbia men.

Other Phi Beta Kappa recipients were Thomas Alexander, Paul W. Aschner, Ernst P. Boas, Mortimer Brenner, Louis Grossbaum, John D. Jones, Russell T. Kirby, Hermann J. Miller, William De Forest Pearson, Edward H. Pfeiffer, Maurice Picard, and Rollo R. De Wilton.

The senior statistics of Columbia College revealed the preferences of the men in various fields of their work and play. A majority of the Columbia seniors were shown to be teetotalers, but the tobacco leaf was voted into favor.

The average height of the Columbia senior is 5 feet 10½ inches, the average weight is 151.35 pounds, and the average age is 21 years 5 months.

A large part of the class intend to study law, engineering comes next, and medicine follows. In politics the seniors are overwhelmingly Republican, there being 51 of that party, but only 10 Democrats. One senior is an insurgent, and another describes himself as a Bryan Republican.

THE TIMES is voted the favorite newspaper of the class. Loafing is the favorite pastime, and baseball is the most favored sport. In literature the class votes Kipling its favorite prose writer and Tennyson its favorite poet. "Vanity Fair" is selected as the favorite novel.

In reply to the question of what Columbia needs most, "football" is suggested by nearly everybody. Next to Columbia the seniors vote Princeton, Harvard, and Yale in order as their favorite colleges. E. H. Sothern and Maude Adams take first rank as players in the estimation of the Columbia seniors.

Commencement visitors and seniors were entertained at a dinner late in the afternoon. Then followed the Barnard senior class ball in Earl Hall, and the Columbia senior class ball in the gymnasium at night. These affairs terminated the day's festivities.

"MIKADO" REVIVED WITH MUCH SUCCESS

As Welcome at the Casino as the Flowers That Bloom in the Spring.

FRITZI SCHEFF AS YUM YUM

Christie MacDonald, Josephine Jacoby, and Others in Cast, Which Is Stronger on the Lyric Than the Comedy Side.

That age cannot wither nor custom stale "The Mikado" was again proved at the Casino last evening, where the famous old Gilbert and Sullivan opera was revived before an audience that packed the theatre, and was spiritedly applauding and insisting upon encores almost up to midnight. And the enthusiasm was not surprising. For "The Mikado," with its insistent, persistent melody and its rich vein of fun, must indeed be badly done not to win much favor. In this case, however, it is in the main essentials so excellently staged and with such a well-selected cast that singers as well as librettist and composer contribute to the pleasing result.

The present revival is stronger, however, on its lyric side than on that of humor. But there must always be an allowance for an absence of appreciation on the part of Broadway audiences where satire is concerned. Certainly the more subtle points did not "get over" last night, whatever the reason. And equally certain it is that all the low comedy was as well received as ever, though there have been occasions when some of it has been better done. This, then, was a case where the lines themselves and the business might be trusted to score. Which was fortunate for at least one or two of the principal comedians.

It may well be doubted, however, whether a better general production of "The Mikado" has been seen here, taking into consideration the quality of most of the voices, the general effect of the ensembles, and the beauty of the costumes and the pictures. The setting of the last act was especially lovely, with a charming blending of costumes charmingly set off against a wisteria hung background, and all the hues melting harmoniously together. And the groupings were effected easily and gracefully. The chorus is good to look at, but, better still, it can sing, and the finale of the first act was given with lots of spirit and voice.

The surprise of the night, possibly, was the Yum Yum of Fritzi Scheff, for while the erstwhile "little devil of grand opera" has generally been regarded as the possessor of unusual ability, her general style has hardly been such as to suggest the heroine of this Flowery Kingdom idyl. It was a foregone conclusion that she would sing the part, of course, but would she act it? Above all, would she keep the spirit of it? Both questions may be answered with emphatic affirmatives. A charming Yum Yum, with all the dainty graces, all the coquetry, and with a surprisingly effective Jap make-up, Miss Scheff scored in each of the songs, though "The Moon and I" number possibly won her the most generous hand of the night.

In point of general popularity she had to share honors, however, with Christie MacDonald, whose Pitti Sing was a delightfully fresh and winsome rendering of the rôle. When she sang "He's Going to Marry Yum Yum" the house fairly rose at Miss MacDonald, as well they might, for there was piquant archness to her acting and sweetness to her singing, that were wholly fascinating. The third of the little maids was prettily embodied in the person of Miss Christine Nielsen.

Josephine Jacoby was the Katisha, somewhat less grotesquely humorous than is usual in this "caricature," but singing splendidly, as might have been expected, while William Danforth was eloquently amusing as the Mikado. Humor was somewhat lacking in Mr. Pruette's Pooh Bah, though in the main he played the rôle very well and sang it excellently, while Arthur Cunningham, as Pish Tush, brought one of the best voices of the night. Mr. Andrew Mack's Nanki-Pooh was somewhat mannered both as to singing and acting, and the manner was scarcely suggestive of Gilbert and Sullivan, while Mr. Jefferson De Angelis, as Ko-Ko, a rôle which, like Hamlet, never fails to score, was quite like himself. The audience laughed a good deal at Mr. De Angelis, but he will never go down in history as a great Ko-Ko. At that he brought some value to the trios and quartets in which he appears, as his singing voice is better than that of the average comic opera comedian.

"The Mikado" is tuneful from the first to the last stroke of the conductor's baton, and that in itself ought to mean much to people who are generally asked to take tinkle in place of tunes. So there appears to be every reason to believe that the revival will prosper.

A word is due to Joseph Herbert and William J. Wilson for the general stage management, which is excellent.

MIDSHIPMEN AS ACTORS.

Give "Money Talks," a Musical Comedy, as Annual June Week Show.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 30.—In the auditorium of the Academy Building the Midshipmen's dramatic organization to-night produced the annual June week show, this one being "Money Talks," a musical comedy composed, staged, and acted by the Midshipmen. Possibly fifteen hundred people, mostly naval officers and friends and relatives of the midshipmen, witnessed the performance.

To-morrow morning "June Week" will be officially ushered in with the reception to the Board of Visitors at 10 o'clock. The graduation exercises will take place on Friday morning.

"Merry Whirl" at New York Theatre.

"The Merry Whirl," a burlesque recently presented at the Columbia Theatre, began an indefinite engagement at the New York Theatre last night. The piece is under the direction of Cliff Gordon and Bobby North, and consists of two parts—a short musical comedy and a burlesque of the usual type. For the New York Theatre engagement several new principals and a number of extra chorus girls have been engaged. The scenery and costumes have been renovated.

"Madame X-Cuse Me" at the Columbia.

At the Columbia Theatre yesterday the Bowery Burlesquers began an engagement with a short musical comedy and a burlesque on "Madame X," which they called "Madame X-Cuse Me." The latter was staged like the courtroom scene in the original, and the characters were only slightly burlesqued, with the exception of the presiding Judge, played by Ben Jansen. The comedy was found in the interruptions to the trial proceedings rather than in any burlesque of the act itself. Frank Wright played the rôle of the counsel for the defense, and Deidre Doyle the title rôle.

Warfield's Farewell in "Music Master"

David Warfield's farewell week in "The Music Master" began at the Grand Opera House yesterday. This will make Mr. Warfield's final appearance in the rôle of Herr von Barwig, and final performances of the play that has been running steadily for nearly five years. Next season Mr. Warfield is to have a new play that has already been selected.

IF

You fail to leave order with your dealer to have The New York Times sent to your country address telephone 1000 Bryant, Circulation Department, and paper will be sent the following morning if you desire it.—Adv.

SOCIAL NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. James Speyer are booked to sail for Europe on Tuesday, June 11. On their return in the early autumn they will go to Waldheim, at Scarborough.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Mott Warner are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Egerton Tower at the Curtis Hotel, Lenox.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Steinbrugge will spend July in Atlantic City. They are sailing for Europe in August.

Miss Maria de Barril of 9 East Thirty-ninth Street, will go to Newport early in July to spend the season.

J. E. Fisher, Jr., and Miss Vieva Fisher are the guests of Gen. and Mrs. Carroll at Tarrytown.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stuart Brown, Miss Brown and Lawrence Brown of Pittsburg, Pa., are at the Hotel Wolcott. Miss Louise Wood, Miss Margaret MacVeagh and Mrs. Ralph Waldo Emerson are also at the Wolcott.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Crane of Cedarhurst are in town for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Livingston Hoyt have opened their country place at Staatsburg, N. Y., for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Suffern Tailer are leaving for Newport in a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Brownell are at the Hotel Aspinwall, Lenox, for a short stay.

SOCIETY AT HOT SPRINGS.

Special to The New York Times.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., May 30.—The week-end crowd which assembled here for the Decoration holiday spent the day in the open, and the largest throng of horseback riders of the week was out, both in the morning and in the afternoon, and included R. Hall McCormick and the Misses Elizabeth McCormick and Katherine Farwell, Robert Waller, Miss Wilke, Eugene Philbin, Col. M. W. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Foster, Miss Ruth Harrison, Dr. W. A. James, Dr. Guy Fairfax Whiting, and Miss Alice Whiting.

During the afternoon concert at the Casino, when every tennis court was engaged, there were a number of tea parties in progress on the lawn. Mrs. Latham Bartlett entertained a company, including Judge and Mrs. William H. Jackson and the Misses Alice and Julia Whiting and Zanoni Travers.

Senator and Mrs. Guggenheim had Miss Ruth Harrison, Dr. W. A. James, and a small party of friends, and others entertaining included Mr. and Mrs. T. Swan Frick, Mrs. John Hays Hammond, Mrs. Charles Howry, Mrs. Edgar Pole, Miss Virginia May, and Miss Beth Brewer.

Among those having courts engaged for tennis during the concert were Mrs. Robert Hicks, Robert K. Cassatt, C. M. Runyon, A. H. Runyon, C. E. Hyams, Jr., and C. E. Hyams, 3d.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dolan, John Hays Hammond, Peter Mayo, Thomas N. Carter, Mrs. Latham Bartlett, Miss Zanoni Travers, Charles M. Hinkle, E. P. Harrison, Miss Ruth Harrison, Heluings Lippincott, and Miss Lippincott were among the golfers who played the entire eighteen holes this morning.

Judge William Harrison Jackson, who came down for the week-end, left Edmonstone Lodge to-night for New York.

Arrivals at the Homestead to-day were H. A. Dalton, Frank Lyman, and W. A. Carter of New York, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Lippe of Bethlehem, S. S. Graham of Brownsville, Penn.; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Dickinson of Cincinnati, and Percy Proctor of Cincinnati.

OCEAN TRAVELERS.

Mrs. I. Townsend Burden Among Those Sailing To-day on Kronprinz Wilhelm.

The transatlantic steamships sailing to-day and some of those booked to depart on them are:

KRONPRINZ WILHELM (Bremen)—Mrs. Talbot J. Albert, Mrs. L. N. Asiel, Miss A. G. Ayres, Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Bosson, Mrs. I. Townsend Burden, Dr. Alexander Griswold Cummins, Robert J. Dean, Mr. and Mrs. John Forsell, Baron de Gaiffer, Mrs. Randolph Guggenheimer, Mrs. Robert Hoe, Prof. Wilhelm Jaeger, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lewisohn, Miss Alice Potter Read, Rear Admiral W. H. Reeder, Mr. and Mrs. Eli K. Robinson, Moses Sachs, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Seybold, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus L. Sulzberger, Mrs. George N. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. A. Andres Terry, Mrs. L. A. Wachman, and Mrs. E. D. Winslow.

PRESIDENT LINCOLN (Hamburg)—Mr. and Mrs. Anton Berberick, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. William Hess, H. C. Hahn, Mrs. and Miss Herman Moltke, Mr. and Mrs. John Meisem, John Ort, Mrs. R. M. Peixotto, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vollmer, and Mrs. R. Menzies Taylor.

RYNDAM (Rotterdam)—Baroness C. van Asbeck, Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Brush, Miss Maye Albee Bushnell, Dr. and Mrs. John C. Delprat, Mrs. J. Murray Forbes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Gruppe, Capt. and Mrs. Robert Minor, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Osgood, Mrs. W. H. Sage, Herman W. T. Threse, Mrs. Angela R. de Velasco, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Waller.

KROONLAND (Antwerp)—Dr. and Mrs. William B. Aspinwall, Prof. J. R. Brackett, Mrs. Omer S. Dow, Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Fillmore, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Gledding, Dr. Fred P. Haggard, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Hazletine, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Johnson, C. Guyer Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Armand Nihout, Mrs. Harriet Yale Orton, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Padelford, Mrs. J. Frank Robinson, Gerald Padelford, Mrs. J. Frank Robinson, Gerald Mrs. O. C. Wysong.

MOLTKE (Naples)—Mr. and Mrs. John L. Batchelder, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Blumers, Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Bader, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Dixon, Mrs. William L. Elkins, Jr., Mrs. H. E. Fuller, Capt. and Mrs. Alfred Hicks, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Lantry, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Phillips, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Parkhurst, Mr. and Mrs. E. Dick Slaughter, F. P. Sherry, Judge and Mrs. William A. Vincent, and Bancroft Windsor.

"THE DELELICT" IS DRAMATIC

Frank Sheridan Makes a Hit in a Sketch of the "Great White Way."

Frank Sheridan, the original Captain Williams in "Paid in Full," made his first appearance in vaudeville at the American Music Hall yesterday afternoon in a sketch called "The Derelict," by James Horton. He was an instantaneous hit. He was applauded for a full minute on his first entrance, and received more than a dozen curtain calls at the end of the little drama.

The author calls his play "an episode of the Great White Way." The scene opens with a gay wine supper with three men and three women approaching intoxication. The party invites a tramp in to finish the dinner and to furnish sport for the crowd. The tramp recognizes one of the men as the son of the man who has ruined him in business. He launches into a tirade against "predatory wealth" and the extravagance of the people. Just as he is about to leave he discovers one of the girls, the one who is most intoxicated, to be his daughter whom he had lost years before. The piece closes with an intensely dramatic scene, in which the derelict uses some justifiable swear words, and tries to throttle one of the men.

The rest of the bill contains George Evans, Adelaide and company, Montgomery and Moore, Barnold's animals, and others. In the evening a special bill, headed by John L. Sullivan, was given in the theatre proper, while the afternoon bill was presented in the roof theatre.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

William A. Brady, Limited, the producing firm in which Mr. Brady and the Shuberts are interested, will present a new comedy by Margaret Mayo, called "Baby Mine," at the Princess Theatre, Chicago next Monday evening, the first production to be made by this firm.

The opening of "The Summer Widowers" at the Broadway Theatre has been postponed from Thursday evening to Saturday evening, in order to give more time for rehearsals to Maud Lambert, who has replaced Kate Condon in the cast.

"The Snow Storm," Hermann Bernstein's translation of a drama by Stanislaw Phibishewski, will be presented at the Lipsin Theatre, on the Bowery, all of next week, with Sara Biala in the leading rôle. The play was given at the Hackett Theatre for a special performance earlier in the Spring.

Miss Harriett Ford, the playwright and co-author with Joseph Medill Patterson in "The Fourth Estate" and other plays, arrived from England yesterday on the Adriatic. Miss Ford has been collaborating with Anthony Hope on a new comedy, which has been accepted for production by Liebler & Co.

Arrangements have been made by representatives from Harvard and the University of Chicago to attend Margaret Anglin's performance of Sophokles's "Antigone," at the University of California, the date of which has been definitely set for June 20.

At the performance of "The Bachelor's Baby," at the Criterion Theatre to-morrow night, Daniel Frohman will entertain Col. Bates and the officers of the Seventy-first Regiment in recognition of their assistance in the work of the Actors' Fund Fair, held in the Seventy-first Regiment Armory.

FRED TERRY TO ACT IN HIS PLAYS HERE

Marc Klaw Engages English Actor and His Company for Eight Weeks This Fall

AT THE NEW AMSTERDAM

Will Open His Engagement in "The Scarlet Pimpernel," and May Also Present "Henry of Navarre."

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, May 30.—Marc Klaw of the firm of Klaw & Erlanger has concluded arrangements with Fred Terry by which Terry and his entire company will go to America in the Fall. Only New York will see Terry on his present trip, which is limted to eight weeks, though Mr. Klaw is trying to induce him to appear one week each in Boston and Philadelphia.

Under the arrangement just consummated Terry with his company and equipment will leave London the middle of October and sail for New York with the special object of playing an eight weeks' engagement at the New Amsterdam Theatre following the engagement of Henry Waller in the same playhouse.

Terry's company numbers about fifty people. It will open at the New Amsterdam Theatre in Baroness Orczy's very successful play "The Scarlet Pimpernel," founded on her novel of the same name. It has enjoyed a very prosperous career on this side of the water; in fact, Terry is celebrating the one thousand and seventieth performance of the play in The New Theatre here this evening.

During his New York engagement he will doubtless also be seen in William Devereaux's "Henry of Navarre," one of the recent great Terry successes. Americans who have seen Terry in these plays predict unbounded success for him abroad. Klaw is most confident of the outcome of the engagement in spite of the big outlay involved.

GORGEOUS BALLET IN LONDON.

"Femina" Deals with Lovely Woman at Various Stages of the World.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, May 30. — A new ballet produced to-night at the Alhambra deserves to be signalized as perhaps the most gorgeous ever seen on the London vaudeville stage.

It is entitled "Femina," and deals with lovely woman at various stages of the world, beginning with the Garden of Eden and the Stone Age and ending with a fascinating display of Parisian millinery.

FARM NOVELTIES ON ROOF.

Flea Circus and Electrical Milking Machine Shown at Victoria.

The roof garden on top of Hammerstein's Victoria Theatre opened for the season last night with an audience as large as the place would hold. Even the showers that fell at intervals during the evening did not affect the crowd, for heavy canvas curtains at the western end of the auditorium shut out the wind and dampness.

The novelties of the farmyard part of the roof—the flea circus, the electrical milking machine, and the game of "ringing the ducks"—attracted much attention during the intermission. The fleas are in the farmhouse, and they perform to a constantly changing audience. For the milking machine there are two cows, who were very patient during the first exhibition. The ducks did not take to the ringing game with much heartiness. The live ones swam away from the cork ring throwers, and the dummy ducks took the performance too quietly to make it interesting. Any one who succeeded in tossing a cork ring over the neck of a duck got the duck, but the pond was not depleted noticeably last night.

The programme on the stage was headed by Bedini and Arthur, assisted by George P. Murphy, Dave Ferguson, and a collection of jurymen and spectators, in a burlesque of "Madame X." It was rather a grotesquerie than a burlesque of the drama, with a black-faced heroine and a Judge with a German dialect. Others on the bill of fifteen acts were the Eight Palace Girls, the Eight Geisha Girls, Birdie Milman and company, Luciana Lucca, Stepp, Mehlinger, and King; Bert Levy, and Gus Edwards's "Schoolboys and Girls."

WEEK'S BILLS AT THE THEATRE.

John L. Sullivan, telling stories and giving a sparring exhibition with Jake Kilrain, was the headliner at the Plaza Music Hall yesterday. Among the other acts on the bill were Cissie Curlette, the sketch "Black Beauty," Walter James, Terry and Lambert, Sidney Grant, Francesca Redding and company, and special motion pictures.

At the Alhambra Theatre the headliners were McIntyre and Heath in a sketch called "On Guard." The rest of the programme contained "Dinkelspiel's Christmas," World and Kingston, Madden and Fitzpatrick, Raymond and Caverly, the Bounding Gordons, Henry Clive, and the Dubail Brothers.

Eva Tanguay began a second week at the Colonial Theatre yesterday as the principal attraction. Lesse Lasky's production, "The Love Waits"; Jane Courthrope and company, Wynn and Lee, the Golden Troupe, the Hanlons, Ed Morton, and the Mario Trio.

At Keith & Proctor's Fifth Avenue Theatre Julius Steger and company headed the bill and sharing honors with him was William Rock and company in a condensed musical comedy. Others on the programme were the Seldoms, Frank Tinney, Trovollo, Mlle. Troja, the Musical Johnstons, and the Woods-Wood Trio.

Odiva, a diver, headed the list of entertainers that included Howard and North, the Willy Pantzer Troupe, Cook and Lorenz, Charles and Fanny Van, the Doherty Sisters, Robert Henry Hodge and company, and Slibini and Grovini.

At the Orpheum Theatre, Brooklyn, Nora Bayes and Jack Norworth made their first vaudeville appearance this season. Others who appeared were Bert Leslie and company, Howard and Howard, Sidney Deane and company, Wilbur Mack and Nella Walker, Porter J. White and company, and others.

Rose Stahl began her final week in "The Chorus Lady" at the Academy of Music with a matinee yesterday afternoon. She will say good-bye to Patricia O'Brien Friday night and sail for Europe on the following day.

Princess Rajah headed the bill at the new Brighton Theatre at Brighton Beach. Among the others who appeared were Will H. Murphy and Blanche Nichols in "From Zaza to Uncle Tom," "La Petite Revue," Warren, Lyon and Meyers, Catherine Hayes and Babe Johnson, Cunningham and Marion, the Philly Sisters, and the Havelocks.

MRS. TAFT'S FATHER BETTER.

President's Wife on Way to the Bedside of John W. Herron.

CINCINNATI, May 30.—John W. Herron, the aged father-in-law of President Taft, who has been ill for some days, is much improved to-day. Mrs. Taft, wife of the President, is on her way here. It is understood that Mrs. Taft will remain at her father's bedside for at least ten days.

"Swift & Company's sales of Fresh Beef in New York City for the week ending Saturday, May 28, averaged 10.45 cents per pound."—Adv.

HAIL GAYNOR FOR PRESIDENT.

Swedish Singers Cheer for Him When He Is Named for the Place.

A Presidential boom for Mayor Gaynor was sprung at the dinner given last night by the American Union of Swedish Singers at the Flatiron Building, by Herman Lagercrantz, the Minister from Sweden at Washington. He said:

"We have heard from our present President; we have heard from our past President, and to-night you have heard from our future President."

This following close upon the speech of Mayor Gaynor was greeted with riotous applause.

The Mayor astonished the Swedes by toasting them with the Swedish Skal, and they broke into spontaneous applause to him for speaking at least one word in their language.

The Mayor arose at 11:30 to speak, and said: "This dinner has one great merit at any rate. It is the longest I have ever attended. Here it is nearly 12 o'clock, when you expect us to speak to you. I see there are seven toasts. If each man speaks half an hour you will not be able to go home until after 3."

The Mayor welcomed the Swedish singers as singers, and then he said: "I also welcome you as good citizens, for wherever there are Swedes in this country there are good citizens. I do not know but I should attribute this to your wives, because you seem to take your wives with you wherever you go. And the Swedish Minister tells me that your wives are mostly Americans.

"So well do you comport yourselves that, although there are nearly 50,000 of you in our midst, we never know you are here at all; you keep so quiet. We seldom meet you in the courts, especially the police courts."

Among those present were Magnus Charholm, the Swedish Consul General, and John Forsell, the Swedish baritone of the Metropolitan Opera House. Mr. Forsell's entrance was the occasion for some hearty cheering, and in all the songs which were sung during the evening this singer's voice led the others.

The health of the King of Sweden was drunk, and the King's song, as well as the Swedish National air, was sung. The singers also sang "America" and drank to the health of the President.

SWEDISH BARITONE DINED.

John Forsell and His Wife Are Guests of Their Countrymen Here.

John Forsell, a Swedish baritone who has been singing with the Metropolitan Opera Company this season, and his wife were guests at a farewell luncheon given at the Hotel Astor yesterday by a number of prominent Swedes in this city. Mr. and Mrs. Forsell will sail for Europe to-day on the North German Lloyd steamship Kronprinz Wilhelm. He will return to the Swedish Royal Opera in Stockholm, where for many years he was the leading artist, holding the title of "Royal Court Singer."

The luncheon was attended by about fifty men and women, including the Swedish envoy at Washington, Herman de Lagercrantz.

John Aspegren, Chairman of the Luncheon Committee, presented Mr. Forsell on behalf of those present with a large silver loving cup and Mrs. Forsell received a huge shower bouquet of American Beauty roses. Other speeches were made by Dr. Alexander Johannes Hoving and Magnus Clarholm, Swedish Consul General in this city.

Mr. Forsell responded, and after the luncheon rendered songs by modern Scandinavian composers as well as one or two old ballads and folk songs which have such a firm hold on the hearts of the Swedes.

Among those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. John Aspegren, Dr. and Mrs. Johannes Hoving, Consul Clarholm, A. E. Johnson, former Consul General of Sweden; Mr. and Mrs. Emil F. Johnson, Dr. Arvid Akerlind, Olof Mellin, and Dr. and Mrs. C. M. Lundbeck.

GARDENERS MAY STRIKE.

Assistants in Newport Cottage Colony to Ask for More Pay To-morrow.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, May 30.—Wednesday is the day set for the assistant gardeners, who are largely employed in the cottage colony, to strike for an increase of wages. From what is to be learned, the greater number of the Summer residents have granted the increase from June 1.

Beekman Winthrop, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, and Mrs. Winthrop, who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Taylor, were the guests of honor at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor this evening.

The storm shutters and windows of Mrs. Ogden Goelet's villa on the Cliffs are being removed and the estate is being made ready for the arrival of Mrs. Goelet, who is expected from Europe the early part of June.

Mrs. Spottswood Schenck and George Ide of New York were among the arrivals at the Muenchinger-King cottage to-day.

Ogden Mills has returned to New York.

Edward J. Berwind, after inspecting the work on his garage and stable, adjoining his estate on Bellevue Court, returned to New York to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. D. Lanier are expected at their cottage Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Carter, after an absence from their Newport estate of four seasons, are expected to-morrow.

Commodore and Mrs. Elbridge T. Gerry and the Misses Gerry are expected at Seaverge this week.

The first concert of the season to be given at the Newport Casino by Mullaly's orchestra from Boston has been set for the morning of July 11. The first of the Sunday-night concerts will be held July 17 and the first afternoon concert will be on Wednesday, July 13.

Andrew Robeson of Boston is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Newton Adams.

The steam yacht Nourmahal arrived from Marblehead to-day, en route to New York, and to await the arrival of her owner, Mr. Demuth.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard V. Mattison of Ambler, Penn., are at Bushy Park for the Summer.

Mrs. H. Casimir Derham is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Lorillard Spencer.

NEW NATION BORN TO-MORROW

United South Africa to Come into Being—Gen. Botha's Cabinet.

CAPE TOWN, May 30.—The first Cabinet of United South Africa is being formed by Gen. Louis Botha, who has himself taken the portfolios of Premier and Minister of Agriculture.

The other members of the Cabinet so far as selected are:

Gen. J. C. Smuts, Minister of the Interior, Mines, and Defense.
J. W. Sauer, Minister of Railways and Harbors.
Gen. J. B. M. Hertzog, Minister of Justice.
F. S. Malan, Minister of Education.
H. C. Hull, Minister of Finance.

United South Africa was formed recently by the Federation of Cape Colony, the Orange River Colony, Natal, and the Transvaal. Viscount Gladstone is the first Governor General. The union will come into operation to-morrow.

Gen. Louis Botha, the new Premier, was the Premier of the Transvaal. Gen. Smuts and Mr. Hull were respectively the Colonial Secretary and Treasurer of the Transvaal. Messrs. Sauer and Malan were respectively Commissioner of Public Works and Secretary of Agriculture in the Cape Colony Cabinet. Gen. Hertzog was Attorney General in the Ministry of the Orange River Colony.

The Union Parliament, the members of which will be elected immediately, will consist of a Senate and a House of Assembly. Cape Town will be the seat of the Legislature and Pretoria the seat of the Executive Government.

PLAN BIG BOSTON HOTEL.

Invasion of Copley Square, However, Will Meet Opposition.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, May 30.—A skyscraper hotel is to be erected in historic Copley Square by the Copley Institute trustees for the Plaza Hotel management of New York if the height restriction can be removed. A bill to grant this is to be introduced in the City Council to-night.

The hotel is to be erected on the site of the old Art Museum, at the corner of Dartmouth Street and half a block from the New Haven's Back Bay Station. It is supposed that the proposed hotel is more or less of a railroad venture.

The proposition is sure to meet with violent opposition, as Boston is more proud of Copley Square, with its library and Trinity Church, than any other like place in the city. Any plan to remove the skyline restrictions hitherto has been beaten.

SIDNEY WEBSTER, NOTED LAWYER, DEAD

Corporation and International Law Authority—Once Secretary of President Pierce.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL DIRECTOR

Mentor of Late E. H. Harriman, Who Wrote to Him His Celebrated "Where Do I Stand?" Letter.

NEWPORT, R. I., May 30.—Sidney Webster, an authority on corporation and international law, died here to-day after a brief illness.

Sidney Webster was born in 1828 in Gilmanton, N. H., and was graduated from Yale in 1848 and from the Harvard Law School in 1850. He came from the same section of that State as Franklin Pierce, and when Pierce went to Washington to assume the Presidency he took Mr. Webster, then a man of 24 years of age, with him as his private secretary. Mr. Webster had shown early in his career a capacity for statesmanship and the management of men. He served throughout the Pierce Administration, from 1853 through 1857, as President Pierce's secretary, and became acquainted with many of the men who occupied leading positions later in the struggle between the North and the South. Among these was Hamilton Fish, United States Senator from New York and the father of Stuyvesant Fish.

Mr. Webster married Miss Sarah Fish, eldest daughter of the Senator, in 1860. Later, when Hamilton Fish became a member of President Grant's Cabinet, he often sought his son-in-law's advice on delicate political matters.

Following the civil war, Mr. Webster practiced law in this city for about twenty years, and won a high place as an able lawyer. His advice was particularly sought on matters of constitutional law, on which he was regarded as an authority. He had laid a foundation for this special knowledge during the troublous days of the Pierce Administration, when questions of constitutional law were constantly pressed on the Government for solution and were the principal political problems which preceded the civil war.

Stuyvesant Fish interested his brother-in-law in railroad affairs, and in 1883 succeeded in persuading him to enter the Directorate of the Illinois Central Railroad. Edward H. Harriman entered the Illinois Central Directorate in the same year, and a strong friendship grew up between the two men. It was reputed in after years that Mr. Webster was Mr. Harriman's mentor. Mr. Harriman availed himself of Mr. Webster's long experience in public life, his knowledge of the law, and his accurate judgment of the effect of important happenings on the public mind to guide him in many of his most important undertakings.

It was to Mr. Webster that Mr. Harriman wrote his celebrated "Where do I stand?" letter in January, 1906, which revealed that Mr. Harriman had accelerated the collection of a two-hundred-thousand-dollar campaign fund to assist the Republican Party in the Presidential campaign of 1904, and which contained the charge that certain alleged promises on behalf of the Administration which were the quid pro quo for the contributions had not been kept. Mr. Webster's reply was never published.

Mr. Webster had a country home at Newport, R. I., and a town house at 245 East Seventeenth Street. He was a member of the Union, Knickerbocker, Manhattan, and Metropolitan Clubs. He is survived by his widow and son, Hamilton Fish Webster.

Obituary Notes.

JOHN C. YOUNG, Postmaster of Portland, Ore., and a prominent Republican, died yesterday at his home in that city. He was born in Salt Lake City and was a nephew of the late Brigham Young.

RICHARD GIRD, known as the father of the California beet sugar industry, died on Sunday at his home in Los Angeles in his 75th year. He was born in New York and went to California in 1888. In 1879 he founded the town of Tombstone.

RICHARD HASSARD, for many years paying teller of the Importers and Traders' Bank, Manhattan, died on Sunday at his home, 593 Sixth Street, Brooklyn, in his 71st year. A widow survives him.

JAMES GORDON CAMERON, formerly of Saginaw, Mich., died on Sunday at his home in Oriental Avenue, Mamaroneck, N. Y., in his 77th year. He leaves a widow, a son, Edward N., and a daughter, Mabel Cameron, well known in the dramatic profession.

WILLIAM A. HINDS, President of the Oneida Community, Limited, died on Saturday night at his home in Kenwood, N. Y., in his 78th year. He was born in Belchertown, Mass., and was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School in 1870.

GEORGE P. UPINGTON, publisher of the Brooklyn General Directory, Upington's Elite Directory of Brooklyn, and Upington's Brooklyn Street Directory and Guide, died on Sunday of paralysis at his home, 770 Greene Avenue, in that borough, in his 61st year. He was born in Manhattan. He was a member of the Association of American Directory Publishers, the Brooklyn League, and the Manufacturers' Association of New York. A daughter survives him.

WILLIAM TAYLOR, a veteran of the civil war, died on Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Sarah Thomas, 42 Eleventh Avenue, Whitestone, L. I., in his 90th year. He was born in Ireland and came to New York as a young man. He served throughout the war in the Sixth New York Heavy Artillery Regiment. Mr. Taylor, retired from business twenty-five years ago.

The Rev. A. A. JONES, aged 67 years, one of the oldest active members of the Virginia Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church South, died in Norfolk, Va., yesterday. He was on the confederate Virginia at the time of the Hampton Roads engagement between the Virginia and Monitor.

Mrs. HARRIET TITUS PROVOST, daughter of Judge Titus of Millbrook, Dutchess County, N. Y., died yesterday at her home, 408 Washington Avenue, Brooklyn. She was 75 years old.

KARL G. SCHNEIDER, a musical director for many years in Brooklyn, died at his home, 379 Grove Street, that borough, from paralysis on Monday. He was born in Suabia fifty-six years ago. He had charge of many singing societies, including the Schneider Harmonie, Aurora Singing Society, Brooklyn Liederkranz, and Sturm Quartet. He was for fifteen years editor of The Brooklyn Reform.

Mrs. MARY SYNNOTT, wife of Joseph Synnott, died Sunday night at her home, 117 South Fullerton Avenue, Montclair, N. J. Mrs. Synnott had resided in Montclair for forty years and was 76 years old. Her eldest son was the late Very Rev. Joseph J. Synnott, D. D., President of Seton Hall College.

Mrs. ELIZA JONES FISHBROUGH, mother of the widow of John A. Walker, for years President of the Joseph Dixon Crucible Works, died yesterday at her home, 280 Montgomery Street, Jersey City. She was 93 years old.

Capt. WILLIAM M. LAWSON, a member of the First Virginia Regiment, known in the civil war as the "Fighting First," is dead at Richmond, Va., in his eighty-first year. At the battle of Gettysburg he followed Pickett in the charge, carrying the Confederate colors. In the rush Lawson had one arm shot away with the flag. He grabbed it with his other hand and went on cheering.

GEORGE W. LITTLE, who was a catcher in the '60s in the famous Hudson River baseball team that won victories in all parts of the State, is dead at his home in Binghamton, N. Y.

Mrs. JANE S. W. COLT, widow of Joseph Colt, died at her home, 206 West 106th Street, yesterday. Mrs. Colt was a daughter of the late Commodore William D. Whiting, U. S. N. Mr. Colt, her husband, was a member of the well-known Hartford (Conn.) family of that name, the manufacturers of the Colt arms. She is survived by a son and daughter.

WILBUR F. BINGHAM, for forty years connected with the American office of the Sun Insurance Company of London, England, died in this city yesterday. Mr. Bingham, who was born in Syracuse, was 59 years old. He was a thirty-second degree Mason, a Knight Templar, and one of the founders and an officer of the West Side Republican Club. He is survived by a widow and two sons.

FABIAN S. BANCROFT, an inventor, of Waterbury, Conn., died of fever at sea near California recently. He was born in 1834, and was of the school of mechanical geniuses which gave Connecticut the kerosene lamp burner, sewing machine, and safety pin. He made an engine complete when 14, molding it from lead chiefly, and anticipated automobile mechanisms decades ago.

CHURCH WORK GROWING.

Increase of City Organizations and Communicants Exceeds That of Population.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Church growth in the United States, shown in the increase of religious organizations and communicants, has been greater than the increase in population between the years 1900 and 1906, according to the special census report on the census of religious bodies for 1906 now in the press, especially in the principal cities. In the outside area the rate of increase in the number of new churches established was approximately the same as the rate of population increase. In the number of communicants the increase in the outside area, as in the cities, was in excess of that in population.

Out of every 1,000 people in the 160 principal cities of the country, that is, those which had a population of more than 25,000, there were 469 church members, in the outside area, 363, and in the entire country, 391. As compared with 1890, the report shows a gain of 90 communicants in each 1,000 of population for the principal cities, and 51 outside them.

Female members in 1906 outnumbered the male members by 82 per cent. in continental United States, while in the principal cities the excess of female members was proportionately less, being 960,526, or 23.5 per cent.

FISH TAKE SHORE LEAVE.

School of the Frost Variety Lands Near Arverne and Are Gathered Up.

The cottagers along the stretch of beach between Rockaway Point and Arverne, L. I., a distance of about four and a half miles, as well as the many Decoration Day visitors, spent the better part of last evening walking along the beach, equipped with lanterns and baskets. They were looking for frostfish, a school of which was thrown on the beach at about 7:30 o'clock.

Old residents say that while it is not rare for the fish to be thrown up on the beach in December, January, and February, this is the first time in their recollection that they have been seen as late as May.

The fish, which weigh between one and four pounds, are said to be fine food, having practically only one long bone, which can be removed easily. Those which were cast up last night averaged good weight, and the fortunate ones who reached the beach early filled their baskets easily.

Fishermen say that the fish are driven toward shore by larger fish, and that once they get inside the second break of a wave they are unable to get back into deeper water.

ROWDIES, BEWARE OF QUEENS!

Four Hoodlums Sentenced to Six Months for Misbehaving on Cars.

James Brennan, Joseph Breen, John Mahoney, and John Larkin, all of Manhattan, and drivers who were rioting on a trolley car at Woodside Sunday night, were sentenced to the workhouse for six months by Magistrate Connolly in the Long Island City Police Court yesterday morning.

Magistrate Connolly said that he wanted to impress upon all that Queens will be a bad place this season for trolley car rowdies.

Marriage and death notices intended for insertion in The New York Times may be telephoned to 1000 Bryant.

Born

JORDAN.—May 25, P

SHEPPARD MAKES WORLD'S RECORDS

Beats Lon Myers's Time for 660 Yards and Lunghi's for 700 Yards—Ahearn's Record.

There was a general expectation that the outdoor games of the Irish-American Athletic Club held at Celtic Park yesterday would see the old records in several events broken, and when the last event on the programme had been run off two new world's records and one American record had supplanted those which have stood for many years. In addition one world's record was equaled. The two world's marks were made by Melvin W. Sheppard. He competed in a special race at 660 yards and continued for the 700-yard record, and both went to his credit. In bettering the mark for the first distance he did 1:21 2-5, lowering the old mark made by Lon Myers in 1880 by three-fifths of a second. The 700-yard record was held by E. Lunghi and stood at 1:27 2-5. Sheppard yesterday made it in 1:26 4-5.

In the running hop, step and jump Dan Ahearn, who on Sunday had bettered the world's record for the running two hops and jump, made an American record when he cleared 47 feet 7⅜ inches. The former mark was held by E. B. Bloss and stood at 48 feet 6 inches, the record having been made at Chicago in 1893. In the 125-yard dash F. L. Ramsdell, the intercollegiate 100-yard champion, equaled the mark of 0:10 2-5 made by C. H. Sherrill, which has stood as a world's best mark since 1889.

The race of the day was undoubtedly the 660-yard run, which brought together a fleet-footed field of middle-distance men. Sheppard let it be known that he was going out for Lon Myers's record, and he certainly ran a good race. However, the distance is one of the unusual kind that is rarely competed in, and on his showing of having bettered Myers's mark "Shep" cannot lay claim to the fact that he is a better athlete than the recognized champion of thirty years ago. The record which Sheppard lowered was made by Myers when he was competing in a half-mile event, according to the statement yesterday, and thus he was not putting forth all of his effort at the 660-yard point, while with Sheppard almost the reverse was the case. Sheppard did continue on for the 700-yard record and bettered the world's mark for that distance, but what he was really after was the 660-yard record. An instance of what Myers might have done had he really tried for the 660-yard record is shown by the fact that he ran the 600-yard distance in just a trifle over 1:11, and it would hardly have taken him the extra ten seconds to cover the extra sixty yards.

Harry Hillman was on hand with a number of Dartmouth collegians, and they showed up well. The Hanoverians captured first place in the 300-yard novice and the 12-pound hammer throw and took first and third and the pole vault. The summary:

300-Yard Run, Novice.—Won by J. Russell, Dartmouth; A. Wohlfurth, Pastime A. C., second; M. A. Charles, Acorn A., third. Time—0:34 4-5.

One-Mile Run, Handicap.—Won by B. Brower, unattached, (85 yards;) H. Balling, unattached, (90 yards,) second; J. Monument, Irish-American A. C., (20 yards,) third. Time—4:22 3-5.

125-Yard Dash, Special.—Won by F. L. Ramsdell, University of Pennsylvania; R. Cloughen, Irish-American A. C., second; J. J. Archer, Irish-American A. C., third; R. Eller, Irish-American A. C., fourth. Time—0:12 2-5. Equals world's record.

880-Yard Run, Handicap.—Won by E. Frick, New York A. C., (18 yards;) G. Lane, Holy Cross Lyceum, (48 yards,) second; S. Aygen, Morris A. A., (50 yards,) third. Time—1:56 2-5.

220-Yard Dash, Handicap.—Won by A. House, unattached, (14 yards;) H. Hockery, West Side Y. M. C. A., (13 yards,) second; C. Hansen, East Side House, (13 yards,) third. Time—0:21 4-5.

Medley Relay Race, Scratch.—Won by Dominican Lyceum, with Cahill, Hand, Gelmore, and Schlich; Knights of St. Anthony, second, with Conlin, Shea, Finegan, and Miller; Loughlin Lyceum, third, with Pinkerton, McCaffrey, Schloesser, and McLaughlin. Time—3:30 4-5.

660-Yard Run, Scratch.—Won by Melvin W. Sheppard, Irish-American A. C.; R. J. Egan, unattached, second; A. J. Kinat, Irish-American A. C., third. Time—1:21 2-5. New world's record. Sheppard continued to 700 yards and holds the world's record for this distance, doing 1:26 4-5.

120-Yard High Hurdles, Handicap.—Won by Bob Eller, Irish-American A. C., (scratch;) L. B. Dorland, Pastime A. C., (4 yards,) second; no third. Time—0:16 1-5.

Three-Mile Run, Handicap.—Won by E. Fitzgerald, New York A. C., (50 yards;) M. Hughes, Ozanam A. C., (200 yards,) second; A. Conroy, Mott Haven A. C., (125 yards,) third. Time—15:12 2-5.

Throwing the Discus, Handicap.—Won by J. J. Duncan, Mohawk A. C., (7 feet,) with a throw of 124 feet 11 inches; H. C. Klages, Senator A. C., (15 feet,) second, with a throw of 111 feet 8 inches; J. Parkinson, Irish-American A. C., (12 feet,) third, with an actual throw of 111 feet 7½ inches.

Running Hop, Step, and Jump, Handicap.—Won by Dan Ahearn, Irish-American A. C., (scratch,) with a distance of 49 feet 7⅜ inches; F. Finegan, Manual Training High School, (5 feet,) second, with a distance of 44 feet 3¼ inches; C. Doherty, St. Mary's A. C., (4 feet,) third, with a distance of 44 feet 3½ inches.

Pole Vault, Handicap.—Won by H. Jenks, Dartmouth College, (6 inches,) with an actual vault of 11 feet 6 inches; K. Caldwell, Irish-American A. C., (12 inches,) second, with an actual vault of 11 feet; O. E. Holdman, Dartmouth College, (scratch,) third, with an actual vault of 11 feet 6 inches.

Putting 12-Pound Shot, Handicap.—Won by H. C. Klages, Senator A. C., (4 feet,) with an actual put of 49 feet; P. Coffey, Bryant High School, (5 feet,) second, with an actual put of 46 feet 9¼ inches; D. H. Waite, Syracuse University, (scratch,) third, with an actual put of 50 feet 7½ inches.

Throwing 12-Pound Hammer, Handicap.—Won by Filly, Dartmouth, (30 feet,) with an actual throw of 165 feet 9 inches; E. Payne, Mohegan A. C., (40 feet,) second, with an actual throw of 153 feet 5 inches; John J. Flanagan, Irish-American A. C., (scratch,) third, with an actual throw of 190 feet 3½ inches.

Throwing 56-Pound Weight.—Won by John J. Flanagan, Irish-American A. C., with a throw of 30 feet 9½ inches; C. Walsh, New York A. C., second, with a throw of 30 feet 6½ inches; E. Payne, Mohegan A. C., third, with a throw of 27 feet.

Yonkers Y. M. C. A. Wins Meet.

The Brooklyn Athletic Club held its annual games yesterday at Washington Park, Maspeth, L. I. Many of the events were run off in the rain and the feature event of the programme, the three-mile run, was decided in a steady downpour. About ten men faced the starter for this event, with handicaps ranging up to 180 yards. The ten men were never separated by a very large margin, all keeping within reach of the man in front of him. H. Biddle of the Mohawk A. C. after two laps had been covered jumped to the front and set the pace for the first two miles. After this several of the runners alternated in the lead. When the gun for the final lap was fired the men were all jogging along on the heavy wet cinders and R. Springsteen of Yonkers forged his way into the lead from second place and won by about twelve yards.

The 880-yard relay was a three-cornered contest between the Rival A. C., Aetna A. C., and Kings County A. A., only three teams entering. The Rival A. C. four were victorious by a good margin. The point honors were closely contested throughout the seven events by the Yonkers Y. M. C. A. and Mohawk A. C., the former being victorious by one point, scoring a total of thirteen against the Mohawk's twelve points. The summaries:

70-Yard Dash, Novice.—Won by F. Uhlenbusch, Trinity Club; L. Robbins, Pastime A. C., second; W. Hines, Loughlin Lyceum, third. Time—0:08 2-5.

100-Yard Dash, Handicap.—Won by A. L. Richter, unattached; H. C. De Loiselle, New York A. C., second; G. McCaddin, Aetna Club, third. Time—0:10 2-5.

300-Yard Dash, Handicap.—Won by T. Weiler, Mohawk A. C., (14 yards;) C. Vetalck, Mohawk A. C., (13 yards,) second; H. G. Wilson, Pastime A. C., (14 yards,) third. Time—0:3[illegible] 3-5.

600-Yard Run, Novice.—Won by J. A. Murphy, Forty-seventh Regiment A. A.; G. Cullis, Yonkers Y. M. C. A., second; F. Kinsley, unattached, third. Time—1:17 2-5.

880-Yard Run, Handicap.—Won by W. McCarthy, Yonkers Y. M. C. A., (25 yards;) H. W. Garing, National A. C., (26 yards,) second; B. H. Butterfield, New York A. C., (44 yards,) third. Time—1:52 4-5.

Three-Mile Run, Handicap.—Won by R. Springsteen, Yonkers Y. M. C. A., (160 yards;) F. Joyce, Mohawk A. C., (150 yards,) second; H. Biddle, Mohawk A. C., (60 yards,) third. Time—15:11 2-5.

880-Yard Relay.—Won by Rival A. C. team, composed of Turner, Ruse, Richter, and Farrell; Aetna A. C. team, composed of Forrest, McCaddin, Clabby and Joerg, second; Kings County A. C. team, composed of Forster, Hass, Taylor, and Ornes, third. Time—1[illegible] 2-5.

WRIGHT WINS THREE RACES.

Gentlemen Jockeys Have Their Day in United Hunts Events.

BALTIMORE, May 30.—The Maryland United Hunts closed to-day the most successful meeting in its history. A holiday crowd witnessed a fine day's racing, seven events being carded and one extra race added for mounts owned and ridden by officers of the United States Army. It was won by Colored Lady, ridden by Lieut. Graham of the Tenth Cavalry.

The day's sport was slightly marred by bad starting. Two accidents happened on the flat, Jockey Walsh, on French Girl, getting a bad fall in the second event, and Jockey Moss, on Bergoo, getting a tumble in the stretch in the fifth event. The summaries:

FIRST RACE.—For hacks or hunters, $225 added; one mile. Convelo, 147, (Mr. Wright,) 8 to 5, 3 to 5, and 1 to 3, won; Glorious Betsy, 140, (Mr. Harrison,) 5 to 2, 4 to 5, and 1 to 2, second, Renault, 144, (Mr. Black,) 8 to 1, 3 to 1, and 3 to 2, third. Time—1:44. Duffield, Beggarman, Topright, and Andalusia also ran.

SECOND RACE.—For three-year-olds and upward, $200 added; seven furlongs. Gloppe, 112, (Moss,) 6 to 1, 2 to 1, and even, won; John Miller, 112, (Cullen,) 6 to 1, 2 to 1, and even, second; J. W. Frye, 112, (Hayes,) 6 to 5, 1 to 2, and out, third. Time—1:31. Treize, Arthur Bryan, Willing, French Girl, Tom Cat, and Sweet Simplicity also ran.

THIRD RACE.—For three-year-olds and upward, $225 added; one mile. Gay Deceiver, 132, (Mr. Wright,) 1 to 2 and out, won; George G. Hall, 152, (Mr. Taylor,) 2 to 1, 2 to 5, and out, second; Hedge Rose, 132, (Mr. Black,) 4 to 1, 1 to 2, and out, third. Time—1:44. No other starters.

FOURTH RACE.—Decoration Day Steeplechase, $300 added; about two and one-half miles. Essex, 155, (Mr. Taylor,) 5 to 1, 3 to 2, and out, won; The Welkin, 149, (Davidson,) 6 to 1, 3 to 2, and out, second; Amanda H., 146, (Mr. Wright,) 8 to 2, 1 to 2, and out, third. Time—5:03. Ticket of Leave and Touchwood also ran.

FIFTH RACE.—For four-year-olds and up, mile and forty yards, $225 added. Wilton Lackaye, 159, (Mr. Wright,) 6 to 5, 1 to 2 and out, won; Havre, 154, (McCabe,) 3 to 1, even, 1 to 2, second; King of Bashan, 149, (Mr. Taylor,) 4 to 1, 8 to 5, 7 to 10, third. Time—1:47. Bergoo, Croyden, Bethlehem, and Matador ran.

SIXTH RACE.—For three-year-olds and up, six furlongs, $200 added. Homecrest, 123, (Lloyd,) 3 to 1, even, 1 to 2, won; Jennie Wells, 119, (Switzer,) 5 to 1, 2 to 1, even, second; Kyrat, 105, (McCabe,) 8 to 5, 7 to 10, 1 to 3, third. Time—1:15 2-5. Hanonia, Azure Maid, Pippo, Demetrious, Thomas Hoy, Rose Beaumont, and St. Jeanne ran.

SEVENTH RACE.—The Dinner Stakes, steeplechase, team race, three miles, $400 added. Peter Young, 162, (Mr. Nicholas,) 3 to 1, even, and 1 to 2, won; Dunsaverrick, 162, (Mr. Spencer,) 6 to 1, 2 to 1, and even, second; Souvigny, 162, (Mr. Strawbridge,) 3 to 1, even, and 1 to 2, third. Time—6:19. Sacandaga, Midderlake, Rubens, Motor, and Algoma ran.

EIGHTH RACE.—Extra for horses owned and ridden by United States army officers, no purse, one mile. Colored Lady, 159, (Lieut. Graham,) 2 to 5 and out, won; Martha Jane, 159, (Lieut. O'Donnell,) 6 to 5 and out, second; Sis Lewis, 159, (Lieut. Alexander,) 5 to 1 and out, third. Time—1:49. No other starters.

DEAD HEAT AT WATCHUNG.

Big Crowd of Society Folk Attends Annual Hunt Club Meet.

Special to The New York Times.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., May 30.—The features of one of the best meetings of the Watchung Hunt Club, which was the sixth annual event of the club, were the Netherwood cup, the Farmers' race, which produced a dead heat, and the Somerset cup for hunters. A crowd of fully 1,000 society people witnessed the races, and beyond the bolting of Lady Ann in the first race on the card nothing occurred to mar the sport. Lady Ann jumped the reserved inclosure, upsetting a number of picnickers, none of whom, however, was injured. The summary:

Union Cup, for Hacks or Hunters.—One and One-half Miles on the Flat—Won by Al H. Wood's David Dows, (Dows;) J. R. Pollard's Big Ben, (Gormley,) second.

Farmers' Race, for Work Horses the Property of Farmers in the Neighborhood of Plainfield. —About Five Furlongs on the Flat—E. F. Bremer's Spitfire, (Bremer,) and Charles Kelly's Flora, (Glaser,) dead heat. On the run-off Spitfire won.

Netherwood Cup, for Galloways.—Half Mile on the Flat—Won by J. H. Mulcahy's Harmon Lass, (Mulcahy;) James Hever's Sis Gaze, (Wildey,) second; P. F. Brunner's Victory Belle, (Alpers,) third.

Open Race, for Horses Three Years Old and Upward.—About Six Furlongs on the Flat—Won by James Hever's Ardenia, (McDaniel;) K. B. Schley's Genesee, (Tuckey,) second; P. F. Brunner's Punch, (Alpers,) third.

Somerset Cup, Steeplechase for Hunters.—About Three Miles Over a Fair Hunting Country—Won by Peter Hauck, Jr.'s, Essex B, (Dows;) Charles Pfizer's Gypsie, (Clapp,) second; Rufus C. Finck's Harry Baylor, (Gormley,) third.

Open Race, for Three-year-olds and Upward. —About Six Furlongs on the Flat—Won by Marcus Hoyt's First Miller, (Yorke;) David Dow's Dr. Fisz, (Tone,) second; James Hever's Tivolini, (Mulcahy,) third.

Wardell Wins with King Edward.

Three thousand persons gathered at the Parkway Driving Club, Brooklyn, yesterday to witness the opening of the trotting season. The chief event was the victory in the last race of Winant B. Wardell, the President of the Parkway Club. This was the first time that Mr. Wardell has driven in several years. His horse, King Edward, defeated Althorne, a sorrel, owned by Charles Seaman, after what looked like a dead heat. A race that was equally hard fought was the free-for-all pacing affair, in which Borelli, a bay gelding owned and driven by Peter B. Dunn, was the winner in straight heats. There were prizes in every event, with cups as the first prizes in the second and fifth races.

Orlando Wins 25-Mile Cycle Race.

Special to The New York Times.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., May 30.—Twelve thousand persons lined the course of the twenty-five-mile bicycle road race to-day, which was over the Mountain Road in the shadow of the Watchung Hills. The first time prize was won by G. Orlando, Empire City Cycle Club, New York, he covering the course in 1:04:50 2-5. John Struber of the same club was only a fifth of a second behind the winner, lapped by John Becht of the same club. J. Shuster won the fourth prize, his time being 1:05:51. The other racers finished in the following order:

Jesse R. Pike, Jersey City; Percy Haberle, Plainfield; John Stafke, New York; T. Kennedy, Brooklyn; A. E. Rhoades, Brooklyn; F. A. Miller, Plainfield; W. Pofahl, Newark; P. Sorensen, Brooklyn; Max Hoffmann, New York, and J. G. Koppsky, Brooklyn.

The one-mile open race was won by Jerome Steinert of Hicksville, L. I., with John Struber of Brooklyn second. G. Lazzie of Newark was third. No time taken. In the boys' race all the places were taken by Plainfield boys, the winner being Willie Drake.

Bad Spills in Cycle Races.

Special to The New York Times.

LONG BRANCH, May 30.—The Long Branch Bicycle Club held a series of races to-day. There were a number of bad spills, and several riders were badly bruised. The summaries:

Three-Fourths Mile.—Won by Ray Borden; E. Wardell, second; Oakley Hance, third. Time—1:23.

One-Half Mile.—Won by P. C. Hedrick; John Dean, second; J. Johnson, third. Time—1:05¼.

One-Quarter Mile.—Won by P. C. Hedrick; James Dean, second; E. Berghoff, third.

Six Miles, Handicap.—Won by Ray Borden; H. Huhn, second; F. Miller, third.

Club Race, One-Half Mile.—Won by Ray Borden; J. Beebe, second; Oakley Hance, third. Time—1:23.

One-Half Mile.—Won by P. C. Hedrick; John Dean, second; J. Johnson, third. Time—1:05¼.

Cyclist Kramer Beaten Twice.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 30.—At the opening of the National circuit bicycle races to-day F. L. Kramer failed to win either of the events, the half-mile and five-mile professional, in which he was entered. W. Bargett of Buffalo, with 55 yards handicap, won the half-mile professional in 0:55. The five-mile open was won by Norman Anderson of Denmark in 10:48. J. Magine of Newark won the three-mile amateur in 6:44 3-5. The two-mile professional was won by Fred Hill of Boston in 4:27.

Wesleyan Scores Most Points.

HARTFORD, Conn., May 30.—Wesleyan captured the greatest number of points (24) in the athletic meet held on Trinity Field here to-day under the auspices of the Trojan Athletic Club. Summaries:

100-Yard Intercollegiate Dash.—Won by Robson, Wesleyan. Time—0:10 2-5.

Pole Vault, Open.—Won by Wagoner, Yale; height, 11 feet 6 inches.

440-Yard Intercollegiate Dash.—Won by Wood, Wesleyan. Time—0:51 2-5.

440-Yard Dash, Open.—Won by Robson, Wesleyan. Time—0:53.

Special 100-Yard Dash for Members of Trojan A. C. and New York A. C.—Won by Drew, Trojan A. C. Time—0:10 2-5.

Rhode Island Athletes Triumph.

KINGSTON, R. I., May 30.—Great strength in the track events enabled Rhode Island State College to defeat New Hampshire State College, 76 points to 41, in their dual meet here to-day.

KEENE'S SWEEP WINS BELMONT STAKES

Rossfenton Takes Grand National Steeplechase Before Big Holiday Crowd.

One of the best day's racing that New York patrons of the turf have witnessed was provided at the Belmont Park race course yesterday for the delectation of a large crowd. The clubhouse, stand, balcony, and lawn were crowded, and the Manice Mansion, the home of the Turf and Field Club, was the place of many luncheon parties for motoring groups and the owners of country homes just far enough away to make the clubhouse a convenient place for stoppage after the appetizing rush through the Spring breeze.

James R. Keene's stout colt Sweep won a hollow victory for the Belmont Stakes with a guaranteed value of $10,000, including the $1,000 gold trophy added personally by August Belmont.

The value of the race, however, had absolutely no effect on the character of the contest, for Sweep was the only high-class horse in it, the one other starter, the Ormondale Stable's Duke of Ormonde, only giving a pretence of contention and straggling far behind Sweep, which took the lead in the first three jumps and galloped at his ease in the lead the remainder of the mile and three furlongs course. The race put Mr. Keene's stable well forward on the winning list.

Rossfenton, owned by Gwynn Tompkins, easily won the Grand National Steeplechase, coming on in the last quarter to win about as he pleased after trailing back in the field for about two miles of the two and a half miles course.

Semprolus, owned by R. F. Carman, made a runaway race for the National Stallion race, the winner leading all the way and galloping home, victor by five lengths before a straggling field of five horses, with August Belmont's Footprint, the public favorite; R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s, Naushon, a winner before this season, and Antenor and Colston as the other runners.

Zeus, from the Newcastle Stable, won the first race in game style, after a long hard fight to get up from far in the rear, while Heretic and Gunstick more favored at the start, alternated as the pacemakers. Mr. Wilson's Falcada in front most of the distance cleverly won the seven furlongs handicap after a short brush with Righteasy. Bob R. also had to fight his way to the front in the sixth race, but got up in time to win rather easily, well off before his field.

The rain that threatened through most of the afternoon, came down in a deluge just about the time that the Belmont Stakes, famous for the muddy tracks and bad weather that attend its annual competition. There was a scurrying by the fashionable crowd that filled the seats and standing room on the clubhouse lawn, and there was a mighty fluttering of expensive gowns and big and odd-shaped hats, and some high-priced finery undoubtedly was badly damaged, but the clubhouse and country house crowds of visitors ignored damp clothing and remained to witness the sporty amateur race, added late in the day as an extra event, and warmly applauded Booger Red, famous on the Pacific Coast as the "Pony Express," victor at all sorts of distances and with all sorts of weights, over fully-grown and high-class race horses. Booger Red, as some one remarked, is not much bigger than a nickle worth of peanuts, but he is a remarkably compact package of race horse and romped in for the pony race, which unannounced on the programme, completed the Memorial Holiday race card. The summaries:

FIRST RACE.—For two-year-olds, non-winners at the meeting; six furlongs, straight.

Newcastle Stable's b. c. Zeus, by Adam-Shatt, 122, (G. Garner,) 6 to 5 and 2 to 5.1

G. W. Berry's b. c. Kormak, 122, (Shilling,) 3 to 1 and 4 to 5.2

R. F. Carman's ch. c., Rye Straw, 122, (Langan,) 6 to 1 and 2 to 1.3

Heretic, ch. g., 119, (E. Dugan,) 6 to 1; Rory, ch. g., 119, (Fain,) 100 to 1; Hingham, b. g., 119, (Butwell,) 12 to 1; E. Gunstick, b. g., 119, (Creevy,) 12 to 1, also ran. Time—0:59 3-5. Won driving.

SECOND RACE.—The National Stallion, for two-year-olds; five furlongs, straight.

R. F. Carman's b. c. Semprolus, by Sempronius-Myrtelus, 122, (Langan,) 4 to 1 and 2 to 5.1

A. Belmont's ch. c. Footprint, 122, (E. Dugan,) 9 to 5 and 3 to 5.2

F. A. Forsythe's b. c., Colston, 122, (V. Powers,) 8 to 1 and 5 to 2.3

Naushon, blk. c., 122, (Butwell,) 7 to 5, and Antenor, 122, (Shilling,) also ran. Time—0:58 4-5. Won easily.

THIRD RACE.—Grand National Steeplechase Handicap, for four-year-olds and upward; about two and a half miles.

G. R. Tompkins's b. g. Rossfenton, by Maxio-Sembrich, 138, (Allen,) 3 to 1 and even.1½

C. Pfizer's b. g. Kara, 152, (Donohue,) 15 to 1 and 5 to 1.2

H. K. Vingut's b. g. Black Bridge, 143, (Henderson,) 6 to 1 and 6 to 5.3

Sir Walter, br. g., 165, (Lynch,) 7 to 5; Waterway, b. g., 153, (Heide,) 10 to 1; Rufus, ch. g., 148, (Kermath,) 10 to 1, also ran. Time—5:30 2-5. Won driving.

FOURTH RACE.—The Belmont, for three-year-olds; one mile and three furlongs.

J. R. Keene's b. c. Sweep, by Ben Brush-Pink Domino, 126, (Butwell,) 1 to 10.1

Ormondale Stable's b. c. Duke of Ormonde, 126, (Powers,) 8 to 1.2

Time—2:22. Won easily. Only two starters.

FIFTH RACE.—Highweight handicap, for three-year-olds and upward; seven furlongs.

R. T. Wilson's ch. g. Falcada, by Woolsthorpe-Falconer, 106, (Creevy,) 8 to 1 and 3 to 1.1

H. G. Bedwell's br. f. Righteasy, 112, (Shilling,) 7 to 2 and 4 to 5.2

Mrs. J. McLaughlin's b. f. Arondack, 102, (McCahey,) 5 to 1 and 9 to 5.3

Zienap, b. m., 106, (E. Dugan,) 10 to 1; Rockstone, b. g., 106, (King,) 15 to 1; Prince Gal, 118, (McGee,) 4 to 5, also ran. Time—1:26 1-5. Won driving.

SIXTH RACE.—Selling; for three-year-olds; one mile and a sixteenth.

Beverwyck Stable's b. c. Bob R, by Alan-a-Dale-Lilly B., 107, (Glass,) 13 to 10 and 2 to 5.1

Quincy Stable's ch. g. Sandrian, 106, (Ramsay,) 6 to 5 and 2 to 5.2

R. F. Carman's b. g. Acumen, 100, (Langan,) 6 to 1 and 6 to 5.3

Rustem, b. g., 98, (Thomas,) 8 to 1, also ran. Time—1:47 3-5. Won easily.

Exeter Defeats Andover on Track.

EXETER, N. H., May 30.—Although the track was heavy and the contestants were handicapped by a cold northeast wind sweeping the field, two academy records were broken in the annual Phillips Exeter-Phillips Andover dual meet held here to-day, when Exeter defeated Andover by the score of 54 1-6 to 41 5-6. Both the records were broken by Exeter men, Worthington in the broad jump soaring over the turf for 22 feet 2¾ inches and Bingham lowering the half-mile record to 1:58 4-5. This half-mile record also breaks the New England interscholastic record of 1:59 1-3.

Few Cars in Snake Hill Climb.

Special to The New York Times.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., May 30.—The hill-climbing contest at Snake Hill, under the auspices of the Automobile Dealers' Association was a sporting disappointment. There were thousands of spectators at the course, but only twelve cars entered for all the events, and three motor cycles. The limited number of entries left some of the events unrepresented. The scarcity of entries was due to legal complications of right to use the hill.

BROOKLYN HANDICAP TO-DAY.

J. E. Madden's Fitzherbert Top Weight and Favorite for Stakes.

The Brooklyn Handicap, the big event of the Gravesend Spring meeting and the feature of the opening day at the famous Dwyer track, will be run for its twenty-third time to-day, run without a break since the track was established, in 1887.

Eight horses are named to start in the Brooklyn Handicap, at one mile and a quarter, the best attraction of a promising programme. John E. Madden's Fitz Herbert, bred by Perry Belmont, a smart and frequent winner as a two-year old, and last year the champion of the three-year olds, is the top weight.

Of the seven that will oppose Fitz Herbert, winner of $34,557 in his races in 1909, the most important are his old stable mate Firestone, Harry Payne Whitney's Dinna Ken, just back from a campaign in England, but already this season a winner on the New York turf; Glucose, a fast horse in the Newcastle Stable, trained by Thomas Welsh; Prince Imperial, owned by Frederick Forsythe Little, a game and fast but undersized horse; The Oneck Stable's Fashion Plate, winner of the Metropolitan Handicap at Belmont Park about a month ago; Czar, of somewhat obscure breeding and new to metropolitan racing, and Olambala, the high-priced horse bought by R. T. Wilson at Saratoga last Summer from John Greener, breeder of the once great Oiseau. Olambala has promised well for Mr. Wilson, and his owner has great faith in the horse's ability soon to perform. The entries, jockeys, and the probable betting odds follow:

The Brooklyn Handicap of $6,000, for three-year-olds and upward; one mile and a quarter.

Fitzherbert, 130, (Shilling)	7 to 10
Firestone, 117, (E. Dugan)	15 to 1
Dinna Ken, 110, (Guy Garner)	6 to 1
Glucose, 98, (Thomas)	20 to 1
Prince Imperial, 97, (McCahey)	12 to 1
Fashion Plate, 106, (McGee)	3 to 1
Czar, 110, (Archibald)	100 to 1
Olambala, 116, (Creevy)	8 to 1

Inman and Pate in Semi-Final Round.

Two players, Frederick C. Inman and Walter L. Pate, won their places in the semi-final round of the Felipe Challenge Cup singles yesterday on the clay courts of the New York Lawn Tennis Club, 123d Street and Manhattan Avenue. The summary:

Men's Singles.—First Round—Julio M. Steinacher defeated Louis J. Grant, by default; Royal D. Ritchey defeated H. N. Balch, 6—2, 6—4; William B. Cragin, Jr., defeated Arthur Scheffer, 6—0, 6—1; S. Howard Voshell defeated I. Hartman, by default; L. J. Dreyfuss defeated Norman G. Johnson, 6—1, 6—3; Dr. P. B. Hawk defeated Theodore Roosevelt Pell, by default; Wylie C. Grant defeated R. H. Eggleston, 6—1, 6—1; Walter Merrill Hall defeated Dr. William Rosenbaum, 6—2, 6—0.

Second Round—Frederick C. Inman defeated Frederick C. Baggs, 4—6, 6—1, 6—1; Julio M. Steinacher defeated Robert Le Roy, by default; William B. Cragin, Jr., defeated Royal D. Ritchey, 7—5, 6—2; C. A. L. Dionne defeated Edgar F. Lee, by default; S. Howard Voshell defeated L. J. Dreyfuss, 2—6, 6—2, 6—3; Dr. P. B. Hawk defeated Dimon E. Roberts, 6—3, 6—4; Walter Merrill Hall versus Wylie C. Grant, 7—5, 3—6, 1—0, unfinished; R. H. Boggs defeated D. E. Peiser, 6—3, 7—5; Frederick P. Fox defeated Paul Foerster, 6—1, 6—0.

Third Round—Frederick C. Inman defeated L. Milliens Burt, 7—5, 6—1; Edward A. Gunther defeated Chester P. Rice, 7—5, 6—2; William B. Cragin, Jr., defeated Julio M. Steinacher, 6—0, 6—1; G. A. L. Dionne versus S. Howard Voshell, 4—2, unfinished; R. H. Boggs defeated George S. Groesbeck, 6—1, 6—0, 6—4; Walter L. Pate defeated Frederick P. Fox, by default.

Fourth Round—Frederick C. Inman defeated Edward A. Gunther, 6—2, 6—3; Walter L. Pate defeated R. H. Boggs, 4—6, 6—4, 6—2.

Niles and Dabney Win at Tennis.

BOSTON, May 30.—Nat C. Niles and Arthur Dabney, the Eastern doubles champions, will meet F. J. Sulloway and D. P. Rhodes in the finals for the Massachusetts State doubles championship in tennis at the Brae Burn Club Wednesday afternoon as a result of the play in the third round and semi-finals to-day. The fast match of the day was the semi-finals between the Johnson brothers and Niles and Dabney, which went three sets. The summary: State Doubles Championship.—Third Round—F. J. Sulloway and D. P. Rhodes defeated S. P. Wise and H. Davenport, 6—2, 6—3; G. P. Putnam and H. J. Holt defeated Frothingham and Beals, 6—0, 7—5; C. F. and H. F. Johnson defeated C. T. Horton and C. N. Collester, 6—2, 6—0; N. C. Niles and A. Dabney defeated S. Beals and James, 6—2, 3—6, 6—4.

Semi-Finals—F. J. Sulloway and D. P. Rhodes defeated G. P. Putnam and H. J. Holt, 6—1, 6—3; N. C. Niles and A. Dabney defeated C. F. and H. F. Johnson, 6—4, 3—6, 7—5.

Yale Beats Harvard in Tennis.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., May 30.—Yale won from Harvard in their annual dual tennis tournament to-day. Yale took five of the six singles and two of the three doubles, making 7 wins to 2 for Harvard. Summary:

Singles.—Holden, Yale, defeated Sweetzer, Harvard, 7—5, 6—3; Stevens, Yale, defeated Wheelwright, Harvard, 6—4, 10—8; Adams, Harvard, defeated Watrous, Yale, 6—4, 8—7, 6—4; Gates, Yale, defeated Nickerson, Harvard, 6—4, 9—7; Bretz, Yale, defeated Beard, Harvard, 6—2, 6—4; Bliss, Yale, defeated Grinnell, Harvard, 6—3, 4—6, 6—1.

Doubles.—Sweetzer and Wheelwright, Harvard, defeated Holden and Watrous, Yale, 6—3, 8—10, 6—4; Bliss and Bretz, Yale, defeated Adams and Nickerson, Harvard, 6—3, 8—6; Eyre and Cote, Yale, defeated Beard and Treadway, Harvard, 6—4, 6—4.

Entries for Gravesend Racing.

FIRST RACE.—Handicap, for all ages; about six furlongs.

Pounds.		Pounds.
Sir John Johnstone	117	Sixty 95
Besom	109	Reybourn 92
Tim Pippin	109	Also eligible:
Rose Queen	108	Restigouche 120
Madman	107	Prince Gal 107
Dreamer	107	Maskette 124
Sea Cliff	101	Grasmere 110
Star Blue	100	Maxazine 104
Right Easy	99	Campeon 98

SECOND RACE.—Selling, for three-year-olds and upward; one mile and a sixteenth.

Curley Locks	90	Blackford	108
Our Hannah	87	Dandy Dixon	110
*Apologize	105	Harvey F.	84
Killiecrankie	105	Ed Ball	108
Mazuma	106	Quantico	110
Jeanne d'Arc	101	Bryce	103
Lad of Langdon	106	Black Mate	110
O'Conner	104	*Sir Cleges	101

THIRD RACE.—The Criterion, for fillies two years old; five furlongs.

Madcap	114	Thrifty	114
Rashti	114	Horizon	114
Anna Casse	114	Imprint	114
Rinda	114	Housemaid	125
Aldwis	114

FOURTH RACE.—The Brooklyn Handicap, for three-year-olds and upward; one mile and a quarter.

Fitz Herbert	130	Prince Imperial ...	97
Firestone	117	Fashion Plate	106
Dinna Ken	110	Czar	110
Glucose	98	Olambala	116

FIFTH RACE.—Selling, for three-year-olds; about six furlongs.

Black Chief	101	Danfield	104
Galley Slave	101	Rosseaux	106
Lord Stephen	104	Queen's Song	103
Intrinsic	101	Myles O'Connell ...	104
*Chickasaw	99	O Em	101
*Kyle	95	Seneca II	108
Frank Purcell	106	Bear of the Mountain	98
Woolcasta	99	Big Stick	98
Follie Levy	109

SIXTH RACE.—For maidens two years old; five furlongs.

Miss Jonah	107	Gauntlet	110
Trap Rock	110	Dartworth	110
Syzygy	107	Bourbon Beau	110
Bertie	110	Gold Bug	107
Kingpin	110	Sebago	110
Mr. Golightly	110	Thriftv	107
Andy Chisholm	107	The Follies	110
Virginal	107	Royal Eagle	110
Ivyton	107

*Apprentice allowance claimed.

FAST AUTOS RACE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Final Day's Racing at Indianapolis Marked by More Record-Breaking Performances.

Special to The New York Times.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 30.—Eighth National Championships for stock cars ranging from 160 to 600 cubic inches piston displacement, at distances of five and ten miles, formed the feature to-day of the closing programme of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway automobile carnival. The titles were fairly evenly divided, with Oldfield (Knox), Aitken (National), and Dawson and Harroun (Marmon) carrying off the lion's share of the honors. The closing day attracted a crowd of nearly 20,000 persons and several of the finishes were very keen.

Several records were smashed. Dawson, in a Marmon, clipped nearly forty-four seconds off the five-mile speedway record for cars of 231 to 300 inches piston displacement. Louis Chevrolet, in a Buick, made an equally big cut in the ten-mile events for cars of 161 to 230 displacement. Oldfield, with his Knox, cut the five-mile time for big cars to 4:01.3. The total figure was 4:43. Aitken (National)

LOCAL OARSMEN TAKE THE HONORS

Win Thirteen of the Fifteen Harlem Regatta Races—One Club Gets Six.

There was very little else but New York to the forty-fourth annual Memorial Day regatta of the Harlem Regatta Association yesterday, local crews winning thirteen of the fifteen races. The only outside entries to win were the University Barge Club of Philadelphia in the intermediate singles and the Arundel Boat Club in the senior fours.

It was nearly as bad a day as oarsmen fear for a regatta, the afternoon being wet and chilly, with a strong wind blowing against the racers. The day opened with great promise, the conditions being almost ideal when the first race started at 10 A. M., but with the first race in the afternoon came the rain and wind in earnest, and all during the rest of the day bad rowing conditions prevailed.

The Harlem Rowing Club carried off the honors of the day. Six of the thirteen local victories went to this veteran club, and besides its junior octuple sculls furnished the most interesting finish of the regatta. The Wahnetah crew in this race was the surprise of the day, for it entered at post time more to make a race against the Harlems and to prevent a "row over" than anything else. The two crews made a slashing contest of it, and it was anybody's race until just as the boats crossed the finish line. Here with a do or die effort Harlem's eight scullers managed to crowd a mite more force in their stroke, which carried them over, winners by a few feet.

The green crew of the New York Athletic Club gave the more seasoned Wahnetah a tussle for a mile in the senior eight event. In the last quarter heef and experience prevailed, and the Wahnetahs consequently won by somewhat more than two lengths. On the strength of this victory the club will send the crew to the National regatta at Washington in August.

The morning events, which began at 10 o'clock, were marred by a foul which occured in the junior quadruple sculls event soon after the start. Five crews went away from the mark in this race, and the Nonpareil crew soon took command, rowing in good form and steering beautifully. Shortly before the quarter-mile mark was reached the Hudson and Nassau crews got into difficulty and a foul resulted, whereupon the referee declared the race stopped and ordered it to be rowed over. The Harlem, Nonpareil, and Hudson crews, however, kept on and had a race all to themselves, which, of course, didn't count in the official summary. In the rowover of the event later only four crews came to the line, as the Nassau boat had been held responsible for the mix-up earlier in the day. The Nonpareils, as they did in the fizzle race, showed the best form and took the lead early, holding it nearly all the way, but just before the finish line came within reach they weakened, and, to make matters worse, stroke missed the water and the Harlems forged to the front and won by a very small margin.

The delay occasioned by the foul in the Junior Centipede event was augmented at the start of the junior eight by 4 in the New York A. C. boat, who found he had a defective oar after the crews had arrived at the starting line. Some minutes were consumed before the crew was able to get back to its headquarters for a new oar, and by the time the race actually started the rain, which had been threatening for half an hour, came down in full force.

The two crews representing the Nassau and New York Athletic Clubs got away well together, but before the quarter-mile mark was reached the Mercury footers had a lead of about a length, which they lost in the next 100 yards. New York picked up again a little further on and at the mile had clear water between them and the Nassaus.

The New Yorks steadied very well in the last stretch of the race and crossed the line two lengths ahead of Nassau, just as the rain stopped and the sun appeared.

The races were all one mile and a quarter straightaway, except the senior single dash, and were rowed from Fort George to High Bridge in the morning and vice versa in the afternoon. Summary:

Junior Double Sculls.—Won by New York Athletic Club, (H. J. Clarke and J. A. McKenna;) Nonpareil Rowing Club, (H. E. Utley and J. T. Coughlin, Jr.,) second. Time—6:20 2-5.

Senior Quarter-Mile Dash for Single Sculls.—Won by Harlem Rowing Club (Fred Fuessel;) Sheepshead Bay Rowing Club, (Frank Shea) second. Time—1:01.

Junior Four-Cared Gigs.—Won by Union Boat Club, (bow, John Campbell; 2, Charles J. Schneider; 3, Edwin G. Britz; stroke, Perry Kiernan; coxswain, George W. Hayden;) Dauntless Rowing Club, (Bow, A. Lang; 2, V. Sanborn; 3, C. Jargeuren; stroke, E. H. Anderson, Jr.; coxswain, E. H. Anderson,) second. Time—6:32 2-5.

Junior Single Sculls.—Won by Nonpareil Rowing Club, (G. Waldo Smith, Jr.;) Harlem Rowing Club (John J. Hughes) second; Sheepshead Bay Rowing Club (John Regan) third. Time—6:55.

Junior Eight-Cared Shells.—Won by New York Athletic Club, (bow, L. H. Stone; 2, T. F. Gleason; 3, E. Kelley; 4, J. L. Sequin; 5, T. W. Dooley; 6, J. G. Richards; 7, J. G. McNair; stroke, G. T. Walsh; coxswain, W. T. Higgins;) Nassau Boat Club (bow, H. F. Borchers; 2, A. W. Orth; 3, R. N. White; 4, H. Le Comte; 5, W. F. Gill; 6, R. P. Conkling; 7, George Fera; stroke, J. F. Walsh; coxswain, T. F. Russell, Jr.) second. Time—5:22.

Intermediate Double Sculls.—Won by Harlem Rowing Club, (Frank J. Nelson and Harry Evans,) Union Boat Club, (John Campbell and Perry Kiernan,) second. Time—7:14.

Handicap Senior Singles.—Won by Sheepshead Bay Rowing Club, (Frank Shea;) Harlem Rowing Club, (John J. Ryan,) second; Malta Boat Club, (Guy L. Belcher,) third. Time—7:34 2-5.

Senior Four-Cared Shells.—Won by Arundel Boat Club, Baltimore, (bow, G. W. Hobs; 2, Louis H. Stall; 3, W. Harry Oehol; stroke, George W. Parker, Jr.) Time—7:04.

Association Single Scull.—Won by New York Athletic Club, (R. B. Mann;) Metropolitan Rowing Club, (Ira J. Emery,) second. Time—8:08.

Junior Quadruple Sculls.—Won by Harlem Rowing Club, (bow, J. Demarest; 2, D. Wilson; 3, H. C. Hansen; stroke, W. Lyons;) Nonpareil Boat Club, (bow, A. B. De Lacey; 2, Frank P. Crowley; 3, Charles L. Schwartz; stroke, R. H. Pearse,) second; Wahnetah Boat Club, third. Time—6:30.

Intermediate Single Sculls.—Won by University Barge Club, Philadelphia, (Edward F. Hoffman;) New York Athletic Club, (C. Ruschs,) second; Yale Boat Club, (Edmund P. Livingston,) third. Time—7:41.

Junior Octuple Sculls.—Won by Harlem Rowing Club, (bow, J. J. Lyons; 2, H. D. Wagner; 3, H. A. Hansen; 4, William Lyons; 5, J. W. Brady; 6, H. McCutcheon; 7, D. Wilson; stroke, J. Demarest; coxswain, Ford Cannniff;) Wahnetah Boat Club, (bow, W. Methven; 2, H. Worth; 3, J. Stapleton; 4, W. Halloran; 5, A. Methven; 6, F. Ritz; 7, L. Steinmetz; stroke, J. P. Woods; coxswain, J. Cleary.) Time—7:10.

Senior Double Sculls.—Won by Harlem Rowing Club, (Fred Shepheard and Fred Fuessel;) Arundel Boat Club, Baltimore, (L. H. Stall and G. W. Parker, Jr.,) second. No time taken.

Senior Single Sculls.—Won by Harlem Rowing Club, (Fred Shepheard;) Malta Boat Club, (Guy L. Belscher,) second.

Senior Eight-oared Shells.—Won by Wahnetah Boat Club, (bow, W. Halloran; 2, A. Methven; 3, Joseph Atkinson; 4, Edward Stapleton; 5, Joseph Stapleton; 6, Frank Ritz; 7, R. Stapleton; stroke, F. A. Lawler; coxswain, J. Cleary;) New York Athletic Club, (bow, L. H. Stone; 2, T. P. Gleeson; 3, E. Kelley; 4, J. L. Sequin, Jr.; 5, T. W. Dooley; 6, J. Richards; 7, J. G. McNair; stroke, G. T. Walsh; coxswain, W. T. Higgins,) second. Time—6:22.

POLO MATCH UNFINISHED.

Rockaway and New Haven Play Only Four Periods at Great Neck.

In the opening polo game for the Great Neck Challenge Cups, played yesterday on W. R. Grace's farm at Great Neck, L. I., the Rockaway four had the lead over the New Haven combination after four periods had been played, the score being 8 goals to 5½. There are seven teams in the tournament, and after the scheduled match on Thursday the uncompleted game between Rockaway and New Haven will be contested, their being still four periods to play.

In the fourth period of yesterday's match H. Drury of the New Haven team was injured and forced to retire from the game. To even matters, Rainey withdrew from the Rockaway four. The line-up and summary:

ROCKAWAY.	H'cap.	NEW HAVEN.	H'cap.
1—R. J. Collier	4	1—W. L. Goodwin	2
2—R. La Montagne, Jr.	7	2—H. Drury	7
3—J. C. Cowdin	5	3—L. E. Stoddard	8
Back—P. J. Rainey	3	Back—J. B. Thomas	5
Total	17	Total	22

Rockaway—Goals earned, 4; allowed by handicap, 5; lost by penalty, 1. Total, 8. New Haven—Goals earned, 6; allowed by handicap, 0; lost by penalty, ½. Total—5½. Time of game—Four 7½-minute periods. Referee—G. Milburn.

Racing at Willow Brook.

The 2:22 Class trotting race was the best of the card at the closing day's meeting of the Willow Brook Driving Club at Islip, L. I., yesterday. Dr. E. J. Robbins of Bay Shore had his St. Wood against Dr. Carman's David H. C. The first heat was won by St. Wood by a length from David H. C., but the next three heats were won by David H. C. W. H. Moffitt entered two horses in the four-and-a-half furlong dash, Belle of the Bay and Love Watches, while the only other entry was R. L. Delisser's Miss Lovis. The horses got away together and Love Watches took the lead before they had gone 100 yards and was never headed, winning by a length, with Miss Lovis second. Summaries:

Half-mile, Class B.—Trot or pace, three heats in five.

John W. Patterson, ch. s., (Kline)	1	1	1
Kanawah Star, b. g., (Raybert)	2	3	2
Ed Stoffer, b. g., (Carman)	3	2	3
Mary C., ch. m., (Arata)	4	4	5
Lady Wicks, (Clark)	5	5	4

Time—1:07½; 1:09; 1:09½.

Half-mile, Class C.—Trot or pace, three heats in five.

Oscar Richie, b. g., (Robbins)	1	1	1
J. Ashbourne, r. s., (Murphy)	2	2	2
The Pantee, br. s., (Lawrence)	5	3	4
Alpine Rose, b. m., (Cantensto)	3	5	5
Helen R., b. m., (Marvin)	4	4	6
Lazel Bell, br. m., (Arata)	7	6	3
Starr, ch. g., (Hubbs)	6	7	7

Time—1:16½; 1:16½; 1:15.

Half-mile, Class E.—Trot or pace, two heats in three.

Princess C., (Varney)	1	1
Willie C., (Nichols)	2	2
Cinderella, (Jarvis)	3	3

Time—1:19; 1:18.

Half-mile, 2:22 Class.—Trot.

David H. C., b. g., (Carman)	3	1	1
St. Wood, b. g., (Robbins)	1	2	2
Marman, b. g., (Post)	3	3	4
Ben Tracy, ch. g., (Williams)	5	4	3
Anteco Wilkes, (Hendrickson)	4	5	5

Time—1:11; 1:09; 1:10½.

Four and a half furlongs. W. H. Moffitt's Love Watches, ch. h., (Egan,) won; R. L. Delisser's Miss Lovis, b. f., (Minder,) second; W. H. Moffitt's Belle of the Bay, (Holmes,) third. Time—0:53.

Toronto and C. A. C. Tie in Lacrosse.

The Toronto University lacrosse team tied with the Crescent Athletic Club at Bay Ridge yesterday, 1 to 1.

MINOR LEAGUE RESULTS.

New York State League.

Scranton, 4; Wilkesbarre, 2. Scranton, 4; Wilkesbarre, 3.
Troy, 4; Albany, 3.
Utica, 3; Syracuse, 0.
Binghamton, 2; Elmira, 1.

New England League.

Worcester, 6; Brockton, 1. Brockton, 8; Worcester, 2, (ten innings.)
New Bedford, 1; Fall River, 0. Fall River, 10; New Bedford, 4.
Lowell, 2; Lynn, 0. Lynn, 2; Lowell, 1, (eleven innings.)
Haverhill, 5; Lawrence, 4. Lawrence, 5; Haverhill, 1.

Tri-State League.

Lancaster, 9; Reading, 0. Reading, 7; Lancaster, 1.
Trenton, 6; York, 1. York, 13; Trenton, 3, (eight innings.)
Johnstown, 6; Altoona, 4. Altoona, 4; Johnstown, 3.
Harrisburg, 4; Williamsport, 3.

Connecticut League.

New Britain, 8; Waterbury, 2. Waterbury, 7; New Britain, 2.
Bridgeport, 2; New Haven, 1. Bridgeport, 2; New Haven, 2.
Northampton, 4; Springfield, 3. Springfield, 8; Northampton, 2.
Holyoke, 5; Hartford, 4. Holyoke, 5; Hartford, 4.

American Association.

Toledo, 4; Indianapolis, 2. Indianapolis, 3; Toledo, 2.
Columbus, 5; Louisville, 4. Columbus, 6; Louisville, 3.
Minneapolis, 3; St. Paul, 2.
Kansas City, 8; Milwaukee, 3.

Southern League.

Montgomery, 4; Nashville, 2. Montgomery, 0; Nashville, 3.
Mobile, 3; Atlanta, 2. Atlanta, 4; Mobile, 3.
Birmingham, 3; Memphis, 1.
New Orleans, 6; Chattanooga, 3. New Orleans, 0; Chattanooga, 1.

DOUBLE WIN FOR CORNELL OARSMEN

Ithacan 'Varsity and Freshmen Crews Defeat Harvard In Rough Water.

BOSTON, Mass., May 30.—Sixteen strong-armed Cornell oarsmen swept Charles River to-day, the 'Varsity crew defeating Harvard in a beautiful race by a full length, while the freshmen completely outclassed the Crimson eight, winning by six lengths. It was Cornell's short, choppy stroke that proved superior to Harvard's long, rhythmmic swing. The Harvard oarsmen seemed to have plenty of power, but for some reason Stroke Cutler was content with an even 32 from start to finish, and, although this held Cornell for the first mile in rough water in the last half of the race, Cornell's swift paddles and numerous spurts drove their shell steadily away, and there was a bit of open water between the cedar boats as they darted across the line. The time on the 'Varsity race was: Cornell, 11:23; Harvard, 11:27. In the freshmen race it was: Cornell, 11:15; Harvard, 11:36. The Cascadilla School of Ithaca topped off the day of victories by defeating the Stone School of Boston by two lengths.

It was a poor day for good oarsmanship, as the Charles for several hours this afternoon was beaten into foam by a stiff, cold northeaster. Toward night conditions softened, and shortly after 5 o'clock the 'Varsity race was started in pretty rough water. The Harvard crew caught the water first, and immediately dashed into the lead. Pulling their strong, slow stroke, the Crimson crew maintained an advantage for the first half mile, although Cornell was pegging away at a stroke which sometimes reached 40 to a minute. The two shells splashed by the half-mile flags 2 minutes 58 seconds from the start, with Harvard in the lead by a couple of yards. Immediately after came a Cornell spurt, and at the five-eighths the crews were even. Still the Cornell eight had not quite settled down to business, and Harvard had no difficulty in drawing away in the next quarter of a mile.

The lead of the Crimson, however, was a brief one, and approaching the shadow of Harvard Bridge, the Cornell crew gathered itself together as one man, pushed into the lead, and swept through the dark arches a good length to the fore, amid the shouts of thousands who crowded the bridge rails. The time at the bridge, which is considered to be about one mile from the start, was: Cornell, 5:47; Harvard, 5:50.

After getting out into the open water again the crews met several squalls that cut down the speed, but still Cornell continued to swing away at 38 strokes to a minute, and its lead of four seconds was maintained to the finish. Both crews stopped rowing in fine condition.

An hour after the 'Varsity race the freshmen crews were sent away, with the Crimson again taking the lead. It was an exciting contest to the bridge, with Harvard leading sometimes by a quarter of a length, but in swinging through the arches the Cornell freshmen jumped out ahead, and from there to the finish the race was a procession, with Harvard trailing further and further behind.

CORNELL JUNIORS WIN RACE.

Pennsylvanians Beaten Three Lengths on Lake Cayuga.

ITHACA, N. Y., May 30.—Cornell easily won the junior 'Varsity crew race from Pennsylvania over a two-mile course today. The red and white shell crossed the line three lengths in the lead and the men paddled back to their boathouse as if they had only been practicing. Cayuga Lake was lined with holiday guests of the undergraduates and the observation train carried 2,000.

Cornell started a forty stroke and Pennsylvania rowed at 38, but both began to lower the stroke until at the two-mile post each was rowing 34 strokes to the minute. Cornell finished the two miles in 10 minutes 52 seconds; Pennsylvania in 11 minutes 2 seconds. The crews rowed as follows:

Cornell—Bow, Carpenter; 2, Johnston; 3, Beyea; 4, Bonney; 5, Stimson; 6, Krus; 7, Pfeiffer; stroke, Distler; coxswain, Mers.

Pennsylvania—Bow, Brown; 2, Ferguson; 3, Bell; 4, Delong; 5, Smith; 6, Thomas; 7, Alexander; stroke, Reath; coxswain, Williams.

Georgetown 'Varsity Out of Regatta.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—Georgetown's 'Varsity eight will not row in the Poughkeepsie regatta on June 25, the authorities having withdrawn the entry owing to three members of the crew being unable to participate because of parental objections and physicians' orders. Their places could not be filled as the second crew had given up training.

Coach at Northwestern.

CHICAGO, May 30.—Charles E. Hammett was appointed to-day coach and physical director of Northwestern University.

BROOKLYN Y. C. REGATTA.

Opening of Season on Gravesend Bay Marred by Frequent Squalls.

The Brooklyn Yacht Club opened its season yesterday with the usual Memorial Day regatta. The big schooners and sloops got away in the morning to a fine start and good weather, but all the other classes opened their contests just after a fall of rain that closely resembled a cloudburst and ran through squall after squall, which forced the retirement of several craft. The victory of Leo Herzig's Gardenia in the big sloop class was very popular.

The power craft, in two classes, raced around Staten Island. The course, thirty-four miles long, and much of it in bad water and worse weather, was anything but an easy one, and that any boats finished speaks volumes of praise for their crews and the crafts' seaworthiness. There was the usual big attendance by club members. The summary:

SCHOONERS AND SLOOPS.
Start, 11:05. Course, 26 miles.

Yacht and Owner.	Finish. H.M.S.	Corrected Time. H.M.S.
Gardenia, Leo Herzig	2:39:15	3:24:47
Tammany, Com. W. C. Cowen	2:31:40	3:26:07
Adyta, R. Von Forreger	3:42:05	.....

CLASS Q, SERIES A.
Start, 3:05. Course 10½ miles.

Spider, H. Chubb	5:30:25	2:25:25
Soya, S. Barstow	5:55:00	2:50:00

HANDICAP CLASS.
Start, 3:10. Course, 10½ miles. First Division; 8 miles, Second Division.

Maria	4:53:47	1:43:47
La Cubana	5:08:05	1:58:05
Careless	4:46:45	1:36:45
Wahkan II.	5:02:30	1:52:30
Gamma	4:53:40	1:43:40
Breeze	4:54:30	1:44:30
Joy	4:51:25	1:41:25

CLASS S.
Start, 3:15. Course, 8 miles.

Bluebell	5:27:25	2:12:25

CLASS X.
Start, 3:20. Course, 8 miles.

Merry Widow, Dailey	4:56:28	1:36:28
Slowpoke, Hall	5:00:10	1:40:10
Masque, Timmen	4:59:30	1:39:30

CLASS Y.
Start, 3:55. Course, 8 miles.

Splash, Fayre	5:03:30	1:08:30
Arico, Moore	5:03:35	1:08:35
Diva, Allerton	4:46:40	0:51:40
Bullfinch, Maurel	5:08:20	1:08:20
Skeets, Dailey	5:04:23	1:09:20
North Star, Carkle	4:49:30	0:54:30

POWER BOATS.
Class I., Over 40 Feet and Not Over 100 Feet. Start, 11:15. Course, 34 miles.

Neptune, N. D. Smyth	3:32:07	4:17:10
Bossin, N. D. Mills	4:19:28	4:55:12

Class II. Less Than 40 Feet.

Niobe, E. V. McMinn	3:41:55	4:21:54
Sally, S. L. Soman	4:01:15	4:29:15

ISTALENA COMES IN FIRST.

Beats Winsome and Aurora in Opening Regatta at Greenwich.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., May 30.—The Indian Harbor Yacht Club held a special race for class K yachts to-day to open the season. The contest started at noon and ended fortunately just before a severe storm started.

The start was at 11:55 A. M., and the course was twenty nautical miles. The trophy was a cup presented by a club member. George M. Pynchon's Istalena won, finishing at 2:30:35. H. L. Lippit's Winsome came in second at 2:31:12, and Cornelius Vanderbilt's Aurora was third, finishing at 2:32:59. The finish was a very exciting one, as it was a race with the storm. A dinner and dance wound up the day's festivities.

Marblehead-New York Motor Boat Race

It has been decided that the annual Marblehead race for motor boats will this year start from Marblehead and finish off the Crescent Athletic Club pier at Bay Ridge. The race is for cruising power craft thirty to forty feet in length. The start will be made at 10 o'clock in the morning of July 16.

The course, which is figured at 285 nautical miles, (about 333 statute miles,) will be from the Corinthian Yacht Club's pier, at Marblehead, to Bay Ridge, via the ocean. It is the second big ocean race of the year, the Philadelphia-Havana contest having been settled last week.

Ben Ma Chree Boat Club Celebrates.

The Ben Ma Chree Boat Club held its annual opening exercises at the clubhouse and pier, Bay Twentieth Street, Bath Beach, on Sunday and yesterday. There were large crowds present on both days, and the club's fleet of motor boats was kept busy in trips around Gravesend Bay for the visitors. Commodore J. V. Hull and Vice Commodore Jewesson, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, were in charge of the arrangements. The club has an increased membership, and a fleet of over thirty boats at the start of this season.

Prospect Park Baseball Games.

C. Y. M. C. A., 9; Eaton, 10.
Clinton, 8; Manhattan, 4.
Comet A. C., 14; Peboys, 3.
Utica F. C., 21; Deerfoot A. C., 1.
Carlton, 27; Criterion, 2.
Utica F. C., 11; Oriole A. C., 2.
Mohawk, 16; Glendale, 13.
St. John's, 7; Olympic, 5.
Deerfoot, 6; Van Byren, 5.
Midwont, Juniors, 4; Comet A. C., 1.
Clifton, 7; Eureka, 6.
Rangers, 8; Pequots, 4.
Midwont Juniors, 14; Emblem A. C., 8.
P. S. 62, 9; P. S. 44, 5.
Monarch F. C., 9; Elmount F. C., 8.
Hamilton A. C., 4; Midwont Juniors, 3.
Eureka Silk Co., 8; H. Kay & Co., 7.

FINE SPORT IN HARLEM Y. C. RACES

Despite Adverse Weather Conditions Opening Regatta at City Island a Big Success.

The Harlem Yacht Club opened its season yesterday with one of the largest regattas in its experience. The Race Committee—consisting of S. E. Friedrichs, Chairman; E. M. Hartman and P. T. Grace—garnered seventy-five entrants for the various events, a remarkably large list for so early in the season. Of these seventy-five, forty-four actually started and thirty-three finished, which, in view of the weather conditions yesterday, is a very high proportion.

Throughout the day the wind blew, first east by north and then veered around to north-northeast, at the rate of from fifteen to twenty-five miles an hour, accompanied by numberless rain squalls and heavy lightning and thunder storms. There were, fortunately, no accidents, although several craft sustained minor damage to gear.

The race among Class P craft was exceptionally good. Eight yachts started and five finished, R. A. Monks's Windward being evolved the winner, with Edmund Reeks's Mimosa III. in second place, and J. Mooring's Bonita third.

The contest among the Larchmont interclub one-design class, in which five boats started and finished, was also a hummer, A. B. Alley's Sestina coming home ahead of all the others. The Bug Class, with four starters and four yachts to finish, provided much sport, E. A. Correy's Big Bug winning, with Donald Cowl's Dragon Fly second, and C. Converse's Iney third. The summary:

Handicap Class, First Division. Start, 1:25. Course, 12 miles.

Yacht and Owner.	Finish.	Corrected Time.
Crescent, A. G. Hill	3:48:12	2:18:42
Interim, R. W. Davies	3:48:42	2:17:55
Juanita, S. C. Hunter	3:33:25	2:08:25

Class P. Start, 1:30. Course, 12 miles.

Yacht and Owner.	Finish.	Elapsed Time.
Alyce, G. Bransuehr	Did not finish.
Amorita, E. D. Bragdon	3:37:55	2:07:55
Bonita, J. Mooring	4:27:55	2:57:55
Cara Mia, S. Wainwright	3:28:10	1:58:10
Coquette, W. Staidefield	Did not finish.
Sagola, W. Lindemann	Did not finish.
Windward, R. A. Monks	3:25:30	1:55:30
Mimosa III., Edmund Reeks	3:27:25	1:57:25

Handicap Class, Second Division. Start, 1:30. Course, 12 miles.

Yacht and Owner.	Finish.	Corrected Time.
Bedouin, W. J. Fowler	Did not finish.
Fearless, D. R. Stoddard	3:44:50	2:14:10
Red Wing, P. T. Grace	3:47:06	2:16:26
Scud, G. P. Granberry	3:41:40	2:07:03
Quest, S. L. Bulte	Did not finish.

Class Q. Start, 1:35. Course, 9 miles.

Yacht and Owner.	Finish.	Elapsed Time.
Mistral, Senter and Tacey	Did not finish.
Narad, John Bruns	3:29:00	1:53:52

Special race for flukes. Start, 1:35. Course, 9 miles.

Yacht and Owner.	Finish.	Elapsed Time.
Chinook, Hazen Morse	3:15:40	1:40:40
Joyette, W. H. Childs	3:14:30	1:39:30

CLASS R.
Start, 1:40. Course, 9 miles.

Yacht and Owner.	Finish.	Elapsed Time.
Hoyden, B. S. Litchfield	3:33:05	1:53:05

SAILOVER.
CLASS S.
Start, 1:40. Course, 9 miles.

Midget, H. Jacoby	Did not finish.
Neriad, G. H. Sephar	4:08:44	2:28:44

LARCHMONT INTER-CLUB ONE DESIGN.
Start, 1:40. Course, 9 miles.

Como, I. R. Edwards	3:34:45	1:54:45
Dagmar, C. J. Kierney	3:31:10	1:51:10
Sestina, A. B. Alley	3:28:10	1:48:10
Lewanna, Spence Brothers	3:31:20	1:51:20
Triton, L. Darr	3:30:40	1:50:40

HANDICAP CLASS—FOURTH DIVISION.
Start, 1:45. Course, 9 miles.

Kanosha II., W. Volz	Did not finish.
Victory, H. A. Jackson	3:13:40	1:28:40
Okee, J. S. Mahlstedt	3:37:10	1:52:10

MANHASSET BAY 1909 ONE DESIGN.
Start, 1:50. Course, 9 miles.

Althea, J. W. Alker	3:45:55	1:55:55
Scylla, E. A. Sierck	3:46:40	1:56:40

AMERICAN YACHT CLUB ONE DESIGN RACEABOUTS.
Start, 1:55. Course, 9 miles.

Clephora, C. D. Mallory	3:51:05	1:56:05
Mariola, A. S. Bradley	4:02:08	2:07:08

LARCHMONT 21-FOOTERS, ONE DESIGN.
Start, 1:55. Course, 9 miles.

Houri, D. E. Dealey	Disqualified. *
Iola, H. A. Duden	3:59:37	2:04:37

*Started wrong time.

MANHASSET BAY 1904 ONE DESIGN.
Start, 2:00. Course, 9 miles.

Ahoy, Otto Peters	Did not finish.

MANHASSET BAY BUG CLASS.
Start, 2:05. Course, 6 miles.

Big Bug, E. A. Corry	3:46:15	1:41:15
Dragon Fly, Donald Cowl	3:54:52	1:49:52
Iney, C. C. Converse	3:36:10	1:53:10
Mayflye, A. B. Fry	3:38:18	1:53:18

NEW ROCHELLE ONE DESIGN.
Start, 2:30. Course, 9 miles.

La Rochelle	Did not finish.
Neriad, George W. Fuller	Did not finish.

Scores of Other Games.

At Providence—Brown, 4; Yale, 3.
At Albion, Mich.—Albion College, 4; Armour Institute, 3.
At Lewiston, Me.—Bates, 5; Bowdoin, 4.
At Essex Fells, N. J.—Kingsley School, 5; St. Francis Xavier, 4.
At Williamstown—Williams-Amherst game called in first half of first inning—rain.
At Andover—Harvard, 7; Phillips Andover, 1.

COLLEGE BASEBALL.

Bunched Hits Win for Brown.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 30.—All three pitchers were hit in the game which Brown won from Yale here to-day by the score of 4 to 3. Brown took the lead by making three of the four runs in the third inning, when four hits were made in succession, although Yale changed pitchers in the middle of the inning. Snell's home run in the sixth completed Brown's scoring. Yale got one run in the second on clean hitting and two more in the seventh on a combination of hits, base on balls, and errors. Corey made a spectacular catch of Nash's fly in the seventh. The score:

BROWN.	AB	R	H	PO	A	YALE.	AB	R	H	PO	A
Nash, ss	5	0	0	2	3	Badger, cf	5	0	1	2	0
Giles, 1b	4	1	2	10	1	Corey, rf	2	0	0	2	0
Regnier, 3b	4	1	2	2	0	Logan, 3b	4	0	1	2	3
Staff, lf	4	1	2	1	0	Murphy, 1b	3	1	1	9	0
Snell, rf	4	1	2	1	0	Carhart, c	4	0	2	4	1
Mansur, 2b	3	0	0	1	3	M'Int're, 2b	3	0	1	0	1
Taylor, cf	3	0	1	2	1	Merritt, ss	4	1	1	2	1
Hen'sey, c	2	0	0	8	2	Stevens, lf	3	1	2	2	0
Giles, p	3	0	0	0	3	Murfey, p	1	0	0	0	2
						Coy, p	2	0	0	0	2
Total	32	4	9	27	15	Total	31	3	8	23	10

*Hennessey out on attempted bunt on third strike.

Errors—Nash, Snell, Regnier, Logan.

Brown	0	0	3	0	0	1	0	0	—4
Yale	0	1	0	0	0	2	0	0	—3

Two-base hit—Giles. Home run—Snell. Hits—Off Murfey, 4 in 2 2-3 innings; off Coy, 5 in 3 1-3 innings. Sacrifice fly—Stevens. Stolen bases—Giles, Regnier, Taylor, Logan, McIntyre. Double play—Hennessey, Giles, and Regnier. Left on bases—Brown, 10; Yale, 7. First base on balls—Off Giles, 5; off Murfey, 1; off Coy, 5. Struck out—By Bliss, 8; by Murfey, 2; by Coy, 2. Passed ball—Carhart. Time of game—Two hours and four minutes.

Rutgers Wins Deciding Game.

In a close and interesting game the nine from Rutgers College yesterday defeated the team representing Stevens Institute in the third and deciding game of the series between these colleges, by a score of 4 to 3. The score:

RUTGERS	AB	R	H	PO	A	STEVENS	AB	R	H	PO	A
Green, cf	3	1	0	4	0	Bruce, lf	4	0	1	3	2
Prentiss, 2b	4	0	1	0	1	Fryer, 3b	4	0	2	1	0
V. Ness, 1b	3	1	1	4	0	Mann, 3b	4	0	1	2	0
Bowen, c	3	1	1	13	1	Harris, ss	3	1	1	1	3
Milliken, 3b	4	1	2	1	0	Cook, 2b	4	1	1	0	0
Traver, ss	4	0	1	0	0	Lansell, 1b	3	0	0	5	0
Sangster, p	4	0	0	2	3	Myers, lf	4	0	1	2	0
Hamilton, rf	3	0	0	2	0	Cowdin, rf	4	0	0	1	1
Bell, lf	4	0	1	1	0	Coleman, p	2	1	1	0	1
						Saunders, p	2	1	0	0	0
Total	32	4	7	27	5	Total	34	3	9	27	6

Errors—Prentiss, Van Ness, Harris, Cook.

Rutgers	0	0	0	1	0	2	0	0	1—4	7	2
Stevens	0	2	0	0	1	0	0	0	0—3	9	2

Two-base hit—Cook. First base on balls—Off Coleman, 3; off Saunders, 1. Struck out—By Coleman, 4; by Saunders, 2; by Sangster, 12. Left on bases—Stevens, 6; Rutgers, 5. Stolen bases—Bruce, (2,) Fryer, Milliken, Hammondon. Sacrifice hits—Harris, Landell. Time of game—One hour and fifty minutes. Umpire—Mr. Steinmetz.

Fordham Beats Georgetown Easily.

Playing in errorless style behind the fine pitching of Capt. Mahoney, the Fordham team won the third and deciding game of the series with Georgetown yesterday on Fordham Field by a score of 9 to 1. The largest turnout of the season witnessed the contest.

The first inning was a romp for the local collegians, five runs being placed to their credit. Georgetown could do nothing with Mahoney's benders, and went hitless for three innings. The visitors' first hit was made by Capt. Murphy in the fourth—a double along the left-field foul line. The only run made by Georgetown was in the ninth. Connolly doubled to left and was sacrificed to third. The next two men were retired. Catcher McCarthy allowed a ball to pass him and Connolly crossed the plate. The score by innings:

	R.	H.	E.
Fordham	5 0 0 4 0 0 0 0 —9	18	1
Georgetown	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1	5	2

Batteries—Mahoney and McCarthy; Balser and Fennan.

Error Gives Trinity Victory.

MIDDLETOWN, Conn., May 30.—Trinity won the annual ball game with Wesleyan here to-day 4 to 3. The game was featureless up to the seventh, when an error by Deremer of Wesleyan let in three runs. Trinity hit White freely but the hits were scattered. Wesleyan's runs came on hits. The score

YANKEES WIN TWO GAMES ON HILLTOP

Ford Holds Senators to Two Hits in Morning and Vaughn Blanks Them.

THE SCORES.

MORNING GAME.

New York	0	0	0	0	1	2	0	0	—3
Washington	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	—1

NEW YORK.

	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Hemphill, cf.	3	0	1	2	0	0
Wolter, rf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
Chase, 1b.	4	0	1	8	1	0
Laporte, 2b.	4	1	1	3	4	2
Roach, ss.	3	1	1	1	0	0
Cree, lf.	3	0	1	1	0	0
Austin, 3b.	3	1	1	2	2	1
Sweeney, c.	1	0	0	4	1	0
Ford, p.	3	0	0	0	1	0
Total	26	3	6	27	9	3

WASHINGTON.

	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Milan, cf.	4	0	0	0	0	0
Lelivelt, lf.	4	0	1	1	0	0
Conroy, 3b.	3	1	0	2	2	0
Gessler, rf.	3	0	0	0	1	0
Unglaub, 1b.	3	0	0	13	1	0
Killifer, 2b.	3	0	0	1	1	0
McBride, ss.	3	0	1	2	5	0
Street, c.	3	0	0	5	2	0
Oberlin, p.	3	0	0	0	0	1
*Browne	1	0	0	0	0	0
Total	30	1	2	24	12	1

*Batted for Oberlin in ninth inning.

Two-base hit—Roach. Three-base hit—Cree. Sacrifice hits—Wolter, Killifer, Cree, Sweeney. Left on bases—Washington, 12; New York, 5. First base on errors—Washington, 3. Struck out—By Ford, 4; by Oberlin, 4. Bases on balls—Off Ford, 9; off Oberlin, 3. Umpires—Messrs. O'Loughlin and Perrine. Time of game—One hour and thirty-five minutes.

AFTERNOON SCORE.

New York	1	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	—3
Washington	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

NEW YORK.

	A.B.	R.	H.	P.O.	A.	E.
Hemphill, cf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
Wolter, rf.	3	1	1	2	0	0
Chase, 1b.	4	0	2	14	0	0
Laporte, 2b.	3	0	1	3	3	0
Roach, ss.	3	0	0	0	7	1
Cree, lf.	4	0	0	2	0	0
Austin, 3b.	3	1	0	1	2	0
Sweeney, c.	3	1	1	8	1	0
Vaughn, p.	3	0	1	0	3	0
Totals	29	3	6	27	16	1

*Batted for Lelivelt in the ninth inning.

WASHINGTON.

	A.B.	R.	H.	P.O.	A.	E.
Milan, cf.	4	0	1	1	0	0
Lelivelt, lf.	3	0	0	2	0	0
†Schaefer	1	0	0	0	0	0
Conroy, 3b.	4	0	1	1	0	0
Gessler, rf.	4	0	2	1	0	0
Unglaub, 1b.	4	0	0	8	1	0
Killifer, 2b.	3	0	0	5	1	1
McBride, ss.	3	0	1	2	7	0
Street, c.	3	0	0	3	0	0
Groom, p.	3	0	0	1	1	0
Totals	32	0	5	24	10	1

Two-base hits—Wolter, Sweeney, Laporte. Sacrifice hit—Laporte. Left on bases—Washington, 5; New York, 6. First base on errors—Washington, 1; New York, 1. Double plays—McBride and Unglaub; Roach, Laporte, and Chase. Struck out—By Groom, 2; by Vaughn, 3. Bases on balls—Off Groom, 3. Umpires—Messrs. Perrine and O'Loughlin. Time of game—One hour and twenty minutes.

The Yankees behaved in the most approved holiday fashion on the Hilltop yesterday, taking the morning game from Washington by a 3 to 1 score and the afternoon clash 3 to 0. Nearly 30,000 persons saw the two games, the afternoon crowd, undismayed by the rain, packing every available bit of room within the fence. Ford, in the morning, and Vaughn, after luncheon, caused a hit famine in the Nationals' camp. They couldn't hit anything. It is doubtful if they could tumble out of Curtiss's cloud buggy and hit the earth.

With the rain pelting down in the early afternoon, the crowd kept coming until it surrounded the field. The diamond was water soaked, but that didn't prevent Hal Chase or Shortstopper Roach from making scream-promoting plays. Rain stopped the game at the end of the eighth, and after a fifteen-minute wait Washington took a last hopeless crack at the ball. In both sessions the Yanks played tip-top ball and clouted just enough to bring home the bacon.

With two down in the first inning of the second game, Conroy got a scratchy single off Vaughn. Gessler followed with a crack to left, but Unglaub forced him out on the next play. This brace of smacks, with a couple of singles toward the end of the matinée, was the total of Washington's freedom with Vaughn.

With one down in the first, Wolter tore off a noisy double into the right field crowd, and had to halt at second because of ground rules. Chase's single brought him home. In the fifth, Killifer fumbled Austin's grounder, and Sweeney walloped a two-bagger into the centre field crowd.

Vaughn banged a bounder over the slippery ground at first, and Unglaub slipped up on it, Austin and Sweeney scoring erstwhile. Hemphill lifted one into Gessler's hands. Wolter walked, and Chase met his finish by popping a geyser which Street gathered, like he did the bulb that was dropped from the Washington Monument. When the rain started in the eighth, Laporte doubled, with two buried. Roach walked, Cree pushed a liner in the vicinity of McBride's frontispiece, and that was the end of that rally. Milan opened the ninth with a single. "Germany" Schaefer, heavily armed with a bat, was sent in to vindicate matters. The joker filed to Cree. Roach got Gessler's grounder mixed with the mud, and Gessler was safe. Unglaub pelted a hot grounder to Roach, who devoured it with glee and shot it to Chase, putting a damper on any evil intent which Washington might have had.

Russ Ford almost gave the morning crowd palpitation of the heart. At times his elusive moist fling was scandalously unruly, and time and again he playfully filled up the bases, whetting the Nationals' appetites for runs, only to tighten up again and pitch himself out of the deep holes. Ford punctured the atmosphere all around the plate with the ball except in the limited space right over the pan. He vainly tried to clip the edges, but Silk O'Laughlin caught sight of the jump, just hopping outside the corners, and Ford in this way handed out nine complimentaries in the most open-hearted manner. Washington got two hits, one of which was very scratchy.

In the fourth inning McBride planked a sassy, singing drive between left and centre fields. Birdie Cree was after it with the crack of the bat. He sped madly on, stabbing the ball off the top of the grass. That play got some ear-jarring applause, but not as much as when Jimmy Austin made a running pick-up of a stray dog which ambled on to the field in the seventh inning. The purp almost broke up the game. Sweeney tried to catch it, but it ducked. Ford missed it, and six peanut boys and Pinkerton detectives surrounded the beast, and again it slipped away.

Austin to the rescue. He swooped down on Fido just as he would a hot grounder, gathered it in his gloved hand, and made a pretty throw to one of the Pinks.

For four innings both teams went hitless. Ford passed two men in the second, but there were two down and he mowed down the third out by fanning Oberlin.

New York got a run in the fifth. Austin beat out a slow grounder and Sweeney sacrificed him to second. Ford went out, McBride to Unglaub, and Hemphill hit out a single, scoring Austin. Wolter filed out in the sixth. Chase was safe at second on Oberlin's savage peg to first. Laporte forced him at third, Roach poked a two-bagger to left, scoring Laporte, and Roach came across on Cree's three-sacker to the scoreboard. Austin fouled out, ending the inning.

Ford got himself into an awful predicament in the seventh, when two bases on balls and Austin's error filled the bases with two down. Lelivelt swung at the ball threateningly, but Ford cruelly struck him out. Washington got a run in the eighth. Conroy and Gessler were passed. Cree got under Unglaub's rocket, and Killifer fanned. McBride's single to centre scored Conroy. Ford then fanned Street, an incident which lifted a great burden from under the new straw hats of some 7,000 interested parties.

One-Sided Game for Tigers.

ST. LOUIS, May 30.—Detroit won the morning game from St. Louis by a score of 10 to 0. The visitors made runs in every inning but one. Score:

DETROIT.	AB	R	H	PO	A
D.Jones, lf.	5	4	2	2	0
Bush, ss.	4	1	3	3	4
Cobb, cf.	4	0	0	3	0
Crawf'd, rf.	4	0	0	0	0
Del'h'ty, 2b.	3	3	2	3	8
Mor'ty, 3b.	4	0	3	2	0
T.Jones, 1b.	4	1	1	10	1
Schmidt, c.	5	0	0	4	0
Stroud, p.	5	1	1	1	1
Total	38	10	13	27	11

ST. LOUIS.	AB	R	H	PO	A
Stone, lf.	4	0	0	0	0
Hartzell, ss.	5	0	0	3	4
Wallace, 3b.	4	0	0	2	1
Griggs, 2b.	3	0	2	2	6
H'fman, cf.	4	0	0	0	0
Schw't'r, rf.	3	0	0	4	0
Newm'n, 1b.	4	0	2	8	0
Stephens, c.	4	0	0	8	1
Powell, p.	0	0	0	0	0
*Criss	1	0	0	0	0
Waddell, p.	3	0	0	0	1
Total	37	0	9	27	10

*Batted for Powell in second inning.

Errors—Cobb, Moriarty, (2,) Stroud, Wallace, Stephens, Powell, (2,) Waddell.

Detroit	2	1	1	0	1	1	2	2	1	—10
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0

Two-base hits—Stone, Griggs, Newman, Moriarty. Three-base hits—Wallace, D. Jones. Sacrifice hits—Delehanty, Hoffman, Crawford, T. Jones. Double plays—Delehanty and Moriarty; D. Jones and Beckendorf. Passed ball—Beckendorf. Stolen bases—Cobb, (2,) Moriarty, Crawford, Delehanty, Stone. Bases on balls—Off Bailey, 8; off Browning, 1; off Mullin, 2. Struck out—By Bailey, 8; by Browning, 1; by Mullin, 2. Hits—Off Browning, 7 in four innings; off Mullin, 1 in five innings. Left on bases—St. Louis, 7; Detroit, 13. Time of game—Two hours and seventeen minutes. Umpires—Messrs. Dineen and Connolly.

Detroit Wins Again from Browns.

ST. LOUIS, May 30.—Detroit won both games to-day. The score of the last victory was 9 to 4. After Browning was hit hard in the fourth inning, Detroit sent Mullin in to finish the game. Score:

DETROIT.	AB	R	H	PO	A
D.Jones, lf.	5	1	1	4	2
Bush, ss.	5	2	1	4	2
Cobb, cf.	4	3	2	1	0
Crawf'd, rf.	4	2	1	2	0
Del'h'ty, 2b.	4	1	2	3	3
Mor'ty, 3b.	5	0	1	1	0
T.Jones, 1b.	4	0	0	8	0
Beckdf, c.	4	0	2	5	1
Browning, p.	1	0	0	1	0
*Simmons	1	0	0	0	0
Mullin, p.	1	0	0	0	1
Total	38	9	13	27	8

ST. LOUIS.	AB	R	H	PO	A
Stone, lf.	4	1	1	2	0
Hartzell, ss.	5	0	1	2	1
Wallace, 3b.	4	0	1	5	3
Griggs, 2b.	3	0	1	2	3
H'fman, cf.	3	0	0	1	0
Schw'ser, rf.	4	1	2	0	0
Newm'n, 1b.	4	1	1	9	0
Stephens, c.	3	0	0	8	2
Bailey, p.	3	1	1	1	4
†Criss	1	0	0	0	0
Total	34	4	8	27	14

*Batted for Browning in the fifth inning.

†Batted for Bailey in ninth inning.

Errors—Bush, (2,) Beckendorf, Browning, D. Jones, Griggs, (2,) Newman, (2,) Stephens.

Detroit	2	0	0	0	1	0	4	1	0	—9
St. Louis	0	0	0	0	0	4	0	0	0	—4

Two-base hits—Stone, Griggs, Newman, Moriarty. Three-base hits—Wallace, D. Jones. Sacrifice hits—Delehanty, Hoffman, Crawford, T. Jones. Double plays—Delehanty and Moriarty; D. Jones and Beckendorf. Passed ball—Beckendorf. Stolen bases—Cobb, (2,) Moriarty, Crawford, Delehanty, Stone. Bases on balls—Off Bailey, 8; off Browning, 1; off Mullin, 2. Struck out—By Bailey, 8; by Browning, 1; by Mullin, 2. Hits—Off Browning, 7 in four innings; off Mullin, 1 in five innings. Left on bases—St. Louis, 7; Detroit, 13. Time of game—Two hours and seventeen minutes. Umpires—Messrs. Dineen and Connolly.

Boston Pitchers Batted Hard.

BOSTON, May 30.—Cicotte strained a cord in his neck to-day in the second inning of the forenoon game with Philadelphia, and the two Boston pitchers who succeeded him were batted hard. Coombs was particularly effective when men were on bases. In the fifth inning, with no one out, Boston filled the bases, but only one man covered the plate. Stahl was put out of the game for disputing a called strike. Score:

PHILADELPHIA.	AB	R	H	PO	A
Hartzel, lf.	2	0	0	0	0
Oldring, cf.	2	0	0	0	0
H'tm'ler, cf.	3	0	1	0	0
Collins, 2b.	4	1	0	0	2
Davis, 1b.	3	0	1	12	2
Baker, 3b.	4	1	2	4	5
Murphy, rf.	4	1	0	3	0
Barry, ss.	4	0	2	4	4
Thomas, c.	4	0	0	5	2
Coombs, p.	4	2	3	2	1
Total	34	5	9	27	16

BOSTON.	AB	R	H	PO	A
Hooper, rf.	4	0	0	0	0
Engle, 3b.	3	0	0	3	2
Stahl, 1b.	1	0	0	2	1
B'dley, 1b.	3	0	0	9	1
Speaker, cf.	3	0	1	2	1
Wagner, ss.	3	1	0	4	2
Gardner, 2b.	4	0	1	0	7
Lewis, lf.	4	0	1	0	0
Carigan, c.	4	0	0	7	2
Cicotte, p.	0	0	0	0	2
Smith, p.	1	0	0	0	0
*Lord	0	0	0	0	0
Arellnes, p.	1	0	1	0	2
Total	31	1	5	27	19

*Batted for Smith in fifth inning.

Philadelphia	0	0	0	1	2	0	0	1	1	—5
Boston	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	0	—1

Two-base hits—Coombs, (2,) Barry. Three-base hit—Heitmuller. Hits—Off Cicotte, 1 in one and one-third innings; off Smith, 4 in three and two-thirds innings; off Arellanes, 4 in four innings. Sacrifice hit—Hartzell. Stolen bases—Hartzell, Carrigan, Heitmuller. Double plays—Baker and Davis; Speaker and Carrigan. Left on bases—Philadelphia, 7; Boston, 7. First base on balls—Off Cicotte, 2; off Smith, 2; off Coombs, 4. First base on errors—Philadelphia, 2. Struck out—By Coombs, 4; by Smith, 2; by Arellanes, 3. Time of game—Two hours. Umpires—Messrs. Kerin and Sheridan.

Davis's Error Loses Game.

BOSTON, May 30.—Boston got an even break by a lucky win this afternoon from Philadelphia, 6 to 5, in ten innings. The visitors batted Karger hard and secured a four-run lead in the ninth four hits, including a two-bagger and a home run, with a base on balls and an error, allowed Boston to tie the score. Clarke hit for three bases in the tenth and scored the winning run when Davis dropped a fly ball. The score:

BOSTON.	AB	R	H	PO	A
Hooper, rf.	3	0	0	0	0
†Gleason	1	0	0	0	0
Lord, 3b.	5	0	0	1	3
Stahl, 1b.	5	0	0	10	1
Speaker, cf.	5	2	2	1	0
Wagner, ss.	4	0	0	4	5
Gardner, 2b.	4	2	2	5	4
Lewis, lf.	4	1	3	0	0
Carrigan, c.	2	1	0	6	0
Karger, p.	1	0	0	1	2
Engle, rf.	2	0	0	1	1
Hall, p.	0	0	0	0	0
‡Bradley	1	0	1	0	0
R. Collins, p.	0	0	0	0	0
Total	37	6	7	29	16

PHILADELPHIA.	AB	R	H	PO	A
Hartzel, lf.	5	0	1	2	0
Oldring, rf.	4	1	0	2	0
H'tm'ler, cf.	4	1	0	4	0
Collins, 2b.	4	0	1	2	1
Davis, 1b.	3	0	1	7	1
Baker, 3b.	4	0	1	1	3
Murphy, rf.	4	0	0	3	0
Barry, ss.	4	0	1	3	7
Thomas, c.	4	0	0	7	1
Coombs, p.	4	0	0	0	4
Total	38	2	5	27	17

*One out when winning run was scored.

†Batted for Hooper in eighth inning.

‡Batted for Hall in ninth inning.

‖E. Collins out, hit by batted ball.

Boston	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	4	1	—6
Philadelphia	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	3	0	—5

Errors—Wagner, Davis, Baker, Barry, (2.)

Two-base hits—Murphy, Davis, Gardner. Three-base hit—Speaker. Home runs—Gardner, Lewis. Hits—Off Karger, 6 in eight innings; off Hall, 2 in one inning; off Collins, 1 in one inning. Sacrifice hits—Barry, (2,) Krause. Gardner. Stolen bases—Hartzel, 2; E. Collins. Double play—Wagner and Stahl. Left on bases—Philadelphia, 11; Boston, 8. First base on balls—Off Karger, 4; off Krause, 4; off Collins, 1. First base on errors—Boston, 4. Struck out—By Karger, 4; by Krause, 5; by Collins, 1. Time of game—Two hours and fifteen minutes. Umpires—Messrs. Sheridan and Kerin.

Lajoie and Purtell Handy with Bat.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 30.—Chicago defeated Cleveland this morning in an exciting game by the score of 4 to 3. Lajoie was responsible for all of Cleveland's runs, while Purtell batted in three of those scored by Chicago. The last seven innings were played in the rain. The score:

CHICAGO.	AB	R	H	PO	A
Payne, rf.	5	1	1	1	0
Collins, cf.	5	0	0	1	0
Zelder, 2b.	3	1	1	2	2
D'g'h'ty, lf.	3	1	2	3	0
Gandil, 1b.	5	0	0	10	1
Purtell, 3b.	3	1	2	0	2
Bl'kb'ne, ss.	3	0	1	3	0
Block, c.	4	0	2	7	3
Walsh, p.	4	0	0	0	4
Total	37	4	9	27	13

CLEVELAND.	AB	R	H	PO	A
Graney, cf.	3	1	0	3	0
Krueger, lf.	5	0	1	1	0
Turner, ss.	4	0	1	2	2
Lajoie, 2b.	3	1	2	3	2
Flick, rf.	4	0	1	3	0
Stovall, 1b.	4	0	0	11	0
Easterly, c.	4	0	3	6	1
Perring, 3b.	2	0	0	0	2
Linke, p.	2	0	0	0	1
Young, p.	0	0	0	0	0
Doane, p.	1	0	0	0	0
*Bemis	1	0	0	0	0
Total	32	3	8	10	27	11

*Batted for Perring in ninth inning.

Errors—Zelder, Block, Turner, Perring, Link, Flick.

Chicago	0	0	0	0	1	1	2	0	0—4
Cleveland	0	0	0	2	0	0	0	1	0—3

Two-base hits—Easterly, Flick. Three-base hits—Lajoie, Purtell. Sacrifice hits—Krueger, Lajoie, Perring. Sacrifice fly—Blackburne. Stolen base—Dougherty. Double plays; Dougherty and Zeider; Zelder and Gandil. Hits—Off Link, 7 in six and one-third innings; off Young, 1 in one and two-thirds innings; off Doane, 1 in one inning. First base on balls—Off Link, 3; off Walsh, 1. Struck out—By Link, 4; by Young, 1; by Walsh, 7. Wild pitch—Walsh. First base on errors—Cleveland, 1; Chicago, 3. Left on bases—Cleveland, 5; Chicago, 10. Time of game—Two hours and seven minutes. Umpires—Messrs. Egan and Evans.

EASTERN LEAGUE.

Seventeen-Inning Tie in Jersey City.

Jersey City and Newark played the longest game of the season in their first clash at the West Side Park yesterday morning. At the end of the seventeenth inning, each team having made a single tally, the game was called so that the teams could go to Newark for the afternoon encounter. The score:

NEWARK.	AB	R	H	PO	A
Louden, ss.	6	2	1	2	6
Ganley, rf.	7	0	1	1	0
Sch'f'y, 2b.	7	0	1	1	8
Kelly, lf.	7	0	1	6	0
Gettm'n, cf.	5	0	3	4	0
Zim'm'n, 3b.	7	0	0	1	6
Agler, 1b.	2	0	0	8	1
Hearn, c.	1	0	1	13	0
†Crisp, c.	4	0	0	8	2
Mueller, p.	2	0	0	1	2
M'Gin'ty, p.	4	0	0	0	2
*Meyers	1	0	0	0	0
Total	58	1	9	51	20

JERSEY CITY.	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Clement, lf.	5	1	3	2	0	0
D'n'ger, rf.	4	1	1	0	0	0
Hanf'd, cf.	5	0	2	5	0	0
Johnson, ss.	5	1	3	3	1	1
Crooks, 1b.	4	1	1	6	0	0
Hanifan, 2b.	4	1	0	2	4	0
Esm'd, 3b.	4	2	2	1	3	0
Spahr, c.	5	0	0	7	1	0
Camnits, p.	4	1	2	1	3	0
Total	38	8	14	27	12	0

*Batted for Meyers in twelfth inning.

†Batted for Walsh in sixteenth inning.

Two-base hit—Bates. Three-base hits—Merkle, Magee. Sacrifice hits—Bridwell, Knabe 2, Ewing. Stolen bases—Devore 2, Magee, Doolan. Double plays—Knabe, Bransfield, and Doolan; Ewing, Moran, and Bransfield; Doolan, Knabe, and Bransfield. Left on bases—New York, 7; Philadelphia, 9. First on balls—Off Ames, 7; off Ewing, 5. First on errors—New York, 2. Hit by pitcher—By Ewing (Devore. Struck out—By Ames, 7; by Ewing, 5. Passed ball—Meyers. Time of game—Three hours and seventeen miutes. Umpires—Messrs. Johnstone and Moran.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, May 30.—The Giants cleaned up in the two holiday games here to-day, but the Phillies made them fight hard every inch of the way to do it, both tussles running into extra innings. New York took the first game in the tenth after a nip-and-tuck battle, by a 2-to-1 score, and in the afternoon the teams battled for sixteen innings before McGraw's men finally pulled the game out of the fire and won, 4 to 3.

Josh Devore played a prominent part in the Giants' second victory. In the ninth he singled, purloined second, and ran home with the run which tied the score, when Moran and Bates tossed the ball about wildly. And it was Devore who led off with a sharp single in the sixteenth, stole his way to second corner, and scored with the victorious tally on Becker's single.

Red Ames and "Long Bob" Ewing were pitted against each other and twirled high-class ball most of the way, Ewing having a shade the better of the duel. The Phillies' errors were costly and aided New York at critical moments in the long fight. It was a seesaw game all the way, with the result always in doubt, keeping the crowd of 14,000, the largest of the local club's season, in a state of emotional excitement.

Philadelphia was the first to score. Magee smashed a resounding three-bagger over Seymour's head in centre, and scored on Bransfield's single. The Giants tied the count in the fourth. Devore was hit by one of Ewing's twisters, and took second on Doyle's out. He scored on Seymour's single to right. Philadelphia went to the front again in the eighth. Moran singled and was forced at second on Ewing's bunt. Bates ambled. Knabe forced out Ewing at third after Knabe grounded and Bates went to second, scoring on Grant's single.

Devore's run brought the Giants up on even terms again in the ninth, when Josh singled. Doyle and Murray both died on outfield flies. Devore stole second, and went to third on Moran's wild throw. Bates followed with a bad toss back to Grant, and Devore went home. Each team added one in the tenth. Bridwell flied to Knabe, Devlin walked. Merkle hammered a ferocious triple over Bates's head in centre, scoring Devlin. Bates doubled to left, going to third on Knabe's sacrifice. Bates scored on Grant's single.

The teams went runless until the sixteenth, both Ames and Ewing doing yeomen's duty on the slab. Devore spanked out a single, and outwitted Moran on his dash for second. Becker played the rôle of pinch hitter appropriately, by knocking out a single, which scored Devore.

Drucke and Foxen were the opposing boxmen in the morning game, and there was nothing but goose eggs on the score board for nine innings. The tenth opened with Devlin dying unassisted to Bransfield. Merkle was patient and went to first on a gift. Meyers doubled to left, Merkle landing at third. Drucke, then, as the poets sing, "won his own game" by tearing off a single to right field, scoring Merkle and Meyers. The Quakers tried hard to rally in their half of the inning. Doolan fanned and Dooin was out at first, when Devlin made a great stop of his grounder. Ward, batting for Foxen, was hit by a pitched ball, and Bates beat out an infield tap. Knabe hit to left, scoring Ward. Grant's out at first ended the rally.

	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Bates, cf.	5	2	1	2	0	1
Knabe, 2b.	5	0	1	5	8	0
Grant, 3b.	6	0	2	2	3	0
Magee, rf.	6	1	1	3	0	0
Bransfield, 1b.	6	0	1	19	1	0
Walsh, lf.	5	0	0	1	0	0
Doolin, ss.	6	0	1	3	4	0
Moran, c.	5	0	3	7	4	2
Ewing, p.	5	0	0	0	7	1
†Ward	1	0	0	0	0	0
Total	50	3	10	48	27	6

NEW YORK.	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Snodgrass, rf.	3	0	0	1	0	0
Doyle, 2b.	4	0	1	1	1	0
Murray, lf.	4	0	2	1	0	0
Seymour, cf.	4	0	1	2	0	0
Bridwell, ss.	3	0	0	3	2	0
Devlin, 3b.	4	0	0	1	3	0
Merkle, 1b.	3	1	0	8	0	0
Meyers, c.	4	1	2	12	3	0
Drucke, p.	3	0	1	1	3	0
Total	32	2	7	30	12	0

PHILADELPHIA.	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Bates, cf.	3	0	1	3	0	0
Knabe, 2b.	5	0	1	4	3	1
Grant, 3b.	5	0	1	2	2	0
Magee, rf.	4	0	1	2	1	0
Bransfield, 1b.	2	0	0	9	2	0
Walsh, lf.	3	0	0	4	0	0
Doolan, ss.	3	0	0	3	3	1
Dooin, c.	4	0	1	2	2	0
Foxen, p.	3	0	0	1	3	0
*Ward	0	1	0	0	0	0
Total	32	1	5	30	16	2

*Batted for Foxen in tenth inning.

Two-base hits—Dooin, Knabe, Meyers. Sacrifice hits—Bridwell, Drucke. Stolen base—Magee. Double play—Doolan, Knabe, and Bransfield. Left on bases—New York, 6; Philadelphia, 8. First base on balls—Off Drucke, 6; off Foxen, 4. First base on errors—New York, 2. Hit by pitcher—By Drucke, Ward. Struck out—By Drucke, 11; by Foxen, 2. Time of game—Two hours and seven minutes. Umpires—Messrs. Johnstone and Moran.

AFTERNOON GAME.

New York	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0
Philadelphia	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—1

NEW YORK.

	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Devore, rf.	6	3	3	2	1	0
Doyle, 2b.	7	0	0	2	2	0
Murray, lf.	7	0	0	7	1	0
Seymour, cf.	5	0	1	4	0	0
Becker, cf.	2	0	1	0	0	0
Bridwell, ss.	6	0	0	7	4	0
Devlin, 3b.	4	1	0	2	5	0
Merkle, 1b.	5	0	2	14	1	0
Wilson, 1b.	0	0	0	0	0	0
Meyers, c.	4	0	0	5	3	0
Schlei, c.	1	0	0	4	0	0
Ames, p.	6	0	1	1	4	1
*Keeler	1	0	0	0	0	0
Total	54	4	8	48	21	1

PHILADELPHIA.	AB.	R.	H.	PO.	A.	E.
Bates, cf.	5	2	1	2	0	1
Knabe, 2b.	5	0	1	5	8	0
Grant, 3b.	6	0	2	2	3	0
Magee, rf.	6	1	1	3	0	0
Bransfield, 1b.	4	0

Delaware & Hudson COMPANY

4½% Equipment Bonds

Price and Particulars Upon Application

A. B. Leach & Co.
149 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

Atlantic & Birmingham Railway Company
1st Mtge 5% Bonds to Yield 5⅛%
O'CONNOR & KAHLER
49 Wall Street, New York.

Hollister, Fish & Co.
BANKERS
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange
Investment Securities
Interest Allowed on Deposits
Nassau and Pine Streets
Telephone John 3900

As an indication of our ability and an earnest of our purpose to supply you with dependable investments, we submit the record of our offerings.

N. W. Halsey & Co
BANKERS
49 Wall Street New York

Bertron, Griscom and Jenks
BANKERS
40 Wall Street, New York — Land Title Bldg., Philadelphia
INVESTMENT SECURITIES

UNION TRUST CO. STOCK	Duval, Carroll & Co. 66 Broadway Members N. Y. Stock Exchange

Want Offerings of Niagara Falls Power Co. STOCK
HENRY B. BOLAND
2180 Rector 71 Broadway.

LETTERS OF CREDIT
N. W. HARRIS & CO
BANKERS
Pine Street, Corner William
NEW YORK

WANTED
500 Aeolian-Weber Piano & Pianola com.
500 Federal Light & Traction com.
1,000 International Nickel "Rights"
200 Nipe Bay pfd.
100 Peekskill Lighting & R. R. pfd.
500 United States Envelope com.
FREDERIC H. HATCH & CO
Dealers in Unlisted and Inactive Securities of Railroads and Other Corporations in the United States and Elsewhere.
30 BROAD STREET, NEW YORK
Tel. 5140 to 5153 Broad, Inclusive.
Branch Office, 50 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON.
Telephones, 2540-2541-2542 Fort Hill.
Private telephones between New York and Boston.

New Amsterdam Gas 5s, 1948
Second Avenue Cons. 5s, 1948
Northern Union Gas 5s, 1927
N. Y. & Westchester Ltg. Deb. 5s, 1954
N. Y. & Westchester Ltg. 4s, 2004
Paterson & Co. BONDS Traction, Gas, Inactive Railroads
Tel. 1935-6-7 Rector. 20 BROAD ST., N. Y.

Alfred Mestre & Co
BANKERS
Members New York Stock Exchange
37 Wall St. New York — 130 So. 15th St. Philadelphia

Schmidt & Gallatin
Bankers and Brokers
Members of the New York Stock Exchange.
111 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

INVESTMENT ACCOUNTS SOLICITED
Penington, Colket & Co.
Members N. Y. & Phila. Stock Exchanges.
115 BROADWAY.
TELEPHONE Cortlandt 1154-5.

E. & C. RANDOLPH,
Members New York Stock Exchange,
111 Broadway, New York.
OPEN MARKET SECURITIES DEPARTMENT
Horace Hatch, Mgr. T. F. Shields, Bonds.
Dealers in Investment and Other Securities of the United States, Canada and Mexico.

RUYTER M. HOLLINS & CO.,
BANKERS
Railway Equipment Securities,
UNITED STATES LIGHT & HEATING CO.
ROGER MANUF. CO. Bought and Sold.
141 Broadway, N. Y.

BUTTER HIGHEST IN 45 YEARS.

Buying by Western Speculators Has Put the Market Up, Dealers Say.

Although butter receipts in May were larger than usual, the prices of the best grades are higher than they have been before at this time since the civil war. Wholesale dealers say that Western speculators have been buying up supplies and that this has kept prices up.

The Mercantile Exchange's figures show last month's receipts as 175,000 tubs, about 25,000 more than last May.

The best grades are now selling at 28 to 29 cents a pound wholesale. A year ago they were 24 to 26½ cents.

Local dealers say that the Chicago meat packers are back of this Western buying movement.

Butter bought now and held until Fall must sell at 32 to 33 cents wholesale, as it will cost three cents a pound for warehouse expenses.

THE EUROPEAN MARKETS.

Happenings of a Day in London, Paris, and Berlin.

LONDON, May 30.—Money was in moderate supply and good demand to-day. Discounts were easy.

Of the £1,000,000 gold available, the Bank of England obtained three-quarters and Russia the remainder.

The Stock Exchange was moderately active and slightly irregular. Railroads received the most attention, Mexican and Canadian Pacific issues leading, the latter on good earnings. Grand Trunk, however, weakened on the disappointing April statement of earnings. Foreigners and Kaffirs were inclined to ease, and rubber and oil shares yielded on profit taking.

The market for American securities was quiet, on account of the holiday in New York, but hardened a fraction over Saturday's level on light buying, with Amalgamated Copper leading. The close was steady.

Bar silver steady at 24 11-16d per ounce.

Money, 3½@4 per cent.; rate of discount in the open market for short bills, 3⅝ per cent.; for three months' bills, 3½ per cent.

Gold premiums are quoted at Madrid 6.90 and at Lisbon 10.50.

PARIS, May 30.—Prices on the Bourse to-day were very dull.

Three per cent. rentes, 98f 70c for the account.

Exchange on London, 25f 27½c for checks.

BERLIN, May 30.—Prices on the Boerse were firm to-day, with Canadian Pacific issues leading in activity.

Exchange on London, 20 marks 49½ pfennigs for check.

Money, 4½ per cent.

Private rate of discount, 3¼ per cent.

LONDON CLOSING QUOTATIONS.

	London.	N. Y. Equiv.	N. Y. Close.	Net Ch'ge.
Consols, account	82⅝
Atchison	112⅜	100½	100⅝	+ ⅛
Baltimore & Ohio	117¼	114½	114	+ ¼
Canadian Pacific	202⅜	197⅝	197½	+ ⅛
Erie	29½	28⅝	28¾	+ ⅛
Louis. & Nash.	151½	148	149	..
N. Y. Central	122½	119¾	119⅝
Pennsylvania	68⅞	134¾	134⅝	— ⅛
Reading	83½	162⅝	162½	+ ⅛
Rock Island	44½	43⅝	43¾	+ ⅛
Southern Pacific	129⅝	126¾	126	+ ⅛
Union Pacific	188⅝	183⅞	183¾	+ ⅛
U. S. Steel	86 7-16	83⅝	83⅜	+ ⅛
U. S. Steel pf.	121¼	118¼	118	+ ¼

CONDITION OF COTTON 80.2.

Report of Ginners' Association Shows Increase in Acreage of 1.10.

MEMPHIS, May 30.—In its first report of the present crop, the National Ginners' Association to-day gave the condition of cotton as 80.2 and the increase in acreage as 1.10 per cent.

The acreage and condition by States to May 28 follow:

State.	Condition.	Acreage.
Alabama	81	3,605,000
Arkansas	80	2,370,000
Florida	84	250,000
Georgia	79	4,800,000
Louisiana	76	965,000
Mississippi	75	3,200,000
North Carolina	80	1,470,000
Oklahoma	85	2,070,000
South Carolina	78	2,565,000
Tennessee	82	750,000
Texas	84	10,500,000
Missouri and Virginia	..	110,000
Average	80.2	.....
Total acreage	..	32,655,000

CALENDAR FOR TO-DAY.

BOOKS CLOSE.

Alabama Great Southern Railway for dividend on common.
American Colonial Bank of Porto Rico for dividend.
American Express Co. for dividend.
American Railways for dividend.
American Telegraph & Cable Co. for dividend.
Atlantic Coast Line Co. for dividend.
Boston & Albany Railroad for dividend.
Brooklyn Union Elevated Railroad for dividend.
Crex Carpet Co. for dividend.
Eastman Kodak Co. for dividends on common and preferred.
Norfolk & Western Railway for dividend on common.
Philadelphia Co. for Guaranteeing Mortgages for dividend.
Wisconsin Central Railway for dividend on preferred.

DIVIDENDS PAYABLE.

Associated Merchants on common.
El Rayo Mines.
National Biscuit Co. on preferred.
New York, Philadelphia & Norfolk Railroad.
Pennsylvania Railroad.
Quaker Oats Co. on preferred.

ANNUAL MEETINGS.

Havana Electric Railway.
Thomas Whittaker Co.

HALL OUSTS MANGASARIAN.

Renewal of Lease to Independent Religious Society Is Refused.

CHICAGO, May 30.—Orchestra Hall closed its doors on the Independent Religious Society yesterday, when M. M. Mangasarian had delivered his last lecture of the season. The management of the hall refused to extend the lease of the society, and its meetings next Fall will be held in a downtown theatre.

"This is our last meeting in this hall," said Mr. Mangasarian. "The established churches will not allow us to use Orchestra Hall for the purpose of freedom of speech in religion. It is not blasphemy to doubt, or even to deny, the mysteries of faith, but it is blasphemy to deny to others the liberty which we claim for ourselves.

"In ousting from a public hall a body of men and women devoted to the pursuit of such knowledge as can be converted into human love and sympathy, the Directors of Orchestra Hall have committed a mistake for which it will not be long before they will apologize to the enlightened public of Chicago."

UNEXPECTED WEALTH IN LOTS

Moved from City for His Daughter's Health and Land Went Up $100,000.

Seeking a healthful home for an invalid daughter resulted in a fortune to Samuel Crawford, who ten years ago bought two plots of ground in the vicinity of Academy and Radde Streets, in the Dutch Kills section of Long Island City, for $3,800 and a few days ago sold one plot for $40,000 and is holding the other for $50,000.

It was the building of the Queensboro Bridge and the opening of the bridge plaza that gave value to Mr. Crawford's property. In laying out the plaza the city took off a small strip of the property belonging to Mr. Crawford, for which he was paid $2,800 in damages, thus reducing his actual investment in the land to $1,000. The plot which brought $40,000 has a frontage of 100 feet facing the northerly side of the bridge plaza and 24 feet on Academy Street.

It was purchased by the Plaza Construction Company, which will erect on the site a seven-story brick and stone office building.

It was to get his daughter out of the crowded city that Mr. Crawford located on the patch of land that so unexpectedly made a fortune for him.

Trustee for Personal Trusts
Astor Trust Co.
FIFTH AVENUE & 36TH STREET, NEW YORK

DIRECTORS

Benjamin Altman, B. Altman & Co.	Gates W. McGarrah, Pres Mechanics & Metals Nat. Bank
John Jacob Astor	Charles A. Peabody, President Mutual Life Ins. Co.
Geo. F. Baker, Chairman First National Bank	Geo. W. Perkins, J. P. Morgan & Co., Bankers
Stephen Baker, Pres't Bank of the Manhattan Co.	D. E. Pomeroy, Vice-President Bankers Trust Co.
Geo. B. Case, White & Case, Attorneys	William H. Porter, Pres't Chemical National Bank
John Claflin, Pres't United Dry Goods Companies	Seward Prosser, Vice-President
Thomas Cochran, Jr., Vice-President	Daniel G. Reid, Rock Island System
E. C. Converse, President	Douglas Robinson, Real Estate
H. P. Davison, J. P. Morgan & Co., Bankers	Archibald D. Russell
John I. Downey, Building Construction	Alexander H. Stevens, Vice-President
Elbert H. Gary, Chairman U. S. Steel Corporation	Benjamin Strong, Jr., Vice-President Bankers Trust Co.
Robert Walton Goelet	Charles L. Tiffany, Vice-President Tiffany & Co.
Thomas W. Lamont, Vice-President First National Bank	Albert H. Wiggin, Vice-President Chase National Bank
Edgar L. Marston, Blair & Co., Bankers

OFFICERS

E. C. Converse, President

Alex. H. Stevens, Vice-Pres't	Geo. W. Pancoast, Cashier
Seward Prosser, Vice-Pres't	Howard Boocock, Asst. Sec.
Thomas Cochran, Jr., Vice-Pres't	Jas. R. Trowbridge, Trust Officer

INTEREST PAID ON DAILY BALANCES

Coupons due and payable at the office of the

UNITED STATES MORTGAGE & TRUST COMPANY
55 Cedar St., New York

On and after June 1st, 1910

Akron & Barberton Belt R. R. Co. 1st 4s	Montauk Water Company 1st 5s
Bellingham Bay & Brit. Col. R.R. Co. 1st 5s	Mutual Electric Light Co. 5s
Brooklyn & Montauk R. R. Co. 2d 5s	Norfolk, Conn., Sewer 4s
Butte Electric & Power Co. 1st 5s	Northern Cal. Power Co., Ref. & Con. 5s
City Gas Co. of Norfolk, Va., 1st 6s	Nyack, N. Y., Water 4s
Corinth, N. Y., Sewer 4½s	Oswego, N. Y., Water 4½s
Elberton, Ga., Sewer 4½s	Overpeck Township, N. J. 5½s
Elyria, Ohio, Water Works 4s	Spring Lake, N. J. 5s
Essex County, N. J., Bridge 4s	South Porto Rico Sugar Co. Coll. Tr. 6s
Fulton, N. Y., Water 3.40s	Suffern, N. Y., Water 3½s
Griffin, Ga., City Hall, St. & School 4½s	Sullivan, Ind., Sewer 5s
Huntington Railroad Co. 1st 5s	Syracuse, N. Y., Local Imp. 4s
Lockport, N. Y., Water 4s	Tampa, Fla., Refunding 5s
Long Island Railroad Co. General 4s	Tampa, Fla., Park 5s
Long Island Railroad Co. Debenture 5s	Tampa, Fla., Street and Sewer 5s
Long Island R. R. Co. Stewart Line 4s	Territory of Arizona, Building 5s
Memphis, Tenn., Cert. of Indebt. 6s	Toledo, O., Street Imp. 4s and var. others
Millburn, N. J., Sewer 4½s	Township of Franklin, N.J., Road Imp. 4s
Monroe, Ga., Electric Light 5s	U.S. Mortg. & Trust Co., Series "E" 4s
Monroe, La., Improvement 5s	Washington R'way & Elec. Co., Cons. 4s
	Yuba Electric & Power Co. 1st 6s

Branches { Broadway & 73d St. / 125th St. & 8th Ave. } Modern Safe Deposit and Storage Vaults at All Offices

$12,500,000.

Lehigh and Wilkes Barre Coal Company

CONSOLIDATED MORTGAGE FOUR PER CENT. (SERIAL) GOLD BONDS.

AUTHORIZED - $20,000,000 ISSUED - $17,309,000

The remaining $2,691,000 of this issue to be held in escrow to retire a like amount of Bonds due November 1, 1912.

Dated June 1, 1910.

INTEREST - - June and December.

PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY FOR INSURANCES ON LIVES AND GRANTING ANNUITIES, TRUSTEE.

Free of Tax in Pennsylvania.

Guaranteed, principal and interest, by Central Railroad Co. of New Jersey

We own and offer the following:

$2,500,000	Bonds maturing June 1,	1915	99.32
$2,500,000	" " "	1920	98.78
$2,500,000	" " "	1925	98.33
$2,500,000	" " "	1930	97.98
$2,500,000	" " "	1935	97.68

Being a 4.15% basis

Subject to prior sale the opportunity is offered to holders of the Lehigh & Wilkes Barre Coal Company 4½% Bonds, maturing June 1, 1910, who desire to exchange their maturing Bonds at par and interest for the new issue of 4% Bonds on a 4.15% basis as above. Holders desirous of making the exchange should deposit their bonds with Messrs. J. P. Morgan & Company of New York, or Messrs. Drexel & Co. of Philadelphia, at the same time declaring which maturity they select.

Should all of the bonds of the desired maturity have been already taken, bonds of the nearest available maturity will be allotted. Negotiable receipts will be issued pending the delivery of the new bonds.

This offering is subject to withdrawal without prior notice, and exchanges are to be made as of June 1, 1910.

Attention is called to the letter of George F. Baer, Esq., President of the Lehigh & Wilkes Barre Coal Co. (copies of which may be obtained at our offices), in which he states the net earnings of this property for the last two fiscal years, the estimated coal tonnage and the operations of the Sinking Fund.

J. P. MORGAN & CO.
New York.
May 11, 1910.

DREXEL & CO.
Philadelphia.

Executor Trustee
Chartered 1822
The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company,
Nos. 16, 18, 20 & 22 William Street.
Branch Office, 475 Fifth Avenue, New York.
LONDON 15 Cookspur St. 18 Bishopsgate St. Within. PARIS, 41 Boulevard Haussmann
Travelers' Letters of Credit. Foreign Exchange.
Administrator Guardian

ESTABLISHED 1822
Franklin Trust Company
140 BROADWAY, NEW YORK 166 MONTAGUE STREET, BROOKLYN
569 FULTON STREET, BROOKLYN

This Company has the resources, organization and connections which enable it to be of the utmost service to its customers. It cordially invites the accounts and trust business of corporations, firms and individuals, to whom it extends the facilities acquired through twenty-two years of service to the business community.

TRUSTEES

HUGH D. AUCHINCLOSS	WILLIAM G. LOW	CHARLES J. PEABODY
UNION N. BETHELL	HENRY R. MALLORY	RALPH PETERS
JOSEPH B. BROWN	EDWIN S. MARSTON	HENRY E. PIERREPONT
WM. ALLEN BUTLER, Jr.	ALBRO J. NEWTON	JAMES H. POST
CHARLES B. DENNY	GEORGE M. OLCOTT	GEORGE H. PRENTISS
CROWELL HADDEN	EDWIN PACKARD	MOSES TAYLOR PYNE
HENRY HENTZ	LOWELL M. PALMER	WILLIAM H. WALLACE
HENRY C. HULBERT	STEPHEN S. PALMER	ROBERT B. WOODWARD
WILLIAM B. LANE, M. D.	CHARLES A. PEABODY	ARTHUR KING WOOD, President

WE OWN AND OFFER, SUBJECT TO SALE,
STATE OF NEW YORK
Canal Improvement 3 Per Cent. Bonds
Due January 1st, 1913; January 1, 1933. Interest payable January 1st and July 1st.
EXEMPT FROM ALL TAXES IN THE STATE OF NEW YORK.
Any SAVINGS BANK, TRUST COMPANY or INSURANCE COMPANY, paying taxes in the State of New York, WILL BE CREDITED ONE PER CENT. of the par value of any of these bonds registered in its name on JUNE 30TH, 1910. (Books close June 15th.)
PRICE ON APPLICATION.
CLARK, DODGE & CO.
51 Wall Street BANKERS New York

WHEAT
Upon application we will be pleased to mail our weekly letter. The current issue reviews crop conditions and prospects and outlines our views on the future price of wheat.
We believe an unusual speculative opportunity exists in wheat this year.
Josephthal, Louchheim & Co.
Members { NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE, NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE, PHILADELPHIA STOCK EXCHANGE, CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
Branches { 10 WEST 33D ST., N. Y., 522 BROADWAY, N. Y. (Cor. Spring St.), 139 SOUTH BROAD ST., Philadelphia
SECURITIES BOUGHT FOR INVESTMENT OR CARRIED ON MARGIN.
CORRESPONDENCE ON STOCKS OR BONDS.

COMMERCIAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW JERSEY
Opposite Penna. R. R. Ferry and McAdoo Tunnel Terminals, Jersey City, N. J.
Capital, Surplus and Profits over - $3,000,000.00
Deposits may be made under trust agreement for investment and amount increased from time to time. Investments may be regulated by agreement or governed by New Jersey Laws regulating investments of Trustees. Mortgages (investments of Trustees) pay minimum of five per cent. interest.
JOHN W. HARDENBERGH, President.
ROBT S. ROSS, Vice-President. WM. J. FIELD, Secretary and Treasurer.
JAY S. PERKINS, Assistant Treasurer. J. RICHARD TENNANT, Assistant Secretary.

TAX-EXEMPT
4% or 4½%
Guaranteed Mortgages on New York City Real Estate
SAFEST INVESTMENT IN THE WORLD
LAWYERS MORTGAGE COMPANY
RICHARD M. HURD, President
CAPITAL & SURPLUS - $6,000,000
59 Liberty St., Manhattan 184 Montague St., Brooklyn

Warren W. Erwin Calvin Tomkins Van Cleve Holmes William N. Cowles | Special
Warren W. Erwin & Co.
Members Consolidated Stock Exchange of N. Y.
Investment Bankers
26 Beaver Street, New York.
Bull Factors Analyzed
in our market letter just issued. Write for a copy.
FRACTIONAL LOTS
carried on conservative margin.
Interest allowed on deposits, subject to check.
Our method of publicity gives our customers the same knowledge of their broker as they have of their bank.

SIMON BORG & CO
BANKERS,
No. 20 Nassau St., New York
INVESTMENT SECURITIES

UNITED BANK NOTE CORPORATION
Preferred and Common Stock.
BOUGHT AND SOLD.
Dominick & Dominick
115 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

H. M. BYLLESBY & Co.
ENGINEERS
EXAMINATIONS & REPORTS
213 LA SALLE STREET, CHICAGO.
Portland, Ore. Oklahoma City, Okla. Mobile, Ala.

Illinois Central 4s, due 1953
New York Central & Western 4s, due 1923
Newport & Cincin. Bridge 4½s, due 1945
Brooklyn City Railway 5s, due 1941
MORRIS & HOLDEN,
45 Wall St. New York.

SERIAL BONDS
of Railroad, Steamship, Public Service and Industrial Corporations, netting from 4% to 6 per cent. Descriptive circulars on request.
Peabody, Houghteling & Co.
Established 1865 181 La Salle St., Chicago

WANTED
N. Y. MUTUAL GAS.
AMERICAN METER.
FOR SALE
BORDEN'S MILK 6% PFD:
on 5⅛% basis.
CUBAN AMERICAN SUGAR 7% PFD.
on 7⅛% basis.
DOMINICK BROS. & CO.,
49 Wall St. Tel. 6570 Hanover.
Members New York Stock Exchange.

L. B. WILSON. D. M. FERGUSON.
L. B. WILSON & CO.
Members Consolidated Stock Exchange of N. Y.
60 Wall St., N. Y.
Since 1902 we have been handling FRACTIONAL LOTS for cash or on conservative margin, with the same personal attention and quick service as 100 share orders.

COLUMBIA TRUST COMPANY
135 Broadway, New York City
Capital, - - $1,000,000
Surplus & Profits, 1,500,000
The Company acts as Executor, Trustee, or Guardian, either under a will or by special appointment. It invests trust funds to produce the greatest income with safety, not burdening the income with unnecessary or excessive charges.

LAWYERS TITLE INSURANCE & TRUST COMPANY
ALLOWS INTEREST ON DEPOSITS
160 Broadway, Manhattan.
188 Montague Street, Brooklyn.

J. K. Rice, Jr. & Co.
FOR SALE (BIDS WANTED)

100	Baring Cross Bridge
20	Old Dominion S. S.
100	Sen-Sen Chiclet
100	Western Pacific
50	Babcock & Wilcox
31	New York Curtain
100	American Brass
25	Int. Silver Pfd.
50	Bush Terminal Com.
100	Thompson-Starrett Com.
50	Oil Fields of Mexico
100	Madison Square Garden Stock
28	Park Bank "Rights"
100	U. S. Motor Com. & Pfd.
100	Int. Nickel "Rights"
100	Wells Fargo Express

We have good markets in unlisted and inactive securities and respectfully invite inquiries.
J. K. Rice, Jr. & Co.
'Phones 7460 to 7466 Hanover. 33 Wall St., N. Y.

Gilbert Eliott & Co.
We Will Buy

100	Amer. Brake Shoe & Fdy. Pfd.
100	Central Aguirre Sugar Pfd.
50	Federal Sugar Pfd.
$5,000	New Orleans & Gt. Nor. 1st 5s
100	Nipe Bay Com.
50	Thompson-Starrett Com.
100	Union Gas & Elec. Com.
100	Union Gas & Elec. Pfd.
$5,000	Van Wert Gas 5s, 1935
25	Wells Fargo Express

We Will Sell

100	Amer. Power & Lt. Pfd.
$5,000	Buff. & Susq. 4½s
$5,000	Buff. & Susq. Iron 1st 5s
$5,000	Denver Gas & Elec. 5s
$1,000	Fonda, Johnstown & Gloversville 4½s
$5,000	Glens Falls Gas & Elec. 5s
50	Otis Elevator Com.
100	Royal Baking Powder Com.
25	Safety Car Htg. & Ltg.
$5,000	St. Louis, Rocky Mt. & Pac. 5s
100	Standard Milling Pfd.

Gilbert Eliott & Co.
34 Pine Street. Phones 854-7 John.

City of Oakland, Cal.
4½% Bonds
Due Jan. 1st, 1911 to 1950
At prices to yield 4.35%
Legal investment for Savings Banks and for Trust Funds in New York State.
E. H. ROLLINS & SONS,
43 Exchange Place,
NEW YORK.
Boston, Chicago, Denver, San Francisco.

JOHN MUNROE & CO
30 Pine St., NEW YORK — 4 Post Office Sq., BOSTON
LETTERS OF CREDIT
providing funds for travellers in all parts of the world,
COMMERCIAL LETTERS OF CREDIT
FOREIGN EXCHANGE AND COLLECTIONS
CABLE TRANSFERS
MUNROE & CO.
7 RUE SCRIBE, PARIS.

The Copper Metal Situation is fully discussed in the Special Letter of May 26th with chart showing relative production of copper and pig iron for 20 years. A limited number have been reserved for free distribution. Copies may be obtained upon application.
Thomas Gibson
Corn Exchange Bank Building, New York

WANTED
Central Trust
U. S. Mortgage & Trust
Lawyers Title Ins. & Trust
FOR SALE
Park Bank "Rights"
Merchants National Bank
American Exchange Nat'l Bank
CHAS. H. CARRUTHERS & CO.
National City Bank Bldg., N. Y.

Buffalo, New York & Erie 7s
Pere Marquette Deb. 6s, 1912
Fonda, Johnstown & Gloversville 4½s
Western New York & Penna. 5s
Werner Bros. & Goldschmidt
Tel. 4800-5 Broad. 25 BROAD ST.

NORMAN W. PETERS & CO.
INVESTMENT BROKERS.
Members Consolidated Stock Exchange of New York.
74 Broadway, New York.
We buy or sell ODD LOTS for cash or on conservative margin.
Our quarterly certified statement of our Financial Condition enables our customers to know their broker as they do their bank.
Buffalo Ry. Cons. 5s, 1931
Philadelphia & Erie 1st 6s, 1920
Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific 6s, 1917
W. C. Langley & Co.
BANKERS
10 WALL ST. 'Phone 5389 Rector.

WE BUY	AMER. GAS. & ELEC.
WE SELL	AMER. LT. & TRACTION
WE QUOTE	DENVER GAS & ELEC.
	EMPIRE DIST. ELEC. CO.

Williams, McConnell & Coleman
60 Wall St. 'Phone 5621 John. New York.

Dallas & Waco Guar. 5s, 1940
Detroit United 4½s, 1933
San Antonio & Aransas Pass 4s, 1943
Helena Railway & Light 5s, 1933
Southern Iron & Steel 4s-5s, 1939
Utah Light & Power 4s & 5s, 1930
Southern Pacific of Calif. 6s, 1912.
E. BUNGE & CO.
20 Broad Street. 'Phone 4735-4736 Rector.

Pere Marquette Rel. 4s 1955
Blake & Reeves
34 Pine Street BANKERS New York

Bigelow & Company
BANKERS
Interest allowed on deposits
49 Wall Street, New York
Buff. Roch. & Pitts. 1st Gen. 5s, 1937
Toledo Traction 1st 6s, 1912
Buffalo & Susquehanna Bonds
N. Y. & Westchester Guar. 4s, 2004
WOLFF & STANLEY,
37 William St., N. Y. 6357-8-9 Broad.

SEASON FOR PIKE ON AROUND HERE

Instances of Big Catches of This Fresh-Water Shark—Its Large Range.

There is an open season for pike, the fresh water shark, in New York, New Jersey, and Connecticut at present, which is another way of saying that this voracious fish is biting, for the pike seems to be always hungry and bites from sunup to sundown, especially on cloudy days. Only the Delaware River and Pennsylvania are closed waters, and these waters are closed merely because of a uniform close season for much more valuable game fish.

The legal length in inches follows: New York, 10 inches; New Jersey, Connecticut, and Pennsylvania, 12 inches. No limit is put upon the catch, for the pike, like the pickerel, not only holds its own in any waters where introduced, but frequently drives out more highly prized fish.

The pike has a large range because of this characteristic and depending upon conditions grows to enormous weight. To print a list of pike streams in the waters mentioned would be as interesting as a Post Office Guide. There are streams, however, here and there, noted bodies of water, that have produced big pike. Lake George has a record fish of 16 pounds. Lake Tschotagama boasts of a fish touching the 47-pound mark. Folansbee Pond, Franklin County, grew a fish 25 pounds in weight, which fell to the spoon of Juliet Wilbur Tompkins, the authoress. Spofford Lake, Vermont, recorded recently a 17-pound fish.

No matter what the size, the fish is a fighter. A fish smaller and less in weight those those mentioned put up a struggle that is worthy of a paragraph all to itself in the annals of pike fishing. This fish was secured twice on bass line and the third time the angler hooked the fish he used a large snell of silver wire, wrapped silk bass guitar string that the sharp teeth of the shark seemed unable to cut off.

Like the muskallonge and the pickerel, it hides in the weeds or under lily pads and waits for the opportune time to dash for its prey. Also like the shark of the salt waters, which will take a bite out of a hooked tarpon, the pike will, when one is fishing for, say, ouananiche, dart for the helpless fish and make a meal of a bite. It has a characteristic of the bluefish, too. The pike will eat until its food protrudes from its mouth.

There are numerous instances where the fish has been made helpless by its greediness, swallowing, for instance, a whitefish so big that it was unable to get the fish to its stomach or to disgorge it from the mouth. A farmer in trying to get a log out of the water from a pond near his home had his whole hand snapped by a pike. The farmer yanked his arm up quickly and threw to the ground a pike of seven pounds.

It was not this man who made this indictment against the pike, for he would have been prejudiced in the matter naturally, but a man who knows the fish well says this is no libel, for it is the truth: "The pike is a thief and a blackguard. Let us spear him, pitchfork him, destroy him so that he can make room for a better species."

In a Northern body of waters the commander of an army post, an ardent angler, discovered that pike were destroying whitefish. Being an enthusiastic fisherman with a hobby and also a man of resource, he obtained "permission" to clean out the stream. In August, when the stream was low, he started off much of the stream and then he advertised that he would give one cent each for every pike over a foot in length. Every man, woman, and child got busy, for it was good fun. Some trolled, some used live bait, some used spoons. Any method that produced results was used. It cost about a dollar a day for a month, but the wily commander did not pay this sum out in real money. He compromised with "bull's-eyes" at the same figure. The following Spring he followed up his cleaning out system with a gun, shooting the fish while on their spawning beds. The result was a great increase in whitefish.

While no doubt the fish deserves much of the condemnation it has received, yet on the other side of the balance sheet it is a good game fish, it bites readily, and gives good play to the angler, for unless that individual is alert it dives down hard as it approaches the boat and wags its tail as a danger signal. Trolling is the usual method employed for this fish, live bait is also used, the fly occasionally. Spoon baits are used in great variety, but dead bait is not always a winner.

Small pike have a habit of keeping on coming until they are caught; not so with old stagers who know a thing or two about that shining lure.

The black bass season opens Tuesday on Long Island, sixteen days ahead of the general opening throughout the State. The best black bass fishing is to be had in the Wildwood Lake, (Riverhead being a good starting place,) and at Lake Ronkonkoma. These two streams are the best available streams for black bass anglers. Lake Ronkonkoma is forty-eight miles out and Riverhead is seventy-three miles from Manhattan. Both these streams contain large fish; both equally popular. Wild Lake and the Peconic River, however, afford a more varied kind of fishing, nearby, than Ronkonkoma, and if anything Wildwood Lake has produced larger black bass than have been taken from the lake with the Indian name. No more than twenty-four fish may be taken in one day, and when two or more are angling from the same boat the limit is thirty-six fish.

Wiley Best in 25-Mile Motor Race.

REVERE, Mass., May 30.—George Wiley of Syracuse, N. Y., won the twenty-five-mile motor paced race at the Revere Cycle Track to-day in 37 minutes 45 seconds. James Moran of Chelsea, Elmer Collins of Lynn, and Menus Bedell of New York finished in the order named. A special match race resulted in Pat Logan of Boston winning the first heat, a half mile, with Saxon Williams of Salt Lake City second, the time being 1 minute 11 seconds. The second heat was a pursuit race, distance one and a half miles, won by Saxon Williams, with Pat Logan second; time, 3 minutes 40 seconds. The third heat, a half mile, was won by Logan; time, 1 minute 8 seconds. The five-mile open amateur race was won by Phil Wright of Salt Lake City in 11 minutes 56 seconds.

Baum Takes Road Run.

P. J. Baum, Bon Ton A. A., won the six-mile road run yesterday under the auspices of the St. Paul Athletic Association at Stapleton, S. I. Twenty-eight runners started, and twenty finished. The cup for the first fifteen men to finish went to the St. Paul A. A. The roads were in poor condition, and the winner's time was 36:30. The order of finish of the first ten men who received prizes follows: P. J. Baum, Bon Ton A. A.; G. Finley, St. Paul A. A.; C. Zamale, Bon Ton A. A.; J. Pfeffer, St. Paul A. A.; S. Gernback, St. Paul A. A.; H. Garber, St. Paul A. A.; F. White, Bon Ton A. A.; S. Gravey, St. Paul A. A.; H. Morrell, St. Paul A. A., and W. Gilmartin, St. Paul A. A.

May Sutton Wins at Nets.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 30.—May Sutton to-day defeated Hazel Hotchkiss in a match game of tennis in deuce sets. The concluding set went to Miss Sutton.

Atlantic Victory for Colgate.

ROME, N. Y., May 30.—Colgate won the annual meet of the New York State Intercollegiate Athletic Union held here to-day, scoring 55 1-5 points. Union was second with 42 1-5; Hamilton third, 24 1-5; Rochester fourth, 16 2-5, and Hobart last with 5.

HEAVY SCORES AT CRICKET.

Memorial Day cricket was marred by the frequent showers in the afternoon and few games were brought to a definite conclusion.

The Metropolitan League contest between Brooklyn and Kings County was productive of heavy scoring by both sides. Brooklyn batted first and ran up 159 for eight wickets and declared the innings closed. Kings County scored 109 for three wickets.

The league game in the second section, between Brooklyn and Kings County, was won by Kings County easily, the margin being 92 runs.

At Ulmer Park yesterday the Crescent Athletic Club was decisively beaten in a New York and New Jersey Association game by Bensonhurst. The margin of victory was 114 runs.

A full two-inning game in the New York and New Jersey Cricket League was played at Livingston, S. I., yesterday between the Staten Island Cricket Club and the New York Veterans and the former was returned a victor by the margin of nine wickets.

At West New Brighton yesterday the Richmond County Cricket Club defeated the Prospect Park eleven by the overwhelming score of an innings and 259 runs.

The Prospect Park second team also suffered defeat at West New Brighton yesterday at the hands of the Veterans B team by the score of 115 to 86.

ESSEX DOG SHOW AWARDS.

Exhibition at Olympic Park Proves a Huge Success.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWARK, May 30.—The Essex Kennel Club's Dog Show held to-day in Olympic Park was a huge success, every class being well represented. The conditions for an open-air dog show proved ideal, and all of the dog fanciers declared themselves as well pleased with the outcome of the exhibition. There was a splendid representation in the bulldog and collie classes, and the Irish setters showed to advantage. It was late to-night when the work of judging was completed. The summaries:

Bulldogs.—Dogs—First, Thornbury Chinoseil, owned by Robert Lobban, Newark. Bitches—First, Leon Hazelwyn, 2d, owned by E. E. Franeke, Jr., Irvington.

Allendale Terriers.—Dogs—First, Tintern Royalist, owned by Andrew Allbright, Jr. Bitches—First, Baughfell Sceptre, owned by A. Allbright, Jr.

Bull Terriers.—Dogs—First, Cold Heel, owned by Mrs. William Bayard Blackwell, Morristown. Bitches—First, Lady Miland, owned by T. Lynch, Grantwood.

French Bulldogs.—Dogs—First, C. H. Gugnese, Jr., owned by William A. Quirk, New York City. Bitches—First, Julie Phillips, owned by Mrs. J. Sidney Rambo, Ogonts, Penn.

Boston Terriers.—Dogs—First, Little Buttons, owned by Mrs. K. Faulkner.

Irvington Bitches.—First, Boylston Jewel V., owned by Thomas Kelly, Boston.

Irish Terriers.—Dogs—First, Old Town Adair, owned by Williard G. Aborn, Cleveland, Ohio. Bitches—First, Princess Glo, owned by W. G. Aborn.

Scottish Terriers.—Dogs—First, Tickle 'Em Jack, owned by A. Allbright, Jr.

Beagles.—Dogs—First, Somerset Crafty, owned by Woodbrook Kennels, Woodbrook, Md. Bitches—First, Windholm Gennevere, owned by Beirav Kennels.

Gordon Setters.—Bitches—First, Elinor, owned by Walter Gummey, Laurel Springs.

Irish Setters.—Dogs—First, St. Cloud's Fermanagh, owned by L. and A. Contoint, Mount Kisco, N. Y. Bitches—First, Midwood Ruby, owned by S. B. Waters, Brooklyn.

Pointers.—Bitches—First, Dame Fortune, owned by Mrs. Karl Burman.

CUP DEFENDER IS LAUNCHED.

Massachusetts, Seawanhaka Cup Champion, Gets Exhaustive Trials.

The Manchester Yacht Club's Seawanhaka Cup defender Massachusetts, which was launched at Manchester last Saturday, has, in two exhaustive trials, already given evidences of great speed capabilities. As a result the syndicate which built her is extremely optimistic over the chances to defend the world-famous trophy against the crack Canadian challenger built by the Royal St. Lawrence Yacht Club.

In many respects—in fact, in the essentials—the new defender is very much a duplicate of Manchester of 1905, now owned in New Orleans. Massachusetts has the same flat bottom, straight sheer, and light draft as the old boat, although the new defender is a trifle larger.

Massachusetts's dimensions are 42 feet over-all length, 25 feet water-line length, 8 feet 6 inches beam, and 5 inches draft. The mast is 82 feet above deck, the boom measures 65 feet, and the gaff 17 feet 7 inches. All her spars are hollow, the after end of the boom just reaching the stern of the craft. Two steel bilge boards of 150 pounds each and two rather small rudders are distinguishing features of Massachusetts, which, at eighteen degrees of keel, is calculated to sail on a water line of thirty-five feet.

ON THE GOLF LINKS.

More than sixty members of the Dyker Meadow Golf Club competed in the Howard Marwell memorial competition yesterday. W. F. Gillesby won with 190, 40—150, conditions calling for thirty-six holes. Marshall Whitlatch, who has returned to Dyker, played round from scratch, returning a gross score of 168, figures that were beaten by C. J. Crookall, 160, and E. F. Hunt, 162.

The course of the Inwood Country Club presented a scene of activity yesterday, with match play in three classes. In the final round of the first sixteen Clarence M. Cohen defeated Edward Stern by 3 up and 2 to play. The beaten eight cup was won by H. M. Molleson, who defeated L. A. Ansbacher, 2 up and 1 to play. Results in the other divisions were as follows:

Class B.—Edgar Levy beat John Lauchaimer, 7 up and 1 to play.

Beaten Eight.—Wallace Hayman beat B. Stine, 3 up and 2 to play.

Class C.—C. S. Nordlinger beat L. A. Mayers, 2 up and 1 to play.

Beaten Eight.—Irwin Wile beat L. A. Weiller, 5 up and 4 to play.

There was such a heavy rain late yesterday at the Apawamis Golf Club that only ten of the forty to start returned their cards. It was the opening competition of the season, and A. B. Ashforth won the cup offered by a member of the Golf Committee.

The foremost golfers of the Englewood Country Club competed in the qualifying round of the club championship yesterday. According to the conditions, those making the first sixteen earned the right to continue on for the title, and Oswald Kirkby led the field with a total of 146 for the double circuit. In the afternoon Kirkby did a 70, thereby breaking the course record held by himself by a single stroke. In the competition for the S. F. Lefferts Memorial Cup there was a tie for first place between H. V. Seggerman, 74, 4—78, and E. M. Sprague, 93, 25—68. The scores in the qualifying round for the title were: Oswald Kirkby, 146; H. V. Seggerman, 159; Murray Olyphant, 163; Roy Webb, 160; E. M. Barnes, 175; E. L. Manson, 175; Dr. L. W. Callan, 175; A. E. Barry, 171; L. M. Richmond, 176; B. F. Reinmund, 177; W. S. Stafford, 174; H. M. Coxe, 171; W. E. Loughman, 172; John Naething, 173, and S. O. Miller, 178.

There were thirty-six starters in the thirty-six-hole qualifying round for the Vice President's Cup yesterday at the Oakland Course, Bayside, L. I., when Hugh Charles Sicard, a 19-year-old player, won the Memorial Day handicap from a large field. Sicard had a gross score of 85, a handicap of 24, giving him a net score of 61.

Erwin to Lead Middies Baseball.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., May 30.—Midshipman Vincent P. Erwin of Kansas has been chosen captain of the Naval Academy baseball team for the season of 1911. He played in the infield during the past season, finishing the year at second base. He also played quarter back on the football team after the accident to Earl D. Wilson last Fall. He is a brother of "Red" Erwin, the famous West Point guard of a few years ago.

Staten Island, 7; C. A. C., 5.

In an Amateur League championship game at Bay Ridge yesterday the Staten Island team defeated the Crescent Club nine by the score of 7 to 5.

Other Sports on Pages 10, 11, and 12.

Boy Golfer Wins at Oakland.

Another boy golfer came to the front yesterday at the Oakland Course, Bayside, L. I., when Hugh Charles Sicard, a 19-year-old player, won the Memorial Day handicap from a large field. Sicard had a gross score of 85, a handicap of 24, giving him a net score of 61.

Baker and Maloney Draw.

Maxey Baker of Boston and Tommy Maloney of this city failed to show any real class for the first seven rounds of a ten-round bout last night in the star bout of the Olympic Athletic Club. At the conclusion of the bout honors were about even. Both boys were of the slambang class, and Maloney was inclined to hug his rival in the clinches, which was largely responsible for the slow work. Both missed vicious swings, and in the clinches they were slow to break. The real fighting began in the eighth round, when Maloney started out in earnest to finish the Bostonian, landing a right to the face. Baker went after the local lad and landed two hard blows, a right swing and a short-arm jolt on the stomach. Then both boys fought fast and were on the ropes when the bell rang. The ninth round was the fastest of the entire ten sessions; both boys stood up and exchanged blow for blow for a few seconds; then they clinched and Maloney whipped over two telling rights to the stomach. In the last round both boys met in the centre of the ring and battered away in an attempt to get over the deciding blow.

Columbus Ministers Oppose Fight.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 30.—Protesting against the Jeffries-Johnson prize fight, the Columbus Presbyterian Ministers' Association to-day addressed a letter to Gov. Gillett of California, calling attention to the fact that San Francisco received material aid when the earthquake and fire struck it, suggesting that it now purposes to give a poor return for the kindness. The fight is termed demoralizing, and it is declared that love for brutal sport caused the overthrow of some of the greatest nations of the world.

MAJOR LEAGUE RECORDS

Batting and Pitchers' Averages in National and American League Games to May 26, Inclusive.

AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Batting Average.

Player and Club.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	SB.	SH.	Av.
Lajoie, Cleveland	31	114	9	45	2	3	.395
Killifer, Washington	18	38	6	14	1	6	.368
Cobb, Detroit	33	123	24	47	16	5	.367
Gardner, Boston	13	46	8	16	1	4	.348
Speaker, Boston	30	119	20	40	8	6	.336
Lake, St. Louis	10	24	2	8	0	0	.333
Murphy, Athletics	30	103	13	33	4	7	.321
D. Jones, Detroit	23	60	15	19	1	1	.317
Zeider, Chicago	28	117	13	36	7	4	.308
Laporte, New York	27	101	16	31	1	4	.307
Lord, Boston	31	130	13	40	9	9	.307
T. Jones, Detroit	20	66	8	20	3	4	.303
H. Davis, Athletics	30	96	14	29	5	6	.302
Lewis, Boston	24	75	11	22	0	6	.293
Chase, New York	31	120	19	35	8	7	.292
Crawford, Detroit	33	121	15	33	3	3	.290
Oldring, Athletics	30	125	16	36	5	4	.288
Hooper, Boston	29	109	18	31	5	3	.284
Stahl, Boston	31	120	11	34	5	4	.283
Corrigan, Boston	31	108	15	30	1	5	.283
Block, Chicago	11	39	4	11	1	1	.282
Cicotte, Boston	10	35	3	10	2	0	.286
Baker, Athletics	30	110	17	33	5	1	.277
Barry, Athletics	25	80	13	22	4	4	.275
Bush, Detroit	33	120	24	33	11	9	.275
Elberfeld, Wash.	34	124	15	34	1	5	.275
Leibhardt, Detroit	33	114	15	31	4	4	.272
Austin, New York	28	92	13	25	9	8	.272
Milan, Washington	35	125	28	34	8	2	.272
Wallace, St. Louis	31	123	8	33	4	2	.268
Wood, Boston	10	23	3	6	0	1	.261
Hoffman, St. Louis	31	119	9	30	4	1	.252
Wolter, New York	31	119	22	30	9	4	.252
Lapp, Athletics	10	20	4	5	0	0	.250
Bemis, Cleveland	13	28	0	7	0	3	.250
Collins, Athletics	30	116	19	29	13	4	.250
Wagner, Boston	31	121	19	30	6	1	.248
Unglaub, Wash.	30	107	5	26	4	1	.243
Flick, Cleveland	10	33	4	8	2	0	.242
Hartzel, Athletics	24	83	13	20	6	1	.241
Gessler, Washington	35	121	16	29	4	1	.240
Roach, New York	21	71	9	17	3	1	.239
Lelivelt, Washing't'n	29	107	13	25	5	2	.238
Turner, Cleveland	11	42	5	10	2	1	.238
Thomas, Athletics	17	52	4	12	0	0	.229
Mullen, Detroit	33	85	8	8	0	0	.229
McBride, Wash.	32	101	6	23	2	4	.228
Stone, St. Louis	30	102	9	23	2	4	.225
Gandil, Chicago	28	107	5	24	3	1	.224
Easterly, Cleveland	12	36	2	8	3	1	.222
Niles, Boston	17	55	6	12	1	2	.218
Walker, Washington	10	23	2	5	0	0	.217
McIntyre, Detroit	18	74	9	16	0	0	.216
Hemphill, New York	31	116	18	25	10	1	.215
Griggs, St. Louis	31	116	5	25	2	4	.215
Stanage, Detroit	32	98	9	21	1	3	.214
Killifer, St. Louis	12	28	2	6	0	2	.214
Walsh, Chicago	11	19	2	4	0	2	.211
Schweitzer, St. L.	22	71	8	15	4	5	.211
Dougherty, Chicago	21	76	5	16	3	1	.211
Payne, Chicago	18	62	4	13	4	1	.210
Sweeney, New York	25	94	8	19	4	1	.202
Lord, Cleveland	28	106	10	21	3	2	.198
Simmons, Detroit	16	51	3	10	0	2	.196
Purtell, Chicago	28	98	5	19	0	5	.194
Bradley, Cleveland	26	94	2	18	4	5	.191
Hartzell, St. Louis	31	108	9	20	1	6	.189
Johnson, Washington	10	32	4	6	1	0	.188
Tannehill, Chicago	13	43	3	8	1	1	.186
Cree, New York	23	82	10	15	3	3	.183
Criss, St. Louis	17	33	3	6	0	0	.182
Clarke, Cleveland	21	55	3	10	0	3	.182
Schaefer, Wash.	35	84	8	15	4	5	.179
Smith, Chicago	11	28	3	5	0	1	.179
Stephens, St. Louis	24	68	6	12	2	3	.174
Stovall, Cleveland	34	114	11	20	7	3	.173
Cole, Chicago	10	65	6	11	0	1	.169
Perring, Cleveland	31	86	2	6	0	0	.167
Collins, Chicago	18	56	3	9	1	3	.161
Graney, Cleveland	21	70	3	11	2	4	.157
Conroy, Washington	10	32	2	5	1	2	.156
Abstein, St. Louis	24	86	1	13	3	1	.151
Street, Washington	34	102	3	15	0	6	.147
Gardner, New York	11	41	2	6	1	1	.146
Krueger, Cleveland	26	95	8	13	7	3	.136
Moriarty, Detroit	27	92	6	12	3	3	.130
Hahn, Chicago	12	46	2	6	0	3	.130
McConnell, Boston	10	39	6	5	3	1	.128
Vaughn, New York	10	24	3	1	0	0	.125
Fischer, St. Louis	10	36	2	4	4	0	.111
Parent, Chicago	12	37	0	4	0	4	.108
Blackburn, Chicago	30	80	8	8	1	2	.103
Birmingham, Cleve.	14	46	5	4	2	0	.087
Ball, Cleveland	10	25	0	1	2	2	.040

PITCHERS' RECORDS.

Pitchers and Clubs.	W.	L.	SO.	BB.	H.	Ave.
Warhop, New York	3	0	5	12	18	1.000
Atkins, Athletics	2	0	8	6	19	1.000
Mullin, Detroit	2	0	15	10	20	1.000
Donovan, Detroit	1	0	6	4	10	1.000
Arellanes, Boston	1	0	2	5	11	1.000
Bender, Athletics	6	1	31	12	40	.857
Ford, New York	5	1	44	9	37	.833
Plank, Athletics	4	1	24	13	57	.800
Vaughn, New York	4	1	41	12	53	.800
Mullin, Detroit	7	2	22	23	62	.778
Krause, Athletics	3	1	20	9	23	.750
Karger, Boston	3	1	8	10	25	.750
C. Smith, Boston	3	1	6	10	27	.750
Frill, New York	3	1	15	1	30	.750
Stroud, Detroit	2	1	13	9	27	.667
Waddell, St. Louis	2	1	8	3	11	.667
Wood, Boston	4	2	48	21	43	.667
Morgan, Athletics	4	2	40	15	38	.667
Lake, St. Louis	3	2	39	9	46	.600
Coombs, Athletics	3	2	22	12	26	.600
Groom, Washington	4	3	25	17	55	.571
Joss, Cleveland	4	3	85	14	94	.571
Quinn, New York	4	3	24	10	65	.571
Johnson, Washington	5	4	73	17	72	.556
Foster, Boston	4	4	24	26	68	.500
Berger, Cleveland	2	2	9	11	39	.500
Links, Cleveland	3	3	23	27	50	.500
Gray, Washington	2	2	2	6	39	.500
Browning, Detroit	2	2	15	11	43	.500
Olmstead, Chicago	1	1	5	8	13	.500
Manning, New York	1	1	1	3	9	.500
Killian, Detroit	1	1	5	6	19	.500
E. Smith, Chicago	3	4	28	22	51	.429
White, Chicago	2	3	15	13	30	.400
Pernoll, Detroit	2	3	13	11	31	.400
Falkenberg, Cleveland	2	3	17	11	42	.400
Hall, Boston	2	3	15	19	22	.400
Walker, Washington	2	3	23	22	64	.400
L. Young, Chicago	1	2	6	7	14	.333
Reisling, Washington	1	2	5	5	22	.333
Mitchell, Cleveland	1	2	15	6	17	.333

NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Batting Average.

Player and Club.	G.	AB.	R.	H.	SB.	SH.	Av.
Magee, Philadelphia	30	83	20	34	9	9	.410
Zimmerman, Chicago	14	38	1	14	1	1	.368
McLean, Cincinnati	29	87	7	30	1	0	.345
Bescher, Cincinnati	30	116	21	40	18	2	.345
Wheat, Brooklyn	33	130	24	44	3	4	.338
Brown, Boston	11	12	2	4	0	3	.333
Hulswitt, St. Louis	17	37	4	12	2	0	.324
Phelps, St. Louis	26	113	10	22	3	3	.306
Davidson, Brooklyn	20	63	5	19	3	1	.302
Graham, Boston	29	80	7	24	1	2	.300
Beaumont, Chicago	22	67	11	20	1	3	.299
Smith, Boston	19	47	4	14	3	2	.298
Hoblitzel, Cincinnati	29	114	15	34	6	2	.298
Paskert, Cincinnati	21	71	11	21	10	1	.296
Mitchell, Cincinnati	30	109	16	32	7	3	.294
Doyle, New York	29	113	24	33	3	2	.292
Konetchy, St. Louis	34	120	18	35	8	6	.292
Seymour, New York	32	127	11	37	2	4	.291
Fletcher, New York	11	38	3	11	4	0	.289
Campbell, Pittsburg	15	38	6	11	4	2	.289
J. B. Miller, Pittsburg	28	101	10	29	4	3	.287
Archer, Chicago	13	35	2	10	1	2	.286
Byrne, Pittsburg	23	110	17	31	7	4	.282
Dowrey, Cincinnati	30	83	12	22	6	5	.275
Bates, Philadelphia	30	118	16	32	10	5	.271
Ellis, St. Louis	26	89	23	24	5	3	.270
Oakes, St. Louis	30	115	18	31	2	6	.270
Hofman, Chicago	22	67	9	18	6	7	.269
Collins, Boston	33	120	16	32	8	8	.266
Miller, Boston	14	49	4	13	3	2	.265
Chance, Chicago	13	72	13	19	6	3	.264
Bridwell, New York	27	95	13	25	2	2	.263
Lobert, Cincinnati	30	103	13	27	12	6	.262
Hummel, Brooklyn	32	126	13	33	3	6	.262
Devore, New York	32	123	26	32	7	1	.260
Leach, Pittsburg	27	108	13	28	2	4	.259
Evers, Chicago	26	97	7	25	4	2	.258
McCabe, Cincinnati	15	35	3	9	0	0	.257
Mowrey, St. Louis	27	94	12	24	4	1	.255
Titus, Philadelphia	27	110	17	28	5	3	.255
Beck, Boston	33	120	10	28	4	3	.233
Lennox, Brooklyn	14	43	2	10	2	1	.233
Devlin, N. Y.	32	107	14	25	9	5	.233
Zacker, St. Louis	10	35	2	8	1	3	.229
Meyers, New York	26	71	4	16	3	3	.226
McElveen, Brooklyn	17	58	1	13	1	1	.224
Merkle, New York	32	104	12	23	6	6	.221
Gibson, Pittsburg	24	86	15	19	4	2	.221
Houser, St. Louis	28	88	10	19	5	3	.216
Sweeney, Boston	33	100	12	23	4	8	.211
Bergen, Brooklyn	15	43	1	9	0	3	.209
Doolin, Philadelphia	27	88	7	18	1	4	.205
Needham, Chicago	14	49	7	10	2	4	.205
H. Smith, Brooklyn	20	64	6	13	3	0	.203
Gibson, Pittsburg	20	77	15	15	0	2	.195
Rucker, Brooklyn	10	31	3	6	0	0	.194
Schlei, New York	12	26	2	5	1	1	.192
Clarke, Pittsburg	28	100	12	19	3	5	.190
Tinker, Chicago	27	90	7	17	4	8	.189
Doolan, Philadelphia	20	107	8	20	4	4	.187
Sheckard, Chicago	21	70	9	13	1	4	.186
McLellan, Brooklyn	20	71	13	13	4	1	.183
J. Smith, Brooklyn	19	55	8	10	2	1	.182
Burch, Brooklyn	31	122	14	22	10	4	.180
Erwin, Brooklyn	22	62	5	11	1	1	.177
W. Miller, Cincinnati	19	38	7	6	1	2	.167
Becker, New York	13	12	1	2	1	0	.167
Wilson, Pittsburg	21	69	3	10	0	3	.145
Moren, Philadelphia	16	37	3	5	2	1	.135
Moran, Boston	20	65	11	8	1	0	.123
Curtis, Boston	10	25	0	3	1	1	.120
Barger, Brooklyn	10	26	0	3	0	1	.115
Getz, Boston	19	46	3	5	0	2	.109
Walsh, Philadelphia	18	28	1	3	0	3	.107
Bell, Brooklyn	13	19	1	2	0	1	.105
Ward, Philadelphia	14	21	1	2	0	3	.095
Mattern, Boston	10	10	0	1	0	1	.063

PITCHERS' RECORDS.

Pitchers and Clubs.	W.	L.	SO.	BB.	H.	Ave.
Rowan, Cincinnati	3	0	15	12	40	1.000
Cole, Chicago	2	0	29	22	13	1.000
Pfeister, Chicago	3	0	13	9	21	1.000
Humphries, Philadelphia	1	0	3	3	13	1.000
Dickson, New York	1	0	5	6	16	1.000
Evans, Boston	1	0	3	5	8	1.000
Parson, Boston	1	0	3	2	7	1.000
Kroh, Chicago	1	0	3	2	6	1.000
Suggs, Cincinnati	7	1	21	21	75	.875
Mathewson, New York	5	1	33	16	53	.833
Lush, St. Louis	4	1	12	14	37	.800
Wiltse, New York	4	2	12	11	36	.667
Camnitz, Pittsburg	2	1	22	11	49	.667
Moore, Pittsburg	2	1	9	7	19	.667
C. Brown, Boston	1	1	16	22	39	.666
Moren, Philadelphia	5	3	28	23	61	.625
Overall, Chicago	5	3	37	19	61	.625
Adams, Pittsburg	3	2	10

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

Drums for Holding Glycerine Held Free of Duty as "Usual Coverings."

One of the most far-reaching and important decisions under the new tariff act has just been handed down by the Board of General Appraisers.

The particular articles in controversy are iron drums containing crude glycerine. The glycerine pays a specific duty of 1 cent per pound under Paragraph 24. The Appraiser passed the glycerine at this rate, but assessed a separate duty on the iron drums under a provision in Paragraph 151, which provides a duty of 30 per cent. ad valorem on "cylindrical or tubular tanks or vessels for holding gas, liquids, or other material, whether full or empty." The importers, Marx & Rawolle, through their attorneys, Masters & Levett, claimed free entry of the drums as usual and necessary containers for goods paying specific rates of duty.

The board, in sustaining this claim, based its decision on the intent of the law, which, it states, was never intended to apply to usual containers of goods, but only to such containers as gas tanks, reservoirs, &c., designed to be used after importation to regulate and control the use of their contents.

The importance of the decision lies not so much with the particular drums in question, but with the wide range of articles that have been assessed under this provision. For some time after the passage of the act, its application was not uniform, but recently the customs officials have been applying it to all containers of metal of a cylindrical shape, and the assessment of goods under this provision has been far from consistent. For instance, in connection with prepared vegetables, which pay a duty of 40 per cent. ad valorem, the Collector has assessed the cylindrical tins containing them at the same rate as their contents under Section 18 of the Customs Administrative act. When the goods pay 25 per cent. ad valorem, however, or any rate less than 30 per cent. the Collector has not applied Section 18, but has assessed the containers at 30 per cent. ad valorem under Paragraph 151. In its application to specific duty goods, all metal containers of a cylindrical shape, such as salve boxes, tin cans, &c., have been assessed with duty, although concededly the usual and necessary containers for the goods.

Statue to Gen. Draper Unveiled.

MILFORD, Mass., May 30.—A bronze statue of Gen. William F. Draper, former Ambassador to Italy, a brother of Gov. Eben S. Draper, was unveiled here today on the Draper estate in the presence of several thousand spectators, including Post No. 22, G. A. R., of which Gen. Draper was a member. The statue was erected by Gen. Draper's widow.

MORTGAGE LOANS.

BUILDING LOAN MONEY

Charges 1½% and Tax

LARGE SUMS

PROMPT ANSWERS

Apply to Main Office

McVickar, Gaillard Realty Company

7 Pine St. Tel. 4500 Rector

Long Experience and Strong Financial Connections are potent influences in placing a satisfactory mortgage loan. There is practically no feasible loan, Building or Permanent, that cannot be promptly obtained through this office at reasonable fixed charges.

A. W. McLAUGHLIN & CO.

Brokers and Dealers in Mortgages

128 Broadway, cor. Cedar

STRONGEST AND BEST EQUIPPED

We Have Placed

42

MORTGAGES

SINCE JANUARY 1st

WHY?

COME AND SEE US.

M. Morgenthau Jr., 95 Liberty St. CO.

For a Building or Permanent Loan (MANHATTAN OR BRONX) Call Write or Phone REMSEN DARLING 170 BROADWAY N.Y. TELEPHONE 749 CORTLANDT TRADE MARK

2 SECOND MORTGAGES 2

A Retired Manufacturer has placed with me to purchase first-class mtgs. $200,000 at less than usual market rate. (Second mortgages exclusively.) HOWARD H. MOSHER, 135 Broadway.

INVESTORS, ATTENTION!

5% interest on mortgage loans. Principal and interest guaranteed. Title insured by Westchester and Bronx Title and Mortgage Guaranty Company. I will invest for you sums from $300 to $3,000. For particulars, Henry Y. Halley, 103 Park Av., N. Y. City.

HAVE $500,000 TO LEND ON first mortgage on Manhattan business property, below 72d St.; moderate fees. THOMAS J. O'REILLY, Broadway and 109th.

I want $40,000 first mortgage on improved vacant Flatbush property; positively worth $120,000; will give title policy guaranteeing principal and interest, if necessary. Owner, 1301 Church Av., Flatbush.

FIRST AND SECOND MORTGAGES.

Manhattan and Bronx only; low rates of interest; moderate fees; prompt action on applications. PIERRE M. CLEAR, 261 BROADWAY.

I have small amounts, $3,000 to $12,000, to lend on first mortgage Manhattan, Bronx, and Brooklyn. Thomas J. O'Reilly, Broadway and 109th St.

REAL ESTATE WANTED.

ATTENTION

WANTED, REAL ESTATE TO LEASE AND MANAGE.—Experienced and reliable concern desires to procure leaseholds on income-paying property; also the management of houses undertaken. If you have vacancies on your property our system of renting will soon fill them up. A trial will convince you. REAL ESTATE LEASING & MANAGING COMPANY, 1 Madison Ave. Telephone 3840 Cortlandt.

10 YEARS AGO

Washington Heights, North of 125th St., in the vicinity of Broadway, was a sparsely settled section - - - - -

TO-DAY

It is a thickly populated district and the values have increased enormously.

Did You Reap Any of the Profits?

A like development has started on MORRIS HEIGHTS. You have this same opportunity at the sale of the Lewis Gouverneur Morris Est.

N. Y. Life Insurance & Trust Co., Trustee, and the Heirs.

This Estate Will Be Sold at Auction

Tuesday, June 7th

11 A. M. at Exchange Salesroom, 14-16 Vesey St.

Absolutely Without Reservation

175 LOTS

At Morris Heights

Bet. 176th and 179th Sts.

Aqueduct Ave. Sedgwick Ave. Andrews Ave.
Tremont Ave. Cedar Ave. & Morris Ave.

All legally opened avenues, assessments for which have been paid.

70% may remain on mortgage for 3 years at 5%.

Titles Guaranteed by Title Guarantee and Trust Co. free of charge.

For maps and particulars apply to

BRYAN L. KENNELLY, Auctioneer

156 Broadway, N. Y.

BRYAN L. KENNELLY, AUCTIONEER,

WILL SELL AT AUCTION

At Exchange Salesroom, 14-16 Vesey St., at 12 o'clock noon,

Wednesday, June 8, 1910,

649 Water St., Near Gouverneur Slip. Estate of Samuel Wiswall, Deceased. Three-story and basement brick dwelling; size of lot, 16.8x70. 70% on mortgage for three years at 5%.

Estate of C. G. Martin, Deceased.

244 South Fifth Ave., Mount Vernon, N. Y. 2-story, attic and cellar frame dwelling; 7 rooms and bath; size of lot 47x105.

96 Bank St., New York City, Adjoining Greenwich St. 3-story, basement and cellar brick dwelling, 11 rooms and bath; size of plot 18.10x54.6x irreg. 70 per cent. may remain on mortgage for 3 or 5 years at 5 per cent.

170-172-174-176 Spring St. The four three-story and basement brick Tenements; size 85.6 frontage x 66.6 deep x irregular.

EXECUTOR'S SALE, Estate of John G. Jenny, Deceased.

501, 503, 505 E. 70th St., Near Avenue A. 304 West 40th St., Near Eighth Ave. 228 West 37th St., Near Seventh Ave. The 5-story and basement brick Factory, with freight elevator; boiler, engine, etc.; well leased; size of plot 75x100.5. The four and five story front and rear Tenements, with store; size of lot 25x98.9. The five-story and basement three-family Tenements; steam heat, hot water; four and five rooms and bath; size of plot 28.11½x98.9.

NORTHEAST CORNER CHARLOTTE AVE. AND 7TH ST., North Woodside, Long Island City.

Choice Corner Plot, size 25x100.

C. W. BENNETT, Attorney, 2 Rector St.

EXECUTOR'S SALE, Estate of Joel B. Erhardt, Deceased.

South Side Broadway, About 615 ft. west Dyckman St. Size of plot 54.7x188.10x50x210.10. Northeast Corner Emerson and Cooper Sts. Choice Plot, 100x100.

50 per cent. may remain on mortgage for 1, 2, 3 years at 5 per cent.

ROBINSON, BIDDLE & BENEDICT, Attys., 79 Wall St.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1910.

CATSKILL MOUNTAINS, "DEER PARK," HAINES FALLS, N. Y.

FINE COUNTRY RESIDENCE.

Magnificent View of High Peak and Round Top Mountains.

ADMINISTRATOR'S SALE, Estate of Sophie Zweighaft, Deceased. Choice Plot of 100 Acres,

Suitable for Hotel, Residence, or Sanatorium, with fine two-story and attic frame Dwelling, with large porch on three sides; 14 rooms, 2 baths, butler's pantry, servants' rooms in attic; electric light; gas for lighting and heating; also large frame stable for 7 horses, 2 coachman's rooms above, with bath; carriage house, barn, icehouse, etc.; furniture, carriages, implements, etc., included in sale. Only five minutes from Ulster and Delaware R. R. station at Haines Falls.

60 per cent. on mortgage for 3 years at 4 per cent.

MARTIN H. STUTZBACH, Attorney, 12th and Chestnut Sts., Philadelphia, Pa.

Maps, etc., with Attorneys, or at AUCTIONEER'S OFFICES, 156 BROADWAY.

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.

James L. Wells, Auctioneer,

WILL SELL AT AUCTION

at 14 and 16 Vesey St., Exchange Salesroom,

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1, NOON,

To Close Estate of MARY E. FORREST, Dec'd.

Choice Bronx Properties

BUSINESS, RESIDENTIAL, TENEMENT, NEAR "L" STATIONS.

No. 1,667

Washington Av.,

50x95, S. W. CORNER 173D ST.

Nos. 1,306, 1,333, 1,377

Washington Av.,

BETWEEN 169TH AND 170TH STS.

600 E. 170th St.,

S. S., WEST OF FRANKLIN AV.

414 Brook Av.,

E. S., 25 FEET NORTH OF 144TH ST.

LIBERAL TERMS. TITLES INSURED FREE. Get maps, &c., from the attorneys, ROUNDS & SCHURMAN, 96 Broadway; PETER CONDON, 38 Park Row, or from Auctioneer, 141 Broadway.

BROOKLYN—FOR SALE OR TO LET

Small Mansions

Beautiful one-family houses, 9 rooms, 2 baths, stone terrace, steam heat, electric light, parquet floors and handsome decorations. Superior in style and quality to the best. Overlooking Shore Road.

Price $6,500 and $6,950

ON LINE OF 4TH AV. SUBWAY.

72d St., between 1st and Narrows Avs. Reached by Bay Ridge Trains and Trolleys. Write for pamphlet and photo to REALTY DEALERS, 371 Fulton St., Brooklyn. 'Phone Main 4560. Houses open for inspection.

WANT OFFER—ACT QUICKLY! Swellest Section of Flatbush.

458 Marlborough Road, near Dorchester.

Beautiful 2½-story detached Queen Anne, containing 12 rooms, 2 baths, steam heat, parquet floors, hardwood trim throughout, etc. Owner, leaving city, will sacrifice on reasonable terms. SNYDER, 356 Seventh Ave., Brooklyn, or premises.

NEW SEMI-DETACHED $5,300—TWO-FAMILY—$5,300

1,030 East 38th St., near Avenue I, opposite Germania Park; eleven rooms, two baths, store rooms, separate furnaces, entrances; beautifully decorated.

SEND FOR BOOKLET

concerning our handsome two-story stone, bay-window dwellings, eight rooms and bath; foyer hall; up to date in every respect and handsomely decorated.

REALTY ASSOCIATES.

Capital and Surplus $5,000,000.

176 Remsen St., Brooklyn.

15% STORE PROPERTY.

Builder must sacrifice new buildings, stores and 2 floors above, best location Brooklyn; easy terms; best opportunity investment or speculation; brokers protected. Levy Bros., 5 Beekman St., Manhattan.

Near Prospect Park.—3-story house; perfect order; hardwood floors; 2 baths; must sell. 16 Fiske Place, between Carroll and Garfield.

REAL ESTATE FOR EXCHANGE.

Business dwelling, most prominent street Brooklyn, leased one tenant, $1,200; subject first mortgage only; will exchange farm or country residence; brokers protected. Levy Bros., 5 Beekman St., Manhattan.

QUEENS—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

MAKE YOUR MONEY EARN MONEY

FORTUNES ARE BEING MADE BY THOSE WHO ARE INVESTING THEIR SAVINGS AT BEAUTIFUL

ELMHURST HEIGHTS,

NEW YORK CITY.

WHY NOT YOU?

Nearer and easier of access than the Bronx and with much better transportation facilities. Opportunity is still knocking. The great trend of the city's growth is toward Elmhurst Heights, the nearest high-class development to the Queens Bridge, and the people must get back and forth to their business quickly, therefore

Invest Now before the opening of the Belmont & Penna. Tunnels this Summer &

DOUBLE YOUR MONEY THEN.

We have only a few choice plots left. Don't Delay. Send postal for our prompt reply by mail, or take Corona car to our local office, Woodside Av. and Penfold Road.

BANKERS LAND CORPORATION,

887 Manhattan Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

LET YOUR RENT PAY

for a home in Queens, N. Y. City, (L. I.,) built to your order at less cost than a ready-built house; 7 rooms and bath; all city improvements; plot, 40x100 or more; artistic well-built houses. WE GUARANTEE OUR CONSTRUCTION WORK. Small amount cash; 28 minutes from Broadway; electric subway and trolley service. In centre of beautiful, built-up, restricted community; schools, churches, libraries, &c.; all city conveniences.

Call, write, or 'phone 8257 Cortlandt.

J. Meade Briggs, 200 Broadway, N. Y.

INGLESIDE, FLUSHING.

Beautiful home, eight rooms and bath. Hardwood trim, furnace heat, and all improvements. Convenient to both station and trolley. Plot 100 ft. deep, and will sell either with 40 or 80 feet front. Bargain price. Reasonable terms. J. H. CHRISTOPHER, Jasmine St., Flushing, L. I.

Sacrifice.—$400 cash, price $2,950, buys modern new six-room house; plenty shade; nice neighborhood; all improvements; detached; lot 25x100; near trolley fare 5c to Manhattan. R. Galluccl, 27 Grand Av., Corona, N. Y.

FLUSHING.—Brick and stone dwelling; all improvements; 18 rooms; 3 bathrooms; large lawn; Washington and Lawrence Sts.; $35,000, or will rent. Elliott & Bush, 194 Broadway, New York, or local agents.

BRONX—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

NOT THE ORDINARY KIND.

But brick private residences of the most substantial construction; artistic finish; perfect in every detail; everything guaranteed.

NOTHING LIKE THEM.

For sale at reasonable prices and terms; 197th St., between Briggs and Valentine Avs., Bedford Park. Nathan B. Levin Co., Builders.

New 5-Story Apartment

FOR SALE OR EXCHANGE.

A BARGAIN. RENTAL $6,600.

3, 4, & 5 ROOMS. RENTS LOW.

ROOM 1,205, 37 LIBERTY STREET.

240th St., Wakefield, 75 ft. e. of White Plains Road, 61x158x irregular; free and clear; 50% remain mortgage, 3 years, 4½%; $2,600. Stoll, 238 West 17th St.

NEW ENGLAND—FOR SALE OR LET.

Stamford, Conn.—Would rent at $600 for season to desirable tenant an attractive old place; 11 rooms and bath; well furnished; stable, garage, garden, fruit; 3½ acres. 737 Main, Clarks Hill.

For Sale.—Shore cottages and building lots at Fort Trumbull Beach; also at the other beaches. G. W. Munson, Milford, Conn.

Several farms for sale at bargains; one fine place on Housatonic River. G. W. Munson, Milford, Conn.

HALLEYS COMET

HOW DOES THIS STRIKE YOU?

WE WILL PAY YOUR FARE FOR ONE YEAR.

SIXTY HOUSES TO SELECT FROM.

How many dollars are you going to spend this year to send your family to the country for health, pleasure and happiness? Why not have your family in a home where the same can be had all the year around and where you can go home every evening from your work and enjoy life as it should be enjoyed with your family, and all it costs is what you pay for rent in the city? We do not ask you to invest in lots and wait for improvements, but we will give you a home ready for occupancy.

OUR SPECIAL OFFERS.

5-Room Houses and Bath, 50x100, $3,000.
6-Room Houses and Bath, 50x100, $3,350.
7-Room Houses and Bath, 50x100, $4,350.

$200 DOWN, $300 DOWN, $400 DOWN, $15 MONTHLY.

These homes have all modern improvements and must be seen to be appreciated. Situated 40 minutes out in Westchester County in a town of 6,500 inhabitants, with lighted streets, Fire and Police Protection, Schools, Stores, Churches. One mile from the finest boating, bathing, fishing in the East, have a train service of 60 trains daily. New York trolley running through the property; reasonably restricted. You may raise your chickens and have country life with city conveniences and still go to your work daily and be your own landlord. Before purchasing elsewhere call in with all parties interested and go up and look them over.

THE HALLEY LAND AND IMPROVEMENT COMPANY, 108 PARK AVE., NEW YORK CITY.

Open daily from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. Monday and Wednesday, 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

W. A. A. BROWN'S DUPLEX HOUSES.

Two complete eight-room houses under one roof, having separate entrances and street numbers.

ONE BLOCK TO PROSPECT PARK,

two blocks to Woodruff Av. Station, B. B. L., and convenient to five trolley lines.

22 MINUTES TO PARK ROW.

These houses are perfect in every detail, steam heat, electric light, handsome combination fixtures, parquet floors, elegant decorations, large closets; tiled bath with shower.

THREE HOUSES READY FOR IMMEDIATE OCCUPANCY.

PRICES REASONABLE, TERMS EASY.

Also Renting at $70 and $75.

PARKSIDE AV., Between Flatbush and Bedford.

Representatives always on premises, evenings included.

W. A. A. BROWN, Builder.

Phone 4030 Flatbush. 738 Flatbush Av., corner Woodruff Av.

MANHATTAN—FOR SALE.

J. ROMAINE BROWN & CO

Manager of Estates

Brokers, Appraisers,

83 WEST 33D ST., NEAR BROADWAY.

J. Romaine Brown. A. P. W. Kinnan.

WHITEWASHING

done well. F. J. FLECK & CO., 407 West 18th St. Tel. 99 Chelsea.

Three-family house, 20 rooms; steam heat; near station; price, $10,500; a bargain. Rolph & Rolph, 535 East 177th St.

West Side.

Studio CO-OPERATIVE APARTMENT For Sale

After you have investigated all the other co-operative apartment house propositions and before you purchase, call and see us and let us show you the most attractive and safe investment of them all.

Location WEST 72D ST., NEAR BROADWAY.

FRANK L. FISHER CO., 440 Columbus Av. (81st).

East Side.

Five houses, all rented, plot 93x92; store fronts; good terms to quick buyer. Klinner, 120 Murray Lane, Flushing.

LONG ISLAND—FOR SALE OR TO LET

THE GUIDE BOOK

for investors and homeseekers on Long Island will be sent FREE UPON REQUEST to any address in Greater New York. Send post card to Headquarters for LONG ISLAND ESTATES, 146 East 34th St., New York. Houses, Lots, Plots, Water Fronts, Summer Homes, Farms, Acreage, etc., on Easy Monthly Payments. Five years' credit given if required.

MONEY TO BUILD IF NEEDED.

A few desirable parties are invited to join a colony of particular people. On attractive terms they can obtain just what they are looking for—a homesite in a rustic park, with fine winding roads and a flowerbed here and there, with splendid views of Manhasset Bay and Long Island Sound. Fine boating and bathing. Water privileges to every purchaser. Plots vary from 50x150 to much larger sizes, and cost from $1,500 upward, on easy payments, if desired. All improvements are now being installed, and there is no better or more refined homesite on Long Island. Five minutes' walk to Manhasset station and 30 minutes to Herald Square through the Pennsylvania tubes. Liberal building loans can be arranged for, and homeseekers are earnestly requested to investigate this colony, which is backed by very reliable and substantial people. References required. Write for particulars. Secretary, Box 174 Times Downtown.

THE FOLLY OF PAYING RENT

When a small payment down and monthly rental will purchase cozy cottage, price $2,900. 6 rooms, decorated; bath, porcelain tub, marble basin, stone tubs, range, boiler, furnace, concrete cellar, large porch and garden. 14 miles out, south side Long Island. Title guaranteed.

CARROLLTON REALTY COMPANY, 503-504 World Bldg., N. Y.

BELLEROSE

Villas and Villa Plots.

Artistic high-class homes at minimum prices. Landscaped streets. Fully restricted. Beautiful $10,000 Pennsylvania main line station on property, 23 minutes from Herald Square; also trolley; elevation 85 feet. Booklet upon request.

UNITED HOLDING COMPANY, 1,007 Flatiron Building, N. Y. C.

$250 SUMMER BUNGALOW.

High and healthy, among the pines, overlooking 800 acre lake. Boating, bathing, fishing; near depot. Excellent commutation. Terms to suit. Address T. I. NEWBERY, 65 Flatbush Av., Brooklyn, N. Y.

SOUTHAMPTON

& SHINNECOCK HILLS, L. I.

Furnished Cottages to rent. Lists on application. Plans and photographs of houses at office.

J. METCALFE THOMAS

19 LIBERTY ST., N. Y.

THIS FARM

must be sold at once; will sell far below real value; well adapted for Summer home or chicken and vegetable farming; price $500; must have $50 cash at once; 5 years to pay balance. Box 46, Floral Park.

If you want HOMESITES or SMALL FARMS in nearby suburbs on Long Island, send for a free copy of the

A. B. C. OF SUBURBAN REAL ESTATE.

It tells what you want to know.

J. F. MINCHER, Dept. E, 351 5th Av., N. Y. C.

HUNTINGTON TERRACE.

Bungalow sites in the woods; hour out; fine water; telephone; electric lights; some built; easy terms. Call or write, Corcoran, suite 807, 354 5th Av.

Monthly payments buy exceedingly desirable, low-priced cottage or acre on hill overlooking shore; near depot; 50 minutes from Manhattan centre; free inspection tickets. D. E., Box 114 Times.

If you want a high, healthy location in a unique colony of refined people where all improvements have been paid for, write S. C. S., 114 East 28th St.

WESTCHESTER—SALE OR TO LET.

THE BEAUTIFUL

Flower Estate

DOBBS FERRY-ON-THE-HUDSON

is being divided into villa plots of various sizes. Attractive prices and terms. All improvements, including sewers, water, and gas mains, street light, and fire hydrants, being installed without expense to purchaser. An ideal condition for a suburban home.

HASTINGS HOMES CO. 105 West 40th St.

Country & Suburban Homes

Westchester County, N. Y.

If you contemplate buying, renting, or building a home in the country consult with

W. J. REED

SCARSDALE, N. Y. Telephone 77.
7 E. 42d St., New York. Tel. 5184—38th St.

PINECREST

A poem in trees, hills, and glens, on the Hudson. Lots, acreage; 5c. ride from Subway. Write Pinecrest Co., Yonkers.

JUST MAGNIFICENT

is the view from this 25 acres, only 30 miles from 42d St.; not glimpses, but sweeping views of river and country for miles in any direction; price $15,000. Cooley & West, Inc., White Plains, N. Y.

New Rochelle.

SACRIFICE

Eight-room house, large grounds, all modern improvements $5,500

Furnished and unfurnished houses to rent. Downey, 232 Huguenot St., New Rochelle.

NEW JERSEY—FOR SALE OR TO LET

BUNGALOW FARMS $95

This 4-room Bungalow, $265.

$10 down, $5 monthly. In the Orange Hills, 58 minutes from New York, fare 11 cents; raise your own chickens, vegetables, and enjoy country life; near depot; 10,000 square feet of land, with 100 fruit trees planted on each acre. Call, write, or 'phone (6371 Barclay) C. NICHOLS, 258 Broadway.

BUNGALOW FARM $100.

IN THE ORANGE HILLS, ONE HOUR OUT.

This Bungalow, $275. 'phone 4309 Beekman.)

500 ft. elevation. Enchanting scenery. No mosquitos. 10,000 sq. feet. $10 down, $5 monthly. FARE 15c. FREE 100 fruit trees planted on each acre. Call, write, (or B. LANE, Room 324 World Building.

AT BEAUTIFUL DUMONT

$800 cash, and balance same as rent, will purchase an ideal, modern, $3,000 home, 4 rooms and bath; on large plot, few minutes' walk to station. Let us send you particulars of this property.

CHARLES C. HOUGH, 110 West 34th St.

In Westfield, new house, on a hill, near depot, street cars, stores, school, churches, &c.; has sewer, water, gas, electric light, hardwood finish, fine decorations, stone walk, &c.; restricted; for sale cheap on easy terms. H. C. Lockwood Co., 141 Broadway, New York City.

Sacrifice Bargain.—Ridgefield Park, N. J.; to close estate; house 8 rooms, bath; all improvements; gas, electric light, steam heat; fine location; high; near station; two railroads; unusually accessible to Manhattan. Address E 112 Times Downtown.

Big plot, 100x100, Westfield, only $650; forest trees; near depot, trolley, and houses; $10 cash; balance monthly. H. C. Lockwood Co., 141 Broadway, New York City.

Fine building plot, near everything, Westfield, 80x100, $700, only $10 cash, $7 monthly; houses all around. H. C. Lockwood Co., 141 Broadway, New York City.

Farms, country homes everywhere, every description; new list just issued. Lebkuecher, Bible House, Manhattan.

Five acres cheap and good, close to Westfield. H. C. Lockwood Co., 141 Broadway, New York City.

Artistic Nutley houses, $4,750 up; choice lots $250 up. Lambert, 99 Nassau St., N. Y.

VIRGINIA—FOR SALE OR TO LET.

CHOICE VIRGINIA FARMS

ALONG THE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILWAY AS LOW AS $10 PER ACRE; rich soil; mild Winters; near by Eastern markets. For handsome, illustrated booklet, "COUNTRY LIFE IN VIRGINIA," (100 pages,) and low, twice-a-month excursion rates, address G. B. Wall, Real Estate Agent, C. & O. Railway, Box M. G., Richmond, Va.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Furnished.

Furnished apartment, 99th Street, No. 312 West, adjoining Riverside Drive; 8 large, beautiful, light rooms, 2 baths; newly furnished; immediate possession. Apply to Superintendent or Mrs. Childs on the premises.

310 Park Av., to a gentleman from June to October, furnished apartment, two rooms and bath; all light rooms; southern exposure.

To sublet for Summer, in West 84th St., near Central Park, eight light, large, cool rooms; references required. M 76 Times.

Dainty 3 rooms, high-class; elevator; kitchenette; worth investigating. Barrett 510 West 144th St.

HALF ACRE $250

WHAT WE CALL A LITTLE FARM

We advertise One-Half Acre Farms representing 20,000 square feet of land and practically embracing 10 city lots.

Enough of land to grow your own vegetables for a year's supply.
Enough of land to raise 5,000 chickens and make you $500 a year.
Enough of land to have a cottage, lawn, flower beds and croquet grounds.
Enough of land to build two other cottages and sell at a profit.

What More Do You Want for a Home in the Country?

5 DOLLARS DOWN FIRST PAYMENT
DOLLARS MONTHLY ON LAND
DOLLARS for 50 Months Gets Your Deed

BAY SHORE and ISLIP

One hour by rail. Cheap commutation. Many Trains.

A LIVING ON YOUR OWN LAND! LIVE LONGER AND BETTER!

We have the best there is and positively the cheapest.

THREE FREE TRIPS

WEDNESDAY JUNE 1	SATURDAY JUNE 4	SUNDAY JUNE 5

We carry you free. Furnish free carriages. Serve you a free lunch. We want you as a guest, at our expense; we ask only your time.

ONE HALF ACRE $250 — $5 DOWN, $5 MONTHLY

ONE ACRE LAND $500 — $10 DOWN, $10 MONTHLY

SEND LETTER OR POSTAL CARD FOR FREE TICKETS and spend a day with us at Ferndale Park. The nature gardens of Long Island.

Train Leaves Each Day: { Long Island City, 10:30 A. M. / Brooklyn (Flatbush), 10:30 A. M.

Wm. H. Moffitt Realty Company

192 BROADWAY, NEW YORK

TO LET FOR BUSINESS PURPOSES.

ONE STORY LOFT

148 E. 57th St.

LARGE, LIGHT, AND WELL VENTILATED, FOR LIGHT MANUFACTURING, DISTRIBUTING DEPOT OR OFFICE. APPLY PREMISES.

Broadway Store To Let

No. 2,507, (near 93d St.) Size 14 x 82.

Elegant large store, especially suitable for fine confectioner; excellent location. Apply D. KEMNPER & SON, 17 West 42d St.

Store, basement, lofts, new 12 story fireproof building, 3 elevators. 15 & 17 East 32nd St., between Madison & 5th Avenues.

BROADWAY, CORNER 49TH ST.

Store, adjoining Empire Theatre entrance; new front, and alterations to suit; straight lease.

John P. Kirwan, 138 West 42d St.

28TH ST., CORNER 1ST AV.

Loft containing 8,000 square feet; exceptional light, four sides; large elevator, steam heat, and power. Owner, on premises.

For Rent.—One or two floors in new fireproof building, 50x102; good light; largest freight elevator in New York; located at 9th Av. and 55th St. Address A. T. Otto, 1,876 Broadway.

Factory, 50x95; six-story and basement; fireproof; whole or part; light on four sides; 415 and 417 East 93d St. Inquire Adam Happel, 408 East 93d St.

Columbus Circle, 311 West 59th St.—Lofts and offices in modern light elevator building. Apply on premises. Rent moderate.

To Sublet.—Small office in Metropolitan Tower; moderate rental. Address Joseph O'Brien, 103 Waverley Place, city.

Loft, 20x72; suitable for light business purposes. Adam Happel, 408 East 93d St.

Brooklyn.

LOFTS WITH POWER.

60x90, 50x100 and up to 80,000 square feet; LIGHT ALL SIDES; HEAT, ELEVATOR; NEW BUILDING; SPRINKLED. LOW INSURANCE. NEAR SHIPPING TERMINALS. Ins. rate less than 10c. per $100. Splendid location to get help. OWNER, on premises, 257 Classon Av., near De Kalb Av., Brooklyn.

Bronx.

Handsome store for rent, west side Morris Av., between 163d and 164th Sts. William E. Diller, owner, on premises.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

West Side.

Above 110th Street and Washington Heights.

ROSEMONT

Facing Morningside Park, 65 Morningside Av., near 120th St.; handsome 7-room apartment; hall and telephone service; rent, $43.

THE CHESKNOLL.

Most unique 3 or 5 room apartment, 160th St., 560 West; every modern improvement; hall telephone service; electric lights; $30-$37.

THE BURLINGTON.

134th St., 515 West, 4, 5, or 6 rooms; all improvements; telephone and electric light; rent, $24, $30, and $38.

SUMMER INDUCEMENTS.

Agents, 3892 Broadway. EVERETT M. SEIXAS & CO.

HANDSOMEST APARTMENTS, 5, 6, 7, 8 ROOMS. ONE AND TWO BATHS, $40, $50, $60, $70, AT THE BELFORT ELEVATOR APARTMENT, CORNER POST ST. AND HAMILTON AV., NEAR VAN CORTLANDT PARK; BEAUTIFUL ITALIAN ROOF GARDEN AND TENNIS COURTS; WRITE FOR PARTICULARS. GERBEREUX CO., 369 SOUTH BROADWAY, YONKERS.

VAN PRAAG

522-4 West 112th St.

Between Amsterdam and Broadway. Beautiful 5 room Apartments, $37.00; telephones, etc.

CLARA COURT,

308-305 WEST 111TH ST.,

One block from "L" and Subway.

5 and 6 large rooms and bath; electric light, 'phone, and elevator service;

$40 to $55.

THOMAS J. O'REILLY, Agent, Broadway and 109th St.

CATHEDRAL HEIGHTS,

Five rooms, elevator, telephone. 509 W. 112th.

West Side.

103 WEST 77TH ST.

Extra wide modern apartment, seven rooms, bath; private house block, adjoining Manhattan Square; $55.

We store your furniture, $3; moving, $3 van-load; also boxing and shipping at moderate charges; send postal. American Storage Co., 604-608 West 45th St. Telephone 2667—Bryant.

98th St., 53 WEST.—Six light rooms and bath, all improvements; rent, $26.

Bronx.

A.—Extra choice apartments in two-family houses; large closets; rents reasonable; come and see them. 165th St. and Walton Av.

APARTMENTS TO LET—Unfurnished.

East Side.

Manhanset

61-65 East 59th St.,

NEAR MADISON AVE.

The Most Accessible Location in New York City.

High Class Modern Apartments 3 Rooms and Bath, Furnished or Unfurnished. Hotel Service.

FOR RENTS, ETC., See Superintendent on Premises.

MASON

6-12 EAST 58TH ST.,

Close to Central Park Plaza.

High-class apartments of eight and nine rooms and bath; open plumbing, steam heat, hallboys, &c.; elevators run all night; rents $1,500 to $1,700; possession Oct. 1. CRUIKSHANK COMPANY, 141 Broadway.

KINGSTON—129 E. 76th STREET.

Handsome apartment; eight large, light rooms.

Brooklyn.

Five large light rooms and bath; halls heated and carpeted; janitor service; rent, $19 and $20, owner on premises. 39 Kingston Av., Brooklyn.

Yonkers.

YONKERS—FOR RENT.

New apartments, steam heated; hardwood trim; electric light; delightful location; 10 minutes from Van Cortlandt Subway station.

Five rooms and bath $35

Seven rooms and bath 50

On premises, J. Romaine Brown & Co., 506 South Broadway, Yonkers.

UNFURNISHED APARTMENTS WANTED.

Wanted—Housekeeping apartment of seven or eight outside rooms, fireproof building, between 75th and 110th Sts., west of Broadway—West End Av. preferred. Reply at once, Box J [illegible]

BUILDING MATERIAL.

Our Exhibit

Of FRONT BRICK, in course of erection at our new offices, is fast nearing completion. Meanwhile, in less concentrated form, we have an outdoor exhibit of 25,000 buildings, distributed over Greater New York, furnished by us in the seventeen years of our commercial existence.

Also Bath Portland Cement.

FREDENBURG & LOUNSBURY

381 4th Ave., Cor. 27th St.

CITY HOUSES TO LET—FURNISHED.

Brooklyn.

I have a choice house for rent, fully furnished, June 15 to October 15; Argyle Road, between Beverly and Cortelyou Roads, Flatbush; very reasonable to right party. H. M. Eppes, 185 Montague St., Brooklyn.

CITY HOUSES TO LET—Unfurnished.

$40.—One-family house, seven sunny rooms, bath. 1,224 Shakespeare Av., between Jerome-168th.

COUNTRY HOUSES TO LET—FURNISHED.

Lake Maranocook, Maine.—Furnished farm house, 11 rooms, 6 sleeping; piazzas, fireplace; spring water; fuel and ice free; price, $200. Address R. W. Harvey, Trust Building, Augusta, Me.

Beautiful cottage to let for Summer; 6 rooms; finely furnished with electric light, telephone, and all conveniences. 49 Desmond Av., Jamaica, L. I. 'Phone W Power, 922 Jamaica.

Desirable cottage on Cliff, north shore of Nantucket; five minutes from bathing beach; bath, sun parlor, six bedrooms; $600. Address P. O. Box 597, Troy, N. Y.

$400 for Season.—Furnished 12-room house; city improvements; barn, tennis court, fruit; Gilmanton, near Concord. Condit, 60 Willow St., Brooklyn.

COUNTRY HOUSES WANTED.

SUMMER RESORTS.
1 time per line, 29c. 7 times, $1.26. 30 times, consecutively or every other day, $5.00.

NEW YORK—Catskill Mountains.

THE
Catskill Mountains
noted for picturesque and romantic scenery. The glorious air, the magnificent views, and comfortable accommodations are a great attraction in this mountain region which is a paradise for children and a sanitarium for everybody.

THE ULSTER & DELAWARE R.R.
in connection with West Shore and Pennsylvania Railroads form the only all rail through car line between Philadelphia, Jersey City, New York, and all points in this famous mountain region.

THE RIP VAN WINKLE FLYER will make first trip from New York, via West Shore R. R., Saturday, May 21st, leaving Desbrosses St. 12:45 P. M. and West 42d St. 1 o'clock P. M., daily except Sunday.

The Summer time schedule for season of 1910 will go in effect Sunday, June 19th.

An illustrated Summer Book with map of the Catskills and list of hotels and boarding houses will be sent free on receipt of 9 cents postage.

N. A. SIMS,
General Passenger Agent,
Kingston, N. Y.

THE GRAND HOTEL
CATSKILL MOUNTAINS will open
SATURDAY, JUNE 25th.

This hotel is located on main line of the Ulster & Delaware R. R. Altitude over 2,000 feet. Through coach and drawing room car service from New York direct to hotel grounds.

Passenger elevator to all floors. Rooms singly or en suite with private bath. Service and cuisine unexcelled. Booklet.

For terms and full information apply to Mr. Frank DeWolf, Town and Country Bureau, 389 Fifth Avenue, corner 36th Street, New York. Telephone 3628 Madison.

After June 25th address The Grand Hotel Company, Highmount, N. Y.

HOTEL ST. REGIS
CATSKILL MOUNTAINS
OPEN JUNE 10TH.
Most modern up-to-date Hotel in every detail; over 2,000 feet elevation; situated in most beautiful location in Catskills, FACING LARGE LAKE. Illustrated booklet. Rates.
ADVANTAGES OF EVERY DESCRIPTION.
For information, HOTEL ST. REGIS,
FLEISCHMAN'S STATION, N. Y.

STAMFORD NEW YORK
"Queen of the Catskills"
Elevation 1,800 feet. Cool, dry climate. Pure mountain water. Fishing, golf and baseball grounds; all amusements, all city improvements.
Booklets and information of Hotels, Cottages, rented, &c., at 1180 Broadway, New York. L. D. TRIMM, Rep. Phone 4748 Mad.

HOTEL KAATERSKILL
CATSKILL MOUNTAINS.
A Summer Outing Above the Clouds
Largest mountain hotel in the world. Table and service unexcelled. Garage; golf links, tennis, bowling, boating. Large orchestra.
Opens June 25th. Closes Sept. 15th.
Reservations of rooms can be made at 366 Fifth Ave., Room 716, New York. Telephone 5466 Murray Hill.

Sunset Park Inn
SUNSET PARK, IN THE CATSKILLS
Will be opened June 25 by the American Resort Hotel Company, in connection with six other leading resort hotels. Ideal mountain vacation country. No hay fever; canoeing, fishing, golf, tennis, motoring; orchestra.
H. W. KING, Manager.
Booking Agent, Clarence Becker, 1,180 Broadway, New York City.

WALNUT MOUNTAIN HOUSE
Liberty Station, N. Y.
A Modern Hotel, elevation 2,440 ft.; with golf, bathing; unsurpassed views; livery and garage; French cuisine; spacious verandas and miles of walks through hotel park. For illustrated booklet and rates adress L. A. LOUIS, Mgr.
1 West 34th St., N. Y. City

THE REXMERE,
Stamford-in-the-Catskills. Opens June 23d. Private golf course. Boating. Daily concerts, etc. 40 suites, with bath. Elevators. For booklets address Moffatt & Peck, 1,180 Broadway, N. Y.

RIPLEY HOUSE, Hunter.—Charmingly located. Ideal Resort. Apply to L. A. Woodworth, Hunter, N. Y.

NEW YORK—Saratoga Springs.

Saratoga
The Grand Union
Opens June 25th
WOOLLEY & GERRANS, Proprietors.
Full particulars can be obtained at the HOTEL MARIE ANTOINETTE, Broadway, 66th to 67th St., New York.

NEW YORK—Thousand Islands.

THE HOTEL FRONTENAC
1000 ISLANDS, ST. LAWRENCE RIVER, N. Y.
OPENS JUNE 18th.
A magnificent Hotel, delightfully situated on an island in the St. Lawrence River, with an exclusive class of patronage. The favorite water for motor boats and boat racing. Fishing, rowing, and all aquatic sports. A picturesque, nine-hole golf course free to guests of the hotel, clubhouse equipped with swimming pool, shower baths, etc. Tennis. Unequalled bass and fresh water fishing near hotel. For full information address C. G. TRUSSELL, Mgr. Town and Country, 389 Fifth Ave., New York. Also Mgr. Bon Air, Augusta, Ga.

NEW YORK—Adirondacks.

ADIRONDACK MOUNTAINS.
THE WAWBEEK
(Hotel and Cottages)
Will open on June 24th for the Thirteenth season under same management. Most comfortable and Homelike. Private Cottages with hotel service. Table will be kept at usual high standard. Rooms with bath. Special terms for full season. Rustic Grill. Send for booklet.
J. BEN HART, Wawbeek, N. Y.

THE SAGAMORE
On Long Lake. In the heart of the Adirondacks.
Modern and first class. Rooms en suite; private baths; single rooms.
Bass and trout fishing, boating, fine tennis courts, &c.
Booklet on application. Call or address
JAS. H. REARDON,
Town and Country Hotel Bureau,
389 Fifth Avenue, New York.

NEW YORK—Lake George.

ON LAKE GEORGE
The Sagamore Hotel
June-October
"Emphatically Unique"
T. E. Krumbholz, Sagamore, N. Y.

NEW YORK—Warwick.

RED SWAN INN
WILL BE OPENED BY THE AMERICAN RESORT HOTEL COMPANY ON JUNE 15, in connection with six other leading resort hotels. Motoring distance from New York City. Golf, tennis; orchestra.
J. W. McCOACH, Resident Director.
Reservations and booklet from executive office, 1415 Arch Street, Phila.

SUMMER RESORTS.
1 time per line, 29c. 7 times, $1.26. 30 times, consecutively or every other day, $5.00.

NEW YORK—Long Island.

WHERE TO GO THIS SUMMER
"Long Island Resorts," a book containing information about the various resorts on the Ocean and Sound Shore and the Central section of Long Island, with location, capacity, attractions and charges of the numerous hotels and boarding houses, free upon application at Long Island R. R. city ticket offices, 265 Fifth Av., (3d floor,) 120 B'way, 19 East 17th St., N. Y.; 336 Fulton St., B'klyn, or will be mailed on receipt of 6c. postage by the General Passenger Agent, 263 Fifth Ave., New York.

EDGEMERE CLUB HOTEL,
EDGEMERE, L. I.
AMERICA'S MOST SELECT RESORT, announces as the Date of Opening JUNE 15. Directly on the Ocean. Only 30 minutes from New York. Upon request a Representative will call to explain the club feature, &c. Or may be seen at Hotel Woodward (Booking Office), B'way at 55th St., N. Y. T. D. GREEN, Mgr.

PROSPECT HOUSE
SHELTER ISLAND HEIGHTS, L. I., N. Y.
Opens June 25. Golf, Tennis, Yachting, Bathing, Garage. Delightful Climate. Pure Water. Booklet. N. Y. Office, 1,122 Broadway, cor. 25th St.
E. C. LANGWORTHY, Mgr.

HOTEL PASADENA,
Grove Av., ocean front, Rockaway Beach; Hammel's or Holland's station; open June 1.

NEW YORK—Briarcliff Manor.

Briarcliff Lodge
BRIARCLIFF MANOR, NEW YORK
Under the management of DAVID B. PLUMER.
GEORGE W. TUTTLE, Assistant Manager.
N. Y. Office, Windsor Arcade. Tel., 3275 Murray Hill.

NEW YORK—Sullivan County.

SULLIVAN COUNTY
The Knoll, Woodbourne, opens May 28th under new management. Board, $10 upward. Write for booklets.

ECKSTEIN BROS
The Palatine, Box A, White Lake, Sullivan Co. Reduced Rates for June.

NEW YORK—Putnam County.

DEAN HOUSE
Lake Mahopac, Putnam Co., N. Y.
Old Summer Resort, pleasantly located, commodious lawns running to lake; fine shade trees; perfectly healthy. Booklet sent on application.
A. H. DEAN, Proprietor.

NEW JERSEY—Atlantic City.

THE ABSECON,
FORMERLY THE BELMONT,
VIRGINIA AV., NEAR BEACH,
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.
FIREPROOF. A brick hotel with all the conveniences and comforts of home. Newly renovated throughout, entirely refurnished and new plumbing at an expenditure of $20,000. Rooms en suite with private baths. Elevator from street level. American plan, $2 per day and up, $10 up weekly. European plan, $1 per day and up. Open all year. O. D. PAINTER, formerly of the Hotel Abbey.

THE BEACH FRONT HOTEL PAR EXCELLENCE
THE SHELBURNE
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.
EUROPEAN or AMERICAN PLAN.
JACOB WEIKEL, Manager.

GRAND ATLANTIC HOTEL
Virginia Avenue, near Beach. Capacity, 500. Renovated throughout and refurnished. Entirely new management. Hot and cold sea water in all baths. Elevator, fine porches, etc. Table a feature. Special $12.50 up weekly; $2.50 up daily. Coach at trains. Booklet. COOPER AND LEEDS.

THE WILTSHIRE
Virginia Ave. and beach. Ocean view; Greatly improved and refurnished. Cap. 350. Private baths, running water in rooms; elevator, sun parlor, &c. Music. Special—$12.50 up weekly. $2.50 up daily. Booklet.
SAMUEL H. ELLIS.

FREE
GUIDE OF ATLANTIC CITY
Handsomely Illustrated Official Hotel, Street and Amusement Guide Book, with maps, tide and railroad timetables, &c; edition limited; write to-day; enclose stamp. PUBLIC SERVICE ASSOCIATION, Atlantic City, N. J.

Marlborough-Blenheim
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.
Josiah White & Sons Company.

Atlantic City.—Private cottage; excellent accommodations for guests requiring refinement, quietness, home comforts, with exceptionally good table; strictly modern home in exclusive residential section, near beach and boardwalk; very desirable for recuperating. 26 North Brighton Avenue.

OFFICIAL NOTICE No. 117
BEFORE GOING ON YOUR VACATION SEND 2 CENTS POSTAGE FOR A HANDSOMELY ILLUSTRATED 54 PAGE COMPLETE HOTEL, STREET AND AMUSEMENT GUIDE WITH ONLY CORRECT MAP OF ATLANTIC CITY. FREE DISTRIBUTION BY INFORMATION BUREAU No. 7 N. Y. Ave. Atl. City N. J.

BERKSHIRE INN
Open all year. Ocean end Virginia Av.
$2 up daily, $8 to $17 wkly. Private Baths. Rooms, running water. Elevator. Sun Parlor. Cap. 300. 11th season. J. E. DICKINSON.

MILLER COTTAGE
9 to 15 N. Georgia Ave. Capacity 250. Noted for its table. $1.00 daily, $6.00 weekly and up until July 1. Established 31 years.

HOTEL JACKSON,
Adjoining Boardwalk and Steel Pier. Elevator. Beautiful new cafe. J. H. Gormley.

Ask Mr. Foster— Free Information, Flat-iron Building Arcade.

NEW JERSEY—Long Branch.

LONG BRANCH, N. J.
The Ideal Summer Resort
Highest Point on Coast.
No Mosquitos. No Malaria.
Triple Attraction of Ocean, Lake and River. Rejuvenated Summer Home of Five Presidents. A Modern City with All Country Charms.
Only 62 Minutes from New York
We'll find you Cottage, or Send Literature.
B. B. BOBBITT, Publicity Director,
206 Broadway, Long Branch, N. J.

NEW JERSEY—Summit.

For rest, health, good living.
PARK HOUSE,
SUMMIT, N. J.
40 minutes from New York; high altitude; beautiful lawns, drives, golf and tennis grounds. Private baths. Terms moderate. Open all year. Booklet.

NEW JERSEY—East Orange.

Enjoy Ideal Suburban Life at the New Hotel Clinton
Open All Year
Located in the prettiest section of Brick Church Sta.

NEW JERSEY—Asbury Park.

Select Family Hotel on the Beach.
THE WELLINGTON
North Asbury Park.
Rooms, with bath. 'Phone 358. B. B. Smith.

THE WINTHROP,
Asbury's new and modern Hotel.
Open June 15 to September 1.
Clement & Yerkes, Props. K. O. Walter, Mgr.

WINDEMERE
304 Fourth Ave., 2 blocks from Ocean.
A. & E. Hart.

SUMMER RESORTS.
1 time per line, 29c. 7 times, $1.26. 30 times, consecutively or every other day, $5.00.

NEW JERSEY—Montclair.

A home for a day or a year
You're on the Mountain Top
—yet only 40 minutes out at
"The Montclair"
Montclair, N. J.

NEW JERSEY—Seabright.

PENINSULA HOUSE.
250 ft. ocean beach; surf bathing; cuisine unexcelled; superior orchestra; tennis; beautiful drives; select families; Sandy Hook boat or rail; open June 28. Seabright, N. J. C. H. DEDERER, Proprietor.

NEW JERSEY—Lake Hopatcong.

LAKE HOPATCONG, N. J.
1,000 feet above sea level. A place where you can be really cool this Summer. Only 47 miles from New York on Lackawanna Railroad.

NEW JERSEY—Beach Haven.

BEACH HAVEN, N. J.
The Best combination of Seashore features on the Atlantic coast.

NEW JERSEY—Ocean Grove.

BRYN MAWR HOTEL
Centrally located. Modern improvements. J. B. Sherman.

NEW ENGLAND—Massachusetts.

HOTEL ASPINWALL
LENOX, MASS.
O. D. SEAVEY, Manager.
ON THE IDEAL TOUR
Magnificent Scenery, Beautiful Drives. Invigorative Climate, Pure Water. Finely Equipped Garage & Stables. Choice Villa Sites For Sale.
Finest Resort in the Famous
BERKSHIRE HILLS

BERKSHIRE HILLS
The Maplewood
Pittsfield, Berkshire Co., Mass.
NOW OPEN
Send for 1910 Booklet and Auto Road Map.
ARTHUR W. PLUMB.

MOUNTAINAIR INN
On Norwich Lake, Huntington, Mass. Swept by Berkshire breezes. Elevation 1,800. Fishing, bathing, boating, tennis. Sleep indoors or in a tent. $3 up. Booklet. Temperance.

NEW ENGLAND—New Hampshire.

Waumbek & Cottages
Jefferson, N. H.
In the White Mountains
OPENS JUNE 25TH.
Delightful family resort. Well-kept 18-hole golf course. On famous scenic auto routes. Detached family cottages, completely furnished, with hotel service. Address CHARLES V. MURPHY, Manager.

FOREST HILL HOTEL
AND COTTAGES
FRANCONIA, N. H.
The most beautifully located hotel in the entire WHITE MOUNTAINS district, with unrivalled scenery. NO HAY FEVER. OPENS JUNE 20. Boston office 12 India St. FRANK H. DANFORTH, Manager.

NEW ENGLAND—Maine.

THE LOUISBURG BAR HARBOR, Me.
and Cottages
OPEN JULY 1 TO SEPTEMBER 25.
A hotel noted for cuisine and service. Elevator, private baths, telephones in suites; all modern improvements. M. L. BALCH, Prop., 6 Winchester St., Brookline, Mass., until June 1, or Town & Country, 389 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

RUSSIAN TEA HOUSE.
Excellent accommodation; four double rooms; few couples requiring quiet, homelike place; good table, vegetables, eggs, and milk from place; wide, vine-covered veranda. Address Russian Tea House, Bar Harbor, Me.

NEW ENGLAND—Vermont.

The Center of Summer Golf
EQUINOX HOUSE
MANCHESTER, VERMONT.
Open June 15 to October 15. On
THE IDEAL TOUR.
N. Y. Office, The Osborne, 57th St. & 7th Av.

THE GLENWOOD
In the pines, Lake Bomoseen, Hydeville, Vt. Rates, $9 to $14. W. C. Mound, Prop.

Lake Bomoseen, Vermont, Prospect House; sanitary plumbing, electric lights; garage; milk, cream, vegetables from hotel farm; booklet. H. B. Ellis, Mgr.

PENNSYLVANIA—DelawareWaterGap

THE KITTATINNY
The Leading Hotel at Delaware Water Gap, Pa. Under the same management as the past three seasons. Every convenience found in a first-class hotel. Own farm and greenhouses. American plan, also A la Carte. Bell 'Phone 92. Telegraph Offices in Hotel. Golf, tennis, boating, bathing, fishing, etc., on our own grounds. Orchestra, social diversions. Livery, garage, saddle horses and instructors. Booklet on application, showing hotel, Kittatinny Mt. Park scenes, auto. maps, etc. Coaches meet all trains. Special June rates. The Kittatinny is not connected with any other hotel at Delaware Water Gap.
G. FRANK COPE.

WATER GAP HOUSE
THE MOUNTAIN PARADISE
DELAWARE WATER GAP, PA.
Remains open to December; unquestionably the leading and finest hotel in this region for those who seek the best in appointment, cuisine, service, comfort, and location; every indoor entertainment and outdoor pastime; special early season rates; booklet of camera views and auto maps mailed; fourth season. JOHN PURDY COPE.

PENNSYLVANIA—Canadensis.

NEW SPRUCE CABIN INN.
—Where you CAN catch trout. Rooms en suite and with private baths. Booklet. W. J. & M. D. PRICE, Canadensis, Pa.

FOREIGN HOTELS AND RESORTS.

"At the Heart of London."
St ERMINS HOTEL
St. James' Park, LONDON S.W.
Quiet. Refined. Home-like. Secluded yet central. Covered-way connection with Underground Railway System. Luxurious Lounge. Superior Cuisine. A la carte or inclusive terms. For illustrated booklet and full information address Town & Country Travel Bureau, 389 Fifth Avenue, N.Y.

VICHY—HOTEL DU PARC
& Majestic Palace
J. Aletti, Manager.

BALE. Gd Hotel VICTORIA
(Switzerland) All Modern Comforts. & NATIONAL

Hillmann's Hotel, Bremen, (Germany.) 160 rooms and salons; 60 private bath and toilet rooms; modern improvements.

SUMMER RESORTS.

WASHINGTON, D. C.

"Just Around the Corner from White House"
and in the very heart of things is where travelers will find
HOTEL RICHMOND, Washington, D. C.
American and European plans. 100 rooms, 50 baths. Reasonable rates. Fifteen minutes from Union Station. Send for Booklet and Map giving rates and location.
CLIFFORD M. LEWIS, Prop.

NOVA SCOTIA.

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA
Lour Lodge and Cottages.
Write for illustrated booklet to A. Brown, Digby, N. S.

EXCURSIONS AND TOURS.

IRON STEAMBOAT CO.
THE ONLY ALL-WATER ROUTE TO
CONEY ISLAND
ALL TICKETS INCLUDE ADMISSION TO DREAMLAND.
Greatest Amusement Enterprise in the World.
Leave West 129th St., N. R., 9:00, 9:45, 10:30, 11:30 A. M.; 12:15, 1:00, 2:00, 2:45, 3:30, 4:15, 5:15, 6:30, 7:30, 8:40 P. M.
Leave Pier 1, N. R., 9:45, 10:30, 11:15 A. M., 12:15, 1:00, 1:45, 2:45, 3:30, 4:15, 5:00, 6:00, 6:40, 7:15, 8:15, 9:30 P. M.
Leave Iron Pier, Coney Island, 10:55, 11:40 A. M., 12:25, 1:25, 2:10, 2:55, 3:55, *4:55, 5:25, 6:10, 7:10, 7:50, 8:25, 9:35, 10:40 P. M.
Returning from Coney Island trip marked * does not go to 129th Street, N. R.
Round Trip Tickets { From 129th St., 50 Cents. From Pier 1, N. R., 40 Cents.

STEAMER TAURUS makes trips EVERY DAY to FISHING BANKS. Leave 129th St., N. R., 7:30 A. M.; Pier (new) No. 1, N. R., 8:30 A. M. Bait and tackle on board. Fare: Gentlemen, 75c.; Ladies, 50c.; Children, 25c.

MIDLAND BEACH
STATEN ISLAND
Refined Amusement Amid Refined Surroundings
Reached via Staten Island Ferry, foot of Whitehall St. terminus of subway, elevated roads and surface lines; 20 minutes' invigorating sail through the lower bay and a short trolley ride through the most picturesque part of Staten Island. Cleanest and safest bathing on the Atlantic Coast.

PACIFIC COAST TOURS.
Leaving July 7-8-9.
ALASKA and YELLOWSTONE PARK, 32 days, all expenses, only $325. Itinerary ready.
GILLESPIE KINPORTS CO.,
Phone 359 Gramercy. 1 Madison Av., City.

CLARK'S TOURS TO EUROPE
offer best leadership and many special features; attractive features at front departures. Fares $275 to $520; all expenses, including Passion Play. F. C. CLARK, Times Bldg., New York.

CHARMING EXCURSIONS
West Point, Newburgh & Poughkeepsie
Daily (except Sunday) by Palace HUDSON RIVER DAY LINE STEAMERS.
SEE STEAMBOAT COLUMN.

SIGHT SEEING YACHT
AROUND MANHATTAN ISLAND.
"Halcyon" daily from Statue of Liberty Pier, near South Ferry, at 10:30 A. M. and 2:30 P. M.

CALIFORNIA AND YELLOWSTONE PARK
Conducted Tour starts July 2. Itineraries ready. Frank Tourist Co., 398 Broadway, N.Y.

TRAVELERS' GUIDE—STEAMBOATS.

FALL RIVER LINE
(Splendid Steamers—Splendid Service)

We received a letter the other day from a man who has traveled on Fall River Line steamers for fifty-two years.

The service merited his continued patronage.

Fall River Line steamers leave New York, Pier 19, North River, foot of Warren Street, at 5:30 P. M. Get you to Boston as early as 7 o'clock next morning—later if you like.
Fare to Boston $4

Telephone 5121 Cortlandt for information
City Ticket Office—171 Broadway

HUDSON RIVER NIGHT LINES
The Popular Searchlight Route
PEOPLES LINE TO ALBANY
STR. ADIRONDACK or C. W. MORSE.
Pier 32, N. R., foot Canal St., 6 P. M.; W. 129th St. 6:30 P. M., daily & Sunday. From Albany daily & Sunday, 8 P. M. Orchestra.
CITIZENS LINE TO TROY
New Str. TROJAN or RENSSELAER, Pier 46, N. R., ft. West 10th St., 6 P. M. daily (Saturdays excepted). From Troy daily (Saturdays excepted), 7:30 P. M. Sunday steamer touches at Albany. Round trip $2.50 via both lines; 10 day limit.
Comfort, speed, safety; excellent cuisine and service. Direct rail connection at Albany and Troy for points North, East, and West; horses and automobiles carried at reasonable rates.

TO BOSTON
Direct from City to City All-the-Way-by-Water Metropolitan Line.
Turbine Steel Steamships
Yale & Harvard
Staterooms, with or without bath; main deck dining room, etc., etc.
NEW YORK TO BOSTON $4.00. A most fascinating Route. River, Harbor, Sound and Ocean. Fares the same as via Long Island Sound Lines. Week days and Sundays. Leave New York Pier 9 N. R., near foot Rector St., 4 P. M. Same daily schedule from India Wharf, Boston. Due either City 8 o'clock next morning. Through tickets to all points, at Wharf, also Tourist and N. Y. Transfer Co. Offices throughout City.
METROPOLITAN STEAMSHIP CO.
Pier 9 North River. Telephone, Cortland 1715.

HUDSON RIVER BY DAYLIGHT
DAY LINE STEAMERS, DAILY, except Sunday, leave Brooklyn, Fulton St. (by Annex), 8; Desbrosses St., 8:40; W. 42d St., 9; W. 129th St., 9:20 A. M. Landing at Yonkers, West Point, Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, Kingston Point, Catskill, Hudson, and Albany. Easy connections North, East, and West. All through rail tickets between N. Y. and Albany accepted. Most delightful one-day outings to West Point, Newburgh, or Poughkeepsie, returning on down boat. Meals served at all hours. Music.

STEAMER MARY POWELL
Leaving Desbrosses St. at 1:45 P. M., W. 42d St. 2 P. M., W. 129th St. 2:20 P. M. daily, except Sunday, for Highland Falls, West Point, (returning by boat or rail,) Cornwall, Newburgh, New Hamburg, Milton, Poughkeepsie, Rondout, and Kingston. Orchestra.

$1 MANHATTAN LINE to Albany
ROUND TRIP $1.50. Good 10 Days.
ORCHESTRA.
Horses and Automobiles at reasonable rates. Leave foot W. Houston St. 5:30 P. M., foot W. 129th St. 6:00 P. M. daily. Telephone 9236 Spring.

Central Hudson Line.
For Newburgh, Poughkeepsie, and Kingston, from Franklin St. week days, except Saturday, 4 P. M. Saturdays, 1 P. M. West 129th St., 1:30 P. M.
For NEWBURGH and intermediate landings, week days, 5 P. M. Saturdays, 2 P. M. West 129th St., 3:30 P. M.
SUNDAYS { From Franklin St., 9 A. M. West 129th St., 9:30 A. M.

JOY LINE 240 TO BOSTON VIA BOAT & RAIL.
Providence Direct, $1.90 | Worcester, $2.40
Every week day, 5:30 P. M., Pier 19, East River.

CATSKILL EVENING LINE — Steamers leave Pier 43, N. R., ft. Christopher St. WEEK DAYS at 6 P. M. Catskill-Hudson Cozsackie. Phone 1093 Spring.

HARTFORD LINE
From New Pier 19, East River, foot of Peck Slip, daily except Sunday, at 5 P. M., for Connecticut River landings. Write for illustrated folder.

TRAVELERS' GUIDE—STEAMSHIPS.

THE ROYAL MAIL STEAM PACKET COMPANY
SPEND YOUR VACATION IN BERMUDA $20 AND UP ROUND TRIP
The land of perpetual Spring, average temperature 70 degrees, 700 miles out in the Atlantic Ocean, in the pure sea breezes. GOLF, TENNIS, BOATING, BATHING, FISHING and CYCLING. LILIES and OLEANDERS now in full bloom.
Tours, 5 Days, $22.50; 15 Days, $52.50
By magnificent { 6,000 ton Ocean Liner } "OROTAVA"
Next Sailing WEDNESDAY, JUNE 1ST, 10 A. M., Pier 52, North River, N. Y. Wireless telegraphy and bilge keels. Orchestra, high class cuisine; electric fans in all staterooms.
JAMAICA—PANAMA—COLOMBIA—WEST INDIES
Thence to AZORES—CHERBOURG—SOUTHAMPTON.
Largest and Fastest Steamers—Wireless Telegraphy.
Orotava, June 11; Magdalena, June 25; Clyde, July 9; Atrato, July 23.
TOURS { Jamaica, $85.50; after June 15, $65. Panama (including Jamaica), $115.
EUROPE { Via West Indies, $250.
NORWAY { returning by any N. Atlantic Line. By New R. M. S. P. "AVON," 11,500 tons (twin screw). During June, July and August from England, $65.
SANDERSON & SON, 22 STATE ST., N. Y., G. P. & F. A.

INTERNATIONAL MERCANTILE MARINE LINES
From Piers 58, 59, 60, 61, and 62, North River, New York City.

American Line
Plymouth—Cherbourg—Southampton.
Philadelphia..June 4, 10 AM | New York..June 18
St. Louis..June 11, 10 AM | St. Paul..June 25

Atlantic Transport Line
London Direct.
Mesaba.....June 4, 9 AM | Min'polis..June 18
Min'waska..Je. 11, 9:30 AM | Min'tonka..J'ne 25

Red Star Line
Dover—Antwerp—Paris.
Kr'nland (Tu.).May31, 9 AM | Vaderland..J'e 11
Finland.....June 4, 11 AM | Lapl'd (nw)..Je. 18

White Star Line
Queenstown — Holyhead — Liverpool.
Arabic.....June 4, 9 AM | Celtic....June 18
Baltic.....June 11, noon | Cedric....June 25
Plymouth—Cherbourg—Southampton.
Adriatic.....June 1, noon | Oceanic..June 15
Teutonic..June 8, 9:30 AM | Majestic..June 22

Also Regular Sailings between
N. Y. & BOSTON—MEDITERRANEAN.
All Steamers of the American Line, Atlantic Transport Line, Red Star Line, White Star Line Are Equipped with Wireless Telegraph, Submarine Signalling Apparatus, Etc.
Our Travelers' Checks Good Everywhere.
PASSENGER OFFICES, 9 BROADWAY AND PIER 62, N. R., (WEST 23D ST.,) N. Y.

S. S. OCEANA
HAMBURG AMERICAN LINE
JUNE 2
AT 1 P. M.
All Modern Safety Devices (Wireless, &c.)
LONDON, PARIS, HAMBURG.
†Unexcelled Ritz-Carlton a la Carte Restaurant, Gymnasium, Elec. Baths, Elevator, Palm Garden.
*P. Lincoln, June 1, 12 noon | *Cincinnati ..... June 11
Oceana ..... June 2 | §Pennsylvania..... June 15
†Amerika ..... June 4 | *Cleveland..... June 18
*Pres. Grant..... June 8 | Graf Waldersee... June 23
§Hamburg direct. *New.

ITALY
VIA GIBRALTAR, NAPLES and GENOA.
S. S. MOLTKE.....May 31, 11 A. M.
S. S. BATAVIA.....June 14
S. S. HAMBURG.....June 21
TRAVELLERS' CHECKS ISSUED.
Tourist Dept. for Trips Everywhere.
Hamburg-American Line, 45 Broadway, N. Y.

CUNARD LINE
Piers 54 and 56 North River, foot of 14th St.
OFFICES 21-24 State St., opposite the Battery.
LUSITANIA—MAURETANIA
Largest, Fastest, Finest Steamers Afloat.
New York to London Direct
VIA FISHGUARD.
The most expeditious route. Quickest also to PARIS—BERLIN—VIENNA
Leave New York Wednesdays, 9 A. M.
MONDAY IN LONDON TUESDAY IN PARIS
Wireless Telegraph. Submarine Signals.
Mauretania .....June 1 | *Campania..June 15, 9 AM
Lusitania.....June 8 | Mauretania.....June 22
Aronia...June 11, 10 AM | *Carmania..June 25, 10 AM
*Will call at Queenstown and Fishguard.
HUNGARIAN-AMERICAN SERVICE.
To Fiume via Gibraltar, Naples, Trieste.
Pannonia.....June 2, noon | †Carpathia.....July 7
§Ultonia.....June 16, noon | Pannonia .....July 19
†Calls at Genoa. §Carries 2d and 3d class only.
Travellers' checks issued—good everywhere.
Particulars of Services, Rates, Sailings, and other information will be supplied on application.

$20 and ROUND up TRIP
Go To Bermuda
Forty hours to the land of flowers.
By Fast Twin Screw
S. S. Bermudian, 5530 Tons,
Sailing every Wednesday from New York, 10 A. M. Wireless Telegraphy; bilge keels; electric fans.
15 DAY TOURS $45 Up
Including Hotel, shore excursions, etc.
For illustrated pamphlets with full information apply to A. E. OUTERBRIDGE & CO., Gen'l Agts., Quebec S. S. Co., Ltd., 29 Broadway, New York. THOS. COOK & SON, Pass. Agts., 245 and 1200 Broadway, 640 Madison Ave., 583 5th Ave., N. Y. or any Ticket Agent, or QUEBEC S. S. CO., Ltd., Quebec.

June, a delightful month for the 12 DAY VACATION CRUISE $60.00 UP
Berth and Meals Included (First Cabin)
To Halifax, N. S., and St. John's, N. F.
by the large steamers Borau and Florizel; sail every Saturday; Marconi Wireless, Bilge Keels.
RED CROSS LINE
Take this trip to the land of Evangeline and wonderful Newfoundland. Eight days at sea—four days in port—you may live on the steamer all the time—stopover allowed if desired. Send for Illustrated Pamphlet D. All tourist agencies, or BOWRING & CO., 17 State Street, N.Y.

UNITED FRUIT COMPANY
Steamship Service
Superior freight and passenger steamers sail Thursdays, 12 noon, Pier 15, East River, (ft. Fulton St.,) to KINGSTON, JAMAICA, COLON, PANAMA, SANTA MARTA, COLOMBIA.
Pacific Coast points, Central and South America. Stateroom reservation and information.
17 Battery Place, Telephone 1025 Rector, Or any Steamship Agency.
Additional Weekly Sailings from Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore and New Orleans.

FRENCH LINE
Compagnie Générale Transatlantique
Direct Line to Havre—Paris (France).
Sailing every Thursday, 10 A. M. from Pier 57, North River, foot West 15th St.
*La Lorraine..June 2 | *La Lorraine..June 23
*La Savoie...June 9 | *La Savoie...June 30
*La Provence..June 16 | *La Provence..July 7
*Twin screw steamers.
SPECIAL SATURDAY SAILING.
One class (11) Cabin Passengers only.
La Gascogne.....June 11
GENERAL AGENCY, 19 State Street, N. Y.

ITALIAN LINES
*NAVIGAZIONE GENERALE ITALIANA.
†LA VELOCE, (Fast Italian Line.)
¶ITALIA Societa di Navigazione a Vapore.
TO NAPLES AND GENOA DIRECT.
¶Ancona...June 1, 11 AM | *D. D. Genova....June 11
¶Europa...June 7, 11 AM | †Taormina.....June 16
All large new Twin Screw Steamers.
HARTFIELD, SOLARI & CO., 21 State St., N. Y.

OLD DOMINION LINE.
DAILY SERVICE
For Old Point Comfort, Norfolk, Portsmouth, Pinner's Point, and Newport News, Va., connecting for Petersburg, Richmond, Washington, D. C., and the entire South and West.
Freight and Passenger Steamers sail from Pier 25, N. R., foot of North Moore St., every week day at 3 P. M.
W. L. WOODROW, Traffic Manager.

TRAVELERS' GUIDE—STEAMBOATS.

SEA TO MAINE
The Most Charming Short Sea Trip on the Atlantic Coast.
STEAMSHIPS
NORTH LAND & NORTH STAR
TO PORTLAND, MAINE.
Sailings Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, 5 P. M., from Pier 20, East River, N. Y. For full information and booklet apply to MAINE S. S. CO., 290 B'way, N. Y.

TRAVELERS' GUIDE—STEAMSHIPS.

Kaiser Wilhelm II.
Sails June 7 for
LONDON—PARIS—BREMEN
Wireless and Submarine Signals.
North German Lloyd
To London, Paris, Bremen. Express Sailings, Tuesdays, 10 A.M.
Plymouth, Cherbourg, Bremen. Kronp. Wilhelm...May 31, K. Wilhelm II....June 7, K. Wm. der Grosse..June 14, Kronp. Cecilie....June 21
Twin-Screw Sailings. Thurs'ys, 10 A.M.
P. Alice.....June 2
G. Wash., (new).June 9
Bremen .....June 16
*Main .....June 23
*Bremen direct.
To Gibraltar, Naples, and Genoa.
Sailings Sat'days 11 A. M.
Berlin (new).....June 4
Fried'h der Grosse..June 11
Koenig Albert.....June 18
†Neckar.....June 25
†Omits Genoa.
Independent Around-the-World Tours. Travelers checks good all over the world.
OELRICHS & CO., General Agents, 5 Broadway, New York

RIO DE JANEIRO
"The City Beautiful"
BAHIA, SANTOS, MONTEVIDEO, BUENOS AYRES and ROSARIO by the Large, New and Fast Passenger Steamers of the LAMPORT & HOLT LINE
Sailing from New York, 5th & 20th of each month. For rates, etc., apply local ticket Agents, or
BUSK & DANIELS, General Agents
301 Produce Exchange, New York

FOR FORTRESS MONROE,
(Old Point Comfort,) Norfolk, and Portsmouth, Va., via Baltimore and the BALTIMORE STEAM PACKET COMPANY,
(Old Bay Line).
Leave Baltimore each week day 6:30 P. M. Finest steamers South of New York. Wireless telegraphic equipment. All delicacies of the Chesapeake. Delicious meals. Refreshing night's rest. Through tickets at principal railroad ticket offices. Staterooms engaged at S. A. L. Ry. Office, 1,183 B'way. Send for booklet.

ANCHOR LINE
GLASGOW via LONDONDERRY
Caledonia..June 4, 3 P. M. | Furnessia..June 18, 3 PM
California..June 11, 10 AM | Columbia..June 25, 9 AM
FIRST CABIN, $67.50 AND $72.50.
SECOND CABIN, $45 AND $47.50.
THIRD CLASS, $28.75 AND $30.
HENDERSON BROTHERS, 17-19 Broadway.

Arrival of Buyers
Arriving and resident buyers may register in this column by telephoning 1000 Bryant.

Field, Marshall, & Co., Chicago, Ill.; J. Dumaine, silks and velvets; 104 Worth Street; Hotel Latham.
Breschel & Co., Scranton, Penn.; M. D. Breschel, ladies' ready-to-wear clothing; St. Denis Hotel.
Crane, F. L., Scranton, Penn.; hats, caps, furs, and gloves; Hotel Albert.
Jasper Brothers, Worcester, Mass.; B. Jasper, woolens and trimmings; Hotel Albert.
Akron Dry Goods Company, Akron, Ohio; M. J. Federman, dry goods and notions; 621 Broadway; Hotel Albert.
Forman, K., Fall River, Mass.; cloaks and suits; Hotel Albert.
Barnes Hat Company, Chicago, Ill.; L. Henry, hats; Hotel Marlborough.
Stewart

Misleading Announcements Excluded—HighClass Want Advertisements

COUNTRY BOARD
15c. a line 1 time; 7 times 18c. a line a day; 30 times 16 2-3c a line a day.

Long Island.

Norsee Hall, Atverne.—100 feet from ocean; block from Straiton Avenue Station, 40 minutes from New York; Christians. For particulars and reservations inquire above, or 114 West 79th St.

THE WELLAMORE HOTEL, Cropsey Av. and Bay 17th St.—Beautiful situation on ocean front; bathing; large grove and tennis court.

Howard House, Cropsey Av. and Bay 12th St.—Large rooms, furnished or unfurnished; reasonable; light housekeeping.

Rockaway Park.—46 Second Avenue; newly furnished apartments, with balconies overlooking ocean; table excellent.

New York State.

COLONIAL HOUSE, MOUNT VERNON, N. Y.—20 minutes Grand Central. Two large rooms, one with alcove, bath adjoining, southern exposure, with first-class board, to rent Summer months; beautiful grounds; large piazza; five minutes from depot.

NEW ROCHELLE.—Large single rooms and connecting rooms; beautiful location; ideal home; quiet; high elevation. 36 Union Av., New Rochelle, N. Y.

Beautiful mountain scenery; large, shady lawns; modern conveniences; no children; two hours from New York. Mrs. L. H. Palmer, Sugar Loaf, N. Y.

New Jersey.

SANATORIUM.—Invalids, convalescents, seeking health; comfortable and homelike; auto free; applicants removed free. Maple Lodge, 104 Maple Av., Montclair, N. J.

ROOMS—BOARD.—Very desirable; double, single; large closets; excellent table; large verandas; shady, central, convenient. 55 Church St., Montclair, N. J.

GLENDORA COTTAGE, East Orange, N. J.—17 South Clinton; 3 minutes from Lackawanna station, Brick Church; newly furnished, double and single rooms.

EAST ORANGE, Halsted St., 88.—Double rooms with board for two; near Lackawanna station and Central Av. trolley.

New England.

VACATION FOR YOUR ENTIRE FAMILY.
Let your boy enjoy real camp life in CAMP "CAPTAIN KID,"
opposite famous Treasure Island in exclusive Pawson Park, near New Haven, while the nearby picturesque MERRIMAC HOUSE,
under same management (COLLEGE MEN), offers unsurpassed conveniences for the rest of your family. Finest surf-bathing, fishing, golf, tennis, baseball, dense woods. Write for catalogues, KARL A. BUCK, Tribune Building, NEW YORK. TEL. Beekman 3175.

"ON-THE-HILL,"
Watertown, Litchfield Co., Conn.
For nervous and chronic invalids; no objectionable cases; high elevation; extensive grounds, modern equipment; terms moderate.

Say you saw it in The Times.

COUNTRY BOARD WANTED
20c. a line 1 time; 7 times 18c. a line a day; 30 times 16 2-3c a line a day.

LADY, teacher, desires accommodation in sanitarium in high country, Adirondack Mountains preferred, where she can secure complete rest, good nourishment, and recuperation; moderate terms desired, (under $10 per week,) and no tubercular patients. L 163 Times.

Wanted—Board in small hotel within commuting distance of New York for man, wife, and ten-year-old daughter; country preferred to seashore. Reply at once, Box J 149 Times.

LOST
25c. a line 1 time; 3 times 20c. a line a day; 7 times 15c. a line a day.

LOST.—Sunday night, lorgnette and chain, monogram B. M., from Unter den Linden down Broadway to 86th St., Central Park West, or crosstown on Madison Av. car. Reward. B. M., 981 Madison Av.

LOST—Saturday afternoon, at Academy of Music or between there and West 72d St., lady's gun metal watch attached to gentleman's ribbon fob, with gold buckle and blood-stone seal; reward. 258 West 72d St.

LOST.—Sunday, May 29, in the vicinity of Madison Av., 30th and 31st Sts., a green enamel scarfpin. Finder please return to R. S. Stevens, 25 East 30th St., and receive reward.

LOST.—Diamond and sapphire brooch, Friday evening, between Cafe Lafayette and Hotel Wolcott. Liberal reward will be paid to finder by the cashier, Hotel Wolcott.

LOST.—Certificate United States Trust Co. No. B 34,354, $1,000, interest 2 per cent.; dated Oct 11, 1909. Please return to above company.

LOST.—May 28, 11:30 train to Rahway, N. J., lady's handbag, containing money and articles. Suitable reward. M. 91 Times.

LOST.—Diamond brooch, shape five-pointed star. Howard & Co., 578 5th Av. Reward.

LOST—Saturday, in Flatbush, lady's gold watch; reward. F. Robb, 369 Ocean Av.

Say you saw it in The Times.

FOUND
25c. a line 1 time; 3 times 20c. a line a day; 7 times 15c. a line a day.

FOUND—On 125th St., a pocketbook with money; it will be returned to the loser giving correct amount. Apply Jewish Daily News, 187 East Broadway.

LOST AND FOUND—CATS, DOGS
25c. a line 1 time; 3 times 20c. a line a day; 7 times 15c. a line a day.

FOUND—White dog on Saturday afternoon, May 28, in Essex and Broome Sts. M 87 Times.

LOST—Large yellow male Angora cat, answering to the name of Tabby. Address 500 West 112th St. Reward $10. Miss Gibson.

HELP WANTED, EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS.
20c. a line 1 time; 3 times 18c. a line a day; 7 times 15c. a line a day.

Commercial Help.

BOOKKEEPERS, stenographers, typewriters, office assistants, cashiers, furnished free. Wright Agency, 135 Broadway. Franklin 975.

EFFICIENT STENOGRAPHERS, office workers, furnished free; expert multigraphing. Supp Exchange, 87 Nassau. Cort. 4221.

Domestic Help.

A. A. HOFMAYER, 320 5th Av., 9th floor; telephone 4527 Madison Square; experienced domestic help.

CHILDREN'S NURSES, GOVERNESSES.
Mrs. Pillsbury, 507 5th Av., 6185 Murray Hill, supplies housekeepers, trained, practical nurses, maids.

COLONIAL BUREAU, 56 West 39th.—Strictly reliable maids, nurses, domestic help. 5382 Murray Hill.

COMPANIONS, teachers, (music,) governesses, kindergartners, housekeepers, ladies' maids, for families, schools. Jacobi's Educational-Professional Bureau, 29 West 34th St. Murray Hill—2670.

LINDE'S EMPLOYMENT AGENCY, 729 Lexington Av.—Reliable servants, all nationalities; references investigated. 'Phone 4698—Plaza.

MISS BRINKLEY
EMPLOYMENT OFFICE,
6 East 42d St. Tel. 2484 Murray Hill.
Competent servants supplied after a careful, thorough investigation of their references.

RELIABLE Hungarian, German, Polish help; references investigated. Roth's, 170 East 3d St. Telephone 2508—Orchard.

BOARD WANTED
15c. a line 1 time; 3 times 12c. a line a day; 7 times 10c. a line a day.

Young man, employed downtown, would like room and board; would share room in refined private American family; below 100th St., west side; write full particulars. M 88 Times.

MACHINERY
25c. a line 1 time; 3 times 25c. a line a day; 7 times 20c. a line a day.

For Sale—New tenoning and morticing outfit; 4-side coping; less than half ordinary cost; in perfect efficiency; machine demonstrated. Engineering Co., 139

HELP WANTED—FEMALES
15c. a line 1 time; 3 times 12c. a line a day; 7 times 10c. a line a day.

A WELL EDUCATED WOMAN of adaptability is needed in the subscription department. Apply Houghton Mifflin Co., 85 5th Av.

NURSE.—Wanted, a competent nurse for infant and boy 4 years old; must understand bottle feeding; to go to Cedarhurst, Long Island. Apply to Abrams, 455 West 35th St.

WANTED—Young ladies to enter the training school for nurses; regular 3-year course. Graham Sanatorium, Rochester, N. Y.

YOUNG WOMEN, between 17 and 23 years of age, to learn telephone operating for Central Office positions; for those who qualify salary of $5 a week paid while learning. Apply after 9 A. M. at Application Department, New York Telephone Co., 58 West Houston St., cor. Wooster St.

HELP WANTED—MALES
15c. a line 1 time; 3 times 12c. a line a day; 7 times 10c. a line a day.

COACHMAN. — Experienced; references; in country place; caring lawn and garden; $20. Ackerman, 187 Greenwich.

MAN WANTED.—Weekly guaranty and good commission paid; salesman's experience desirable, not necessary; special training given; worthy men promptly advanced to positions of trust; increased pay for increased efficiency and skill. Manager, Room 601, 277 Broadway, N. Y.

MAN (Hungarian) wanted to sell near-by lots; good pay. Samuel Kraft, 30 Church St.

MEN WANTED—Successful collectors, solicitors; old line company; $100,000 capital; $1 monthly insures men's wages against lost time from accident or sickness; phenomenal demand; permanent; salary, commission. CREAMER, NATIONAL CASUALTY CO., Metropolitan Building, Room 5,011.

PRINTING OFFICE. — Desires to learn of several ambitious young men with knowledge of printing business; plant or office experience desired; give particulars. M 9 Times.

PRINTING SALESMEN.—We have an opening for several successful salesmen of high-class catalogue and color work; must be men who carry good trade; give particulars. M 8 Times.

REAL ESTATE and insurance agents to sell a good suburban lot development within 15 miles of New York on easy monthly payments; good leads furnished; only experienced, first-class hustlers need apply; liberal inducements, salary and commission. The Kline Realty and Improvement Company, 25 Church St., city.

SALESMEN WANTED.—No experience required; hundreds of positions now open, paying from $100 to $500 monthly. Our free book, "A Knight of the Grip," will show you how to get one of them. Write, (or call,) for it today. Address National Salesmen's Training Association, 1,210 D., Flatiron Building, New York. Branches, Chicago, Kansas City, Minneapolis, San Francisco, Atlanta.

SALESMAN.—We want a live, progressive man to sell to the best trade only a line of foreign linens for cutting-up trade and large department stores; to the right man a splendid opportunity; communications strictly confidential. Address P. O. Box 42, Station O.

SALESMAN.—Man with qualities of salesmanship for general advertising work; references an absolute requirement. Address, giving experience and references, L 154 Times.

SALESMEN, experienced, to sell houses, lots, and acreage on Long Island; liberal commission; leads furnished. Thos. Browne, 146 East 34th St.

SALESMAN with trade same line or similar. Answer by mail, reference and particulars; correspondence confidential. Theodore Weil, 14 Waverley Place.

SALESMAN.—Side line ladies' waists for Western territory. Address M 44 Times.

SOLICITOR.—An excellent opportunity is offered a bright, energetic young man on a high-class financial publication soliciting subscriptions. Address, giving previous experience, if any, Box 1, 159 Times.

SOLICITORS.—For $1 monthly we pay $60 in case of sickness or accident; we want solicitors to get members; weekly salary and commission. Ballard & Garret, 84 William St.

WASHER.—Experienced washer in laundry doing high grade work only; apply by mail only; references required. J. Bergler, 754 Nostrand Av., Brooklyn.

SITUATIONS WANTED, EMPLOYMENT BUREAUS.
20c. a line 1 time; 3 times 18c. a line a day; 7 times 15c. a line a day.

COOKS, WAITRESSES, PARLORMAIDS, chambermaids, ladies' maids, (Scandinavian, Scotch, Irish;) German nurses; unquestionable references filed. Mrs. Kernaghan's Bureau, 844 6th Av. Bryant 683.

COOKS, laundresses, houseworkers, chambermaids, elevator runners, useful men. Porter's Bureau, 142 West 133d St.; 94 Morningside.

COOK.—Hungarian; willing to go to country; several other girls for any domestic position. Mrs. Treuman's Bureau, 111 East 75th St.

FURNISH first-class chambermaids, waitresses, nurses, cooks, ladies' maids, references entirely investigated; 'phone 3679 Plaza. Nielson's Swedish Employment Bureau, 570 Lexington Av.

OLD DOMINION EMPLOYMENT BUREAU, 88 West 134th St; bond, $1,000, guarantees colored help; 1,119 Harlem.

RELIABLE COOKS, laundresses, housework-ers, chambermaids, day workers. Shepherd's Bureau, 107 West 133d.; 6916 Morningside.

STENOGRAPHERS supplied to first-class concerns; only capable help registered; entire fee to employe is $5, which is returned if no position obtained. Public Stenographer, 1 Wall St.

VICTORIA AGENCY, 36 West 133d, furnishes high-class colored help; city, country. 4747 Harlem.

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALES
15c. a line 1 time; 3 times 12c. a line a day; 7 times 10c. a line a day.

A.—Dressmaker, formerly with 5th Av. house; well made and fashionable gowns; equal to the best establishments; your own material made up; prompt, reliable, and reasonable. Telephone 1883 Bryant, Mme. Cully, 138 West 48th St.

A LADY wishes to place excellent maid, cook, or cook and laundress where one other maid is kept. 635 West 115th St.

BOOKKEEPER, stenographer, and typewriter, experienced, competent; have earned $25 per week; will accept $20 until ability is proved; highest references. Capable, 102 Times Downtown.

BOOKKEEPER; 7 years' experience; competent, reliable; understands stenography and typewriting; first-class references furnished. Miss E., 103 Times Downtown.

BOOKKEEPER, double entry; stenographer; office worker; experienced, bright, cultured girl; $8. Trustworthy, 105 Times Downtown.

BOOKKEEPER.—Double entry, stenographer; age 17; neat and accurate; $8. E 119 Times Downtown.

COOK.—Swedish; first-class cook; understands French cooking; go to country; good references. Call 1,013 Park Av., care of Miss Gabrielson.

DRESSMAKER.—More customers; latest styles; sewing, fit perfect; $2.50 day. Proficient, M 90 Times.

EXPERIENCED CHAPERON, disengaged June 1; has arranged for and accompanied parties throughout Europe. Reply Box 70, Washington, D. C.

GRADUATE MASSEUSE of hand and trained nurse will accompany lady as companion for Summer at very low salary; highest references. Tilly Lessin, 21 East 3d St. New York City.

HOUSEKEEPER. — Elderly woman; working housekeeper; adults; apartment; reference. J. M., 856 9th Av.

NURSE.—Capable young girl wants position as nurse for children or infant for city; best reference. 59 West 87th St. Basement.

STENOGRAPHER, TYPEWRITER, GENERAL Office Assistant.—Seven years' experience in various lines, accustomed to handling high-grade work, desires permanent position; unquestionable references; $15. Executive, E 101 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER.—Year's experience; neat, accurate, rapid, painstaking, and reliable; willing to work hard; understands routine office work; references; $8. Miss Dorothie, C 212 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER, ASSISTANT BOOKkeeper, experienced, cultured, neat personality, desires permanency; $12. Christian, U 127

SITUATIONS WANTED—FEMALES
15c. a line 1 time; 3 times 12c. a line a day; 7 times 10c. a line a day.

STENOGRAPHER.—Refined, cultured, conscientious, intelligent worker; limited experience; $6; reference. Quick, U 126 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER.—Bright; uses judgment; miscellaneous experience; excellent mathematician, grammarian; $10. Dorothy, U 128 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER.—Experienced, careful; any machine; transcribes accurately, intelligently; $12; references. Stenographer, 183 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER.—Bright; uses judgment; miscellaneous experience; excellent mathematician, grammarian; $6. May, U 122 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER; thoroughly qualified; engineering, commercial experience; understands bookkeeping; educated; reference. E 108 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER, beginner, good education, desires position where she can advance. Miss Lyons, 201 East 106th St. 'Phone 4974—Harlem.

STENOGRAPHER. — Resourceful, energetic; assume responsibility; cultured; $10; references. Competent, U 125 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER, assistant bookkeeper; master technical details grammatically; $6; references. Ambitious, U 123 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER.—Thoroughly experienced general lines; qualified to handle any work; expert. E 118 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER.—Excellent speller; reads notes well; operates machine neatly; $8; C 198 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER.—Three years' experience; Normal graduate; $8; reference. Lilly, U 124 Times Downtown.

STENOGRAPHER. — Neat, accurate; High School graduate; busy office preferred. H. J., 263 West 125th St.

STENOGRAPHER.—Bright girl wishes position where she can advance. Greves, 374 Saratoga Av., Brooklyn.

STENOGRAPHER and typist; six months' experience; willing and efficient. L 146 Times.

SITUATIONS WANTED—MALES
15c. a line 1 time; 3 times 12c. a line a day; 7 times 10c. a line a day.

AMERICAN BACHELOR, 59, good health, habits, references, could at trifling cost desirably assist wealthy bachelor, widower, aged couple, or semi-invalid, as home secretary and companion; helpfully influence young people; exercise, diet, hygiene; must minimize living expenses, while using spare time to promote legitimate business enterprise. L 158 Times.

A.—A.—ACCOUNTANT.—Expert, opens, writes up, disentangles, balances, supervises, closes, audits books, $5 monthly upward; financial statements rendered; references. Accountant, 320 Broadway, Room 1,204. 'Phone 2114—Worth.

ACCOUNTANT.—Expert; books opened, closed, balanced, systematized, audited, written up; kept part time; reasonable. Accountant, 32 Union Square. 'Phone 2250—Stuyvesant.

ACCOUNTANT.—Expert all lines; books opened, closed, written up, systematized; audits $5 monthly, upward. Accountant, 2,406 Morris Av. Telephone 3528—Tremont.

ACCOUNTANT (degree) desires additional work any books, any time. P. O. Box 225, Madison Square.

BOOKKEEPER, accountant; books opened, audited, systems installed; firms not employing bookkeepers, $2.50 weekly. Accountant, Room 184, 280 Broadway. Telephone 2825—Worth.

BOOKKEEPER.—Confidential man, having business and legal training, desires position at reasonable salary with prospects for advancement. M 51 Times.

BOOKKEEPER and CASHIER, (25;) 8 years' experience; A1; any system; salary $25. Write A. D., Chelsea, 54 West 18th St.

BOOKKEEPER.—Expert; writes up, balances books, regular intervals; moderate. Accountant, 80 Henry St., Brooklyn.

BOOKKEEPER, stenographer, correspondent, 27; competent. Thomas, 1,329 88th St., Brooklyn.

CARPENTER, all around union mechanic, wants position; understands plans. James Peel, 284 Nostrand Av., Brooklyn.

CASHIER.—Cafe, restaurant; middle-aged man; ten years last place; excellent reference. M 68 Times.

CHAUFFEUR, COACHMAN.—Scotch, married, long practical driving experience; capable doing repairs; proved satisfactory; strictly temperate; useful, obliging; personal reference; go anywhere. MacDonald, 243 West 48th St.

CHAUFFEUR.—By a college man, with both a factory and road experience, a position as chauffeur from about the middle of June to the latter part of September; references. Box 784, Yale Station, New Haven, Conn.

CHAUFFEUR.—Mechanic; three years' experience; best reference; city or country. Dunn, 326 East 62d St.

COLLECTOR seeks position as collector for big house; under heavy bond, as Special Deputy Sheriff. M 89 Times.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY STUDENT EMPLOYMENT COMMITTEE can furnish thoroughly competent men and women tutors and companions; also clerks and draftsmen for part time and Summer work. Employment Committee, Sub-station 84, City. Telephone 1400 Morningside.

COUPLE desires steady position country; entire housework; small family; handle horse; man American, wife German; speaks French; with girl, aged 10; best reference. Reliable, 326 West 50th St.

HOLLANDERS; young married couple, without children, position on gentleman's place, (no farm;) gardener; wife plain cook; references. Hollanders, 143 8th Av.

JANITOR.—German couple; experienced fireman, handy with tools; understands all about high and low pressure furnaces; elevator apartment. W. Giesener, 55 West 132d St.

MASSAGE BY REGISTERED PHYSICIAN; EUROPEAN GRADUATE; MODERN METHODS AND APPARATUS. J 49 TIMES.

MASSAGE.—BY AN EUROPEAN EXPERT; HIGHEST REFERENCES; 15 YEARS' EXPERIENCE. M 58 TIMES.

PAINTER.—Christian; first-class, reliable; city or country work. Druggist, 1,697 Park Av.

STENOGRAPHER.—Bright, correct; will work hard to get start; moderate salary with advancement. Mr. Hays, 605 Madison Av., 'phone 2993—Plaza.

WANTED, by a Darthmouth student during vacation, any useful occupation; French, German, good address and athletic; references given. Address K, Box M 73 Times.

WATCHMAN, NIGHTS.—Competent, sober; city references. W. Ransom, 257 8th Av.

WELL EDUCATED author desires any editorial or similar work; best references. M 93 Times.

YOUNG MAN, (20,) wants position as stock clerk in millinery, clothing, or corset house; has had experience in all; if not in the above, willing to try another line will make good; best of reference furnished. L 113 Times.

YOUNG MAN, 25, desires position; references; will accept position as salesman. M 71 Times.

BOARDERS WANTED
15c. a line 1 time; 3 times 12c. a line a day; 7 times 10c. a line a day.

West Side.

I—879 WEST END AV., corner 103d, block Riverside Park, Subway express, surface cars; beautiful vine-covered corner house; finely furnished rooms; private baths; private telephones; excellent table.

16TH ST., 20, 22, 33 WEST.—Large and small rooms; well furnished; unexcelled board; telephone.

23D ST., 418 WEST. The Aren.—Suite; double, single rooms; private bath; telephone; excellent table.

26TH ST., 33 WEST. (The Borden.)—Desirable large, small rooms, private bath, special hot water system; Southerners accommodated; superior table; telephone; reasonable.

39TH ST., 57 WEST.—Board and rooms for persons with reliable reference; Southern home.

44TH ST., 221 WEST.—Large rooms; superior board; refined home; table board; parlor dining room.

49TH ST., 68 WEST.—Handsome large and single rooms; all conveniences; bath; telephone; high-class house; table guests accommodated; special rates for Summer.

54TH ST., 54 WEST.
Large, small rooms; first class; telephone; references.

64TH ST., 115 WEST.—Large, pleasant room, finely furnished; running water; excellent table; moderate.

BOARDERS WANTED
15c. a line 1 time; 3 times 12c. a line a day; 7 times 10c. a line a day.

West Side.

68TH ST., 56 WEST.—Beautiful, large room, handsomely furnished; private bath, shower; electric light; private residence; near Park; complete and attentive service.

68TH ST., 67 WEST.—Handsomely furnished suite, private bath; physician or family; other large and small rooms; board optional; near Central Park.

70TH ST., 151 WEST.—Large second-story room; private bathroom; hot water supply; telephone in room; large, cool dining room; references.

72D ST., 208 WEST.—Alcove and square rooms; reasonable; private family. 'Phone Lenox 4518.

74TH, 102 WEST.—One, two room suites; private baths; high-class accommodations; table guests.

78TH ST., 112 WEST.—Cool comfortable rooms; Summer rates; private boarding house; parlor dining room.

80TH ST., 141 WEST.—Large, cool rooms; high-class home table board; parlor dining; references.

82D ST., 74 WEST.—Newly furnished, large rooms; private baths; table guests; Summer rates; references.

82D ST., 126 WEST.—Room suitable for one or two; table board; American family.

82D ST., 127 WEST.—Cool, comfortable rooms; parlor dining room; table guests; Summer rates; references.

83D ST., 57 WEST.—Attractive, south, medium, small rooms; telephone; superior family table; table guests.

91ST ST., 54 WEST.—Elegant rooms, handsomely furnished; every convenience; superior board; near Park; telephone.

93D ST., 163 WEST.—Large, small, attractive rooms; parlor dining; superior table; telephone; table guests.

93D ST., 122 WEST, Near "L" Subway, and Park.—Desirable room; good board; telephone; references.

93D ST., 270 WEST.—Two large front rooms, bath; suite or singly.

94TH ST., 32 WEST.—Handsome large rooms; high-class house; excellent table; Summer rates; telephone.

95TH ST., 330 WEST.—Nicely furnished hall room, $4.50 weekly; gentlemen; references. Apartment 11.

96TH ST., 64 WEST.—Handsome double room, bath; excellent board; suitable family; near Park; references.

102D ST., 248 WEST.—Private house; select locality; near Riverside; unusually large rooms; strictly private bath, shower; choice table; boarding house atmosphere eliminated; also other accommodations; southern exposure; reasonable.

123D, 168 WEST.—Connecting airy rooms, second floor; 'phone; first-class board optional; references.

149TH ST., 540-46 WEST.—Near Broadway Subway, beautiful Riverside Drive, and Hudson River; in healthiest and most beautiful section of city; large, bright, comfortably furnished rooms, (adjoining bath;) $16-$20 per week for two; large gardens and porch; parlor dining rooms; excellent meals; private telephones; every comfort; a real home.

ACROPOLIS HOTEL, 519 West 138d St.—Single or en suite; American or European plan.

BROADWAY, 3,686, Near 153d St.—Location unsurpassed; Riverside; quiet, cool, large rooms; fine home table; telephone; Subway; couples, families; references.

East Side.

11TH ST., 26 EAST, Adjoining 5th Av.—Handsome rooms, newly decorated; running water; superior table.

15TH ST., 213 EAST.—Most desirable rooms; view of Stuyvesant Park; excellent table; references; phone.

17TH ST., 116 EAST.—Front parlor, suitable light business or small family; table board; telephone.

21ST ST., 46 EAST.—Large pleasant room; sanitary plumbing; excellent table; telephone; references.

63D ST., 23 EAST, (corner Madison Av.,) 694-696 Madison Av.—Suites, with bath; also separate rooms; excellent board; parlor dining; Summer rates.

80TH ST., 40 EAST, (corner Madison Av.)—One block from Park; beautiful rooms; excellent board; elevator.

Brooklyn.

MONTAGUE TERRACE, 5, Brooklyn Heights.—Harbor view Wall St., Subway five minutes, Broadway; corner connects seashore; neighborhood, house, high class; table choicest products New York markets. 905—Main.

Long Island.

Douglas Manor Inn, Douglaston, on Little Neck Bay; easy commuting distance; special rates starting season early. Apply direct or 1,122 Broadway.

FURNISHED ROOMS
15c. a line 1 time; 3 times 12c. a line a day; 7 times 10c. a line a day.

West Side.

5TH AV., 46.—Well furnished large, small rooms; breakfast served; refined surroundings; references; telephone.

7TH AV., 1,919, (116th.)—Choice rooms, single, en suite; elevator apartment. Fifth floor, south.

12TH ST., 43 WEST.—Nicely furnished double room; running water; southern exposure; telephone; reference.

15TH ST., 252 WEST.—Newly furnished room, all conveniences; private house; telephone.

43D ST., 117 WEST.—Exceptionally well furnished rooms, large and small; southern exposure; telephone; references.

44TH ST., 216 WEST.—Desirable, well-furnished large and small rooms; quiet, refined surroundings; references.

46TH ST., 28 WEST.—Bachelor apartments; also single rooms, with private baths, furnished or unfurnished.

49TH STREET, 122 WEST.

Beautiful furnished room; running water; $7.00 per week, with private bath $12.00.

Hotel Bristol.

56TH ST., 314 WEST.—Large, airy room, suitable for two; bath, telephone; new management.

64TH ST., 119 WEST.—Unusually pleasant room; attractively furnished; improvements; low rental until September.

68TH, 38 WEST.—Rooms for gentlemen; absolutely clean; daintily furnished; private house; electric lights, telephone, private baths; every modern convenience; exceptional service; breakfast if desired; highest references only.

68TH ST., 62 WEST.—Well-furnished, large, back parlor; private bath; near Central Park; telephone.

70TH ST., 108 WEST.—Large front room; private bath; not the cheapest, but the best.

71ST ST., 351 WEST.—Private house; large rooms or suite; private bath; gentlemen, couple; telephone.

76TH ST., 180 WEST.—Large front room, second floor; private bath, electric lights, telephone; references.

80TH ST., 132 WEST.—Private house; large second-floor front; furnishings entirely new; moderate; references.

81ST ST., 108 WEST.—Newly furnished large and small rooms; private house; Subway, "L"; reference.

82D ST., 8 WEST.—Airy rooms; refined surroundings; overlooking Central Park; absolute cleanliness; reduced rates.

82D, 119 WEST.—Large, sunny rooms, suitable physician; electrical installation; telephone; baths. Inquire mornings.

82D ST., 130 WEST.—Well-furnished, cool, large and small rooms; with bath; dressing rooms.

82D, 148 WEST.—Large front room, dressing room; running water; also single; references; telephone.

84TH ST., 111 WEST.—Exceptionally desirable large and small rooms; every convenience; very moderate. Anderson.

88TH ST., WEST END AV., 570.—In private house, beautifully furnished rooms; dressing room and bath; terms moderate; 'phone 7986—River.

91ST, 15 WEST, Near Park.—Nice, airy rooms, comfortably furnished; ample closets; elevator, electric lights, telephone; "L," Subway; 59-57. Brown.

FURNISHED ROOMS
15c. a line 1 time; 3 times 12c. a line a day; 7 times 10c. a line a day.

West Side.

91ST, 31 WEST.—Large, well-furnished room; running water; also small room; Summer rates.

92D, 100 WEST.—Parlor bedroom, bath; one flight; private hall; Summer rates; references. Wyatt.

94TH ST., 205 WEST.—Three nicely furnished, airy rooms, suitable two; 'phone; elevator; moderate. Sander.

102D ST., 303 WEST, (near Riverside Drive.)—Delightfully cool, airy rooms; gentlemen; telephone; 108d St. Subway.

112TH ST., 504 WEST.—Large, small, independent front rooms; elevator, telephone; shower; cool; refined. Cooke.

118TH ST., 419, (Morningside Heights.)—Attractive, cool front rooms, suite and single; elevator, parks; Subway one block. Inquire fifth, front.

121ST ST., 203 WEST.—Large back parlor; also smaller room; reasonable; private house; telephone.

124TH ST., 17 WEST.—Attractive large, small rooms, facing Park; all home comforts; near Subway.

138TH ST., 628 WEST.—Neatly furnished room; running water; private house; bath, shower; Subway; reasonable.

178TH ST., 592 WEST.—Elegant room; unobstructed view; gentleman or lady; high-class apartment; ideal location; reasonable; call evenings. Apartment 34.

ATTRACTIVE, large rooms, telephone; kitchen privileges; $3-$5. Berkshire Apartments, (126th, Eighth Av.) Bentley.

BROADWAY, 2,728.—Two-room suite, also single rooms; well furnished; near 103d Subway. Miller.

CLAREMONT AV., 180, Apartment 35.—Attractively furnished rooms, overlooking Grant's Tomb; elevator apartment; telephone; near Subway; breakfast optional; reasonable; gentlemen.

ROOMS in clean private house; private bath, twin beds; breakfast; permanent gentlemen. 322 River.

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 943, (127th.)—Handsomely furnished suites; four, five rooms; elevator, telephone, electricity; silver, linen; lowest Summer rate; $8.50 weekly upward; furnished room, bath, kitchen, $3-$6.

East Side.

28TH ST., 16 EAST.—Bachelor quarters; showers, needle baths, plunge; $5 up; transients accommodated.

43D ST., 18 EAST.—Large, attractive room; private bath; also small room.

93D ST., 64 EAST.—(Small family, two adults;) large, cheerful, and comfortable room; gentlemen; quiet, homelike surroundings; references. Burns, or 2,813 Lenox.

123D, 168 WEST.—Connecting airy rooms, second floor; 'phone; first-class board optional; references.

150TH ST., 6 EAST.—Large front room, neatly furnished; private family; suitable two gentlemen.

IRVING PLACE, 71.—Desirable large and small rooms; private baths; breakfast optional; telephone; references.

Brooklyn.

A NEW ENGLAND WOMAN
has newly renovated rooms, overlooking water, for gentlemen, with and without private bath; convenient Wall St. Subway and Bridge; popular prices. 3 Montague Terrace, Heights.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES
30c. a line 1 time; 3 times 25c. a line a day; 7 times 20c. a line a day.

HUDSON RIVER BRIDGE.
NOTICE TO REAL ESTATE SPECULATORS.
I have several hundred fine lots, surveyed, recorded, and ready for sale in thriving town, with National bank, schools, stores of every description, a few miles from terminus of new bridge, which I will make a wonderful sacrifice of for cash, in consequence of other interests; this offer will easily net investor $25,000 profit.
WALTER J. KEESING,
Suite 573, 50 Church St., Manhattan.

Business opportunity for some young, ambitious man who wishes to engage in business in an up-to-date borough of 4,000 inhabitants; after thirty years' dealing in sporting goods, smokers' supplies, books, musical instruments, novelties of every description, I am compelled on account of health to sell my business. For information address W. W. Christine, Washington, N. J.

Fine hotel in Rockville Centre, near depot, to let under reasonable terms, as well family liquor store in New Brooklyn. Inquire Wm. Ulmer Brewery, 31 Belvidere Street, Brooklyn.

Young man or lady with business ability can buy half interest established manufacturing concern; thorough investigation; no agents. 85 Crosby St.

Salesman wanted, experienced in clothing business, capable of managing outside affairs, to go into partnership; reasonable investment. L 25 Times.

BUSINESS NOTICES
30c. a line 1 time; 3 times 25c. a line a day; 7 times 20c. a line a day.

Money back on Bad Investments. Unimportant how worthless considered. For particulars give name, address, amount investment, &c. No charges. Responsible, Box 110 Times Downtown.

Bills discounted; merchants and manufacturers financed; business investigations with guaranteed reports. Mercantile Advancer, 320 5th Av., Room 213.

SUMMONSES.

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—LINCOLN TRUST COMPANY, Plaintiff, against DOROTHEA EDGARITA McVICKAR, Daniel C. Adams, John C. Hall, as executor of the estate of Helen B. Hall, deceased; Marion E. Coe, as administratrix of the estate of James A. Brown, deceased; Seward Crouse, Annaluhe von Bachelle, Halsey B. G. White, George N. Crouse, Florence Crouse Clark, Marlette Crouse, Laura C. Crouse, Clara Crouse Bartlett, Charles M. Crouse and Lizzie Crouse Maynard, as executor and executrix of the estate of Jacob Crouse, deceased; Guy Crouse and Lee Crouse, as executors of the estate of Henry Crouse, deceased; Charles E. Crouse, individually and as surviving executor of the estate of George N. Crouse, deceased; Kate C. Ledlie, Catherine H. Parsons, Florence Crouse, as executrix of the estate of Charles B. Crouse, deceased; George W. Adams, Jay Lancing Crouse, Harold S. Crouse, and Jacob Brown, Defendants.—Summons.—Trial Desired in New York County.

To the above-named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.

Dated New York, March 21, 1910.
BOWERS & SANDS,
Attorneys for Plaintiff.
Office and Post Office address, 31 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.

To Seward Crouse, Annaluhe von Bachelle, Halsey B. G. White, Florence Crouse Clark, Clara Crouse Bartlett, and Harold S. Crouse:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Honorable Samuel Greenbaum, a Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the 15th day of April, 1910, and filed with a copy of the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York at the County Court House, Borough of Manhattan, City, County, and State of New York, on the 16th day of April, 1910, the original complaint having been filed in said office on the 28th day of March, 1910.

Dated New York, April 16th, 1910.
BOWERS & SANDS,
Attorneys for Plaintiff.
Office and Post Office address, 31 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE BESTHOFF-HART COMPANY, a domestic corporation, having its principal business office at No. 37 West 17th Street, Manhattan Borough, City, County, and State of New York, will apply to the Supreme Court of the State of New York at a special term to be held at the County Court House, Part I. thereof, Manhattan Borough, in the City, County, and State of New York, on the 14th day of June, 1910, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, for an order authorizing said corporation to change its corporate name to the BESTHOFF-SONN COMPANY.

Dated New York, May 19, 1910.
BESTHOFF-HART COMPANY,
By MAURICE M. BESTHOF, President.
CHARLES A. KALISH, Attorney for Petitioner, 60 Wall Street, New York City.

The New York Times welcomes and treats confidentially any information that will aid in excluding fraudulent and objectionable advertising.

REFEREES' NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW York.—ELIZA WILDEY, Plaintiff, against JOHN F. BURT and others, Defendants.

In pursuance of an interlocutory judgment of partition and sale duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 28th day of April, 1910, I, the undersigned, the Referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the Exchange Salesroom, Nos. 14-16 Vesey Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 8th day of June, 1910, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Joseph P. Day, Auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All those certain lots, pieces, or parcels of land, with the buildings and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of the Bronx of the City of New York, County and State of New York, (formerly in the Town of Morrisania, County of Westchester,) known and designated as part of lot number seventy-one (71) on the "Map of the Village of Morrisania," made by Andrew Findlay, Surveyor, dated West Farms, August 10th, 1848, and now on file in the office of the Register of the County of Westchester, and bounded and described from said map as follows:

Beginning at a point on the easterly side of Washington Avenue, distant one hundred (100

PRESIDENT REVIEWS MEMORIAL PARADE

Leads the Cheering as Veterans and Guardsmen Pass Soldiers and Sailors' Monument.

OLD FIGHTERS' RANKS THIN

Some Civil War Posts Too Feeble to Carry Their Flags—Others Helped Out by Their Grandchildren.

Twenty thousand veterans, regulars, National Guardsmen, and members of cadet corps and other semi-military organizations defiled past President Taft yesterday in the Memorial Day parade. It was the first time for many years that a President of the United States had taken his stand at the Soldiers and Sailors' Monument at Riverside Drive and Eighty-ninth Street, and in his honor the display was finer than usual, but not more than 1,000 of those who saluted him were civil war veterans and nothing could hide the fact that most of the posts are growing as thin and worn as the tattered battle flags they carried.

The President arrived early yesterday morning from Washington and went at once to the home of his brother, Henry W. Taft, 36 West Forty-eighth Street. Here Troop 4, Squadron A, was drawn up as a guard of honor. As soon as he had breakfasted and Gen. George B. Loud, Chairman of the Memorial Day Committee, had called for him, the troop formed the President's escort to the Sherman Square Hotel, Broadway and Seventy-first Street. There it was relieved by the Old Guard.

It was 9:30 o'clock before those waiting at the reviewing stand saw turning the corner of Riverside Drive the Old Guard in their white uniforms and tall bearskins. The sunlight shone from their fixed bayonets, and as the first files came abreast the stand the Heavy Artillery Corps, which was drawn up there in their old-time dress, came to the salute with their curved sabres. As the President's automobile drew up he was greeted with cheers, which he acknowledged by bowing right and left.

In the Presidential party were his brother, Henry W. Taft, Congressman Bennet, Henry Clews, Borough President McAneny, County Clerk Schmeider, Secretary of State Koenig, I. M. Seligman, and Alfred Macdowell, Secretary of the Peace Society. On the stand were already Major Gen. Sickles, the last surviving corps commander of the civil war, Major Gen. Julius H. Stahl, Brig. Gen. Thomas H. Hubbard, Brig. Gen. John T. Lockman, and Brig. Gen. Howe, commanding the Department of the East.

Col. G. E. Dewey in the Lead.

The parade was led by Col. George E. Dewey, Grand Marshal, and his staff. He was saluted with a roll of the drums of the Heavy Artillery Corps and as he passed the grandstand he wheeled to one side to see the parade go by. First in line was a strong battalion of the Coast Artillery, marching steadily and strongly with perfect alignment. The President stood to receive them, and as the colors passed, dipped in his honor, he took off his hat and held it against his heart.

The United States sailors of the Rhode Island and the Connecticut came next, and a cheer went up as the Rhode Island's band was heard playing the traditional naval march, "A Life on the Ocean Wave." The sailors carried, besides the Stars and Stripes, a flag of their own, blue and white with a large blue anchor on it. There was something very workmanlike about the detachment, and blue men, with their white service caps, khaki leggings, cartridge belts, and water bottles looked as though they were as ready as ever for "a fight or a frolic."

A long interval separated the regulars from the National Guard, but at last, far down the Drive, a line of mounted men were seen riding under the trees with the sunlight playing through the leaves on their gold lace and brass buttons. They were Major Gen. Roe and his staff, pacing gently along in glittering array at the head of the forces of the State of New York. Once more the drums of the Heavy Artillery Corps gave the salute, and as the roll died away the hollow round of the kettledrums of Squadron A was heard.

The crack cavalry corps, in their dress uniform of blue with yellow facings and black shakos, got a cheer as they defiled past. They were in full strength, and as the music of their band faded in the distance the rattle of their horses' hoofs kept up the martial sound. A strong regiment of Coast Artillery was next in line, and behind came a double file of the businesslike dust-colored field guns of the First Field Battery, the gunners sitting like statues with crossed arms on the caissons.

Cheers for the Seventh.

The Field Hospital and the First Signal Corps, in black uniforms and orange-plumed shakos, represented the departmental corps, and then the crowd pressed eagerly forward as the gray cutaway coats and the white trousers of the Seventh were seen marching up the drive. Col. Appleton was in command, and a Drum Major, magnificent in a bearskin headdress adorned with a red bag and red and white plume, gave time to the band. The regiment lived up to its reputation for smartness of marching, and was cheered all along the route.

The Twelfth, with its band in scarlet and its Chaplain riding with the staff officers at its head, came next, and then followed the Seventy-first, in an old-fashioned uniform, differing from that of the Seventh only in the navy blue of the cutaway dress tunics. The last of the National Guard infantry was the Sixty-ninth, and as it passed, with its band playing Irish airs with a cheerful lilt to them, it was plain that they were popular with the spectators.

Behind them a mass of white could be seen turning the corner of the Drive. It was formed by the naval militia, every man of whom, except the officers, was clad in a white duck uniform. Capt. Russell Raynor, a typical bluff sailor, led them in blue and gold. The pioneers, with their intrenching tools and the signalers with their red and white flags aroused the interest of the onlookers. But for the machine gun section that brought up the rear was reserved the principal applause.

The regulars and National Guardsmen, the active force of to-day, passed on, and there ensued a long pause before the first of the soldiers of a bygone generation reached the stand. They had been outpaced by their successors in the ranks, and even the short march of less than a mile from Seventy-second Street, where they had mustered, had made them straggle a little.

How the Veterans Looked.

"They are coming slowly, but they're going fast enough," said a policeman as at last the strains of "Marching Through Georgia" told that the first of the veterans were coming. As they neared the reviewing stand they halted to dress their ranks, and then, bravely enough, John A. Dix Post came past in long black coats and white helmets. One of them kept up as best he could on crutches, and as the old fellows saluted the President it was Mr. Taft himself who led off the cheering.

Lafayette Post, the second in line, in uniforms of black tunic and white trousers, were numerous enough to keep a military formation, though they had intrusted their flags to the arms of younger men than themselves. But when it came to the turn of Dahlgren Post to salute it was rather the shot-riven battle flags they carried that raised a shout than the strength of their turnout.

As the posts succeeded each other it was seen that rather than submit to practical extinction they had reinforced their ranks by their sons, their grandsons, and their granddaughters. Sometimes these marched ahead of the veterans. A strong detachment of Scotch Highlanders with their pipers led Cameron Post, sometimes mingling in the ranks themselves and helping the old man along on their arms. At the head of McQuade Post, which was played past by the band of Public School 21, came two rows of little girls clad in white. The Mitchell Post was led by a tall, good-looking Daughter of the Regiment dressed in white, and many of the other posts had files of associate members marching behind them.

Of all the posts, the remnants of the Zouaves raised most enthusiasm. In the first division of veterans a handful carried its colors. In the second division, eight or nine of the survivors of Duryee's Zouaves bore half a dozen more standards. The gay uniforms and the red fezes seemed to accentuate the age of the veterans, and a cheer of sympathy went up as the color bearers stumbled along, weighed down by the flags under which they had fought.

Flags Too Heavy to Carry.

The sailors of Farragut Post passed in their traditional fashion, arms resting on each others' shoulders, and the Gen. James A. Wadsworth Post, refusing to trust their flags to others, too heavy now for them to carry, had them borne in a carriage. Two negro posts, the Thaddeus Stevens and the John A. Andrews Post, closed the line of marching veterans, but after them came the Abraham Lincoln, Steinwehl, and Gilsa Posts in carriages. The officers stood as they saluted the President, and among them was the one woman member of the G. A. R., Mrs. Kady Burnell, now the custodian of the Jumel Mansion, who went all through the war as the companion of her husband, who was in the Rhode Island Heavy Artillery.

Altogether, it was reckoned by Adjt. Gen. Joseph A. Ellis that 1,450 veterans reported themselves present, and of these about 1,000 marched. The oldest that he knew of were Surgeon Sewell and James F. Wendman, both of John A. Dix Post, each 87 years old. In the grand stand was sitting Major Walter Thorn, Commander of the Medal of Honor Legion. He wore around his neck the Congressional Medal of Honor, of which only 222 were conferred in the war, for distinguished bravery at the Dutch Gap Canal before Richmond, and on his breast a medal given by Brooklyn, of which only five were awarded in all, for two other acts of special courage.

Another man who attracted much attention was Capt. Jack Crawford, who rode up to the grand stand, just before the veterans passed, in all the glory of a Western scout's outfit. He responded cheerily as the crowd hailed him.

Others in the Line.

After the civil war veterans came the Spanish War veterans, headed by the Police Band, and then a number of cadet and semi-military organizations. The Garde de Lafayette had provided themselves with a vivandière, with the conventional little barrel by her side, and they passed with fixed sword bayonets to the strains of the "Marseillaise." The most popular of the cadet battalions seemed to be the lads from the Hebrew Orphan Asylum. Their minute drum major swung his baton as sturdily as any of the leaders of the grown-up bands, and the boys in a workmanlike turn-out of khaki knickerbockers and leggings and sombreros and blue shirts maintained an alignment that would have put some of the men's corps to shame. But they were too small to march at the regulation pace, and the corps behind them were forced to mark time to avoid running over them. Newcomers in the line were three companies of Boy Scouts, the first to be formed in this country. They carried a full equipment for wireless telegraphy and signaling.

As the Italian organizations went by James March, the Republican district leader, attracted all eyes by the splendor of his uniform, and another brilliant patch of color was afforded by the Garibaldi veterans. They wore the red shirts that gave the revolutionists of forty years ago their name, and as the dozen or so old men, with their heavy white mustaches, saluted the President, they received a hearty ovation in memory of what they had suffered for their native land.

At the conclusion of the parade, exercises were held at the Soldiers and Sailors' Monument, while the U. S. S. Salem, from the river below, fired a National salute of twenty-one guns, a choir of High School boys singing hymns. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Willis, and the orator of the day was Gen. Loud. Rain broke as "Taps" was sounded, and the President only escaped a wetting by hurrying to his automobile.

From the parade he returned to his brother's house, and then took a drive with Henry W. Taft through the Bronx Park, visiting the Zoo.

After luncheon the President received Cornelius Vanderbilt and Melville C. Stone, and returned to Washington later in the afternoon.

The Parade in the Bronx.

The veterans of the Bronx had a turnout yesterday of their own. It started from Alexander Avenue and 135th Street and marched by Willis Avenue, Prospect Avenue, and Crotona Park South to McKinley Square. There it was reviewed by Borough President Miller. Philip Hublitz was Grand Marshal and Albert R. Beisley his Chief of Staff.

The parade was in three divisions, the first consisting of the Twenty-second Regiment of Engineers, the Eighth Coast Artillery Corps, and the Second Battery, Field Artillery, of the National Guard. The Grand Army provided the second division, with two posts in line and a number of their infirm members riding in carriages, while the third division was formed of Spanish War Veterans and various cadet and other organizations.

In the afternoon at 2 o'clock the U. S. Grant Post of the G. A. R. held its annual exercises at Grant's Tomb, Riverside Drive and 123d Street. The U. S. S. Salem had moved up the river to fire the National salute of twenty-one guns at the beginning of the ceremonies. As the salute crashed forth a heavy downpour of rain started in, and the veterans and their guests were forced to leave the grand stand, set up on the east side of the tomb, and seek shelter within. The address of the day was made by the Rev. Dr. Nehemiah Boynton.

At the conclusion of the exercises a "Salute to the Dead" was given by all the comrades casting on to the tombs beneath them the white roses they had carried in their buttonholes. The post then marched back to the 129th Street landing, where it took a special ferry for Brooklyn.

The George B. McClellan Garrison, No. 77, of the Army and Navy Union, which is composed entirely of members of the Police Department, held its annual luncheon yesterday after the parade at Reisenweber's, Fifty-eighth Street and Eighth Avenue. A gold-mounted gavel was presented to Past Commander Fitzgerald and a gold medal to Bernard A. Flood of the District Attorney's staff.

Congressman Sulzer's Plea.

Congressman Sulzer, in the course of his speech, made a plea for placing civil war volunteer veterans on the retired list.

"The measure," he said, "has been rejected time and again as extravagant—this in the face of a report from the War Department showing that the cost for the first year would be about $15,000,000, with a decrease of about $1,000,000 a year, till in fifteen years there would be scarcely a man alive to profit by it. Yet Congress does not hesitate to appropriate this amount for two battleships."

At the conclusion of the parade the John A. Dix Post and the James Monroe Women's Relief Corps went by boat to 158th Street, and thence marched to Trinity Cemetery. There a service was held at the grave of Commander Dix by the Rev. Edgar Whittaker Work of the Fourth Presbyterian Church. John A. Dix, grandson of the Commander and son of the late Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix of Trinity Church, also spoke.

The Sons of the American Revolution decorated yesterday morning the monument to Major Gen. Montgomery, who was killed before Quebec, at St. Paul's Church, and the Ship Martyrs' Memorial, in Trinity Churchyard. Farnham Post, G. A. R., laid wreaths on the grave of Col. Nash L. Farnham in Trinity Churchyard, but the resting places of Robert Fulton, Alexander Hamilton, and Commodore Lawrence were left untended.

An interesting ceremony took place off Stapleton, S. I. After commemorative exercises in Washington Park, a dozen little girls dressed in white boarded the tug Stapleton and were taken about 200 feet into the bay. There they cast into the water a number of flowers, in memory of the sailors who have been lost at sea.

In Queens only a small number of civil war veterans were able to turn out. The cemeteries were crowded by those who decorated the graves of the dead, but most of the Grand Army posts were forced to be content with quiet services in their own villages. Those who ventured to the cemeteries were generally driven in carriages.

The New York County Branch of the Ancient Order of Hibernians attended a solemn high mass yesterday morning in St. Patrick's Cathedral. The Rev. Richard O'Sullivan was celebrant, and the sermon was preached by the Rev. Daniel J. Kiernan of St. Bernard's.

7,000 IN BROOKLYN PARADE.

A Company of Girls in the National Colors March with Veterans.

Grand Army posts, United States regulars from the harbor forts, bluejackets from the Navy Yard, State militiamen, Spanish war veterans, and other organizations took part in the Memorial Day parade in Brooklyn.

All of the Second Brigade of the National Guard, Brig. Gen. John G. Eddy commanding, made up of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Twenty-third, and Forty-seventh Regiments; Squadron C of Cavalry, the Third Battery, the Second Signal Corps, and the Second Battalion of Naval Militia were in line. The Columbian Guard, a company of girls dressed in the National colors, boys' brigades from the various churches, and Sons of Veterans organizations also took part in the parade.

Many of the older survivors of the civil war rode in open carriages, but most of the veterans were on foot. All were cheered along the line. To enable the old soldiers to pass the reviewing stand without suffering the fatigue of marching the entire route, they were not required to fall in behind the military and naval escort until it had passed Putnam and Bedford Avenues.

The line of march was from Clymer Street along Bedford Avenue to the Eastern Parkway to the Memorial Arch in Prospect Park Plaza, where a reviewing stand had been erected. Gen. James McLeer was the chief reviewing officer. The paraders numbered 7,000.

After the parade the veterans went to the cemeteries in and around Brooklyn where soldier dead are buried and placed flowers on the graves, with appropriate exercises.

SINGLE TAXERS CELEBRATE.

See Tablets to Henry George and William Lloyd Garrison Unveiled.

Members of the Single Tax League kept Memorial Day by attending the unveiling of memorials to Henry George and William Lloyd Garrison. A bronze tablet with a profile of Henry George, placed in the Union Square Hotel, where he died during his Mayoralty campaign, was unveiled by his grandson, Henry George 3d.

The Garrison memorial is on the Westmoreland apartment house, Fourth Avenue and Seventeenth Street. It was unveiled by Henry Sarrano Villard, a grandson of Mr. Garrison. Among those present were ex-Congressman Baker of Brooklyn, Tax Commissioner Lawson Purdy, Charles Francis Adams, and Bolton Hall. Speaking before the tablet of Garrison, Thomas M. Osborne, Mayor of Auburn, said:

"In Garrison's time the Nation had made for itself an idol of a man of violent prejudices and little education. To-day the Nation has another popular idol, a man of no training in accuracy either by profession or business, a man who rejoices in prizefights and wholesale butchering of animals, and who is delighted to arouse in youth the love of war for its own sake."

Mr. Osborne also denounced the holding of the Philippines by the United States as against the principles of democracy, and declared that the people are in danger of the worst kind of aristocracy, a plutocracy built on special business privilege.

IN MEMORY OF RODMAN DRAKE.

Official Services at the Poet's Grave, Which Was so Long Neglected.

Memorial services were held yesterday in the new park at Hunt's Point, the Bronx, recently named in honor of Joseph Rodman Drake, the poet and author of "The American Flag," whose grave in the old Hunt's Point Cemetery had laid deserted and overgrown with weeds until rediscovered by the Brownson Literary Union and purchased as a part of Hunt's Point Park by the city in 1902. On last New Year's Day Park Commissioner Thomas J. Higgins and Borough President Miller obtained an appropriation from the Board of Estimate for a monument to the dead poet and fenced off four of the nineteen lots in Hunt's Point Park as Drake Park.

At the exercises yesterday Borough President Miller and Commissioner Higgins, who presided, delivered addresses dealing with Drake's life and works. Selections were recited from his poems by Charles de Kay, a son of Drake's only daughter, and Mr. de Kay's 10-year-old son, Joseph Rodman Drake de Kay. Children of Public School 89 also recited several of Drake's poems and laid wreaths of flowers upon his grave.

LIVE OVER THE WAR DAYS.

Veterans Hear of Their Deeds in Song and Story at Carnegie Hall.

With song and story the veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic did honor to the memory of their departed comrades last night in Carnegie Hall. The men of the blue cheered the flag and listened to stories, poems, and songs of "the days which are gone."

There was an opening prayer by the Rev. William H. Dunnell, after which Gen. George B. Loud, Chairman of the Memorial Committee, G. A. R., introduced Henry Clews, the chairman. He lauded Mr. Clews as a patriot whose services were obtained by President Lincoln in the most trying time of the Civil War. Gen. Loud said the days of the "thin blue line" was passing, and he took issue with the distributers of political patronage, who, he said, have in the last few years ignored the veterans of the Civil War.

One pleasant feature of the evening was the recitations and songs of Capt. Jack Crawford, the poet scout. He said that as he marched past the reviewing stand President Taft had saluted him with, "Hello, Jack." He responded, "Hello, Bill," which, he said, pleased the President.

There was singing by the Montauk Ladies' Quartet, the Cecelian Male Quartet, Miss Marie Stoddart, and Walter Robinson.

The programme included recitations, "The Flag We Saved" and "Keenan's Charge," by J. Leslie Gossin.

The hall was well filled, and amny men prominent in G. A. R. were in the boxes and on the platform.

DAY CELEBRATED IN PARIS.

Ambassador and Consul General Lay Flowers on Lafayette's Grave.

PARIS, May 30.—Memorial Day was observed here by all Americans.

The Embassy and Consulate were closed and Ambassador Bacon and Consul General Mason made a trip to the cemetery of Picpus to lay flowers on the grave of Lafayette.

The American group of the Lyceum Club gave a reception to-night.

CAPITAL HONORS UNION DEAD.

Veterans Parade and Graves in Cemeteries Near Washington Are Decorated

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The halls of Congress and all executive departments were closed to-day while statesmen of the nation participated in the annual commemoration of Memorial Day. Here an elaborate programme filled the day, beginning with a street parade of veterans and soldiers, and including impressive ceremonies at Arlington Cemetery, the National Cemetery, the United States Soldiers' Home, the Congressional and Battleground cemeteries, and others. A flower-laden boat was set apart in the Potomac River by the Spanish war veterans in honor of the nation's naval dead.

The orator of the day at Arlington Cemetery was Senator William O. Bradley of Kentucky. Senator Depew of New York delivered the oration at the Soldiers' Home, Senator W. B. Heyburn of Idaho spoke at the Congressional Cemetery, and at Battleground Cemetery Senator Brown of Nebraska was orator of the day.

MUSIC BY TELEPHONE.

Experiment Has Proved Successful in Wilmington—May Be Tried Here.

"Hello, Central, give me the Sextet from Lucia."

This request and similar ones may become common in this city if the experiment which has been found to be so successful in Wilmington, Del., is taken up here. And if it is city folk may sit down to dinner made pleasant by the music of the world's masters.

The experiment is the coupling of the telephone and phonograph. From a central station at the telephone company's building the music is transmitted over the regular telephone wires and "voiced" at the subscriber's end through the customary horn.

The try-out in Wilmington has shown that there is an ever-growing demand for music among telephone subscribers. The music room at the exchange is a large chamber, around the sides of which is a switchboard. The room is equipped with a great number of phonographs and all of the phonograph records are on file.

When a subscriber wants music he calls the exchange and asks for this room. He tells the girl in charge what selection he wishes to hear, making his choice from a catalogue which is supplied by the company. Then the subscriber affixes the horn to the telephone receiver, the music operator puts the desired record on a phonograph which is plugged into the subscriber's line, and starts the machine. At the conclusion of the music the connection is automatically cut off.

Arrangements may be made for an evening's entertainment this way, the programme being made up in advance and submitted to the company by telephone, with orders to begin at a given time. Should two or more subscribers simultaneously want the same piece this can be done simply by connecting both lines to the same phonograph.

In Wilmington the company asks music subscribers to guarantee $18 a year, the charge for records being from 3 cents for the regular records to 7 for those by the great operatic stars.

FASSETT'S WARNING AGAINST DICTATOR

Congressman In Memorial Day Address Says It Is Folly to Rely on One Man.

INERT MEN OF NO VALUE

More Good Men Than Bad In Every Community—Services on Gettysburg Battlefield.

GETTYSBURG, Penn., May 30.—An unusually large crowd took part in the Memorial Day exercises on the battlefield here to-day.

At the rostrum in the National Cemetery the Rev. J. B. Baker of Gettysburg opened the exercises with prayer and Judge Samuel McC. Swope read Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Congressman J. Sloat Fassett, the orator of the day, in the course of a speech in which he praised the men who had fought and won the great fight and commended their example to the present generation, had this also to say:

"It is suicidal folly to look to some exceptional man, no matter how highly gifted he may be, to see to it that the Republic suffers no harm. That way lies dictatorship. Just in proportion as each citizen meets this duty of interest in public affairs will the stability of our institutions be assurred. It has cost the effort of ages to secure the right to each citizen for an equal voice at the ballot box. There are more good men than bad men in every community, but inert men, no matter how lofty their private virtues, are of no public utility."

FOR JOINT DECORATION DAY.

Clergyman Urges Honoring Federal and Confederate at Same Time.

NORFOLK, Va., May 30.—The Rev. Dr. James Cannon, Jr., a prominent Virginia Methodist and delegate from the General Southern Board to the world's missionary conference at Edinburgh, Scotland, to-day advocated the combining of Decoration Day of the North with all the Confederate Memorial Days in the South into one celebration.

Decoration Day was observed here to-day as a National holiday, business generally being suspended. The principal celebration was at the Naval Cemetery at Portsmouth.

FOR VETERAN PEACE LEAGUE.

Maria Sanford Urges G. A. R. to Get Roosevelt's and Old Confederates' Aid.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 30.—Addressing the Grand Army Posts here to-day in observation of Memorial Day Prof. Maria Sanford, Professor Emeritus of the University of Minnesota, urged the veterans of the civil war to work for world peace as being the one great object now before the Grand Army of the Republic.

She said Theodore Roosevelt was one man who could do this work and urged her hearers to commission him as their representative and then secure the co-operation of the Confederate Veterans' Union for a united effort which could not fail of success.

SOUTH HONORS OLD FOES.

Her Militia Companies Join in Decorating Graves of Union Dead.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 30.—Following the custom of the last few years, Southern militia companies to-day participated in the Decoration Day exercises held under the auspices of the numerous G. A. R. posts throughout the South. At Marietta, Ga.; Andersonville, Ga.; Chattanooga, Nashville, and Memphis, Tenn.; Vicksburg, Miss., and other points where thousands of Union soldiers are buried in National cemeteries, the graves were marked with tiny American flags and appropriate addresses delivered by Northern and Southern speakers. At some points the graves of Confederate soldiers were also decorated by the Union veterans.

Wrong-running Watches cause many disagreeable scenes. Lester Cerf will fix it Repairs, rebuilds and makes Watches, Clocks and Chronometers. 49 Maiden Lane, N. Y.

KEITH & PROCTOR'S 5 THAVE. B'way, 28th St. Daily Mat. 25 & 50c.

JULIUS STEGER | WM. ROCK & Co. of 30. Seldom's Venus, Frank Tinney, Trovollo, others.

GRAND— DAVID Opera House. WARFIELD THE MUSIC MASTER.

STRAWS

Largest assortment on earth

$2.00, $3.00 and $4.00

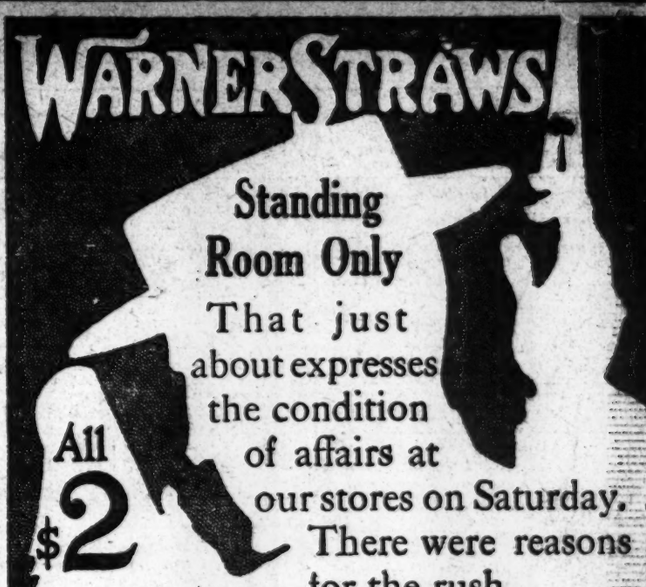
Young's Hats

NONE BETTER MADE

Broadway at Dey Street
Broadway at Houston Street
Broadway at 14th Street
Broadway at 23th Street
Broadway at 34th Street
Broadway at Beaver Street
Fifth Ave. at 42d Street
Nassau Street at Fulton Street

Only Brooklyn Store: 371 Fulton St., Opp. City Hall.

WARNER STRAWS



Standing Room Only

That just about expresses the condition of affairs at our stores on Saturday. There were reasons for the rush.

All $2

135 of the smart straw styles and the regular $3 quality for $2

42d St. at 5th Av. B'way at 37th. B'way at 12th. B'way at Bleecker. | B'way at Duane. B'way at Fulton. Nassau at Liberty. 38 Park Row. | BROOKLYN: 461 Fulton Street. 722 Broadway. | NEWARK: 823 Broad St. PHILADELPHIA 1305 Market St.

Truly Warner

YOUR $17.00

will buy from us a high grade two piece suit made from very fine imported cheviots, pin head checks, or serges in all colorings. These materials are especially fine and tailor very satisfactorily. Outing trousers, white and striped, $5.00.

ARNHEIM, Broadway & 9th St.

AMERICAN ROOF GARDEN AND ADIRONDACK CAMP 42d St., West of B'way. USUAL DAILY Mat. Downstairs IN THEATRE, 25c—50c
GEO. EVANS, FRANK SHERIDAN & CO., WM. COURTLEIGH & CO., MONTGOMERY & MOORE, ADELAIDE & DANCERS, Others.
NEXT MONDAY CHANTICLAIR
GREATEST SENSATION EVER BROUGHT TO THIS COUNTRY, WITH THE FOLLOWING ALL-STAR CAST:
CHAS. J. ROSS.....CHANTICLAIR
MIZZI HOJAS.....HEN PHEASANT
STELLA MAYHEW.....GOOSE
SIDNEY GRANT.....THE CAT
BARRY LUPINO.....THE DOG
MAY LUPINO.....THE MAGPIE
BILLEE TAYLOR.....THE FOX
GERTRUDE VAN DYCK.....THE MOUSE
HAZEL & ALLEN.....THE SPARROW
50—PRETTY GIRLS—50
AND 14 OTHER BIG ACTS.
SEAT SALE OPENS TO-MORROW
IN ORDER TO AVOID TICKETS FALLING INTO THE HANDS OF SPECULATORS, THE MANAGEMENT REQUESTS THE EARLIEST POSSIBLE PURCHASE OF SEATS FOR THIS ATTRACTION.
AMERICAN THEATRE NIGHTLY. 25c. & 50c. No Higher.
AN ALL STAR BILL OF 12 ACTS headed by JOHN L. SULLIVAN.
PLAZA 59th St., Mad. Av. Daily Mats. 25c. Evs. 25c. & 50c. 15 ALL STAR ACTS John L. Sullivan, Cissie Curlette, Sidney Grant, oth.
HAMMERSTEIN'S ROOF 42d & B'way. Daily Mats. in Victoria. Miss X (Burlesque), 8 Geisha Girls, Belle Blanche, Edwards School Boys & Girls, 12 others.

The Shirt of a Gentleman Haberdashers Everywhere

GOTHAM MFG. CO.

SHIRTS

UNUSUAL & EXCLUSIVE DESIGNS AND SELECTED SPECIALLY WOVEN FABRICS

ALSO GOTHAM SUMMER UNDERWEAR

Ask your Dealer or send to us for the GOTHAM STYLE BOOK.

GOTHAM MFG. CO. FIFTH AVE. BLDG. & MADISON SQ. WEST NEW YORK CITY

NEW YORK'S LEADING THEATRES
EMPIRE B'way & 40th St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. To-m'w & Sat. 2:15. LAST 5 NIGHTS—MAT. TO-M'W. ALL STAR CAST in CASTE
GARRICK 35th St., nr. B'way. Evs. 8:15. Mats. To-m'w & Sat. 2:15. "Rollicking comedy, well acted."—Herald. HENRY MILLER & COMPANY in HER HUSBAND'S WIFE.
HUDSON W. 44th St., nr. B'way. Evs. 8:15. Mats. To-m'w & Sat. 2:15. THE SPENDTHRIFT with EDMUND BREESE
CRITERION B'way & 44th St. Evs. 8:30. Mat. Sat. Only at 2:15. FRANCIS WILSON in THE BACHELOR'S BABY.
KNICKERBOCKER B'way, 38 St. Evs. at 8:15. Mats. To-m'w & Sat. SEASON'S MUSICAL COMEDY TRIUMPH. THE FANTASTICAL MUSICAL COMEDY. THE ARCADIANS
CHARLES DILLINGHAM'S GLOBE B'way & 46th St. Last 5 Nights Evs. 8:15. Mat. Sat. 2:15. Montgomery and Stone in THE OLD TOWN.
NEW YORK B'way & 45th St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. To-m'w & Sat. 2:15. SUMMER PRICES—BEST SEATS $1. THE MERRY WHIRL with JAS. C. MORTON & F. F. MOORE
GAIETY B'way & 46th St. MAT. WED. & SAT. ONLY. FORTUNE HUNTER with JOHN BARRYMORE

America's Foremost Theatres and Hits.
CASINO B'way & 39th St. Evs. 8:15. 4 Weeks Mats. Sat. Only. SHUBERT-BRADY All Star Production of Gilbert & Sullivan's Comic Opera, THE MIKADO
BROADWAY Theatre B'way & 41st St. SAT'Y EVG. Seats Now. Lew Fields' Production of THE SUMMER WIDOWERS Cast Includes Lew Fields and Irene Fraseilon.
DALY'S B'way & 30th. Evenings 8:30. $1.50 Mat. To-morrow 2:30. Last Week Here. Next Week Lyric Thea. DE WOLF HOPPER in A Matinee Idol. With Louise Dresser
LYRIC 42d, West of B'way. Evs. 8:15. $1.50 Mat. To-morrow, 2:15. All-Star Cast. Next Monday JIM THE PENMAN Last Week | De Wolf Hopper | A Matinee Idol. | 50th Perf. and SOUVENIRS.
Lew Fields' Herald Sq. B'way, 35th St. Evs. 8:15. $1.00 Mat. To-morrow. This Wed. Mat. best seats $1. Woman only admitted. MARIE DRESSLER in Tillie's Nightmare.
HACKETT 42d, West of B'way. Evs. 8:15. Last Week THE CITY Mats. Thurs. and Sat.
ACADEMY OF MUSIC. Prices 25c. to $1.50. Last 5 times. —Farewell Appearance of— ROSE STAHL in The Chorus Lady. NO PERFORMANCE ON SATURDAY. Bargain Mat. Wed. 25-50. No Mat. Sat. NEXT MONDAY NIGHT BENEFIT OF One performance only ACTORS' FUND. SOTHERN-MARLOWE in HAMLET. Seats ($2 to 25c.) now selling.
ASTOR B'way, 45th St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. Wed. Mat. Sea.-$1.50. Greatest Comedy Hit in 20 Years. SEVEN DAYS
WALLACK'S B'way & 30th St. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. 8TH MONTH. H. B. WARNER in ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE
COLONIAL Daily Mat. 25c. EVA Wallis' TANGUAY, "Lots" The Little Stranger, Jane Courthope & Co., others.
ALHAMBRA Daily Mat. 25c. McINTYRE & HEATH, Dinkelspiel's Christmas, World & Kingston, others.
BRONX 149th St. 3d Av. Daily Mat. 25c. O'Dea, Howard & North, Bart Williams, Willy Pantzer Troupe, others.
GLEN ISLAND NOW OPEN SPECIAL NEW ATTRACTIONS. 3d Av. "L" to 129th St.; thence Harlem Branch to New Rochelle (70 trains daily); or main line N. Y., N. H. & H. to New Rochelle (100 trains daily); or Subway to 177th St. and trolley. Delightful short trolley trip from any part of the Bronx. Open till midnight.
CONEY ISLAND'S GREATEST DREAMLAND ALL THE SHOWS—FREE CIRCUS. TAKE IRON STEAMBOATS. EVERYTHING NEW BUT THE OCEAN.
STEEPLECHASE Coney Island's Funny Place. Really Beats a 3-Ring Circus. Swimming Pool and all Attractions Free.
THOMPSON & DUNDY'S LUNA PARK THE PARK THAT MADE THE MOON FAMOUS. NOW OPEN
THE NEW BRIGHTON Brighton Beach. Princess Rajah, Murphy & Nichols, La Petite Elsie, Warren, Lyons & Mayers, Hayes & Johnson, others.
BRIGHTON BEACH PARK IS OPEN TO-DAY.
"The 20th Century Garden of Eden." NOW OPEN. SCHENCK'S PALISADES Take WEST 130 ST. FERRY Airship Ascensions Every Afternoon and Evening.
COLUMBIA, BURLESQUE, Broadway & 47th St. Evs. 8:15.

GRAPE-NUTS.

FRESH AT NIGHT

If One Uses the Right Kind of Food.

If by proper selection of food one can feel strong and fresh at the end of a day's work, it is worth while to know the kind of food that will produce this result.

A school teacher out in Kans. says in this connection:

"I commenced the use of Grape-Nuts food five months ago. At that time my health was so poor that I thought I would have to give up my work altogether. I was rapidly losing in weight, had little appetite, was nervous and sleepless, and experienced, almost constantly, a feeling of exhaustion.

"I tried various remedies without good results; then I determined to give particular attention to my food, and have learned something of the properties of Grape-Nuts for rebuilding the brain and nerves.

"I commenced using Grape-Nuts and have since made a constant and rapid improvement in health, in spite of the fact that all this time I have been engaged in the most strenuous and exacting work.

"I have gained twelve pounds in weight and have a good appetite, my nerves are steady and I sleep sound. I have such strength and reserve force that I feel almost as strong and fresh at the close of a day's work as at the beginning.

"Before using Grape-Nuts I was troubled much with weak eyes, but as my vitality increased the eyes became stronger.

"I never heard of food as nutritious and economical as Grape-Nuts."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.